Value added Revenue/VAR	Revenue from operations after excluding the cost of substrate sales. Thus, it is computed as revenue from operations minus the cost of substrates. Substrates are porous ceramic filters coated with a catalyst - typically, precious metals such as platinum, palladium, and rhodium. We do not manufacture substrates; they are supplied to us by Tier II suppliers generally at the direction of our OEM customers, and we assemble the substrates into the final manufactured products that we sell to our OEM customers. They are a necessary component of exhaust aftertreatment systems for emission control. The need for substrate components grows for more sophisticated emission control solutions to meet more stringent environmental regulations, particularly for commercial on road and off-road vehicles. These substrates are included in inventory and are “passed through” to the customer at cost, plus a nominal handling fee. Since we take title to the substrate inventory and have responsibility for both the delivery and quality of the finished product including the substrates, the revenues and related expenses are recorded at gross amounts. Substrate costs depend on precious metals prices, which may be volatile. While our OEM customers generally assume the risk of precious metals price volatility, it affects our reported revenue from operations and dilutes profitability margins at the revenue from operations level. Hence, we believe VAR is an important metric to understand our overall business because VAR eliminates the effect of this uncontrollable portion of our revenue from operations, including the effect of potentially volatile precious metals prices
VAR Growth (%)	VAR Growth (%) is calculated as VAR for the current period/Fiscal minus VAR for the previous period/Fiscal as a percentage of VAR for the previous period/Fiscal adverse change in our relationship, including the termination of our License Agreement, could have an adverse impact on our business, reputation, financial condition, and results of operations.

2.	We derived a significant portion of our revenue from operations, i.e. 81.35%, 83.44%, 82.04%, 83.87% and 83.06% in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 and in Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024 and Fiscal 2023, respectively, from the passenger vehicle (“PV”) and commercial vehicle (“CV”) sectors in India. We also enter into other related-party transactions with entities in the Tenneco Group in the ordinary course and may continue to do so in the future. In the past there have been instances of non-compliances with certain provisions of the Companies Act and FEMA Regulations by our Company and certain Subsidiaries, which have been compounded or in relation to which we have filed compounding applications. The Target Market Assessment is without prejudice to the requirements of any contractual, legal or regulatory selling restrictions in relation to the Offer. Furthermore, it is noted that, notwithstanding the Target Market Assessment, the BRLMs will only procure investors who meet the criteria of professional clients and eligible counterparties.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Target Market Assessment does not constitute: (a) an assessment of suitability or appropriateness for the purposes of MiFID II; or (b) a recommendation to any investor or group of investors to invest in, or purchase, or take any other action whatsoever with respect to the Equity Shares. Each Distributor is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Equity Shares and determining appropriate distribution channels.

Each UK Distributor is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Equity Shares and determining appropriate distribution channels.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Prospectus contains certain “forward-looking statements”. These forward-looking statements generally can be identified by words or phrases such as “aim”, “believe”, “expect”, “intend”, “plan”, “project”, “will”, “seek to”, “strive to”, “continue”, “achieve”, or other words or phrases of similar import. Similarly, statements that describe our strategies, objectives, plans or goals are also forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements are subject to risks, uncertainties, expectations and assumptions about us that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated by the relevant forward-looking statement. All statements in this Prospectus that are not statements of historical fact are ‘forward-looking statements’.

These forward-looking statements are based on our current plans, estimates and expectations and actual results may differ materially from those suggested by such forward-looking statements. This could be due to risks or uncertainties associated with expectations relating to, and including, regulatory changes pertaining to the industry in India in which we operate and our ability to respond to them, our ability to successfully implement our strategy, growth and expansion plans, technological changes, our exposure to market risks, general economic and political conditions in India which have an impact on its business activities or investments, the monetary and fiscal policies of India, inflation, deflation, unanticipated turbulence in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity prices or other rates or prices, the performance of the financial markets in India and globally, changes in domestic laws, changes in the incidence of any natural calamities and/or violence, regulations and taxes and changes in competition in the industry in which we operate.

There can be no assurance to Bidders that the expectations reflected in these forward-looking statements will prove to be correct. Given these uncertainties, Bidders are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such forward-looking statements and not to regard such statements to be a guarantee of our future performance.

Forward-looking statements reflect current views as on the date of this Prospectus and are not a guarantee of future performance. These statements are based on our management’s beliefs and assumptions, which in turn are based on currently available information. Although we believe the assumptions upon which these forward-looking statements are based are reasonable, any of these assumptions could prove to be inaccurate and the forward-looking statements based on these assumptions could be incorrect. Neither our Company, our Directors, Promoters, the Promoter Selling Shareholder, the BRLMs nor any of their respective affiliates have any obligation to update or otherwise revise any statements reflecting circumstances arising after the date hereof or to reflect the occurrence of underlying events, even if the underlying assumptions do not come to fruition.

In accordance with requirements of SEBI and as prescribed under applicable law, our Company will ensure that investors in India are informed of material developments pertaining to our Company and the Equity Shares forming part of the Offer from the date of this Prospectus until the date of Allotment. In accordance with the requirements of SEBI and as prescribed under the applicable law, the Promoter Selling Shareholder, in respect of statements made by them in this Prospectus, shall ensure (through our Company and the BRLMs) that the investors are informed of material developments in relation to statements specifically confirmed or undertaken by them in the Red Herring Prospectus and this Prospectus until the date of Allotment, with respect to their Offered Shares pursuant to the Offer.

SECTION II: RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Equity Shares involves a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider all the information in this Prospectus, including the risks and uncertainties described below, before making an investment in the Equity Shares.

We have described the risks and uncertainties that we consider material, but these risks and uncertainties may not be the only risks relevant to us, the Equity Shares, or the industry in which we operate. The risks set out in this section may not be exhaustive and additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to us, or which we currently deem to be immaterial, may arise or may become material in the future and may also adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. Unless specified or quantified in the relevant risk factor below, we are not in a position to quantify the financial or other implication of any of the risks mentioned in this section. If any or a combination of the following risks actually materialize, or if any of the risks that are currently not known or deemed not to be relevant or material now actually materialize or become material in the future, our business, cash flows, prospects, financial condition and results of operations could suffer, the trading price of the Equity Shares could decline, and you may lose all or part of your investment. For more details on our business and operations, see “Our Business”, “Industry Overview”, “Key Regulations and Policies in India” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” beginning on pages 267, 195, 323 and 492, respectively, as well as other financial information included elsewhere in this Prospectus. In making an investment decision, you must rely on your own examination of us and the terms of the Offer, including the merits and risks involved, and you should consult your tax, financial and legal advisors about the particular consequences of investing in the Offer. Prospective investors should pay particular attention to the fact that our Company is incorporated under the laws of India and is subject to a legal and regulatory environment which may differ in certain respects from that of other countries.

This Prospectus also contains forward-looking statements that involve risks, assumptions, estimates and uncertainties. Our actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including but not limited to the considerations described below. For details, see “Forward-Looking Statements” beginning on page 58.

We have included in this section various metrics based on ‘revenue from operations’ (which primarily comprises revenue generated from the sale of manufactured goods) as included in our Restated Consolidated Financial Information as well as value-added revenue (“VAR”). We define VAR as revenue from operations after excluding the cost of substrates. Substrates are porous ceramic filters coated with a catalyst - typically, precious metals such as platinum, palladium, and rhodium. We do not manufacture substrates; they are supplied to us by Tier II suppliers generally at the direction of our OEM customers, and we assemble the substrates into the final manufactured products that we sell to our OEM customers. They are a necessary component of exhaust aftertreatment systems for emission control. The need for substrate components grows for more sophisticated emission control solutions to meet more stringent environmental regulations for on road and off-road vehicles. These substrates are included in inventory and are “passed through” to the customer at cost, plus a nominal handling fee. Since we take title to the substrate inventory and have responsibility for both the delivery and quality of the finished product including the substrates, the revenues and related expenses are recorded at gross amounts. Substrate costs depend on precious metals prices, which may be volatile. While our OEM customers generally assume the risk of precious metals price volatility, it affects our reported revenue from operations and dilutes profitability margins at the revenue from operations level. Hence, we believe VAR is an important metric to understand our overall business because VAR eliminates the effect of this uncontrollable portion of our revenue from operations, including the effect of potentially volatile precious metals prices. Therefore, we have included metrics based on both revenue from operations and VAR in certain risk factors below. For details on the computation of VAR, see “Other Financial Information” beginning on page 484.

Unless otherwise indicated, industry and market data used in this section have been derived from the CRISIL Report prepared and released by CRISIL and commissioned and paid for by us in connection with the Offer. The CRISIL Report has been prepared and issued by CRISIL exclusively in connection with the Offer for the purposes of confirming our understanding of the industry in which we operate. The data included herein include excerpts from the CRISIL Report and may have been re-ordered by us for the purposes of presentation. A copy of the CRISIL Report was available on the website of our Company at www.tennecoindia.com/industry-report/. Unless otherwise indicated, all financial, operational, industry and other related information included herein with respect to any particular year refers to such information for the relevant year.

Our financial year ends on March 31 of each year, and references to a particular financial year are to the 12 months ended March 31 of that year. Unless otherwise stated, references to “we”, “us”, or “our” are to our Company and its Subsidiaries. Unless the context otherwise requires, references to “our Company” or “the Company” refers to Tenneco Clean Air India Limited on a standalone basis.

Internal risk factors

1. We depend on entities in the Tenneco Group for our operations, such as the license to use Tenneco Group’s brands and patented designs, technical know-how, purchase of certain parts and materials, and R&D. Any adverse change in our relationship, including the termination of our License Agreement, could have an adverse impact on our business, reputation, financial condition, and results of operations.

We enter into various transactions with entities in the Tenneco Group from time to time, including for (i) the sale of our products and services; (ii) the purchase of parts and materials for use in the manufacturing of our shock absorbers and struts, exhaust aftertreatment systems, sealing, ignition and bearings products; (iii) product validation and testing services outside of India; (iv) technical training and R&D support; and (v) the leasing of the premises where our Corporate Office is situated. We do not enter into short- or long-term purchase agreements with the Tenneco Group for purchases of parts and materials. Such purchases are made pursuant to purchase orders that we issue from time to time. As the entities in the Tenneco Group are our related parties, there is no assurance that conflicts of interest will not arise between our Company and such entities in the Tenneco Group in the future. Such conflicts of interest could negatively impact our business and prospects. For further details, see “Our Business – Overview – Our Group Leverage”, “–Our Competitive Strengths–Innovation-focused approach aided by our ability to leverage Tenneco Group’s global R&D initiatives to cross-deploy global technologies for proprietary, modular and customized products at Indian price points” and “Other Financial Information – Related Party Transactions” on pages 270, 280 and 491, respectively.

We have also entered into a License Agreement with Tenneco Holdings LLC (“Licensor”) pursuant to which our Company and Subsidiaries (together, the “Licensees”) have received a non-exclusive, non-transferable right and license to use certain intellectual property rights, including the Monroe Trademarks, Champion Trademarks and Tenneco Trademarks (each as defined in the License Agreement), as applicable to each of the Licensees and other intellectual property related to the design, development, manufacture, and use of Advanced Suspension Technology Products, Bearings Products, Clean Air Products, Ignition Products, and Sealings Products (each as defined in the License Agreement), provided that the Licensee’s Business (as defined under the License Agreement), as applicable to each of the Licensees, and all goods and services offered and sold in connection with the Licensee’s Business complies with the quality standards laid down in the License Agreement and as approved by the Licensor from time to time. The license covers the use of such intellectual property rights within India and any other territory that may be designated by written agreement between the parties to the License Agreement. Under the terms of the License Agreement, all Licensees, viz. our Company and each of our Subsidiaries, other than Federal-Mogul Bearings India Limited (“FMBIL”), are required to pay the Licensor a royalty equal to 2.50% of the gross revenue of such Licensees. FMBIL is required to pay the Licensor a royalty equal to 2.00% of its gross revenue. The License Agreement is effective since April 1, 2024, and will continue to be effective until terminated in accordance with the terms included therein, provided that the Licensor may not terminate the License Agreement prior to January 1, 2031. However, the Licensor may terminate the License Agreement (a) immediately if the Licensees cease to be affiliates of the Licensor; or (b) on 30 days’ written notice if the Licensees (i) materially breach the License Agreement and fail to cure such breach within 30 days, or (ii) go into liquidation. Further, the Licensor may immediately terminate the license granted to Tenneco Automotive India Private Limited (“TAIPL”) in relation to the Monroe Trademarks in the event TAIPL ceases to be an affiliate of Federal-Mogul Motorparts LLC.

Any such termination could prevent us from using the Licensed IP, which in turn would adversely impact our business and operations. If any material adverse change occurs in the Licensor’s business or if the Licensor ceases to provide its inputs for our business operations, our business and results of operations may be adversely affected. Further, there is no assurance that the License Agreement will be renewed with the same or favourable commercial terms or at all, once it is terminated by the Licensor in accordance with the License Agreement. For further details, see “History and Certain Corporate Matters – Summary of key agreements” on page 337.

The License Agreement also grants the Licensees non-exclusive rights to use certain trademarks of the Licensor in connection with certain operations of our Company, including use of the “Tenneco” trademark, name, and logo for our corporate purposes, such as in our company name and consequently on our letterhead. Thus, any termination of the License Agreement could have an adverse impact on our right to use the “Tenneco” trademark, name and logo which may in turn impact our operations and overall brand recognition amongst our customers. While we did not experience any material adverse change to the Licensor’s business or any cessation on part of the Licensor to provide its inputs for our business operations that adversely affected our business and results of operations in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, there is no guarantee that such instances will not occur in the future.

The table below sets forth the royalty expenses we paid to various entities in the Tenneco Group for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Particulars	For the three months ended		For Fiscal 2025 ⁽¹⁾	For Fiscal 2024 ⁽²⁾	For Fiscal 2023 ⁽²⁾

Royalty expenses as a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	2.18%	2.24%	2.25%	4.71%	2.32%

Notes:

(1) Royalty payments made pursuant to the License Agreement.

(2) Royalty payments made pursuant to past license and royalty arrangements, which have been superseded by the License Agreement.

(3) Royalty expense comprises the rights to use brands and technical know-how.

Under the SEBI Listing Regulations, any transaction involving payments to a related party for brand usage or royalty, taken individually or together with previous transactions during a Fiscal, exceeding 5% of the annual consolidated turnover of the listed entity (as per the last audited financial statements of the listed entity) is considered material and requires prior approval of the shareholders (i.e., shareholders not related to such transaction). We cannot assure you that royalty payments made by us to the Licensor under the License Agreement or otherwise will not attract regulatory scrutiny or action. Further, if the royalty fee payable to the Licensor is increased, it could result in a decline in our profits and our earnings per share.

Further, our Company and our Subsidiaries (the “Licensees”) have also entered into a master affiliate intangible property and network services agreement dated August 30, 2025, effective April 1, 2025, with Tenneco Automotive Operating Company LLC, Federal-Mogul Powertrain LLC and Federal-Mogul Ignition LLC (together, the “Licensor”), pursuant to which the Licensor has granted our Company and Subsidiaries non-exclusive, non-transferable and non-sublicensable right and license to use certain intangible property and know-how related to Licensor’s P3 Operating System (the “Intangible Property”), together with access to a bundle of associated network elements and services (the “Network Elements”), in India in connection with the Licensees’ business, subject to compliance with Licensor’s quality standards and any pre-existing third-party rights. The Network Elements include know-how, copyrights (including software other than product-related software), trade secrets, domain names, database rights, Intangible Property, operating standards under the P3 Operating System model (including work process guidelines, key performance indicators and related tools), operational transformation initiatives, and administrative and operational support and advice related to IT, finance (including tax, treasury and insurance), legal, environment, social and governance, human resources, communications, environment, health and safety, marketing and sales, executive and general management, global supply chain, purchasing, mergers and acquisitions, lean enterprise, customer service, quality, program/project management, real estate & facilities, commercial operations and other agreed services. As consideration for the rights and services, each Licensee is required to pay a fee equal to a percentage of such Licensee's net sales (as defined in the IP and Network Services Agreement) for the calendar year, determined on an arm's length basis, subject to a maximum of 0.5% of the net sales, unless otherwise agreed in writing by the Licensee.

For further details, see, “History and Certain Corporate Matters – Summary of key agreements - Master affiliate intangible property and network services agreement dated August 30, 2025 between Tenneco Automotive Operating Company LLC, Federal-Mogul Powertrain LLC and Federal-Mogul Ignition LLC (together, “Licensor”), our Company and our Subsidiaries (together, “Licensees”) with retrospective effect from April 1, 2025 (“IP and Network Services Agreement”)” on page 337. Any termination of this agreement could have an adverse impact on our right to use the intangible property and network elements, which may in turn impact our operations and growth prospects.

2. We derived a significant portion of our revenue from operations, i.e. 81.35%, 83.44%, 82.04%, 83.87% and 83.06% in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 and in Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024 and Fiscal 2023, respectively, from the passenger vehicle (“PV”) and commercial vehicle (“CV”) sectors in India. Any adverse changes in these sectors in India could adversely impact our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We derive a significant portion of our revenue from operations from the design, manufacture and sale of components and solutions to Indian OEMs of PVs and CVs, which comprise commercial trucks (“CTs”) and off-highway vehicles (“OHs”) and are therefore heavily dependent on the performance of the PV and CV sectors in India.

The table below sets forth our VAR and revenue from operations from sales to PV and CV OEMs in India, for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

The decrease in revenue from operations attributable to sales to Indian PV OEMs in the three months ended June 30, 2025 compared to the three months ended June 30, 2024 and to Indian PV and CV OEMs in Fiscal 2025 compared to Fiscal 2024 was primarily due to a fall in substrate prices and some customers switching to lower cost Indian substrate suppliers. The decrease in VAR from CV OEMs in Fiscal 2025 compared to Fiscal 2024 was primarily due to a pull forward of demand in the last quarter of Fiscal 2024, which increased our customers' inventory and reduced the demand for our clean air products in Fiscal 2025. Long-term medium and heavy CV sales are likely to be driven by several factors, including India's improving industrial activity, consistent agricultural output, and the government's continued emphasis on infrastructure development (Source: CRISIL Report). Additionally, fluctuations in commodity prices, interest rates, and availability of financing can affect demand. (Source: CRISIL Report).

The Indian PV sector has historically seen significant periodic fluctuations in overall demand (Source: CRISIL Report). The length and timing of any cycle in the vehicle industry cannot be predicted with certainty, and we cannot predict when manufacturers will increase or reduce production. PV production and sales are influenced by various factors that are beyond our control, including changes in government policies and consumer demand. Consumer demand is affected by employment and income levels, fuel prices, economic conditions, demographic trends, interest rates, urbanization, and the availability of automobile financing.

Any reduced demand in the Indian PV and CV sectors in the future could have a material adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

3. We are dependent on our top ten customers. Our top ten customers (based on Fiscal 2025) contributed 80.57%, 82.32%, 81.54%, 83.92% and 77.79% of our revenue from operations in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively. If one or more of these customers chooses not to source products from us, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.

Notes:

- (1) The names of the top 10 customers other than Motocare India Private Limited have not been disclosed because they have not provided their consent to disclose their revenue contributions in this Prospectus.
- (2) The top 10 customers have been identified based on their contribution to our revenue from operations in Fiscal 2025.

We do not have exclusivity agreements with our customers and compete for new business through our customers' supplier selection processes, which range from six to over 18 months, starting from the issuance of a request for quote ("RFQ") to the awarding of a program. This product development process includes design analysis and validation, prototyping, and product testing, with our engineering teams collaborating closely with customers beginning with the design stage. The approval process often includes audits and inspections by our customers' quality assurance teams, who assess our manufacturing facilities, production processes, and quality control measures. As of June 30, 2025, our top ten customers had been with us for an average of 19.2 years. While we did not lose any of our top 10 customers in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, losing a top 10 customer could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, financial condition and cash flow.

For risks related to contractual arrangements with our customers, see "We may be unable to realize sales represented by our awarded programs as we do not have firm volume commitments in customer agreements, which could materially and adversely impact our financial condition and results of operations." on page 64.

4. We may be unable to realize sales represented by our awarded programs as we do not have firm volume commitments in customer agreements, which could materially and adversely impact our financial condition and results of operations.

The programs awarded to us are typically long-term, lasting three to seven years for PV and CV programs. A program refers to a project officially contracted or commissioned by an OEM to a manufacturer for the development and supply of specific components or systems for a particular vehicle model or series. It typically includes a commitment to deliver the agreed-upon parts within specified timelines, quality standards, and cost parameters and “programs awarded” refers to programs which are contracted to us. The table below sets forth details of the programs we were awarded and the programs that commenced production for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Particular	Number of Programs
	Programs awarded	Programs that commenced production
Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions
Three months ended June 30, 2025	16	10
Three months ended June 30, 2024	23	13
Fiscal 2025	54	55
Fiscal 2024	53	45
Fiscal 2023	56	55
Advanced Ride Technologies
Three months ended June 30, 2025	5	7
Three months ended June 30, 2024	10	3
Fiscal 2025	60	40
Fiscal 2024	22	21
Fiscal 2023	22	23

Note: There is generally a time lag between the time we receive a program award and the time when the OEM commences commercial production for that program. Accordingly, the programs that commenced production in a period/Fiscal include programs that were awarded in prior periods/Fiscals.

Future sales volumes from awarded programs are inherently subject to various risks and uncertainties, including the accuracy of OEM customer estimates of the number of vehicles to be produced and sold, the timing of such production and the success of the vehicles proposed to be manufactured under the program. Program awards do not include firm commitments or long-term supply agreements with our customers. Under the nomination agreements, our customers provide us only with forecast volumes for the program and there is no commitment on their part to purchase the quantities specified in the volume projections. In addition, our customers may delay or cancel a development program that has been awarded to us, and as the products we design and manufacture for a development program may not be suitable for other customers or development programs, we may not be able to sell products we develop for a cancelled program. While we have not experienced material instances where a customer cancelled a program or forecasts provided by a customer were materially inaccurate in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, there can be no assurance that no such instances will occur in the future.

In addition, our customers may terminate their program arrangements with us for cause or otherwise by way of a written notice or may reject our products if we fail to comply with delivery timelines or quality standards. In such cases, our customers are generally not required to reimburse us for lost profits, unabsorbed overhead, capital investments, product development and engineering costs, facilities and equipment rental and other related costs or administrative charges incurred in connection with cancelled orders. In addition, failing to comply with our contractual obligations to our customers may in some cases result in imposition of financial penalties on us. While we have not experienced termination of program arrangements, product rejections, or contractual penalties that had a material impact on our business in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024, and 2023, such events could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, financial condition and cash flow.

5. Our business is heavily influenced by government policies and regulations regarding emission standards, which significantly impact our industry. Delays in the implementation of emission standards may affect the growth of our business.

Government policies regarding emission standards directly affect the design, production, and sale of our clean air and powertrain products. Globally, countries including India are adopting stricter emission norms and zero-emission targets (Source: CRISIL Report). The change in emission standards has, in the past, impacted and will continue to impact the revenue generated by our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions division. Stricter emission standards require us to use advanced technologies, which add cost and complexity to manufacturing after-treatment systems. For instance, the Government of India's transition from the Bharat Stage ("BS") 4 emission standard to BS6 for PVs and CVs in 2020 required us to expand our manufacturing facilities and introduce new manufacturing processes, such as calibrated canning and laser welding, to produce products that meet the new standard and satisfy increased demand. As a result, we invested approximately ₹2,098.11 million in our Clean Air Solutions manufacturing and testing facilities in Fiscals 2019 and 2020. Given that the Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions division contributed 56.28%, 60.60%, 57.51%, 65.90% and 62.98% to our revenue from operations in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively, if we are unable to keep pace with or develop products that meet the requirements of new emission standards within prescribed timeframes, the performance of our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions division, and consequently our results of operations, financial condition, cash flows, and prospects, may be materially adversely affected.

While tightening emission standards drive the development and demand for Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions products, we are generally unable to commercialize and sell these products until the new standards are implemented. Any delay in implementing stricter emission standards can slow our growth, as it prevents us from bringing products designed to meet higher regulatory requirements to market. For instance, the delay in TREM V emission standards in the OH segment from Fiscal 2026 to Fiscal 2027 is anticipated to delay our expected revenue from TREM V compliant products, though we cannot quantify the impact. Any further delay in the implementation of TREM V or other government regulations could adversely impact our results of operations, financial condition and cash flow. In addition, the implementation of CAFE, BS7 norms may affect the scale of PV electrification, which might adversely affect our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions division.

6. Our operations and profitability are substantially dependent on the availability and cost of raw materials, including steel and components such as pressed parts, electrodes and bimetal strips. In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, cost of materials consumed accounted for 64.42%, 66.69%, 65.05%, 70.15% and 70.37% of our revenue from operations, and any volatility in the prices of these materials may adversely impact our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our cost of materials consumed constituted a significant portion of our revenue from operations. The table below sets forth our cost of materials consumed for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Particulars	For the three months ended June 30,				For Fiscal 2025		For Fiscal 2024		For Fiscal 2023
	2025		2024		Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations
	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations
Cost of materials consumed	8,282.29	64.42%	8,474.30	66.69%	31,813.40	65.05%	38,355.04	70.15%	33,968.92	70.37%

While the cost of substrates is included in the cost of materials consumed set out above, we do not bear the risk of price increases in substrates, as these price variations are generally borne by our customers as the prices of these components are taken into account in the prices customers pay for our products. The table below sets forth our cost of substrates included in our cost of materials consumed for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Particulars	For the three months ended June 30,				For Fiscal 2025		For Fiscal 2024		For Fiscal 2023
	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed
Cost of substrates	1,190.85	14.38%	1,858.48	21.93%	5,103.09	16.04%	11,990.05	31.26%	9,253.68	27.24%

Our primary raw material is steel, which is subject to fluctuations in commodity prices. The table below sets forth our cost incurred for the purchase of steel for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Particulars	For the three months ended June 30,				For Fiscal 2025		For Fiscal 2024		For Fiscal 2023
	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed excluding substrates	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed excluding substrates	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed excluding substrates	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed excluding substrates	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed excluding substrates
Cost of steel	4,485.58	63.25%	4,198.07	63.45%	16,653.45	62.35%	16,195.52	61.43%	17,640.91	71.38%
Cost of materials consumed excluding substrates	7,091.44	100.00%	6,615.82	100.00%	26,710.31	100.00%	26,364.99	100.00%	24,715.24	100.00%

Pricing and availability of commodities like steel can be volatile due to numerous factors beyond our control, including general domestic and international economic conditions, geopolitical tensions, extreme weather changes, import duties and tariffs and foreign currency exchange rates. Other factors such as tariffs and economic or political conditions of the countries from which we procure supplies may also result in increases in costs of components and materials. With respect to raw materials such as steel, we obtain price adjustments at regular intervals. We obtain most of our components from our suppliers based on purchase orders rather than definitive long-term agreements. Without long-term pricing agreements, we may be subject to price volatility, resulting in increased costs for raw materials.

Although we seek to pass on cost increases to our customers, our cash flows may be adversely affected in case of a time lag between the date of procurement of our raw materials and the date on which we can reset the component prices for our customers to account for the increase in raw material prices. Furthermore, such price increases are subject to negotiation and agreement between our customers and us. Our customers may not agree to price escalation or dispute these increased costs, limiting our ability to pass on cost increases, which could adversely affect our business.

The availability of raw materials may also be subject to government regulations. For example, in Fiscal 2025, the Government of India restricted the import of certain grades of steel. As a result, we had to obtain a no objection certificate from the Government of India for import approval, which included restrictions on the quantity imported and the period during which imports were permitted.

Although we have not been materially affected by price volatility or unavailability of steel and other raw materials in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, we may experience volatility in the cost of raw materials or a shortage of raw materials and components in the future that could materially impact our business, results of operations and financial condition.

7. We are dependent on Motocare India Private Limited (“Motocare”), an indirect subsidiary of Tenneco LLC and one of our Group Companies for sales to the aftermarket. We also enter into other related-party transactions with entities in the Tenneco Group in the ordinary course and may continue to do so in the future. We cannot assure you that we could not have achieved more favorable terms had such transactions not been entered into with related parties, which may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

We sell to the aftermarket primarily through Motocare, an indirect subsidiary of Tenneco LLC and one of our Group Companies. Set forth below is the revenue derived by us from our sale of products to Motocare and the aftermarket for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Particulars	For the three months ended June 30, 2025		2024		For Fiscal 2025		For Fiscal 2024		For Fiscal 2023
	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations

Note: (1) Until October 2023, our Advanced Ride Technologies division conducted direct sales to the aftermarket. From October 2023 onwards, we transitioned to selling all of our aftermarket products directly to Motocare (in addition to other entities in the Tenneco Group), which then sell them to the aftermarket

In the aftermarket, brand building depends on the effectiveness of sales and promotional activities and choice of channel partners. These activities are managed by Motocare and we have limited or no control over such activities. There can be no assurance that Motocare’s efforts in these areas would always be effective. Any adverse development or decline in Motocare’s brand value and reputation may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We have also entered into, and will continue to enter into, certain transactions with entities in the Tenneco Group which are our related parties. These transactions include sales of products and services, purchase of goods and services, purchase of raw materials, components and finished goods, royalty and research development and management support, among others. For instance, we source certain key supplies such as electrodes and insulators of spark plugs from Federal-Mogul Ignition LLC, which is one of the members of our Promoter Group. We facilitate R&D activities at Tenneco Group’s global engineering tech centers located in Pune, Maharashtra, and Bengaluru, Karnataka. These centers support Tenneco Group’s engineering centers worldwide in design and simulation activities for Clean Air Solutions and Advanced Ride Technologies. For further information on our related party transactions, see “Other Financial Information - Related Party Transactions” beginning on page 491. See also “We depend on entities in the Tenneco Group for our operations, such as the license to use Tenneco Group’s brands and patented designs, technical know-how, purchase of certain parts and materials, and R&D. Any adverse change in our relationship, including the termination of our License Agreement, could have an adverse impact on our business, reputation, financial condition, and results of operations.” on page 60.

Further, during Fiscal 2025, one of our Subsidiaries, TAIPL, transferred its entire shareholding of 20,664,039 equity shares in Motocare to a member of our Promoter Group, Federal-Mogul Motorparts India Limited, for consideration of ₹8,293.51 million. Our Company had acquired the entire shareholding of TAIPL through a share swap arrangement in Fiscal 2025. However, the investment by TAIPL in Motocare was not acquired by our Company as part of this share swap arrangement. The consideration of ₹8,293.51 million, plus applicable interest, was a receivable as of June 30, 2025, from Federal-Mogul Motorparts India Limited. This amount, aggregating to ₹8,617.47 million, was received by TAIPL on July 17, 2025, and August 12, 2025, and was then paid as a dividend by TAIPL to our Company in full on July 22, 2025, and August 14, 2025. Subsequently, our Board declared an interim dividend to our Shareholders pursuant to a Board resolution dated July 28, 2025, and August 18, 2025, amounting to ₹3,499.25 million and ₹5,149.99 million, respectively, aggregating to ₹8,649.24 million. For details see “History and Certain Corporate Matters - Details regarding material acquisitions or divestments of business/undertakings, mergers, amalgamations, any revaluation of assets, etc., since incorporation” and “Dividend Policy” on pages 334 and 376, respectively.

While all our related party transactions for the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023 have been conducted on an arm’s length basis, are in compliance with applicable law and have not been prejudicial to the interests of our Company, we cannot assure you that such transactions in the future, individually or in aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations or that we could not have achieved more favorable terms if such transactions had not been entered into with related parties. All related party transactions that we may enter into post-listing will be subject to approvals from the Audit Committee, Board or Shareholders, as may be required under the Companies Act, 2013, as amended, provisions of the SEBI Listing Regulations and other applicable law. Further, it is likely that we may enter into additional related party transactions in the future. Such related-party transactions in the future may involve conflicts of interest which may be detrimental to the interest of our Company and we cannot assure you that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will always be in the best interest of our minority Shareholders and will not have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

* This has been included as an emphasis of matter in the audit report of TAIPL for Fiscal 2023. See “Restated Consolidated Financial Information- Material accounting policies and other explanatory notes to Restated Consolidated Financial Information” on page 391.

 This has been included as an emphasis of matter in the audit report of FMIPL for the three months period ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024, Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2024. See “Restated Consolidated Financial Information- Material accounting policies and other explanatory notes to Restated Consolidated Financial Information” on page 391.

For details, see “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments- Litigation involving our Subsidiaries- Compounding applications involving our Subsidiaries” on page 536. While these past non-compliances, except as mentioned above, have been regularized and compounded, there can be no assurance that we will not experience similar or other instances of non-compliance in the future. Further, in relation to the pending application filed by FMSIL, there can be no assurance that it will receive a favorable order, or that even after receiving a favorable order, it would not be required to pay penalties in respect of such compounding application. Any further delays or non-compliance with statutory requirements under the Companies Act, FEMA, or other applicable laws may subject our Company and/or our Subsidiaries to regulatory actions, penalties, or other proceedings, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, and reputation.

9. Our statutory auditors have identified certain emphasis of matters, matters pertaining to internal financial controls and Companies (Auditor’s Report) Order, 2020 (CARO 2020) in their reports as of and for the three months period ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscal 2025, 2024 and 2023.

In the Restated Consolidated Financial Information, our Statutory Auditors have reproduced the emphasis of matters included in the underlying auditor’s reports, which pertain to (i) FMIPL having filed a compounding application dated June 17, 2025 under section 441 of the Companies Act, 2013 before the Registrar of Companies for not convening annual general meeting of the shareholders within stipulated time period for Fiscal 2024 and the potential impact (including penalties or other regulatory consequences, if any) arising from said non-compliance not being fully ascertainable; (ii) the purpose and basis of preparation of the special purpose interim financial statements of TAIPL being only for preparation of the special purpose restated financial information of TAIPL, to enable our Company in preparation of its special purpose consolidated interim financial statements for the three months period ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 under, inter alia, the SEBI ICDR Regulations in relation to the proposed initial public offering of our Company and such special purpose interim financial statements of TAIPL not being suitable for any another purpose; (iii) the purpose and basis of preparation of the special purpose consolidated financial statements for Fiscal 2023 and Fiscal 2024 being only for preparation of the restated consolidated financial information of our Company under the SEBI ICDR Regulations in relation to the proposed initial public offering of our Company and such special purpose consolidated financial statements not being suitable for any another purpose (iv) Fiscal 2024, wherein significant difference of ₹40.30 million was observed between the physical inventory count conducted in December 2023 and the perpetual inventory records of the FMIPL. The lack of supporting evidence to reconcile the difference raised concerns about the possibility of misappropriation of inventory or other irregularities thus resulting in the matter being reported to the Central Government on January 6, 2025 as the unexplained discrepancy may indicate a potential fraud (v) TAIPL not having complied with provisions of Section 92, 96, 129 and 137 of the Companies Act, 2013 ('the Act'), with respect to filing of annual return with the Registrar of Company (ROC), conducting its Annual General Meeting ('AGM'), laying of its financial statements in such AGM and submission of financial statements with the ROC within the prescribed timelines for Fiscal 2023.

Further, there were matters which appeared as audit qualifications in the Independent Auditor's Report on the Internal Financial Controls pertaining to TAIPL in Fiscal 2023 in relation to material weakness being identified in internal financial controls due to inadequate segregation of duties, supervisory controls over vendor payments and timely reconciliations thereof, which resulted in misappropriation of funds through fraudulent payments, impacting trade payable balances and its consequential impact on the earnings, reserves and surplus and related disclosures in the financial statements.

For details in relation to the above matters, see "Restated Consolidated Financial Information- Material accounting policies and other explanatory notes to Restated Consolidated Financial Information- Basis of preparation, measurement and material accounting policies- Basis of preparation, measurement and material accounting policies" on page 391.

There are also matters reported under Rule 11 (g) of the Companies (Audit and Auditors) Rules, 2014 for TAIPL for Fiscal 2025 and Fiscal 2024 pertaining to audit trail feature not being enabled at database level for accounting software to log any direct data changes. In addition, statements / comments are reported in the Companies (Auditor's Report) Order, 2020 (CARO 2020) in relation to TAIPL in (i) Fiscal 2025 for the said entity having received whistleblower complaints during the year, which were considered by the auditors while determining the nature, timing and extent of audit procedures and certain other matters including slight delays in deposit of statutory dues and physical verification of inventory not being done for goods in transit and inventory lying with third parties (ii) Fiscal 2024 and Fiscal 2023, for misappropriation of funds by an employee of the said entity, through manipulation of existing controls around vendor payments on multiple occasions during the current and preceding financial years as identified by the management subsequent to March 31, 2023 but before the adoption of financial statements for Fiscal 2023, causing losses aggregating to ₹ 194.45 million and matters relating to delays in deposit of statutory dues. In relation to the same, TAIPL filed a complaint dated July 30, 2025 with the Superintendent of Police, Krishnagiri, Tamil Nadu, against its ex-employees for cheating, fraud, criminal conspiracy and misappropriation of funds, which offences allegedly took place from April 2018 upto June 2023, wherein TAIPL was allegedly defrauded of payments to the tune of ₹ 194.45 million. However, no action has been taken on the complaint so far. For details, see "We have received several whistleblower complaints in the past and may receive additional complaints in the future. Certain of these complaints are currently under investigation and could reveal deficiencies in our internal controls and financial reporting processes. If any of these allegations are substantiated, such as misstatements, fraud, or control deficiencies, they could adversely impact our reputation, our business, results of operations and financial condition." on page 89 and "There are certain delays in payment of statutory dues by our Company and Subsidiaries. Any failure or delay in payment of statutory dues in the future may expose us to statutory and regulatory action, as well as significant penalties, and may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition." on page 96. In this regard, TAIPL is considering corrective steps, including discussions with third-party IT service providers to evaluate the feasibility of implementing software that provides an audit-trail feature. Further, we are reinitiating the compliance tool Lexcomply to strengthen statutory compliance and assigning process owners to ensure timely adherence and payment of statutory dues.

We cannot assure you that the statutory auditors of our Company or Subsidiaries will not include similar matters or other emphasis of matters, adverse remarks, observations or other matters in respective audit reports in the future and that such matters will not otherwise affect our results of operations and financial position in the future. Investors should consider these observations of our Statutory Auditor or the statutory auditors of our Subsidiaries in evaluating our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

10. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on our earnings, financial condition, working capital requirements, capital expenditures and restrictive covenants of our financing arrangements.

Our Company has declared and paid a dividend on the Equity Shares amounting to ₹1,716.61 million, ₹4,092.42 million, ₹5,591.17 million and ₹2,804.28 million during the three months ended June 30, 2025 Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively. Further, our Company has declared and paid a dividend on the Equity Shares amounting to ₹8,649.24 million during the period from July 1, 2025 till the date of this Prospectus. Our Board, on June 4, 2025, noted that pursuant to the share purchase agreement dated March 24, 2025 executed amongst TAIPL (which later became our Subsidiary with effect from March 26, 2025), Motocare and Federal-Mogul Motorparts (India) Limited (“Motorparts”) (such agreement, the “Motocare SPA”), TAIPL transferred all the shares of Motocare held by it to Motorparts for an aggregate consideration of ₹8,293.51 million (“Purchase Consideration”) which, together with the applicable interest on thereon, was agreed to be paid by Motorparts to TAIPL on a deferred basis in accordance with the terms of the Motocare SPA and in accordance with applicable law. The consideration of ₹8,293.51 million, plus applicable interest, was a receivable as of June 30, 2025, from Federal-Mogul Motorparts India Limited. This amount, aggregating to ₹8,617.47 million, was received by TAIPL on July 17, 2025, and August 12, 2025, and was subsequently paid as a dividend by TAIPL to our Company in full on July 22, 2025, and August 14, 2025. Subsequently, our Board declared an interim dividend to our Shareholders pursuant to a Board resolution dated July 28, 2025, and August 18, 2025, amounting to ₹3,499.25 million and ₹5,149.99 million, respectively, aggregating to ₹8,649.24 million. The payment of such dividend has resulted in a reduction in the reserves and surplus of our Company and may impact our financial condition and future growth prospects. We cannot assure you that we will be able to pay similar dividends or any dividends in the future.

Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on our profits, capital requirements, cost of borrowing, and restrictive covenants under any agreement executed by our Company. The declaration and payment of dividends will be recommended by our Board and approved by our Shareholders, at their discretion, subject to the provisions of the Articles of Association and applicable law, including the Companies Act, 2013. We may retain all future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of the business or we may also declare special dividends depending on our results of operations.

Accordingly, the realization of a gain on Shareholders’ investments will depend on the appreciation of the price of the Equity Shares. There is no guarantee that the Equity Shares will appreciate in value. For details, see “Dividend Policy” beginning on page 376.

- (15) Free cash flow (“FCF”) / EBITDA is calculated as FCF divided by EBITDA. FCF is calculated as net cash flow from operating activities less capital expenditure.
- (16) Cash Conversion Cycle is calculated as the sum of Receivable Days and Inventory Days less Payable Days, rounded to the nearest whole number. Receivable Days is calculated as average trade receivables divided by (revenue from operations divided by 365 for Fiscals or 91 for three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 (as applicable)), rounded to the nearest whole number. Inventory Days is calculated as average inventories divided by (cost of goods sold divided by 365 for Fiscals or 91 for three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 (as applicable)), rounded to the nearest whole number. Cost of goods sold comprises Cost of Materials Consumed, Purchases of Stock in Trade and Changes in inventories of finished goods, semi-finished goods and Stock in trade. Payable Days is calculated as average trade payables divided by (total purchases divided by 365 for Fiscals or 91 for three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 (as applicable)), rounded to the nearest whole number. - (23) Net Working Capital is calculated as Current Assets (excluding assets classified as held for sale and receivables related to sale of investment in Motocare India Private Limited classified under Other financial assets) less Current Liabilities (excluding liabilities relating to assets held for sale), as per Restated Consolidated Financial Information.
- (24) Net Working Capital Days is calculated as 365 (for Fiscals) or 91 (for three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024), multiplied by Net Working Capital turnover, rounded off to zero decimals. Net working capital turnover is calculated as Net Working Capital divided by Revenue from Operations.

Our success depends on our ability to effectively manage our business and implement our strategies. As part of our growth strategies, we plan to capture market opportunities from tightening emission standards, capitalize on trends toward premiumization, SUVs, EVs and hybrids, continue strategic localization, position our operations in India as an export hub, continue to focus on R&D and innovation and further leverage efficiencies and cross-selling opportunities across business divisions. For further details, see “Our Business – Our Strategies” on page 284.

Pursuing our growth strategies may expose us to certain risks, including difficulties arising from operating a larger and more complex organization; the possibility of inefficient allocation of management, technology and other resources across our organization; ineffective competition with competitors; the failure to increase our production capacity; insufficient financing for expected capital expenditures or failure to control our costs; unexpected delays in completing projects or acquisitions; delays in the granting of regulatory approvals; and unforeseen legal, regulatory, property, workforce or other issues. In addition, the trends in tightening emissions standards and customer preferences for more premium products, SUVs and hybrids may not continue.

Our export strategy faces challenges due to global economic conditions, tariff structure changes, and regulatory compliance requirements. Changes in international trade policies and tariffs can impact the cost-effectiveness of exporting our products. For instance, new tariffs or trade barriers imposed by countries where we export could increase costs and reduce competitiveness. The U.S. increased tariffs on most imports from India to 50% in August 2025, including for our Clean Air and Advanced Ride Technologies products. Although these U.S. tariffs have increased the costs of such products to our customers, we continue to export to the U.S. and, as of the date of this Prospectus, have not received any customer requests for price or volume reductions attributable to the tariff increase. See also “—Changes in international trade policies, geopolitics and trade tariffs, export controls, economic or trade sanctions may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations” on page 85. Exporting to new markets requires compliance with diverse regulatory standards, which can be complex and costly. Failure to meet these standards could limit our ability to penetrate new markets or expand in existing ones.

There can be no assurance that our growth strategies will result in the anticipated growth in our revenues or improvement in our results of operations. Further, we expect our growth strategies to place significant demands on our management, financial and other resources and require us to continue developing and improving our operational, financial and other internal controls. We cannot assure you that our existing or future management, operational and financial systems, procedures and controls will be adequate to support future operations or establish or develop business relationships beneficial to future operations. Failure to manage growth effectively could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

12. Our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions division contributed 56.28%, 60.60%, 57.51%, 65.90%, and 62.98% of our revenue from operations for the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and is subject to electrification risks that affect the automotive industry generally, which could reduce the demand for internal combustion engine vehicles and in turn the demand for our products.

Our future performance is closely tied to our ability to navigate the industry-wide shift from internal combustion engines (“ICE”) to electrification. While our Advanced Ride Technologies products are used in ICE, electric vehicles (“EVs”) and hybrid vehicles, our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions division primarily operates within the ICE and hybrid segments of the automotive market.

The table below sets forth the breakdown of our VAR and revenue from operations by business division for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

While the CRISIL Report anticipates that in India sales of EVs in the PV market will account for only 15% to 20% of total passenger car sales by Fiscal 2030, and EV adoption in the heavy commercial vehicle segment will be negligible in the near future, regulatory actions, changing customer preferences and artificial intelligence (“AI”) advancements in autonomous driving and battery improvements may accelerate the transition toward EVs and away from ICE vehicles, which could reduce the demand for our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions products. Moreover, any shift from diesel engines in PVs and CVs to gasoline or compressed natural gas could reduce content per vehicle (“CPV”) and demand for our Clean Air Solutions products. While our business was not materially adversely impacted by the shift from ICE to electrification in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, electrification risks may affect the automotive industry generally, which could reduce the demand for internal combustion engine vehicles and in turn the demand for our products, and we cannot provide assurance that such shifts will not have an adverse impact on our revenue, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows, and prospects.

13. We depend on a limited number of suppliers to procure our raw materials and certain components (such as pressed parts, electrodes and bimetal strips). In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023 our purchases of raw materials from our top ten suppliers for the respective periods/Fiscals contributed to 31.54%, 31.22%, 30.18%, 39.52%, and 42.47% of our raw material purchases (net), respectively. For certain of our components such as pressed parts, electrodes and bimetal strips, we are dependent on a single supplier. Interruptions in the supply of raw materials and components could adversely affect our ability to manufacture our products, execute our projects and consequently our business and results.

We depend on our suppliers for our raw materials, such as steel, ceramics and substrates, and certain components, such as pressed parts, electrodes and bimetal strips, to manufacture our products. Although we seek to purchase the raw materials used in our manufacturing process from more than one supplier, we source some components such as pressed parts, electrodes and bimetal strips from a single supplier for specific product categories because (i) alternative sources are not readily available, (ii) the relationships with those third-party suppliers are more advantageous due to their performance, quality, support, delivery, capacity, existing relationships or price considerations, or (iii) it is not economical to create different tooling or conduct multiple engineering tests for multiple suppliers. Accordingly, we are exposed to the risk that a supplier of one of our key components may be unable to supply enough products to meet our demand. In the event of a disruption of supplies, we may be unable to source such supplies from alternative suppliers on similar commercial terms and within a reasonable timeframe. Moreover, changes in a supplier may require our customers' approval, which may entail product validation and testing, as well as substantial new investment in sourcing the components.

The table below sets forth our costs to purchase raw materials (including commodities and components) including the cost of substrates attributable to our top, top 5 and top 10 suppliers for the periods/Fiscals stated:

The following table sets forth the number of suppliers of raw materials and substrates for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Particulars	Three months ended June 30, 2025	2024	Fiscal 2025	Fiscal 2024	Fiscal 2023

Number of suppliers of substrates	21	20	22	20	25

We select suppliers (other than suppliers of customer directed components including substrates) based on capability including their production capacities and financial condition. However, capacity limitations, industry shortages, labor or social unrest, natural disasters or other problems that our suppliers experience, including their financial or operational instability, may cause shortages or delays in their supply, which could disrupt our manufacturing processes and prevent us from delivering products to our customers. This also applies to suppliers of substrates, though we are not responsible for selecting them. While we did not experience material supply disruptions in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, any such disruptions could harm our reputation and business and result in additional costs such as exceptional transportation costs and costs related to finding alternative suppliers within constrained timelines, which could adversely impact our financial condition.

14. In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, our cost of raw materials consumed from imported sources contributed to 16.95%, 26.36%, 16.46%, 29.59%, and 26.46% of our cost of raw material consumed, respectively. We are therefore exposed to international supply chain risks and any changes in the political relationship between India and such countries or the implementation of laws and policies affecting supplier relationships could adversely affect our ability to manufacture our products, execute our projects and consequently our business and results.

We source the majority of parts and materials from suppliers based in India. However, we also import raw materials and components from several countries including, but not limited to, the USA, Spain, China, Germany, Republic of Korea, North Macedonia, Belgium, Czech Republic, Italy and Mexico. Negative incidents involving regions where we import our raw materials from may materially impede our supply chain and operations.

The table below sets forth the breakdown of our cost of materials consumed from domestic and imported sources for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Additionally, for some materials such as steel, our domestic suppliers also import the material from their own end suppliers or suppliers as directed by us. Importing supplies exposes us and our suppliers to changes in the political relationship between India and such countries or the implementation of laws and policies affecting supplier relationships.

For example, in April 2025, China imposed export restrictions on certain rare earth metals that are critical for manufacturing our ignition products, requiring exporters to obtain licenses. While our suppliers may have applied for the necessary licenses, any delay in their obtaining the necessary approvals may increase our supply costs, disrupt our production and adversely impact our operations. Similarly, the Government of India's ban on the import of steel weld wire or special fasteners in Fiscals 2025 and 2024 required us to switch to a local supplier for these products in Fiscal 2025. In addition, in Fiscal 2024, our supply schedules were impacted by attacks on commercial vessels through the Suez Canal by the Houthi rebels.

As a result, ships had to take longer routes, which increased delivery times. This required close collaboration with our component suppliers and customers to effectively manage our supply chain and we had to reschedule production and resort to air freighting parts to ensure timely delivery. While these alternate arrangements did not result in any material financial impact on us in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, there is no assurance that such future changes in political relationships or implementation of laws and policies affecting supplier relationships will not materially affect our revenue, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows, and prospects.

15. Our Registered Office, Corporate Office and manufacturing facilities (except for the Chakan Sealings Facility), warehouses and R&D centers are located on leased land. If we are unable to renew or extend such leases, our business operations may be adversely affected. Further, land title in India can be uncertain and we may not be able to identify or correct defects or irregularities in title to certain land which we own.

Our business operations, including our Registered Office, Corporate Office, manufacturing facilities (other than the Chakan Sealings Facility), warehouses and R&D centers are located on leased land. The table below set forth our lease costs for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

The terms of most of our lease agreements range from 11 months to 99 years with restricted rights to terminate in most leases, and are subject to a lock-in period and renewal options available to us. In addition, as of June 30, 2025, we leased 12 warehouses in India, comprising three warehouses for the Clean Air Solutions business located in Bhopal (Madhya Pradesh), Anantapur (Andhra Pradesh), and Pithampur (Madhya Pradesh), three warehouses for the Advanced Ride Technologies business (one located in Chennai (Tamil Nadu), and two in Hosur (Tamil Nadu)), four warehouses for ignition products located in Chennai (Tamil Nadu), Haridwar (Uttarakhand), Halol (Gujarat), and Anantapur (Andhra Pradesh), and two for bearing products located in Pune (Maharashtra) and Chennai (Tamil Nadu). While there are currently no instances of non-compliance with the terms of our lease agreements, any future non-compliance may lead to the termination of such leases. Any change in the terms and conditions and any premature termination of such lease agreements may have an adverse impact on our operations. For details on the location of properties, see “Our Business – Our Properties” on page 318.

For risk in relation to manufacturing units leased to us by industrial development corporations please see, “– Nine out of our 12 manufacturing facilities operate on industrial land allotted to us by industrial development corporations. Failure to comply with the conditions of use of such land could result in an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.” on page 98.

Any adverse impact on the title, ownership rights, or development rights of the owners from whose premises we operate, breach of the contractual terms of any lease, leave and license agreements, or any inability to renew such agreements on acceptable terms may also affect our operations. In addition, the terms of certain leases require us to obtain the lessor’s prior consent for certain actions such as making structural alterations to the leased premises, which may be required if we were to undertake an expansion in the future. There can be no assurance that we will be able to renew these leasing arrangements on commercially favorable terms, or at all. If we are unable to renew all or any of our leasing arrangements, it may cause disruptions in our business and we may incur substantial costs associated with relocating to new premises, all of which may adversely affect our business operations.

There is no central title registry for land property in India and the documentation of land records in India has not been fully computerized. Property records in India are generally maintained at the state and district level and in local languages, and are updated manually through physical records, which may not be updated in a timely manner, may be illegible, untraceable, incomplete or inaccurate in certain respects. Title may also suffer from irregularities, such as non-execution or non-registration of conveyance deeds and inadequate stamping. For instance, the premises where our Bawal Facility is located (“Land”) was allotted to our Material Subsidiary, TAIPL, vide a letter of allotment dated July 6, 2007 issued by the Haryana State Industrial and Infrastructure Development Corporation Ltd. (“HSI IDC”), which was accepted by TAIPL on September 21, 2007. Thereafter, TAIPL and HSI IDC entered into an agreement dated September 21, 2007, pursuant to which TAIPL accepted the offer of allotment of the Land for the payment of consideration, as specified in the said agreement, together with the interest on a deferred basis. Subsequently, TAIPL has also obtained the occupation certificates in relation to the Land from HSI IDC. While TAIPL has paid the entire consideration for the Land, with the final installment paid on December 30, 2009, it has not as on date entered into a deed of conveyance for the Land with HSI IDC as the conveyance deed could not be executed at the time of payment of the final installment due to a combination of administrative and legal transitions within TAIPL at the time, including several changes in its board of directors and certain corporate restructuring related changes. These changes required updates to be reflected in various statutory records, approvals, and registrations, impacting the ability to execute the conveyance deed in a timely manner. While TAIPL has submitted an application dated October 6, 2025 with the HSI IDC for the completion of necessary formalities, we cannot assure you that the deed of conveyance will certainly be executed and registered in favor of TAIPL. Presently, pending the execution of the deed of conveyance, the Land is classified as a ‘leasehold’ property, however there is no written lease agreement in existence between TAIPL and HSI IDC. In the event of any dispute regarding right of ownership or otherwise, title and possession of the Land, we cannot assure you TAIPL would be able to successfully defend or establish its rights and/or title over the Land. If TAIPL is dispossessed from the Land, there is no assurance that the consideration will be refunded, and that we will find an alternate land in the same vicinity and with similar favourable commercial terms, or at all, and it may be time consuming and operationally challenging for us to move to the alternate location, which all shall adversely affect our business operations, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

16. There are outstanding legal proceedings involving our Company, Subsidiaries and Directors. Any adverse outcome in such proceedings may have an adverse impact on our reputation, business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

18. Our Promoters and certain of our Group Companies are in a similar line of business as us which may involve conflict of interests, which could adversely impact our business.

While exercising their rights as our Shareholders, our Promoters may consider the interest of all their subsidiaries and affiliates, which may not align with our interests. For further details of the arrangement with Group Companies, see “Our Group Companies - Related business transactions within our Group Companies and significance on the financial performance of our Company” on page 375.

19. We and our Promoters are potentially subject to laws related to anti-corruption, anti-bribery, anti-money laundering, financial and applicable primary and secondary economic sanctions and similar laws of the US and EU or other jurisdictions, and non-compliance with such laws can subject us to administrative, civil and criminal fines and penalties, all of which could adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

Our Promoter and us are potentially subject to anti-corruption, anti-bribery, anti-money laundering, and similar laws and regulations in various jurisdictions in which we conduct or in the future may conduct activities, including the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002, Prevention of Corruption Act, 1988, U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (“FCPA”), and other applicable anti-corruption laws and regulations. Such laws prohibit us and our officers, directors, employees and business partners acting on our behalf, including agents, from corruptly offering, promising, authorising or providing anything of value to a “foreign official” for the purposes of influencing official decisions or obtaining or retaining business or otherwise obtaining favourable treatment. Such laws also require companies to make and keep books, records and accounts that accurately reflect transactions and dispositions of assets and to maintain a system of adequate internal accounting controls. A violation of these laws or regulations could lead to administrative, civil and criminal fines and penalties, collateral consequences or remedial measures which may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and reputation. Our Company was not subject to civil or criminal proceedings relating to such laws and regulations in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024, and 2023. Our policies and procedures designed to ensure compliance with these regulations may not be sufficient and our directors, officers, employees, representatives, consultants, agents and business partners could engage in improper conduct for which we may be held responsible.

Further, our Promoter and us are also subject to laws related to economic and financial sanctions. For example, the U.S. government, including the U.S. Department of the Treasury’s Office of Foreign Assets Control (“OFAC”) and the U.S. Department of State, administers and enforces certain laws and regulations (“U.S. primary sanctions”) that impose restrictions upon activities or transactions within U.S. jurisdiction with certain countries or territories, governments, or persons, including entities and individuals, that are the target of U.S. primary sanctions (“U.S. Sanctions Targets”). Non-U.S. persons generally are not automatically bound by U.S. primary sanctions, but to the extent they engage in transactions involving a U.S. jurisdictional nexus such as involving U.S. persons or goods or services obtained from the United States (such as, for example, a U.S. dollar payment that clears through a correspondent account in the United States), they are required to comply with OFAC sanctions. Violations of U.S. primary sanctions can result in substantial civil or criminal penalties. In addition to primary sanctions, the United States also maintains “secondary sanctions”, which expose non-U.S. parties to a range of U.S. sanctions for engaging in specified activities with certain U.S. sanctions targets, including, for instance, as related to Iran, North Korea, and Russia. U.S. secondary sanctions are maintained under a wide and growing range of statutes and executive orders. For example, non-U.S. persons can be sanctioned for engaging in significant transactions with certain persons designated on OFAC’s Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons List (the “OFAC SDN List”). Secondary sanctions apply to the conduct of non-U.S. parties, even if those non-U.S. parties engage in such conduct without U.S. person support or participation, and even if those non-U.S. parties have no connections to or operations in the United States. Non-U.S. parties that engage in sanctionable activities are potentially subject to a number of secondary sanctions, including, among other things, designation on the OFAC SDN List, which would prohibit U.S. persons from dealing in all property in which the sanctioned party has an interest, including a prohibition on transactions or dealings within U.S. jurisdiction involving securities of the sanctioned company. The EU also enforces certain laws and regulations that impose restrictions upon nationals and entities of, and business conducted in, EU member states with respect to certain activities or transactions with certain countries and governments, and also with respect to wider ranges of activities involving so-called “designated” entities and individuals (such designated persons being “EU Sanctions Targets” and, together with U.S. Sanctions Targets, “Sanctions Targets”). Other supra-national and governmental entities also administer and enforce similar sanctions, including United Nations Security Council resolutions and independent sanctions regimes as implemented and administered by countries such as the United Kingdom, Canada and Australia. Our Company has implemented policies and procedures designed to ensure compliance with applicable sanctions laws and our Company was not subject to civil or criminal proceedings relating to sanctions violations in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023.

20. Changes in international trade policies, geopolitics and trade tariffs, export controls, economic or trade sanctions may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our business is exposed to international trade policies, geopolitical tensions and the imposition of tariffs, export controls or economic sanctions, which are inherently unpredictable and beyond our control. In particular, geopolitical tensions and economic sanctions may lead to restrictions on our product sales and raw material procurement in certain countries, limiting our access to key markets. Changes in trade or investment agreements could result in bans or limitations on our goods, thereby curbing our expansion efforts. In addition, sanctions could strain our relationships with foreign partners and suppliers, adversely affecting our international business. Additionally, heightened tensions may shift consumer preferences in overseas markets toward domestically produced products, reducing demand for imported goods, including ours. We may face increased tariffs on our products, driving up our products' prices, undermining our competitiveness and impacting our profit margins.

During the course of February and April 2025, U.S. President Donald Trump implemented tariffs on several major trading partners, including India, Canada and the European Union, with a baseline of 10% tariffs on all countries, including India and an additional individualized reciprocal higher tariff on the countries with which the U.S. has the largest trade deficits. Subsequently, the U.S. increased tariffs on most imports from India to 50% in August 2025, including for our Clean Air and Advanced Ride Technologies products. Although these U.S. tariffs have increased the costs of such products to our customers, we continue to export to the U.S. and, as of the date of this Prospectus, have not received any customer requests for price or volume reductions attributable to the tariff increase. These tariffs, together with countermeasures that have been or may be adopted by trading partners affected by these tariffs are likely to disrupt global trade and increase volatility in financial markets, including stock, currency and interest rate markets. Additionally, the Trump administration has announced and rescinded multiple tariffs on several foreign jurisdictions, which has increased uncertainty regarding the ultimate effect of the tariffs on economic conditions.

The table below set forth the breakdown of our revenue from sales to the U.S., and as a percentage of our revenue from operations for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Particulars	For the three months ended June 30, 2025		2024		For Fiscal 2025		For Fiscal 2024		For Fiscal 2023
	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations
Revenue from sales to the U.S.	283.14	2.20%	155.74	1.23%	770.69	1.58%	616.85	1.13%	968.43	2.01%

The imposition of these or any similar tariffs may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

21. Pricing pressure from our customers or our inability to pass on costs to our customers, may materially and adversely impact our revenue from operations and profitability.

OEMs in the automotive components industry may pursue aggressive and systematic price reduction initiatives with their suppliers. Pressure from our customers to reduce our prices may affect our profit margins in the future.

For example, we absorb discounts and price reductions sought by our customers from time to time in order to remain competitive. The table below sets forth the amount of discounts, rebates, and credits offered by us for the periods/Fiscals stated:

Particulars	For the three months ended June 30, 2025		2024		For Fiscal 2025		For Fiscal 2024		For Fiscal 2023
	Amount (₹ millions)	% revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% revenue from operations
Discount, rebates and credits	262.62	2.04%	682.97	5.37%	1,439.08	2.94%	989.83	1.81%	448.25	0.93%

To maintain profitability despite price reductions stemming from negotiations and external factors beyond our control, we must reduce operating costs and increase operating efficiencies. As our business is capital intensive, requiring us to maintain a large, fixed cost base, our profitability is dependent in part on our ability to spread fixed costs over higher sales volume. However, we may not be able to spread such fixed costs effectively as our customers generally negotiate for larger discounts in price as the volume of their orders increases. If we are unable to offset customer price reductions in the future through improved operating efficiencies, new manufacturing processes, sourcing alternatives and other cost reduction initiatives, our results of operations and financial condition may be materially adversely affected.

22. We are subject to strict performance requirements, including, but not limited to, the quality of our products and delivery schedules, and failing to comply (including due to problems with our component suppliers) may lead to cancellation of orders, product recalls, product liability claims, warranty claims, litigation and other disputes and claims.

We are subject to strict quality standards imposed by our customers. Our failure to comply with those standards, including as a result of our component suppliers' failing to comply with their obligations to us, could prevent us from delivering products to our customers or our customers rejecting the products we deliver. Non-compliance with applicable quality standards could also result in our products failing to perform as expected or being alleged to result in bodily injury, property damage or both. Such events could expose us to warranty, product recall and product liability claims. We may also be held liable for defects in the products we sell even if the defect originated with our suppliers. While a majority of our contracts with suppliers include indemnification provisions for liabilities arising from product defects or negligent or wrongful act or omission by the supplier, such recourse is subject to limitations set for the contracts, and there is no assurance that we will be able to claim losses from suppliers due to product liability claims or recalls resulting for defective supplies.

Some product warranties we provide to certain key customers may require us to bear the repair or replacement costs of defective products, and indemnify customers against losses, liability, costs, damages, and expenses resulting from inter alia claims that a defect in the part caused personal injury or property damage or any loss or damage caused by our failure or negligence in performing the contract. In addition, costs and expenses associated with warranties, product recalls and product liability claims could have a material adverse impact on our results of operations and financial condition and may differ materially from the estimated liabilities that we have recorded in our consolidated financial statements. Such financial and operational challenges may be further exacerbated if customers initiate any legal proceedings against us.

The table below sets forth the expenditure incurred for product warranties and product liability claims including as a percentage of our revenue from operations for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Particulars	For the three months ended June 30,		For Fiscal 2025	For Fiscal 2024	For Fiscal 2023
	2025	2024
Expenditure incurred for product warranties and product liability claims ⁽¹⁾ (₹ millions)	20.47	11.95	59.02	5.95	121.06
Expenditure incurred for product warranties and product liability claims as a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	0.16%	0.09%	0.12%	0.01%	0.25%

Note:

(1) The decrease in Fiscal 2024 compared to Fiscal 2023 was due to reversals in Fiscal 2024 of warranty provisions made in prior years related to sales to the aftermarket by the Advanced Ride Technologies division and to OEMs by the Clean Air Solutions and Advanced Ride Technologies division. The increase in Fiscal 2025 compared to Fiscal 2024 was due to the lower provision base in Fiscal 2024 as a result of the reversals described above, and increased VAR sales in Fiscal 2025, which led to higher warranty provisions. The increase in the warranty provision for three months ended June 30, 2025 compared to the three months ended June 30, 2024 was to ensure adequate provision for future warranty claims.

A recall claim could require us to review our entire product portfolio to assess whether similar issues are present in other product lines, which could result in significant disruption to our business and have an adverse impact on our results of operations. In addition, the potential reputational harm that may result from defective products or product recalls could have a material adverse impact on our results of operations and financial condition. While we have not been subject to product recalls in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, there can be no assurance that we will not be subject to such product recalls in the future.

While we maintain insurance for product liability and recall, our insurance coverage may not be adequate to cover all insured claims and liabilities. Further, as a result of product liability legislation, civil claims may be brought against OEMs where damages may have been caused by any faulty products that we produced. As a result, our OEM customers are entitled to claim indemnity from us under our agreements. In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023 we were not, and as of the date of this Prospectus we are not, subject to legal proceedings or disputes related to the quality of our products and delivery schedules that had or we believe will have a material adverse effect on our results of operations or financial condition. However, there can be no assurance that we will not be subject to such legal proceedings or disputes in the future.

23. We outsource certain business operations such as transport, logistics, and certain manufacturing processes to third parties. Any failure by such third parties to deliver their services could have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

We rely on external logistics contractors to deliver our raw materials and products. While a few customers in India pick up or arrange for delivery of finished products directly from our manufacturing facilities, for other customers we bear the costs of engaging third-party logistics providers to ship finished goods to our customers by road, and typically enter into one-year agreements with these providers. Our overseas customers collect their products from our premises or designated locations according to agreed transport modes, pricing and international commercial terms, as specified in our invoices. We also outsource certain non-critical manufacturing processes.

The table below sets forth our freight and forwarding costs and outsourced manufacturing costs for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Particulars	For the three months ended June 30, 2025		2024		For Fiscal 2025		For Fiscal 2024		For Fiscal 2023
	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations
Freight and forwarding costs	101.35	0.79%	81.24	0.64%	332.65	0.68%	357.37	0.65%	466.37	0.97%
Outsourced manufacturing costs	96.51	0.75%	83.22	0.65%	333.67	0.68%	324.70	0.59%	304.51	0.63%

As we do not control our third-party freight and transportation providers, we could be subject to transportation strikes that could disrupt supplies and deliveries to and from our customers and suppliers. Delays in the delivery of raw materials and products or a failure to deliver our products efficiently and reliably could adversely impact our customer relationships. Any compensation received from insurers or third-party transportation providers may be insufficient to cover the cost of delays and may not be able to repair the damage to our relationships with affected customers. We may also be affected by an increase in fuel costs, as this will have a corresponding impact on freight charges levied by our third-party transportation providers. While we have not experienced any failures to meet our customers' delivery schedules in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023 due to any fault of our external transport and logistics contractors, there is no assurance on the reliability of delivery by our contractors.

Our Subsidiary FMBIL also outsources certain non-critical manufacturing processes such as electroplating. While we have a structured supplier selection process, quality assurance systems and infrastructure in place to meet the different standards required by our customers, we do not directly control our outsourced processes. Where our contractors fail to meet quality standards, we have no legal recourse as we do not have indemnity protection from these contractors. While we did not have any material issues arising from our manufacturing outsourcing in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, outsourcing manufacturing processes may increase the risks of non-compliance with quality standards which may adversely affect our customer relationships.

24. If we are classified as a passive foreign investment company for U.S. federal income tax purposes, U.S. investors in Equity Shares may be subject to adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences.

A non-U.S. corporation will be classified as a passive foreign investment company (a “PFIC”) for any taxable year if either: (a) at least 75% of its gross income for such year is “passive income” for purposes of the PFIC rules or (b) at least 50% of the value of its assets (generally determined on the basis of a quarterly average) during such year is attributable to assets that produce or are held for the production of passive income. For this purpose, passive income generally includes, among other things, interest, dividends and other investment income, with certain exceptions. Cash is generally a passive asset for these purposes. The PFIC rules also contain a look-through rule whereby we will be treated as owning our proportionate share of the assets and earning our proportionate share of the income of any other entity in which we own, directly or indirectly, 25% or more (by value) of the equity. Based on the current and anticipated composition of our income, assets (including their expected value based on our anticipated market capitalization immediately following the close of this offering) and operations, we do not expect to be treated as a PFIC for the current taxable year. However, our PFIC status depends, in part, on the expected value of our unbooked goodwill, which may be determined by reference to the market price of the Equity Shares and which could fluctuate significantly. Whether we are treated as a PFIC is a factual determination that is made on an annual basis after the close of each taxable year. This determination will depend on, among other things, the ownership and the composition of our income and assets, as well as the value of our assets (which may fluctuate with our market capitalization), from time to time. Among other matters, if our market capitalization is less than anticipated or if it subsequently declines, it may make our classification as a PFIC more likely for the current or future taxable years. The composition of our income and assets may also be affected by how, and how quickly, we use liquid assets. Moreover, the application of the PFIC rules is unclear in certain respects. The U.S. Internal Revenue Service or a court may disagree with our determinations. Therefore, there can be no assurance that we will not be classified as a PFIC for the current taxable year or for any future taxable year. If we are treated as a PFIC for any taxable year during which a U.S. investor held Equity Shares, such U.S. investor could be subject to adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences.

25. If a U.S. investor is treated as owning at least 10% of the Equity Shares, such holder may be subject to adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences.

Depending upon the aggregate value and voting power of the Equity Shares that United States persons are treated as owning (directly, indirectly or constructively), the Company could be treated as a controlled foreign corporation (“CFC”) for U.S. federal income tax purposes. If a U.S. investor owns (directly, indirectly or constructively) at least 10% of the value or voting power of the Equity Shares, such person may be treated as a “United States shareholder” with respect to each CFC in the Company’s group (if any), which may subject such person to adverse U.S. federal income tax consequences. A United States shareholder of a CFC may be required to report annually and include in its U.S. taxable income its pro rata share of the controlled foreign corporation’s “Subpart F income,” “global intangible low-taxed income,” and investments in U.S. property, regardless of whether the CFC makes any distributions. An individual that is a United States shareholder with respect to a CFC generally would not be allowed certain tax deductions or foreign tax credits that would be allowed to a United States shareholder that is a U.S. corporation. Failure to comply with these reporting obligations may subject a United States shareholder to significant monetary penalties and may prevent the statute of limitations with respect to such United States shareholder’s U.S. federal income tax return for the year for which reporting was due from starting. The Company cannot provide any assurances that it will assist holders of Equity Shares in determining whether the Company or any of its non-U.S. subsidiaries is treated as a CFC or whether any holder of Equity Shares is treated as a United States shareholder with respect to any such CFC or furnish to any holder of Equity Shares information that may be necessary to comply with the aforementioned reporting and tax paying obligations. Each potential investor who is a U.S. taxpayer should consult its tax advisors regarding the potential application of these rules to an investment in the Equity Shares.

26. We have received several whistleblower complaints in the past and may receive additional complaints in the future. Certain of these complaints are currently under investigation and could reveal deficiencies in our internal controls and financial reporting processes. If any of these allegations are substantiated, such as misstatements, fraud, or control deficiencies, they could adversely impact our reputation, our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Tenneco LLC maintains a whistleblower hotline, which covers, amongst others, our Company and our Subsidiaries. This hotline enables employees, stakeholders, and other parties to report concerns related to ethics, compliance, or potential violations anonymously and in multiple languages. The details of the whistleblower complaints that have been received in relation to our Company and our Subsidiaries in Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, during the three months period ended June 30, 2025 and from July 1, 2025 until the date of this Prospectus are set out below:

S.no.	Entity	Number of complaints received			Nature of complaints	Number of complaints received since April 1, 2022 and resolved till date	Number of complaints outstanding, as on date of this Prospectus
		During Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023	During three months period ended June 30, 2025	From July 1, 2025 till the date of this Prospectus
1	Tenneco Clean Air India Limited	5	1	3	(i) employee misconduct, and inappropriate behaviour; (ii) conflict of interest; and (iii) theft;	7	2
2	Tenneco Automotive India Private Limited	30	12	26	(i) fraud; (ii) conflict of interest; (iii) employee misconduct, and inappropriate behaviour; (iv) undue benefits; (v) theft; (vi) breach of privacy and security concerns; (vii) kick-backs; (viii) health and safety; and (ix) wrongful termination	54	14

5	Federal-Mogul Sealings India Limited	1	-	1	Employee misconduct, and inappropriate behaviour	2	-

All such complaints are promptly reviewed and investigated, as appropriate, in accordance with our established policies and procedures. Where substantiated, we have taken corrective actions, including termination of employment, counselling or issuance of a formal warning. As on the date of this Prospectus, there are 21 outstanding whistle blower complaints involving us in respect of which the investigation is ongoing and the financial impact of the same is not ascertainable.

For instance, in Fiscal 2025, we received a whistleblower complaint alleging that an employee at the Bawal Facility of TAIPL received improper payments from certain packaging suppliers in connection with the procurement of packaging materials and that his supervisor was aware of the same. We initiated an internal investigation, with the assistance of forensic experts. The investigation has been completed and the allegations were found to be unsubstantiated. Additionally, in Fiscal 2024, the management of TAIPL identified that an employee was manipulating existing controls around vendor payments fraudulently to misappropriate funds on multiple occasions during and prior to Fiscals 2024 by making payments to other accounts instead of concerned vendor accounts. TAIPL appointed external agencies for fact-based investigation, forensic data analysis, analysis/ reporting on defined aspects of user activity etc. Based on the TAIPL management's internal assessment and reports received from external agencies, the financial impact of this fraud is estimated to be ₹194.45 million. The concerned employee has exited TAIPL and TAIPL has implemented additional supervisory and monitoring controls around vendor payment process during the year. The Restated Consolidated Financial Information and the examination report thereon include remarks from the Statutory Auditors in this regard. For details, see "Restated Consolidated Financial Information- Material accounting policies and other explanatory notes to Restated Consolidated Financial Information- Basis of preparation, measurement and material accounting policies" on page 391.

Until May 2025, we did not have a formal stand-alone whistleblower policy of our Company. However, the 'whistleblower and vigil mechanism policy' ("Policy") has been adopted by our Company on May 15, 2025. An Audit Committee of the Board has been recently constituted as well and, will oversee its implementation. While the Policy does not require that all complaints be reported to the Board, it follows a defined escalation matrix. The Company Secretary acts as the primary contact, followed by the chairperson of the Audit Committee, then the full Audit Committee for investigation oversight, and ultimately the Board of Directors for matters requiring further review or major decisions. For each complaint, individual investigation reports are prepared by the designated investigators.

Despite protective measures, we cannot assure you that we will not face future whistleblower complaints and any such future instances could materially and adversely affect our reputation, business, cash flows, results of operations and financial condition. We face the risk of inadvertently dismissing allegations which may prove to be plausible, at a later date. The findings from the inquiries conducted by us and the other relevant authorities/third party investigators for such complaints that we have received/ may receive in future may result in loss of business opportunities and/or customers and could adversely impact our reputation, which could consequently adversely impact our business, cash flows, financial conditions and results of operations.

Further, our internal controls and financial reporting processes rely on the accuracy and completeness of information provided by our management and employees. Any misstatement, fraud, intentional wrongdoing by such employees or deficiencies in our internal controls, may adversely impact our operations and financial reporting. For instance, during the course of the audit for Fiscal 2024, the statutory auditors of FMIPL, our Subsidiary, observed unexplained shortages in inventory counts and were informed of certain whistle-blower complaints against FMIPL in relation to suspected offence involving fraud, including instances of inventory theft, kickbacks received by certain employees, material purchases at higher rates, and allegations of not following proper work process and displaying willful acts of fraud against certain employees of FMIPL. In addition to an internal review, FMIPL engaged independent consultants to inter alia conduct an independent analysis of the whistleblower complaints and ancillary allegations and to conduct an assessment of the status of inventory management and related issues. The board of directors of FMIPL concluded that all identified/required adjustments have been recorded in the financial statements as at and for the year ended March 31, 2024 and no further adjustments are required in respect of these matters. These abovementioned reviews identified certain control deficiencies and process gaps, which were addressed through remedial measures, including changes in team leadership, enhanced staffing, improved enterprise resource planning and inventory management systems, and the implementation of a more robust standard operating procedures and controls. Further, FMIPL also filed police complaints in the form of FIRs, as disclosed in "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments- Litigation involving our Subsidiaries- Criminal proceedings" by our Subsidiaries” on page 535. The Board of Directors noted that in compliance with the requirements of Section 143(12) of the Companies Act, 2013 read with Rule 13(1)(ii) of the Companies (Audit and Auditors) Rules, 2014 (as amended), the statutory auditors had reported this matter to the Central Government on January 6, 2025, as the unexplained discrepancy may indicate a potential fraud. However, the subsequent physical inventory count and roll-forward procedures for inventory balance as at March 31, 2024 were found to be appropriate. The Restated Consolidated Financial Information and the examination report thereon include remarks from the Statutory Auditors in this regard. For details, see “Restated Consolidated Financial Information- Material accounting policies and other explanatory notes to Restated Consolidated Financial Information- Basis of preparation, measurement and material accounting policies” on page 391. Despite the remedial actions taken and ongoing improvements to internal controls, we cannot assure you that all risks of fraud, misstatement, or control deficiencies have been eliminated or will not recur in the future. Any failure to detect or prevent such incidents could result in financial losses, regulatory or legal actions, reputational harm, and adverse effects on our business, results of operations, and financial condition. Furthermore, the inability to obtain or maintain adequate supporting documentation for certain transactions may limit the ability to fully investigate or resolve past discrepancies and impact the reliability of our financial reporting.

27. Any unscheduled, unplanned or prolonged disruption to our manufacturing and R&D operations could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Any disruption in our manufacturing facilities and R&D centers could hinder our ability to meet customer demand. Our manufacturing facilities and R&D centers are subject to risks of equipment breakdowns, disruptions in electrical power or water resources, fire and industrial accidents, which may entail significant repair and maintenance costs and delay our production schedules and hinder our ability to meet customer demand. For instance, in February 2025, a fire at the Parwanoo Facility of our Subsidiary FMBIL affected the electroplating facility and disrupted operations for several days. As a result, we had to manage electroplating through a third-party or intercompany vendor. We have filed an insurance claim of ₹40.00 million for machinery loss and ₹32.01 million for business disruption losses, subject to the installation date of new machinery. In May 2025, we received an insurance payment of ₹15.00 million towards the total insurance claim of ₹40.00 million for machinery loss. The remaining balance of ₹25.00 million under the ₹40.00 million claim for machinery loss and the ₹32.01 million claim for business disruption losses remain under processing by the insurance company. While these claims are covered under our Subsidiary’s insurance policy, we cannot assure you that the full claimed amounts will be recovered.

To reduce the risks of such instances in future, we have started an initiative to improve our management of potential environmental, health, and safety hazards. This involves regularly updating and tracking these issues in a database across our plants.

In addition, our manufacturing facilities and R&D facilities are susceptible to local and regional factors, such as economic and weather conditions, natural disasters, political, demographic and population changes, and other unforeseen events and circumstances. While this did not occur in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, damage to or destruction of a significant portion of our manufacturing and R&D capabilities could cause significant delays in development and/or shipments of our products and/or otherwise materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Also see “–Our Bhiwadi Facility, Hosur Facility and Puducherry Facility currently operate at high-capacity utilization levels and we may not be able to meet additional demand for our products until we are able to increase our capacity. Further, if we underestimate or overestimate the demand for our products, the capacity utilization of our manufacturing plants may be under-utilized or over-utilized, respectively, which could adversely affect our manufacturing schedules and related costs” on page 93 and “–We may be subject to industrial unrest, unionization, slowdowns and increased employee costs, which may adversely affect our business and results of operations” on page 99.

28. The development of technologically advanced products involves a lengthy and expensive process with uncertain timelines and outcomes. Some of our product or process development decisions, including R&D investments, or investments in technologies, may not meet our expectations, and our investment in such projects may be unprofitable.

Developing new, technologically advanced products and critical engineering solutions is a complex and uncertain process requiring innovation and skilled engineering and development personnel, as well as the accurate prediction of technological and market trends. We invest in R&D (i.e., engineering, research and application development) to improve our existing products, processes and facilities and develop new products to meet customer demand and new emission standards. The technological requirements to comply with emission standards have required us to deploy significant resources to improve our components and test facilities for aftertreatment systems, resulting in increased costs. The table below sets forth the strength of our R&D and engineering department as of the dates stated:

Particulars	As of June 30, 2025	As of June 30, 2024	As of March 31, 2025	As of March 31, 2024	As of March 31, 2023
Design, engineering and R&D staff	132	127	145	140	149
Total staff	2,017	1,964	1,992	1,963	1,991
Design, engineering and R&D as a percentage of total staff (%)	6.54%	6.47%	7.28%	7.13%	7.48%
Number of new projects developed by our Company	21	33	114	75	78
Number of new projects brought into production by our Company	17	16	95	66	78

In addition to our direct R&D expenses, we leverage Tenneco Group's global R&D initiatives. The cost of the R&D benefits we obtain from Tenneco Group, including the rights to use brands and technical know-how, are included in the royalty fees we pay. See also “– We depend on entities in the Tenneco Group for our operations, such as the license to use Tenneco Group's brands and patented designs, technical know-how, purchase of certain parts and materials, and R&D. Any adverse change in our relationship, including the termination of our License Agreement, could have an adverse impact on our business, reputation, financial condition, and results of operations.” on page 60.

Our R&D expenses and royalty expenses for the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, including as a percentage of our revenue from operations, are set forth in the table below.

Particulars	For the three months ended June 30,		For Fiscals
	2025	2024	2025	2024	2023
R&D expenses ⁽¹⁾ (₹ millions)	23.10	23.29	66.86	113.24	93.44
Royalty expense ⁽²⁾ (₹ millions)	280.41	284.67	1,102.74	2,574.47	1,119.31
Total R&D expenses and royalty expense (₹ millions)	303.51	307.96	1,169.60	2,687.71	1,212.75
R&D and royalty expenses as a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	2.36%	2.42%	2.39%	4.92%	2.51%

Note:

(1) R&D expenses comprise expenses related to engineering, research, and application development.

(2) Royalty expense comprises the rights to use brands and technical know-how.

Commencing development initiatives can take up to one to three years before the commercialization of new or improved solutions or products. During this time, unexpected shifts in technology, customer demand and the markets for our products may prevent us from capitalizing on a market opportunity in a timely manner or altogether. Furthermore, our customers may be unsatisfied with the outcome of our R&D activities, which could result in our failure to win program awards. While our R&D initiatives helped secure program awards from our customers in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, our existing and future R&D activities may not be successful, which could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and relationships with customers.

29. Our Bhiwadi Facility, Hosur Facility and Puducherry Facility currently operate at high-capacity utilization levels and we may not be able to meet additional demand for our products until we are able to increase our capacity. Further, if we underestimate or overestimate the demand for our products, the capacity utilization of our manufacturing plants may be under-utilized or over-utilized, respectively, which could adversely affect our profitability and manufacturing schedules.

As of June 30, 2025, we operated 12 manufacturing facilities in India. For the quarter ended June 30, 2025, the installed production capacity for Clean Air Solutions was 694.75 thousand units for “cold end” products (mufflers and exhaust pipes), with a utilization rate of 46.37%; and 494.25 thousand units for “hot end” products (catalytic converters), with a utilization rate of 79.77 %. For the quarter ended June 30, 2025, for Advanced Ride Technologies, the installed production capacity was 5,169.27 thousand units, with a utilization rate of 86.16%. As of March 31, 2025, the annual installed production capacity for Clean Air Solutions was 2.58 million units for “cold end” products (mufflers and exhaust pipes), with a utilization rate of 54.81%; and 1.87 million units for “hot end” products (catalytic converters), with a utilization rate of 80.57%. For Advanced Ride Technologies, the annual installed production capacity was 20.68 million units, with a utilization rate of 83.00%.

The table below sets forth the capacity utilization across these facilities as of the dates indicated:

(1) Capacity utilization is calculated as quantum of production in the relevant facility in the relevant period/Fiscal, divided by the capacity available of relevant manufacturing facility during the relevant period/Fiscal. Capacity available during the period/Fiscal represents the installed capacity that was available during the relevant period/Fiscal (taken on a quarterly basis for interim periods (unannualized) and on an annual basis for each fiscal year) and is calculated based on the aggregate of monthly installed capacity.

(2) Production at the Chakan II Facility started in Fiscal 2025.

(3) The Chakan ART Facilities receives base shock absorbers from our Hosur and Bawal Facilities for the modular assembly of peripheral parts according to our customer requirements.

(4) The Puducherry Facility for our Advanced Ride Technologies division manufactures and supplies sintered parts to our Hosur, Bawal and Sanand Facilities to manufacture struts and shock absorbers.

For further details on our manufacturing facilities and capacities, see “Our Business – Manufacturing – Facilities” on page 298.

In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, our Bhiwadi Facility, Hosur Facility, and Puducherry Facility operated at high utilization levels. As a result, we may be required to expand our manufacturing capacity in the future to meet the requirements of new business from existing customers or new customers. Conversely, our Chennai Facility, Pithampur Facility, and Chakan Sealings Facility operated at low utilization levels due to changes in production volumes and our capacity improvement initiatives. Utilization at our Chennai Facility was lower in Fiscals 2025 and 2024, primarily because customers transitioned from three-piece cold end systems to single-piece cold end systems in Fiscal 2024 which reduced our production volume when compared to Fiscal 2023. Additionally, we carried out capacity improvement projects at our Chennai Facility in Fiscal 2024 and 2025. At our Pithampur Facility, while production volume increased from Fiscal 2023 to Fiscal 2024 and remained stable in Fiscal 2025, we implemented capacity improvements at our Pithampur Facility in Fiscal 2024 and 2025 which reduced our utilization level. At the Chakan Sealings Facility, utilization decreased in Fiscal 2024 due to a change in product mix that lowered production volume and implementation of capacity improvement projects.

Moreover, the capacity utilization of our Chennai Facility decreased in Fiscal 2025 from Fiscal 2024 primarily due to a pull forward of demand in the last quarter of Fiscal 2024, which increased our CV OEM customers' inventory and reduced the demand for our clean air products in Fiscal 2025. In addition, capacity utilization of our Chennai Facility was decreased in June 2025 as compared to the prior period, driven by a shift in customer preference from three-piece exhaust systems to single-piece exhaust systems and implementation of capacity improvement projects. Capacity utilization at our Chakan I Facility decreased to 76.18% in Fiscal 2025 from 85.55% in Fiscal 2024, on account of a reduction in cold end capacity utilization to 63.03% in Fiscal 2025 from 84.31% in Fiscal 2024, primarily because a customer relocated the production of a vehicle model from Pune to another state. Capacity utilization at our Chakan I Facility decreased to 67.11% in the six months ended June 30, 2025, compared to 80.93% June 30, 2025, for the same reason. While we ceased the production of cold end products for such customer's vehicle model, it did not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

The success of any capacity addition and expected return on investment in capital expenditure depends on, among other factors, the ability to generate adequate customer demand to ensure utilization of the additional capacity. In case of oversupply in the industry or lack of demand, we may not be able to utilize our expanded capacity efficiently. Under-utilization of our manufacturing capacities over extended periods, or significant under-utilization in the short term, or an inability to fully realize the benefits of our recently implemented capacity expansion, could materially and adversely impact our business, growth prospects and future financial performance.

30. Our insurance coverage may not be adequate to protect us against all potential losses, which may have an adverse effect on our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

Our business involves many risks and hazards that may adversely affect our profitability, including breakdowns, failure or substandard performance of equipment, third-party liability claims, labor disturbances, employee fraud and infrastructure failure. Our principal types of coverage include, among others, protection from fire, earthquake, burglary, and dishonest acts committed by an employee or any other person, employee insurance policies such as medical and personal accident insurance policies and general liability insurance. See "Our Business – Insurance" on page 321 for further details on our insurance coverage. Our insurance coverage expires from time to time. We apply for the renewal of our insurance coverage in the normal course of our business. While none of our insurance policies are due for renewal as of date, we cannot assure you that such renewals in the future (on expiry) will be granted in a timely manner, at acceptable cost or at all.

While we believe that our insurance coverage would be reasonably adequate to cover the normal risks associated with the operation of our business, our future insurance claims may be rejected by the insurance agencies and we cannot guarantee that any claim under our insurance policies will be honored fully, in part, or on time. If the amount of one or more operations-related claims were to exceed our applicable aggregate coverage limits, we would bear the excess, in addition to amounts already incurred in connection with deductibles and self-insured retentions. Any uninsured losses or liabilities could result in an adverse effect on our business operations, financial conditions, and results of operations.

The following table highlights our insurance coverage as a percentage of property, plant and equipment, and inventories for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

*In cases where an asset is covered under multiple insurance policies, the highest coverage amount among such policies has been considered. The reported insurance coverage amount has been restricted to the book value of the respective asset, wherever the coverage exceeds such book value of the asset.

As per Restated Consolidated Financial Information

We have filed insurance claims in the three months ended June 30, 2025, Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023. For instance, in relation to a fire at the Parwanoo Facility of our Subsidiary FMBIL in Fiscal 2025, we filed an insurance claim in May 2025 for ₹40.00 million for machinery loss and ₹32.01 million for business disruption losses, subject to the installation date of new machinery. We received an insurance payment of ₹15.00 million towards the total insurance claim of ₹40.00 million for machinery loss in May 2025. The remaining balance of ₹25.00 million under the ₹40.00 million claim for machinery loss and the ₹32.01 million claim for business disruption losses remain under processing by the insurance company. For further details, see “Our Business – Insurance” on page 321.

While the insurance claims filed in relation to the Parwanoo Facility are covered under FMBIL’s insurance policy, we cannot assure you that the full claimed amounts will be recovered. For further details see “—Any unscheduled, unplanned or prolonged disruption to our manufacturing and R&D operations could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations” on page 91.

While our insurance claims have not exceeded our insurance coverage and we have not recognized any losses in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023 due to the partial or full rejection of our claims by our insurers, we cannot guarantee that our future claims will continue to be covered or accepted in full. The occurrence of an event that causes losses exceeding the limits specified in our policies, or losses arising from events not covered by insurance policies, could materially harm our financial condition and future results of operations. Any uninsured losses or liabilities could result in an adverse effect on our business operations, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

31. There are certain delays in payment of statutory dues by our Company and Subsidiaries. Any failure or delay in payment of statutory dues in the future may expose us to statutory and regulatory action, as well as significant penalties, and may adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

*There have been certain instances of delays in payment of statutory dues in the past by our Company and Subsidiaries, which occur in the ordinary course of making such payments including due to administrative or logistical issues, clerical errors, technical difficulties. Further, delays in the remittance towards the employee provident fund are also on account of know-your customer mismatch of the employees.

Further, delays in the remittance towards the employee provident fund are also on account of know-your customer mismatch of the employees.

 Amounts less than ₹5,000.

Despite our efforts, we cannot guarantee that such delays will not arise in the future or that we will not be subject to action by the authorities. For instance, we have implemented various internal measures to reduce the delays incurred in provident fund payments, such as, undertaking provident fund payments 2-

3 days in advance of the due date, reporting any portal/technical issues encountered during registrations, filing of challan or payment to the relevant employees on the same day and instituting a checklist and tracking mechanism to monitor compliance.

While the fines and/or penalties we have paid in connection with the delays in payment of statutory dues for the periods/Fiscals indicated above were not material in nature, we cannot assure you that we will not be subject to any penalties, fines or other regulatory actions in the future could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

32. Nine out of our 12 manufacturing facilities operate on industrial land allotted to us by industrial development corporations. Failure to comply with the conditions of use of such land could result in an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

As of June 30, 2025, nine out of our 12 manufacturing facilities operate on industrial land allotted to us by state-owned industrial development corporations (“IDC”) on a leasehold basis. For further details, please see “-Our Registered Office, Corporate Office and manufacturing facilities (except for the Chakan Sealings Facility), warehouses and R&D centers are located on leased land. If we are unable to renew or extend such leases, our business operations may be adversely affected. Further, land title in India can be uncertain and we may not be able to identify or correct defects or irregularities in title to certain land which we own.” on page 79. Under the terms of the allotment and the lease agreements, we are required to comply with various conditions, such as adhering to the timelines for the completion of setting up the manufacturing facility and adhering to the timelines for commencement of construction of the factories on the demised plots of land after the handover of such land. Furthermore, we are required to obtain IDC approval for assigning, underletting or parting with the leased premises. For instance our Company has submitted intimation letters to certain IDCS, including the State Industries Promotion Corporation of Tamil Nadu Limited (“SIPCOT”) to intimate them of the conversion of our Company to a public company and change in the paid-up share capital of our Company pursuant to the share swap transactions undertaken between our Company and its Subsidiaries, as disclosed in “History and Certain Corporate Matters – Details regarding material acquisitions or divestments of business/undertakings, mergers, amalgamations, any revaluation of assets, etc., since incorporation” on page 334 and may also be required to submit post-facto intimations post listing of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges. Further, pursuant to the share swap transaction undertaken between our Company and TAIPL, there was a change in shareholding pattern of TAIPL exceeding 51% of its paid-up share capital and, accordingly, TAIPL has submitted intimation letters to certain IDCS including SIPCOT. We cannot assure you that the IDCs will acknowledge our intimation letters, and will not seek additional documents from us or will not impose additional conditions on us in relation to our submissions. While there have been no material instances of non-compliance with the conditions to use IDC lands in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, any future failure to meet these conditions will require payment of suitable penalties to the relevant IDC to extend the deadline for meeting the stipulated timelines. Additionally, according to the statutory rules under which the IDCs function, IDCs retain the power to cancel the allotment of land in the event of a breach of any rules of allotment. While the IDCs did not terminate their allotment and lease agreements in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, if our allotment and lease agreements with IDCs are terminated, we would need to relocate our operations to a different location, which would disrupt our operations and involve additional costs and which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

33. We depend on contract labor for carrying out operations at our manufacturing facilities and any disruption to the availability of contract labor for our manufacturing facilities or our inability to control the cost of our contract labor could adversely affect our operations. Further, we may be held responsible for paying wages of such workers, if independent contractors through whom such workers are hired default on their obligations, and such obligations could have an adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

Our workforce includes personnel that we engage through independent contractors in accordance with the provisions of the Contract Labor (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970, for carrying out ancillary and supporting tasks such as material handling, loading and unloading, packing, sorting, housekeeping and manual welding.

We incur certain contract labor charges for engaging the workforce through independent contractors. The table below sets forth the contractual labor charges for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Particulars	For the three months ended June 30, 2025		2024		For Fiscal 2025		For Fiscal 2024		For Fiscal 2023
	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations
Contract labor charges	227.74	1.77%	202.39	1.59%	795.72	1.63%	825.84	1.51%	699.97	1.45%

Although we do not engage these laborers directly, in the event of default by any independent contractor, we may be held responsible for providing statutory benefits, including wages to these laborers if the independent contractors fail to do so. While the amount paid in such an event can be recovered from the independent contractor, any significant requirement to fund the wage requirements of the engaged laborers or delay in recovering such amounts from the contractors may have an adverse effect on our cash flows and results of operations. In addition, we may be required to absorb several such contract laborers as permanent employees pursuant to an order from a regulatory body or court which would increase our costs and decrease our flexibility to adjust our workforce in response to changes in product demand. Furthermore, annual increases in the minimum wage required by state governments to be paid to such contract laborers increase our costs and may adversely affect the business and results of our operations. We have not experienced any instances of the foregoing that materially affected our business and results of operations in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023.

If we are unable to obtain the services of a skilled and unskilled workforce or at reasonable rates or manage workforce turnover, it may adversely affect our business and results of operations. In addition, our manufacturing process depends on technology-driven production systems and any inability of the contract laborers to familiarize themselves with such technology could adversely affect our business and results of operations.

34. We may be subject to industrial unrest, unionization, slowdowns and increased employee costs, which may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

As of June 30, 2025, our workforce comprised 2,017 full-time employees, of which 512 employees at our Chakan I Facility, Chakan II Facility and Chennai Facility and our Hosur Facility, Chakan Sealings Facility and Bawal Facility are members of unions. Such labor unions may organize work stoppages and strikes which could materially disrupt our operations. While we have entered into certain settlement agreements with these unions, we may be subject to industrial unrest, slowdowns and increased wage costs, which may adversely affect our business and results of operations. For instance, the Gabriel Employees Union at our Parwanoo Facility has issued demand letters dated July 3, 2020; December 7, 2020; November 28, 2022; and December 18, 2023, to FMBIL with a copy to inter alia, the Labour Commissioner, Labour Department, Shimla and the Labour and Conciliation Officer in Solan raising demands in relation to different areas such as house rent allowance, education allowance, medical allowance, hospitalization scheme, loans, incentive increases, Diwali gifts, bonus and ex-gratia bonuses, increase in leave entitlement, special paid leave for any marriage or family functions, and reinstatement of previously terminated employees.

Our manufacturing operations are significantly dependent on the cooperation and continued support of our workforce. Strikes or work stoppages at our manufacturing facilities could halt our production activities and disrupt our distribution channels which could impact our ability to deliver customer orders promptly or at all, which could adversely affect the results of our operations and reputation. There have been no disruptions to our manufacturing operations in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023 on account of labor-related disputes including strikes, lockouts, or collective bargaining arrangements. However, there can be no assurance that we will not experience work disruptions in the future due to disputes or other problems with our workforce. Any such event at our facilities may adversely affect our ability to operate our business and serve our customers, and impair our relationships with certain key customers and suppliers, which may adversely impact our business and financial condition.

35. Our success largely depends upon the knowledge and experience of our Directors, Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management as well as our ability to attract and retain personnel with technical expertise. Our inability to attract and retain them along with other personnel with technical expertise could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are highly dependent on our Directors, Key Management Personnel, Senior Management and other key employees, for strategic direction and to manage our operations and meet future business challenges. The loss of, or inability to attract or retain, such persons or entities could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects. Our Directors, Key Management Personnel, Senior Management have recently been engaged with our Company.

If any of our key employees, including our KMP and Senior Management, choose to discontinue their roles or become unable to continue their roles, finding suitable replacements in a timely manner or at all could prove challenging and we may not be able to replace them with persons of comparable skill and expertise promptly, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects. If any of our Senior Management other qualified personnel joins a competitor or forms a competing company, we may lose customers, know-how and key professionals and staff members.

In addition, our success in expanding our business will also partly depend on our ability to attract, retain and motivate mid-to-senior management personnel and engineers. Our industry is characterized by high demand and intense competition for talent, and therefore we cannot assure you that we will be able to attract or retain engineers, qualified staff, or other highly skilled employees. Moreover, skilled labour is a critical supply-side aspect of the manufacturing sector. Training and retaining skilled workers are essential for the success of our business. Inadequate availability of skilled labour can impact our business, from production to maintenance and innovation, and ultimately affecting our growth and global competitiveness. The table below sets forth the breakdown of our staff by professional qualifications as of June 30, 2025:

Particulars	As of June 30, 2025
Engineering degrees ⁽¹⁾	457
Other professional qualifications ⁽²⁾	228
Technical diploma and others ⁽³⁾	1,332
Total employees	2,017

Notes:

(1) Includes qualifications equivalent to a bachelor's or master's degree in technology, or a bachelor's degree in engineering.

(2) Includes qualifications such as non-technical graduate and post-graduate qualifications, including chartered accountants, bachelor of laws, among others.

(3) Includes diplomas and industrial training institutes.

The table below provides the number of our employees, Key Management Personnel and Senior Management, along with their attrition rate, for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Notes:

(1) Employees that left during the period/Fiscal divided by the average number of employees during the period/Fiscal. The average number of employees is computed as the average of the number of employees at the beginning and end of the period/year.

(2) Calculated as the number of Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management that left during a period/year divided by the average number of Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management for the period/year. The average number of Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management for a period/year is calculated as the average of the number of Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management at the beginning of the period/year and the number of Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management at the end of the period/year.

The table below provides employee benefits expense for the periods/Fiscals stated:

Particulars	Three months period ended June 30, 2025	Three months period ended June 30, 2024	For Fiscal 2025	For Fiscal 2024	For Fiscal 2023
Employee benefits expense	830.49	712.69	2,979.24	2,526.45	2,485.76
Employee benefits expense as a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	6.46%	5.61%	6.09%	4.62%	5.15%

We may take a significant period of time to hire and train replacement personnel when skilled personnel terminate their employment with us. We may also be required to increase our levels of employee compensation more rapidly than in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023 to remain competitive in attracting skilled employees that our business requires. If we are unable to hire and train replacement personnel in a timely manner or increase our levels of employee compensation to remain competitive, our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects may be adversely affected.

36. Our inability to maintain appropriate levels of inventory to meet the demands of our customers may have an adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

We need to maintain sufficient inventory levels to meet customer expectations at all times. Accumulating excess inventory could increase our inventory costs, and a failure to have adequate inventory in stock to fulfil customer orders could result in our inability to meet customer demand or cause a loss of customers.

Typically, we receive forecasts three to six months in advance from our customers. As actual orders by our customers are only placed by way of on-going purchase orders, we are exposed to significant or unexpected changes in product specifications and delivery schedules, which may result in a mismatch between our inventories of raw materials and bought-out components and manufactured products, thereby increasing our costs for maintaining inventory. Our inability to forecast the level of customer demand for our products as well as our inability to accurately schedule our raw material purchases and production and manage our inventory may adversely affect our business and cash flows from operations.

The table below sets forth certain details of our inventory as of the dates or for the periods/Fiscals stated:

Particulars	As of / for the three months ended June 30,		As of / for the Fiscal ended March 31,
	2025	2024	2025	2024	2023
Inventories (₹ millions)	3,018.30	3,071.15	2,777.27	3,293.44	3,948.81
Inventories (as % of total assets)	10.34%	14.66%	9.81%	15.42%	16.25%
Inventory Days*	32	34	34	34	38

* Calculated as average inventory divided by (cost of goods sold, multiplied by 365 for Fiscals or by 91 for the three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 (as applicable)), rounded to the nearest whole number. Cost of goods sold comprises Cost of Materials Consumed, Purchases of Stock in Trade and Changes in inventories of finished goods, semi-finished goods and Stock in trade.

While we have not experienced a significant mismatch in our inventory levels as compared to our requirements in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, there can be no assurance that such instances in the future will not have a material adverse effect on our liquidity, profitability and financial condition. Furthermore, we may be required to maintain high inventory levels if we anticipate an increase in customer demand for our products, which would require a significant amount of working capital. Continued increases in our working capital requirements may have an adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition. For further details, see “We have substantial capital expenditure and working capital requirements and may require additional financing to meet those requirements, which could have an adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.” on page 102.

37. We may not be able to achieve the anticipated synergies from our recent corporate reorganization or future technical collaborations, joint ventures, strategic investments, alliances and acquisitions.

We completed our corporate reorganization on March 26, 2025, pursuant to which TAIPL, FMIPL, FMBIL and FMSIL became our Subsidiaries pursuant to share swap agreements entered into by our Company and the shareholders of the abovementioned companies. For further details of the reorganization, see “History and Certain Corporate Matters” and “Capital Structure” beginning on pages 331 and 146, respectively.

One purpose of the reorganization was to capitalize on potential operating synergies among our Subsidiaries and business lines, including facilitating cross-selling by leveraging customer relationships within one division to capture opportunities in other divisions or business lines, gaining access to a larger footprint of manufacturing facilities in India to service new clients, and improving negotiation leverage for power, utilities and other expenses due to the greater volumes of the combined business. Realization of the anticipated benefits of our reorganization will depend, in large part, on our ability to successfully eliminate redundant corporate functions and consolidate company and shared service responsibilities. We will be required to devote significant management attention and resources to the consolidation of business practices and support functions. The process of consolidating corporate level operations could cause an interruption of, or loss of momentum in, our business and financial performance.

The diversion of management’s attention and any delays or difficulties encountered in connection with our reorganization, and failure to fully realize corporate synergies and operational improvements could have an adverse effect on our business, financial results, financial condition and prospectus. The consolidation and integration process may also result in additional and unforeseen expenses. Additionally, we may also incur additional costs to operate a listed company, including due to increased headcount and compliance costs. There can be no assurance that the contemplated synergies and other benefits anticipated from the reorganization will be realized.

In addition, in the future we may engage in technical collaborations, joint ventures, strategic investments, alliances and acquisitions that fit well with our strategic business objectives and growth strategies. There can be no assurance that any such efforts will achieve the results contemplated by our management. These transactions involve significant challenges and risks, including difficulties in identifying suitable partners or acquisition targets; competition from other potential collaborators or acquirers; and potential increases in debt, litigation and other operational costs, all of which could have an adverse effect on our operations. Acquisitions may not be accretive to our overall business and result in increased integration costs. Proposed acquisitions may be subject to the receipt of regulatory approvals and the completion of conditions precedent to the closing of such acquisitions, which may not be fulfilled in a timely manner or at all. Further, future acquisitions and the subsequent integration of new assets and businesses into our own would require significant attention from our management and could result in a diversion of resources from our existing business, which in turn could have an adverse effect on our operations. Moreover, acquisitions and investments may result in the impairment of our goodwill and other intangible assets, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

38. We have substantial capital expenditure and working capital requirements and may require additional financing to meet those requirements, which could have an adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.

Our business is capital intensive as we require significant capital to operate and expand our manufacturing facilities. Our historical capital expenditure has been and is expected to be primarily used towards the additions to plants, infrastructure, manufacturing equipment and tooling. Set forth below are details of capital expenditure incurred by us in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and last three Fiscals and the source of funding the same:

Particulars	As of / for the three months period ended June 30,		As of / for the Fiscal ended March 31,
	2025	2024	2025	2024	2023
Capital expenditure *(₹ millions)	42.44	136.65	647.81	974.93	633.93
Capital expenditure (as % of total assets)	0.15%	0.65%	2.29%	4.56%	2.61%
Source of funding the above Capital expenditure	Internal Accruals	Internal Accruals	Internal Accruals	Internal Accruals	Internal Accruals

* Capital expenditure relates to purchase of property, plant and equipment, including capital work in progress and capital advances.

The actual amount and timing of our future capital requirements may differ from estimates due to, inter alia, unforeseen delays or cost overruns, unanticipated expenses, regulatory changes, delays in obtaining regulatory approvals, economic conditions, engineering design changes, weather related delays, technological changes and additional market developments and new opportunities in the automotive components industry. Additionally, as our customers may relocate their manufacturing activities/capacities from time to time, we may be required to shift our capacities to a different facility or transport products from our existing facility to the customers' new location. For example, in Fiscal 2025, one of our OEM customers relocated its manufacturing facilities from Chakan, Pune to Sanand, Gujarat. As a result, we had to shift our production from our Chakan ART Facility to our Sanand Facility to service this customer. While this did not materially affect our results of operations, there is no assurance that future relocations of customer production facilities will not have a material impact on our operations. Although we optimize our capital expenditure in plant and machinery by redeploying idle or underutilized assets to or from entities in the Tenneco Group in other regions, such redeployable assets from other regions may not be available in the future and may therefore lead to higher capital spend. See also “We depend on entities in the Tenneco Group for our operations, such as the license to use Tenneco Group’s brands and patented designs, technical know-how, purchase of certain parts and materials, and R&D. Any adverse change in our relationship, including the termination of our License Agreement, could have an adverse impact on our business, reputation, financial condition, and results of operations.” and “Our Bhiwadi Facility, Hosur Facility and Puducherry Facility currently operate at high-capacity utilization levels and we may not be able to meet additional demand for our products until we are able to increase our capacity. Further, if we underestimate or overestimate the demand for our products, the capacity utilization of our manufacturing plants may be under-utilized or over-utilized, respectively, which could adversely affect our manufacturing schedules and related costs” on pages 60 and 99, respectively.

Furthermore, we require a significant amount of working capital for our operations to maintain optimum inventory levels of raw materials, work-in-progress and finished goods as well as to offer credit to our customers and fulfil our payment obligations towards our suppliers. The table below sets forth our working capital for the stated periods/Fiscals:

Particulars	As of / for the three months ended		As of / for the Fiscal ended March 31,

Payable days ⁽⁴⁾ (numbers of days)	100	95	105	89	90
Receivable days ⁽⁴⁾ (numbers of days)	45	40	47	37	42

Notes:

- (1) Net Working Capital is calculated as Current Assets (excluding assets classified as held for sale and receivables related to sale of investment in Motocare India Private Limited classified under Other financial assets) less Current Liabilities (excluding liabilities relating to assets held for sale), as per Restated Consolidated Financial Information.
- (2) Net Working Capital Days is calculated as 365 (for Fiscals) or 91 (for three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024), multiplied by Net Working Capital turnover, rounded off to zero decimals. Net working capital turnover is calculated as Net Working Capital divided by Revenue from Operations.
- (3) Trade Working Capital is calculated as the sum of account receivables and inventory less trade payables (trade payables include vendor bill financing).
- (4) Inventory Days is calculated as average inventories divided by (cost of goods sold divided by 365 for Fiscals or by 91 for the three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 (as applicable)), rounded to the nearest whole number. Payable Days is calculated as average trade payables divided by (total purchases divided by 365 for Fiscals or by 91 for the three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 (as applicable)), rounded to the nearest whole number. Purchases includes purchase of stock-in-trade, raw materials and packing materials. Receivable Days is calculated as average trade receivables divided by (cost of goods sold divided by 365 for Fiscals or by 91 for the three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 (as applicable)), rounded to the nearest whole number. Cost of goods sold comprises Cost of Materials Consumed, Purchases of Stock in Trade and Changes in inventories of finished goods, semi-finished goods and Stock in trade.

Our Net Working Capital increased in Fiscal 2025 compared to Fiscal 2024, primarily due to an increase in trade receivables as one of our customers discontinued its vendor discounting program which involved early payment in exchange for a discount on the invoice amount. Additionally, there was an increase in cash and cash equivalents due to higher cash flow from operating activities and lower capex.

Our working capital requirements may increase if payment terms in our agreements lead to reduced advance payments from our customers or longer payment schedules, and we may need to raise additional capital from time to time to meet these requirements. To manage our trade working capital, we utilize facilities such as customer invoice factoring and supplier invoice financing from banks and financial institutions for some of our customers and suppliers. Financing limits are sanctioned based on our past financial performance and the policies of the banks, which may change in the future. Consequently, we may need to raise additional capital from time to time to meet these requirements. Moreover, if we are unable to avail ourselves to these arrangements, our trade working capital may increase and our cash flows may be constrained.

Our sources of additional financing required to meet our capital expenditure plans or working capital requirements may include the incurrence of debt or the issuance of equity or debt securities or a combination of both. If we decide to raise additional funds through the incurrence of debt, our interest and debt repayment obligations will increase, which could significantly affect our profitability and cash flows, and we may be subject to additional covenants which could limit our ability to access cash flows from operations. Any issuance of equity, on the other hand, would result in a dilution of your shareholding. For details in relation to the terms of our existing financing arrangements and restrictive covenants, see “Financial Indebtedness” beginning on page 546.

39. We are exposed to counterparty credit risk. Our inability to collect receivables on time or at all and defaults in payment from our customers could reduce our profits and affect our cash flows.

We are exposed to counterparty credit risk in relation to our customers and any significant delay in them making payments to us or failure to make such payments may have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, financial condition and cash flows. There is no assurance that we will accurately assess the creditworthiness of our customers, and actual losses on amounts due to us from customers could differ from those that we currently anticipate. We have not experienced significant write-offs as a result of our customers’ inability to pay in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023.

The table below sets forth details our trade receivables as of the dates and for the periods/Fiscals stated:

Particulars	As of / for the three months ended June 30,		As of / for the Fiscal ended March 31,
	2025	2024	2025	2024	2023

Receivable Days ⁽¹⁾	45	40	47	37	42

Note: *Not annualized

(1) Receivable Days is calculated as average trade receivables divided by (revenue from operations divided by 365 days for Fiscals or by 91 days for the three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 (as applicable)), rounded to the nearest whole number.

The following table sets forth the ageing of trade receivables, net of loss allowance, as of the date and for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Total trade receivables (net of expected credit loss allowance)	5,895.61	5,697.22	6,872.31	5,597.62	5,631.82

Our expected credit loss allowance as a percentage of our trade receivables for the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023 was 0.86%, 1.11%, 0.76%, 1.06% and 0.98%, respectively.

Macroeconomic conditions, such as a credit crisis in the global financial system, global economic uncertainty, or a pandemic, could lead to deterioration in our customers' financial condition and results of operations, which could limit their access to the credit markets, thereby increasing their risk of insolvency or bankruptcy. Such conditions could cause our customers to delay payment, request modifications of their payment terms, or default on their payment obligations to us, all of which may increase our receivables. Should one or more of our customers become insolvent or otherwise be unable or unwilling to pay for their orders, our working capital estimations, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition could be adversely affected.

For details on the ageing of trade receivables, see "Restated Consolidated Financial Information – Note 6- Financial Assets - Trade Receivables" on page 429.

40. We require power, fuel and water for our operations and any disruption to the supply of power, fuel or water could disrupt our manufacturing operations and increase our production costs, which could adversely affect our results of operations.

We require power, fuel and water for the operation of our manufacturing facilities. If energy costs rise, or if electricity, fuel or water supplies are disrupted, our manufacturing operations could be disrupted, and our profitability could decline. For the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, our power and fuel costs were as follows:

Particulars	For the three months ended June 30,		For Fiscal 2025		For Fiscal 2024		For Fiscal 2023
	2025	2024	2025	2024	2025	2024	2025	2024
	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations
Power and fuel	125.50	0.98%	123.02	0.97%	484.22	0.99%	457.45	0.84%	428.97	0.89%

We source most of our electricity from state electricity boards and have entered into certain power purchase agreements with third-party suppliers. We have third-party power purchase agreements for our Clean Air Solutions plant in Chennai, and our Advanced Ride Technologies plant in Hosur for solar and wind power. In the event of a supply disruption from state electricity boards and third-party suppliers, we will need to rely on captive generators, which may not consistently meet our requirements and may increase our costs. Furthermore, if our generators are unable to support our operations, we may need to shut down our facilities until an adequate supply of electricity is restored. We source most of our water from state utilities and IDC water sources, and there can be no assurance that we will be able to continue to obtain sufficient water supply. In the event of a supply disruption, we may need to shut down our facilities until an adequate supply of water is restored. We are also subject to potentially significant inflationary pressures if electricity or water costs rise, and if we are unable to pass on these increased costs to our customers, our profitability could decline.

While we have not experienced any interruptions to our power, fuel or water supplies in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, there is no guarantee that future interruptions would not occur due to unforeseen events.

41. We require certain licenses, permits and approvals in the ordinary course of business, and failure to obtain or retain them in a timely manner may have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

We are required to obtain and maintain a number of statutory and regulatory licenses, permits and approvals under central, state and local government rules in India, generally for carrying out our business and for each of our manufacturing facilities. For further details on regulatory licenses, permits and approvals in India, see “Government and Other Approvals” beginning on page 541. We may need to apply for permits and approvals, including the renewal of permits or approvals which may expire from time to time in the ordinary course of business. Our approvals may expire in the ordinary course, and we may be required to make applications for such renewals. Most of these approvals, including the factories’ license, consent to establish and operate under environmental laws, no objection certification issued by the municipal fire department, authorization for waste disposal, and license to store gases in our factory premises, are granted for a limited duration and require regular renewal and we cannot guarantee we will be able to obtain or renew such approvals in a timely manner, or at all. We also cannot assure you that such permits or approvals will be issued or granted in a timely manner, or at all, and any delay in the issuance of such licenses, permits or approvals may result in action by the relevant regulatory authority, or payment of fines or penalties. For instance, as on the date of this Prospectus, our applications for the registration under Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970 for our Puducherry Facility and for the trade license for our Hosur Facility remains pending. For details, see “Government and Other Approvals – Material Approvals pending in respect of our Company and Material Subsidiaries” on page 543. Given the dynamic nature of regulatory frameworks in the regions in which we operate, we may also need to obtain additional licenses and approvals as new regulations are enacted. While we have not faced any material instances where our application for statutory permits, approvals or licenses were rejected by the relevant regulatory authority in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, our ability to maintain business operations could be compromised if we fail to obtain or renew the requisite licenses and approvals in future.

- (a) Further, the licenses, permits and approvals required by us are subject to several conditions or ongoing compliance, and we cannot assure you that we will be able to continuously meet such conditions, which may lead to cancellation, revocation or suspension of the relevant licenses, permits and approvals. For instance, in February 2025, TAIPL received a show cause notice from the Pondicherry Pollution Control Committee under the Environment (Protection) Act, 1986 in relation to our Puducherry Facility for submission of a compliance report under the Hazardous and Other Wastes (Management and Transboundary Movement) Rules, 2016 to which TAIPL has responded, receipt of which was acknowledged by the relevant authority. For details in relation to the show cause notices received by us which are outstanding as on the date of this Prospectus, see “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments- Litigation involving our Subsidiaries- Actions by statutory and regulatory authorities involving our Subsidiaries” beginning on page 536. Any revocation or suspension of approvals and licenses, if not restored in time or at all would materially and adversely affect our reputation, business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. While we have not experienced any instances of such approvals being rejected, suspended or revoked in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023 that materially affected our business and results of operations, if there is any failure by us to comply with the applicable regulations or if the regulations governing our business are amended, we may incur increased compliance costs, be subject to penalties, have our licenses, approvals and permits revoked or suffer a disruption in our operations, any of which may have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

42. We are exposed to foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations which may have an adverse effect on our results of operations.

While our reporting currency and principal revenue are in Indian Rupees, we are exposed to exchange rate fluctuations, particularly in the U.S. Dollar and Chinese Yuan, due to our import of raw materials, particularly substrates and steel, imports of manufacturing machinery, and export sales. To the extent that we are unable to match costs incurred in foreign currencies with revenue received, or that there are sharp exchange rate fluctuations between such currencies, we could have significant unhedged exposure on the translation of receivables and trade payables.

The table below sets forth the details of our foreign exchange impact for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

While we benefit from a natural hedge against foreign currency risk by virtue of our export sales offsetting our imports to an extent, our results of operations have in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023 been affected by exchange rate fluctuations and there can be no assurance that our natural hedge will be effective in reducing or eliminating the adverse impact of such fluctuations in the future. Exchange rate fluctuations can also affect the Indian Rupee value of our monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies irrespective of operating results, which could have an adverse impact on the value of our Equity Shares. Due to the low volume of foreign currency transactions, our exposure to foreign currency risk is limited and therefore, we do not use any derivative instruments to manage our foreign currency exposure. Additionally, we do not use forward contracts and swaps for speculative purposes.

For further information, see “Restated Consolidated Financial Information–Note 30– Financial risk management-Foreign currency risk exposure” on page 460. Accordingly, any significant fluctuation in the exchange rates of the Indian Rupee against foreign currencies could result in an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and future prospects.

43. We have certain contingent liabilities that have not been provided for in our financial statements, and our financial condition could be adversely affected if any of these contingent liabilities materialize. We also have certain contractual commitments, which may entail cash outflow.

The following table sets forth our contingent liabilities (that had not been provided for) disclosed in our Restated Consolidated Financial Information in accordance with Ind AS 37 - Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets, as of June 30, 2025:

Particulars	Amount (in ₹ millions)
Stamp Duty on demerger (including penalty)	196.57
Income Tax matters	736.60
Customs	134.10
Central excise	5.54
Goods & Service tax	70.27
Others	23.73
Total	1,166.81

The above amounts do not include interest and penalty amounts which may be payable till the date of settlements, if any. We believe that none of these matters, either individually or in aggregate, are expected to have any material adverse effect on its financial statements.

We also have the following contractual commitments as of June 30, 2025:

Particulars	Amount (in ₹ millions)
Property, plant and equipment (net of advances paid)	478.38

We cannot assure you that we will not incur similar or increased levels of contingent liabilities in the future and that our existing contingent liabilities will not have material adverse effects on our business, financial condition and results of operations. If any of these contingent liabilities materialize, our financial condition and results of operation may be adversely affected. For further details of our contingent liabilities and capital commitments, see also “Restated Consolidated Financial Information– Note 32-Commitments and Contingent liabilities-Contingent liabilities” on page 462.

44. We face competition from both domestic as well as multinational corporations and there is no assurance that we will be able to successfully compete in the markets we currently operate in or those that we plan to expand into. Our inability to compete effectively could result in the loss of customers and our market share, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

We compete globally with a number of other automotive, non-automotive and industrial component manufacturers and distributors that produce and sell products similar to ours. We face competition from competitors both domestically and internationally, in relation to specific business lines and sectors. The key factors of competition may include quality, cost, delivery, technical capability, level of vertical or horizontal integration, and quality of management. Consequently, we compete with different companies under each of our business categories. The following table indicates our key competitors in the domestic market for our key business lines:

Business Lines	Key Competitors
Clean Air Solutions	Sharda Motors, SM Auto, and Cummins Emission Solutions
Ignition	Bosch, Niterra India PVT LTD. (formerly known as NGK) and Denso India PVT LTD
Bearings and sealings	Daido, Bimetal Bearings Ltd, Taiho Kogyo Co. Ltd., Talbros (Talbros Automotive Components Ltd and Talbros Engineering Ltd) and Elring Klinger
Advanced Ride Technologies	Gabriel India Limited

(Source: CRISIL Report)

For further details, see, “Our Business – Competition” and “Industry Overview” on pages 320 and 195, respectively. For details in relation to our key performance indicators in comparison with our key competitors see, “Basis of for Offer Price – Key Performance Indicators” on page 171.

Some of our competitors are larger than us, and some have greater financial and other resources and other economic advantages as compared to our business, such as higher revenue, lower labor costs, and, in some cases, export or raw materials subsidies. We may not be able to effectively compete with other automakers with regards to AI or other emerging trends in the industry. Increased competition could adversely affect our business. Should any of our competitors foresee market developments more accurately than we do, develop products that are superior to ours, produce similar products at lower costs, or adapt more quickly than us to new technologies or evolving customer requirements, our products may not be able to compete successfully with our competitors' products, and we may fail to meet the growing customer demands. If we misjudge the amount of capital to invest or are otherwise unable to continue providing products that meet our customers' needs in this environment of rapid technological change, our market competitiveness could be adversely affected.

45. A deterioration in the reputation and market perception of our licensed brands, particularly the Tenneco, Champion and Monroe brands, or our quality control systems or any of our sales and marketing efforts which are ineffective, could adversely affect our sales, profitability and the implementation of our growth strategy.

Our brand and reputation are among our most important assets, and the performance and quality of our products are critical to our business success. In particular, we operate under the Tenneco name and sell our products under the Champion and Monroe brands. As of the date of this Prospectus, we also have nine designs registered under Class 12 - 16 of the Designs Act 2000 and one patent registered under the Patents Act, 1970 in India. The success of our products depend on the effectiveness of the product design, quality of the raw materials and purchased components and quality control systems, which in turn, depend on the skills and experience of our personnel, the quality of our training program, and our ability to ensure that such personnel adhere to our policies and guidelines. Moreover, we benefit from the strength of the Tenneco, Champion and Monroe brands globally. We conduct and/or participate in brand and sales and marketing activities, such as tech shows and exhibitions at major automotive or non-automotive expositions, both on our own as well as jointly with other entities in the Tenneco Group. Any negative publicity or actual or perceived defects in products from any member of the Tenneco Group may be attributed to Tenneco as a whole. If we or other entities in the Tenneco Group are unable to maintain our reputation or further enhance our brand recognition, our ability to attract and retain customers, could be harmed and, as a result, our business, financial position and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. While there have been no instances of deterioration in our brand and reputation in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, any adverse change in the quality of products we supply including due to reasons beyond our control, or allegations of defects, even when false, at any of our manufacturing facilities could tarnish the image of our brands, result in negative reviews and feedback from our customers and adversely affect our ability to attract and retain customers. See, "Our Business" beginning on page 267 for further details.

Furthermore, in the aftermarket, brand building depends on the effectiveness of sales and promotional activities and choice of channel partners. These activities are managed by Motocare and we have limited or no control over such activities. There can be no assurance that Motocare's efforts in these areas would always be effective. Any adverse development or decline in our brand value and reputation may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

46. Our inability to protect or use our intellectual property rights and our failure to keep our technical knowledge confidential may adversely affect our business.

We regard our design registrations, patent and other similar intellectual property rights as critical to our success and have obtained or applied for design registrations for component parts and technologies. We have invested significant resources to develop our own intellectual property. See "Our Business – Intellectual Property" on page 316. While we seek to protect our intellectual property rights, policing unauthorized use of intellectual property rights is difficult and sometimes practically infeasible, there is no assurance that the steps we have currently taken will prevent misappropriation or infringement of our intellectual property rights. Any misappropriation or infringement could materially and adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

As of the date of this Prospectus, we have nine designs registered under Class 12 - 16 of the Designs Act 2000 and one patent registered under the Patents Act, 1970 in India. There can be no assurance that we will be able to renew the registration in a timely manner or at all. As a result, we may not be able to prevent infringement of our trademarks and a passing-off action may not provide sufficient protection until such time that this registration is granted. We may also be harmed by the actions of or negative press relating to entities which have similar names to us. Any unauthorized or inappropriate use of our brand, trademarks and other related intellectual property rights by others in their corporate names, product brands or otherwise could harm our brand image, competitive advantages and business, and dilute or harm our reputation and brand recognition.

Furthermore, our technical knowledge is a significant independent asset that is guarded as a trade secret and may not be adequately protected by intellectual property rights. As a result, we cannot be certain that our technical knowledge will remain confidential over time. A significant number of our employees have access to confidential design and product information. Although we may seek to enforce non-disclosure agreements entered into with R&D and certain other key employees, we cannot guarantee that we will be able to successfully enforce such agreements. Moreover, our employees may leave us and join our competitors or form a competing business. We also enter into non-disclosure and non-solicitation agreements with a number of our customers and suppliers, but we cannot assure you that such agreements will be enforceable or successful in protecting our technical knowledge. Moreover, many of our designs and products are not patented, and thus we may have limited or no recourse against copies of our products and designs that enter the market due to any information leaks. While we have not experienced unauthorized use or disclosure of confidential information in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, any leaks of confidential technical information could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition, cash flows and prospects.

Despite our efforts to protect our proprietary rights, third parties may attempt to copy or otherwise obtain and use our intellectual property or seek court declarations that they do not infringe upon our intellectual property rights. Monitoring unauthorized use of our intellectual property is difficult and costly, and we cannot assure you that the steps we have taken or will take will prevent misappropriation of our intellectual property. From time to time, we may have to resort to litigation to enforce our intellectual property rights, which could result in substantial costs and diversion of our resources. See also “—We depend on entities in the Tenneco Group for our operations, such as the license to use Tenneco Group’s brands and patented designs, technical know-how, purchase of certain parts and materials, and R&D. Any adverse change in our relationship, including the termination of our License Agreement, could have an adverse impact on our business, reputation, financial condition, and results of operations.” on page 60.

47. If we inadvertently infringe upon the intellectual property rights of others, our business and results of operations may be adversely affected.

While we seek to ensure compliance with the intellectual property rights of others, we cannot determine with certainty whether we are infringing on any existing third-party intellectual property rights. Non-compliance with the intellectual property rights of others may force us to alter our technologies, obtain licenses, or cease some of our operations. We may also be susceptible to claims from third parties asserting infringement and other related claims. If claims or actions are asserted against us, we may be required to obtain a license, modify our existing technology or cease the use of such technology and design a new non-infringing technology. Such licenses or design modifications can be extremely costly. Furthermore, necessary licenses may not be available to us on satisfactory terms, if at all. In addition, we may decide to settle a claim or action against us, which could be costly. For instance, in Fiscal 2023, we resolved an allegation that we had infringed copyright through a mutually agreed out-of-court settlement. We may also be liable for any past infringement. While we do not have any pending intellectual property litigation, any of the foregoing could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

In addition, in certain cases, our customers share their technology-related inputs for which they retain intellectual property rights during the product development process that we carry out for them. We are bound by confidentiality obligations under our non-disclosure agreements to protect their intellectual property, including in relation to technical data such as product designs and drawings shared with us. Although there has been no breach or misuse of intellectual property or proprietary data in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, an inadvertent breach or any misuse of intellectual property or proprietary data by any of our employees or sub-contractors may expose us to expensive infringement claims and may diminish our goodwill and reputation among our customers, suppliers, lenders, investors and the public, making it difficult for us to operate our business and compete effectively.

48. We regularly work with hazardous materials, and heavy machinery at our manufacturing facilities and activities in our operations can be dangerous, which could cause injuries to people or damage property.

Our operations are subject to operating risks associated with auto-component manufacturing, including risks related to handling and storage of raw materials used in our manufacturing processes and the use of heavy equipment and machinery. Our manufacturing processes involve the use of heavy equipment and machinery, which carries the risk of industrial accidents, such as bodily harm. This may result in disruptions to our business, damage to our manufacturing facilities, or the injury and death of our employees. Additionally, our manufacturing processes involve the handling of heated components and hazardous materials such as diesel, compressed natural gas/piped natural gas, hydraulic oils, ethanol, acetylene, and nitrogen, which, if improperly managed, can lead to accidents resulting in serious injuries or fatalities among employees or others, and can cause damage to our properties and those of others. Ten out of our 12 manufacturing facilities have been certified for international standards of quality management systems, such as IATF 16949 Quality certification, ISO 14001 for environmental management systems. Nine out of our 12 manufacturing facilities are certified under ISO 45001 for occupational health and safety management systems, which provides a framework for organizations to reduce risks relating to health and safety. For further details, please see “Our Business – Manufacturing - Facilities” on page 298. Despite compliance with requisite safety requirements and standards, our operations are subject to significant hazards, including explosions, fires, mechanical failures and other operational problems, inclement weather and natural disasters, discharges or releases of hazardous substances, chemical or gases, and other environmental risks. The occurrence of any of these hazards could result in a suspension of operations and the imposition of civil or criminal liabilities.

During the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, while there were no fatalities, we had two, two, one, and three incidents of injuries, respectively, at our manufacturing facilities. While we did not have to shut down our facilities as a result of these incidents, the loss or shutting down of our facilities could disrupt our business operations and adversely affect our results of operations, financial condition and reputation. We may also face claims and litigation filed on behalf of persons alleging injury predominantly as a result of occupational exposure to hazards at our facilities. If these claims and lawsuits, individually or in the aggregate, are resolved against us, our business, reputation, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected.

49. Any future indebtedness and the conditions and restrictions imposed by our financing arrangements may limit our ability to grow our business and adversely impact our business, results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows.

As of June 30, 2025, we had no outstanding borrowings. If we raise funds by incurring debt obligations, we may be subject to various covenants under the relevant debt instruments. Our ability to meet our obligations under debt financing arrangements and repay any outstanding borrowings will depend primarily on the cash generated by our business. The table below sets out details of our borrowings, non-current lease liabilities and current lease liabilities, finance cost and finance cost as a percentage of revenue from operations as of and for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Particulars	As of June 30, 2025	As of June 30, 2024	As of March 31, 2025	As of March 31, 2024	As of March 31, 2023
Borrowings (₹ millions)	-	-	-	-	139.72
Non-current lease liabilities and current lease liabilities (₹ millions)	232.05	158.62	196.92	150.96	172.78
Finance cost ⁽¹⁾	70.96	47.80	202.66	251.63	215.58
Finance cost as a percentage of revenue from operations (%)	0.55%	0.38%	0.41%	0.46%	0.45%

Note: (1) Relates primarily to factoring costs and lease liabilities.

For further details on the nature of our borrowings as of June 30, 2025, see “Financial Indebtedness” beginning on page 546.

Some of the financing arrangements entered into by us, which have not been drawn down as of June 30, 2025, include conditions that require our Company to obtain respective lenders' consent or provide intimation prior to carrying out certain activities (including certain corporate actions) and entering into certain transactions. Failure to meet these conditions or obtain these consents could have significant consequences on our business and operations. Some of the corporate actions that require prior consents or intimations to be made to certain lenders include, amongst others, (i) changes to the shareholding pattern of the Company, (ii) changes to the management control of the Company, or (iii) changing or altering the capital structure, auditors, management set up or implementing a new scheme of expansion or creation of a subsidiary etc. Furthermore, any alteration to our Memorandum of Association and Articles of Association in a manner that adversely affects the rights or interests of the lender under these financing agreements, also require the consent of the concerned lender. Future covenants may vary depending on the requirements of the financial institution extending the loan and the conditions negotiated under each financing document and may restrict or delay certain actions or initiatives that we may propose to take from time to time. Any inability to comply with the covenants under our financing arrangements or to obtain necessary consents required thereunder may lead to the termination of our credit facilities, levy of penal interest, acceleration of all amounts due under such facilities and the enforcement of any security provided. If the obligations under any of our financing agreements are accelerated, we may have to dedicate a substantial portion of our cash flow from operations to make payments under such financing documents, thereby reducing the availability of cash for our working capital requirements and other general corporate purposes. Defaults under any of our debt obligations may also trigger cross-defaults under certain of our financing arrangements. In addition, any failure to make payments of interest and principal on our outstanding indebtedness on a timely basis would likely result in a reduction of our creditworthiness and/or any credit rating we may hold, which could harm our ability to incur additional indebtedness on acceptable terms. Our failure to meet our obligations under our financing agreements could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows.

51. Failure or disruption of our Information Technology (“IT”) systems may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

We have implemented IT systems and Enterprise Resource Planning solutions covering major business processes to support our core operations. These systems help manage key areas such as purchasing, sales, human resources, finance, production planning, and inventory management. We rely on our IT systems for the timely supply of our products to customers. These systems are potentially vulnerable to damage or disruptions from a variety of sources, including natural disasters, power outages, cyber-attacks, failures in third party-provided services or a range of other hardware, software and network problems, which could result in a material adverse effect on our operations or lead to disclosure of sensitive company information. For example, in July 2024, a software update by a cybersecurity technology company, caused widespread crashes of Windows systems into which it was integrated, including certain Windows systems that may have been used by us and our third-party service providers, vendors and customers. While we did not experience any material impacts as a result of the CrowdStrike software update, we could in the future experience third-party software-induced interruptions that materially and adversely affect our operations. A significant or large-scale malfunction or interruption of one or more of our IT systems could adversely affect our ability to keep our operations running efficiently and affect product availability, particularly in region or functional area where the malfunction occurs.

A large-scale IT malfunction or cyber-attack on our network could pose cybersecurity risks which may result in breaches of confidentiality, availability of the data and/or transactions processed by the information systems (system malfunction, data theft and data destruction). These may result from external (denial of service, hacking, malware) or internal (tampering, breach of data confidentiality) threats. As a result, a malfunction of our data system security measures could enable unauthorized persons to access sensitive business data, including information relating to our intellectual property (including product designs, design software and other trade secrets) or business strategy or those of our customers. Such malfunctions or disruptions could cause economic losses for which we could be held liable. Moreover, the use of AI may heighten cybersecurity risks with more sophisticated or targeted attacks. A failure of our information technology systems could also cause damage to our reputation which could harm our business. While we did not experience any cybersecurity incidents which resulted in data leaks in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, such leaks may occur in the future. Any of these developments, alone or in combination, could have a material effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. As such, the unavailability of, or failure to retain, well-trained employees capable of constantly servicing our IT and/or enterprise resource planning systems may compromise our IT systems, thereby adversely affecting our ability to operate efficiently.

Any failure or disruption in the operation of these systems or the loss of data due to such failure or disruption (including due to human error or sabotage) may affect our ability to plan, track, record and analyze work in progress and sales, process financial information, meet business objectives based on IT initiatives such as product life cycle management, manage our creditors, debtors, manage payables and inventory or otherwise conduct our normal business operations. In addition, we may be required to incur significant costs to protect against damage caused by such attacks or disruptions in the future or failure by us to comply with Indian or foreign laws and regulations, including those regulating privacy, data protection or information security, which may increase our costs and otherwise materially adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

We have also in the past relied on and may continue to rely on third-party vendors for aspects of our cybersecurity strategy maintaining our IT infrastructure, such as conducting security reviews. There can be no assurance that such reviews by these vendors, or measures we take in response to such reviews, will be effective at identifying or preventing any cybersecurity threat.

As part of our operations, we are required to comply with the Information Technology Act, 2000 and the rules thereof, which provides for civil and criminal liability and the Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023, provisions whereof, which as and when made effective (“DPA”) stipulate a monetary penalty in case of breach of the provisions of the DPA. Certain of these laws, rules and regulations are relatively new and their interpretation and application remain uncertain and are also subject to change and may become more restrictive in the future. For further details on DPA, see “– Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties, including adverse application of tax laws, may adversely affect our business, prospects and results of operations” on page 118. Thus, if our interpretations of the law and regulations or our practices and platform is inconsistent with or fail to meet all requirements of such laws, which could expose us to litigation and monetary penalties, which in turn may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

53. Information relating to our operational capacities and the historical capacity utilization of our manufacturing facilities included in this Prospectus is based on various assumptions and estimates and future production and capacity utilization may vary.

Information relating to our operational capacities and the historical capacity utilization of our manufacturing facilities included in this Prospectus is based on various assumptions and estimates of our management, including past production mix, installed capacity information and standard capacity calculation practices, that have been taken into account by the chartered engineer in the calculation of our capacity. These assumptions and estimates taken into account for measuring installed capacities are based on 75 working days in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and 300 working days in a Fiscal. These details have been certificated by way of certificates from Kunal Kantilal Vikamsey and Naresh Kanji Wadhia of Kanti Karamsey and Co. Advisors LLP (Chartered Engineer Registration Numbers: F-1307017 and M 115754/4, respectively) Independent Chartered Engineers. Actual production levels and capacity utilization rates may therefore vary significantly from the installed capacity of our manufacturing facilities. Undue reliance should therefore not be placed on our capacity information or historical capacity utilization information for our existing facilities included in this Prospectus. For further information regarding capacity of our manufacturing units, see “Our Business – Manufacturing – Facilities” on page 298.

54. This Prospectus contains certain non-GAAP financial measures and other statistical information related to our operations and financial performance. These non-GAAP measures and statistical information may vary from any standard methodology that is applicable across the industry, and therefore may not be comparable with financial or statistical information of similar nomenclature computed and presented by other companies.

Certain non-generally accepted accounting principle financial measures (“Non-GAAP Measures”) and other statistical information relating to our operations and financial performance such as VAR, EBITDA, EBITDA Margin (%) (Basis Revenue from Operations), EBITDA Margin (%) (Basis VAR), PAT Margin (%) (Basis Revenue from Operations), PAT Margin (%) (Basis VAR), Adjusted PAT, Adjusted PAT Margin (Basis Revenue from Operations), Adjusted PAT Margin (Basis VAR), ROCE, FCF / EBITDA, Cash Conversion Cycle, ROE, Adjusted ROE, Net Debt, Net Debt to Equity Ratio, Net Debt to EBITDA Ratio, Fixed Assets Turnover Ratio, Net Working Capital and Net Working Capital Days have been included in this Prospectus. For reconciliations of these numbers, see “Other Financial Information – Reconciliation of Non-GAAP measures” on page 485. We compute and disclose such Non-GAAP Measures and other statistical information relating to our operations and financial performance as we consider such information to be useful measures of our business and financial performance. These Non-GAAP Measures are supplemental measures of our performance and liquidity that is not required by, or presented in accordance with, Ind AS, Indian GAAP, U.S. GAAP or IFRS. Further, these Non-GAAP Measures should not be considered in isolation or construed as an alternative to cash flows, profit/(loss) or any other measure of financial performance or as an indicator of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or cash flows generated by operating, investing or financing activities derived in accordance with Ind AS, Indian GAAP, U.S. GAAP or IFRS.

Further, such information may not be computed on the basis of any standard methodology that is applicable across the industry and may not be comparable to financial measures and statistical information of similar nomenclature that may be computed and presented by other companies, and are not measures of operating performance or liquidity defined by Ind AS. Such information may also not be comparable to titled measures presented by other companies and may have limited usefulness as a comparative measure, since there may be differences in the computation methods of such measures. We track such operating metrics with internal systems and tools, and our methodologies for tracking these metrics may change over time, which could result in unexpected changes to our metrics, including the metrics we publicly disclose. If the internal systems and tools we use to track these metrics undercount or overcount performance, the data we report may not be accurate. While these numbers are based on what we believe to be reasonable estimates of our metrics for the applicable period of measurement, there are inherent challenges and limitations with respect to how we measure data or with respect to the data that we measure. This may affect our understanding of certain details of our business, which could affect our long-term strategies. If we discover material inaccuracies in the operating metrics we use, or if they are perceived to be inaccurate, our reputation may be harmed, and our evaluation methods and results may be impaired, which could negatively affect our business. For further details, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” beginning on page 492.

55. Proceeds from the Offer for Sale portion of the Offer will not be available to us. The Promoter Selling Shareholder in the Offer for Sale will receive the proceeds of the Offer.

The Offer consists of only an offer for sale of up to such number of Equity Shares aggregating up to ₹36,000.00 million by the Promoter Selling Shareholders. The Promoter Selling Shareholder shall be entitled to the proceeds from the Offer for Sale, and our Company will not receive any proceeds from the Offer for Sale. For further details, see “The Offer”, “Capital Structure” and “Objects of the Offer” beginning on pages 127, 146 and 162, respectively.

56. Pursuant to the listing of the Equity Shares, we may be subject to pre-emptive surveillance measures, such as Additional Surveillance Measures and Graded Surveillance Measures by the Stock Exchanges in order to enhance the integrity of the market and safeguard the interest of investors.

SEBI and the Stock Exchanges, in the past, have introduced various pre-emptive surveillance measures with respect to the shares of listed companies in India (the “Listed Securities”) in order to enhance market integrity, safeguard the interests of investors and potential market abuses. In addition to various surveillance measures already implemented, and in order to further safeguard the interest of investors, the SEBI and the Stock Exchanges have introduced additional surveillance measures (“ASM”) and graded surveillance measures (“GSM”). ASM is conducted by the Stock Exchanges on Listed Securities with surveillance concerns based on certain objective parameters such as price-to-earnings ratio, percentage of delivery, customer concentration, variation in volume of shares and volatility of shares, among other things. GSM is conducted by the Stock Exchanges on Listed Securities where their price quoted on the Stock Exchanges does not commensurate with, among other things, the financial performance and financial condition measures such as earnings, book value, fixed assets, net worth, other measures such as price-to-earnings multiple and market capitalization.

Upon listing, the trading of our Equity Shares would be subject to differing market conditions as well as other factors which may result in high volatility in price, and low trading volumes as a percentage of combined trading volume of our Equity Shares. The occurrence of any of the abovementioned factors or other circumstances may trigger any of the parameters prescribed by SEBI and the Stock Exchanges for placing our securities under the GSM and/or ASM framework or any other surveillance measures, which could result in significant restrictions on trading of our Equity Shares being imposed by SEBI and the Stock Exchanges. These restrictions may include requiring higher margin requirements, limiting trading frequency or freezing of price on the upper side of trading, as well as mentioning of our Equity Shares on the surveillance dashboards of the Stock Exchanges. The imposition of these restrictions and curbs on trading may have an adverse effect on the market price, trading and liquidity of our Equity Shares and on the reputation and conditions of our Company. Any such instance may result in a loss of our reputation and diversion of our management’s attention and may also decrease the market price of our Equity Shares which could cause you to lose some or all of your investment.

External Risk Factors

57. Political, economic or other factors that are beyond our control may have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

The Indian economy and capital markets are influenced by economic, political and market conditions in India and globally. Our results of operations are significantly affected by factors influencing the Indian economy. Factors that could adversely affect the Indian economy, and hence our results of operations, may include:

- the macroeconomic climate, including any increase in Indian interest rates or inflation;
- any exchange rate fluctuations, the imposition of currency controls and restrictions on the right to convert or repatriate currency or export assets;
- any scarcity of credit or other financing in India, resulting in an adverse effect on economic conditions in India and scarcity of financing for our expansions;
- prevailing income conditions among Indian consumers and Indian corporates;
- volatility in, and actual or perceived trends in trading activity on, India’s principal stock exchanges;

- changes in India’s tax, trade, fiscal or monetary policies;
- political instability, terrorism or military conflict in India or in countries in the region or globally, including in India’s various neighboring countries;
- occurrence of natural or man-made disasters (such as typhoons, flooding, earthquakes and fires) which may cause us to suspend our operations;
- civil unrest, acts of violence, terrorist attacks, regional conflicts or situations or war, such as the Ukraine-Russia, Israel-Hamas and Israel-Iran conflicts;
- any deterioration in relations between India and its neighboring countries, including Pakistan, including, as a result of the recent attack in Pahalgam, Jammu and Kashmir in April 2025;
- epidemic, pandemic or any other public health in India or in countries in the region or globally, including in India’s various neighboring countries;
- prevailing regional or global economic conditions, including in India’s principal export markets;
- any downgrading of India’s debt rating by a domestic or international rating agency;
- international business practices that may conflict with other customs or legal requirements to which we are subject, including anti-bribery and anti-corruption laws;
- logistical and communications challenges;
- financial instability in financial markets;
- difficulty in developing any necessary partnerships with local businesses on commercially acceptable terms or on a timely basis;
- being subject to the jurisdiction of foreign courts, including uncertainty of judicial processes and difficulty enforcing contractual agreements or judgments in foreign legal systems or incurring additional costs to do so; and
- other significant regulatory or economic developments in or affecting India or its automotive industry.

Any slowdown or perceived slowdown in the Indian economy, or in specific sectors of the Indian economy, could adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows and the price of the Equity Shares.

58. Fluctuations in the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and foreign currencies may have an adverse effect on the value of the Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

On listing, the Equity Shares will be quoted in Indian Rupees on the Stock Exchanges. Any dividends in respect of the Equity Shares will also be paid in Indian Rupees and subsequently converted into the relevant foreign currency for repatriation, if required. Any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during the time that it takes to undertake such conversion may reduce the net dividend to foreign investors. In addition, any adverse movement in currency exchange rates during a delay in repatriating outside India the proceeds from a sale of Equity Shares, for example, because of a delay in regulatory approvals that may be required for the sale of Equity Shares, may reduce the proceeds received by the shareholders. For example, the exchange rate between the Indian Rupee and the U.S. dollar has fluctuated in recent years and may continue to fluctuate substantially in the future, which may have an adverse effect on the returns on the Equity Shares, independent of our operating results.

59. Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties, including adverse application of laws governing corporate and tax laws, could adversely affect our business, prospects and results of operations.

The regulatory and policy environment in which we operate is evolving and subject to change. Our business, operations and manufacturing processes are subject to various domestic, regional, and foreign laws and regulations governing, among other things, environmental issues, health and safety, and import and export. The Government of India may implement new laws or other regulations and policies that could affect our products, operations or the automotive industry in general, which could lead to new and onerous compliance requirements, including requiring us to obtain approvals and licenses from the government and other regulatory bodies, increase our costs or otherwise adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. Further, the way new requirements will be enforced or interpreted can lead to uncertainty in our operations and could adversely affect our operations. Any changes to such laws, including the instances mentioned below, may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

The Government of India announced the union budget for Fiscal 2026 and the Finance Bill, 2025 in the Lok Sabha on February 1, 2025. The bill received assent from the President of India on March 29, 2025 and was enacted as the Finance Act, 2025, which has amended the Income-tax Act, 1961, including the capital gains tax rates with effect from the date of announcement of the Budget. We have not fully determined the effects of these recent and proposed laws and regulations on our business. The Government of India has also approved the Income Tax Bill, 2025 (“Income Tax Bill”), which inter alia, proposes to amend the income tax regime and replace the Income Tax Act, 1961. There is uncertainty in regards to the impact of the Finance Act, 2025 and Income Tax Bill (once enacted), on tax laws or other regulations, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations or on the industry in which we operate.

The Government introduced (a) the Code on Wages, 2019 (“Wages Code”); (b) the Code on Social Security, 2020 (“Social Security Code”); (c) the Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020; and (d) the Industrial Relations Code, 2020, which consolidate, subsume and replace numerous existing central labor legislations. As on the date of this Prospectus, except certain portions of the Wages Code, which have come into force pursuant to notification by Ministry of Labor and Employment, the rules for implementation under such codes are yet to be notified. These codes propose to subsume several existing labor laws and regulations in India and we cannot assure you that these codes will not impose more stringent or additional compliance requirements on us, which may increase our compliance costs. If labor laws become more stringent or are more strictly enforced, it may become difficult for us to maintain flexible human resource policies, discharge employees or downsize, any of which could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

The Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023 (“PDP Act”) which has received the assent of the President on August 11, 2023, provides for personal data protection and privacy of individuals, regulates cross border data transfer, and provides several exemptions for personal data processing by the Government. It also provides for the establishment of a Data Protection Board of India for taking remedial actions and imposing penalties for breach of the provisions of the PDP Act. It imposes restrictions and obligations on data fiduciaries, resulting from dealing with personal data and further, provides for levy of penalties for breach of obligations prescribed under the PDP Act. Further, the Indian Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology has notified the Digital Personal Data Protection Rules, 2025 (“DPDP Rules”) on November 13, 2025. The DPDP Rules, regulate the processing of personal data in India, ensuring individuals privacy rights are protected. The DPDP Rules apply to all entities that process digital personal data, both within India and abroad. It mandates the conduct of data protection impact assessments for high-risk processing activities and requires the notification of data breaches within a stipulated timeframe.

Further, on July 1, 2024, the Government implemented The Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023, Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 and Bharatiya Sakshya Adhinyam, 2023, which have replaced the Indian Penal Code, 1860, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973 and the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, respectively.

Additionally, unfavorable changes in or interpretations of existing laws, could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws or denial of benefits and may require us to apply for additional approvals or incur additional liability or costs. For instance, in Fiscal 2025, our Company acquired certain equity shares of FMBIL, FMIPL, FMSIL and TAIPL from their respective shareholders against the issuance of Equity Shares by our Company pursuant to certain share swap agreements. Our Company has also been paying dividends to its shareholders. The Company has been discharging its withholding tax obligations in accordance with the (Indian) Income-tax Act, 1961 in conjunction with the applicable tax treaties in respect of such transactions, and in case of certain transactions, treaty benefits have been extended whilst withholding taxes. However, our Company may be subject to withholding tax risks in respect of such transactions in case tax authorities were to take a different interpretation of our Company's withholding tax obligations and/or the shareholder(s)' entitlement to tax treaty benefits or owing to change in law or judicial interpretation surrounding entitlement to tax treaty benefits. For details of the share swap agreements and dividend payments in the preceding three fiscals, see "History and Certain Corporate Matters- Details regarding material acquisitions or divestments of business/undertakings, mergers, amalgamations, any revaluation of assets, etc., since incorporation" and "Dividend Policy" on pages 334 and 376, respectively.

We cannot predict whether changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment, stamp duty or any tax laws or other regulations governing us will be enacted or predict the nature and effects of any such laws or regulations or whether, if at all, any laws or regulations would have an adverse effect on our business, prospects and results of operations. Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation, or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may affect the viability of our current businesses or restrict our ability to grow our businesses in the future. For details, see "Key Regulations and Policies" beginning on page 323.

60. A downgrade in India's sovereign debt ratings may affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

India's sovereign debt rating could be downgraded due to several factors, including changes in tax or fiscal policy or a decline in India's foreign exchange reserves, all which are outside our control. Our borrowing costs and our access to the debt capital markets depend significantly on the sovereign credit ratings of India. Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings for domestic and international debt by international rating agencies could adversely affect our ability to raise additional external financing, and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. This could have an adverse effect on our business and future financial performance, our ability to obtain financing for capital expenditures and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

61. If inflation continues to rise in India, increased costs may result in a decline in profits.

Inflation rates in India have been volatile in recent years, and such volatility may continue. India has experienced high inflation in the recent past. High fluctuations in inflation rates may make it more difficult for us to accurately estimate or control our costs. Any increase in inflation in India can increase our expenses, which we may not be able to adequately pass on to our customers, whether entirely or in part, and could adversely affect our business and financial condition. If we are unable to increase our revenues sufficiently to offset our increased costs due to inflation, it could have an adverse effect on our business, prospects, results of operations, financial condition, and cash flows. Further, the Government of India has previously initiated economic measures to combat high inflation rates, and it is unclear whether these measures will remain in effect. There can be no assurance that Indian inflation levels will not worsen in the future.

62. Under Indian law, foreign investors are subject to investment restrictions that limit our ability to attract foreign investors, which could adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Under foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, the transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to compliance with sectoral norms and certain other restrictions), if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or falls under any of the exceptions referred to above, then a prior regulatory approval will be required. Further, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of the Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The RBI and the concerned ministries/departments are responsible for granting approval for foreign investment. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India require a no-objection or a tax clearance certificate from the Indian income tax authorities. We cannot assure you that any necessary approvals from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained on any particular terms, or at all.

In addition, pursuant to the Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020, issued by the DPIIT, which has been incorporated as the proviso to Rule 6(a) of the FEMA Rules, investments where the beneficial owner of the equity shares is situated in or is a citizen of a country which shares a land border with India, can only be made through the Government approval route, as prescribed in the Consolidated FDI Policy dated October 15, 2020 and the FEMA Rules. Further, in the event of transfer of ownership of any existing or future foreign direct investment in an entity in India, directly or indirectly, resulting in the beneficial ownership falling within the aforesaid restriction/purview, such subsequent change in the beneficial ownership will also require approval of the Government of India. These investment restrictions shall also apply to subscribers of offshore derivative instruments. We cannot assure investors that any required approval from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained on any particular terms or conditions or at all. For further information, see “Restrictions on Foreign Ownership of Indian Securities” beginning on page 596.

63. Our ability to raise foreign capital may be constrained by Indian law.

As an Indian company, we are subject to exchange controls that regulate borrowing in foreign currencies. Such regulatory restrictions limit our financing sources and could constrain our ability to obtain financings on competitive terms and refinance existing indebtedness. In addition, we cannot assure you that any required regulatory approvals for borrowing in foreign currencies will be granted to us without onerous conditions, or at all. Limitations on foreign debt may have an adverse effect on our business growth, results of operations, and financial condition.

64. Rights of shareholders under Indian laws may be different than under the laws of other jurisdictions.

Indian legal principles related to corporate procedures, directors’ fiduciary duties and liabilities, and shareholders’ rights may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Shareholders’ rights including in relation to class actions, under Indian law may not be as extensive as shareholders’ rights under the laws of other countries or jurisdictions. Investors may face challenges in asserting their rights as a shareholder of our Company than as a shareholder of an entity in another jurisdiction.

65. Any adverse application or interpretation of competition laws could adversely affect our business.

The Competition Act, 2002, as amended (the “Competition Act”) was enacted for the purpose of preventing practices that have or are likely to have an appreciable adverse effect on competition (“AAEC”) in certain markets in India and has mandated the Competition Commission of India (the “CCI”) to separate such practices. Under the Competition Act, any arrangement, understanding or action, whether formal or informal, which causes or is likely to cause an AAEC is deemed void and attracts substantial penalties.

Further, any agreement among competitors which directly or indirectly involves determination of purchase or sale prices, limits or controls production, or shares the market by way of geographical area or number of customers in the relevant market is presumed to have an appreciable adverse effect on competition in the relevant market in India and shall be void. Further, the Competition Act prohibits abuse of dominant position by any enterprise. If it is proved that the contravention committed by a company took place with the consent or connivance or is attributable to any neglect on the part of any director, manager, secretary or other officer of such company, that person shall be guilty of the contravention and liable to be punished.

The Competition Act aims to, among others, prohibit all agreements and transactions which may have an AAEC in India. Consequently, certain agreements entered into by us could be within the purview of the Competition Act. Further, the CCI has extra-territorial powers and can investigate any agreements, abusive conduct or combination occurring outside India if such agreement, conduct or combination has an AAEC in India. How the provisions of the Competition Act impact our agreements cannot be predicted with certainty at this stage. However, since we pursue an acquisition driven growth strategy, we may be affected, directly or indirectly, by the application or interpretation of any provision of the Competition Act, any enforcement proceedings initiated by the CCI, any adverse publicity that may be generated due to scrutiny or prosecution by the CCI, or any prohibition or substantial penalties levied under the Competition Act, which would adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

The Government of India has also passed the Competition (Amendment) Act, 2023, which has introduced deal value thresholds for assessing whether a merger or acquisition qualifies as a “combination”, expedited merger review timelines, codification of the lowest standard of “control” and enhanced penalties for providing false information or a failure to provide material information.

Any future acquisitions we pursue may be directly or indirectly affected by the application or interpretation of any provision of the Competition Act, any enforcement proceedings initiated by the CCI, any adverse publicity that may be generated due to scrutiny or prosecution by the CCI, or any prohibition or substantial penalties levied under the Competition Act, which would adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

66. Significant differences exist between Ind AS used to prepare our financial information and other accounting principles, such as IFRS and U.S. GAAP, with which investors may be more familiar.

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information included in this Prospectus have been prepared basis the restated consolidated financial information of our Company and our Subsidiaries (together, the “Group”) which Restated Consolidated Financial Information of the Group comprises of the Restated Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities as at June 30, 2025 and 2024 and March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Restated Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows and the Restated Consolidated Statement of Changes in Equity for the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and years ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023 and a summary of material accounting policies and other explanatory information, prepared in accordance with Section 26 of Part I of Chapter III of the Companies Act, 2013, as amended; the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2018, as amended; and the Guidance Note on Reports in Company Prospectuses (Revised 2019) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI), as amended (the “Guidance Note”) read with the general directions dated October 28, 2021 received from Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) by our Company through the Book Running Lead Managers, as applicable.

We have not attempted to quantify the effects of US GAAP or IFRS on the financial data included in this Prospectus, nor do we provide a reconciliation of our financial statements to those of US GAAP or IFRS. US GAAP and IFRS differ in significant respects from Ind AS and Indian GAAP. Accordingly, the degree to which the Ind AS and Indian GAAP financial statements, which are restated as per the SEBI ICDR Regulations included in this Prospectus, will provide meaningful information is dependent on the reader’s level of familiarity with Indian accounting practices. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian accounting practices on the financial disclosures presented in this Prospectus should be limited accordingly.

67. Investors may have difficulty enforcing foreign judgments against us or our management.

Our Company is a company incorporated under the laws of India. Except for Arvind Chandrasekharan, Manavendra Singh Sial, Nathan Patrick Bowen, and Prakash Mahesh, all of our Directors and executive officers are citizens and residents of India. All of our Company’s assets and a substantial portion of the assets of our Directors and executive officers resident in India are located in India. A substantial portion of the assets of Arvind Chandrasekharan, Manavendra Singh Sial, Nathan Patrick Bowen, and Prakash Mahesh are located overseas. As a result, it may be difficult for investors to effect service of process upon us or such persons in India or to enforce judgments obtained against us or such parties outside India.

Recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments is provided for under Section 13 and Section 44A of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, as amended (the “Civil Procedure Code”). India is not a party to any international treaty in relation to the recognition or enforcement of foreign judgments. India has reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters with a limited number of jurisdictions, including the United Kingdom, Singapore, UAE, and Hong Kong. A judgment from certain specified courts located in a jurisdiction with reciprocity must meet certain requirements of the Civil Procedure Code. The United States has not been notified as a reciprocating territory.

In order to be enforceable, a judgment obtained in a jurisdiction which India recognizes as a reciprocating territory must meet certain requirements of the Civil Procedure Code. Section 13 of the Civil Procedure Code provides that foreign judgments shall be conclusive regarding any matter directly adjudicated on except (i) where the judgment has not been pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction, (ii) where the judgment has not been given on the merits of the case, (iii) where it appears on the face of the proceedings that the judgment is founded on an incorrect view of international law or refusal to recognize the law of India in cases to which such law is applicable, (iv) where the proceedings in which the judgment was obtained were opposed to natural justice, (v) where the judgment has been obtained by fraud or (vi) where the judgment sustains a claim founded on a breach of any law then in force in India. Under the Civil Procedure Code, a court in India shall, on the production of any document purporting to be a certified copy of a foreign judgment, presume that the judgment was pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction, unless the contrary appears on record; such presumption may be displaced by proving want of jurisdiction. The Civil Procedure Code only permits the enforcement of monetary decrees, not being in the nature of any amounts payable in respect of taxes, or other charges of a like nature or in respect of a fine or other penalty and does not provide for the enforcement of arbitration awards even if such awards are enforceable as a decree or judgment. A foreign judgment rendered by a superior court (as defined under the Civil Procedure Code) in any jurisdiction outside India which the Government of India has by notification declared to be a reciprocating territory, may be enforced in India by proceedings in execution as if the judgment had been rendered by a competent court in India. Judgments or decrees from jurisdictions which do not have reciprocal recognition with India cannot be enforced by proceedings in execution in India. Therefore, a final judgment for the payment of money rendered by any court in a non-reciprocating territory for civil liability, whether or not predicated solely upon the general laws of the non-reciprocating territory, would not be enforceable in India. Even if an investor obtained a judgment in such a jurisdiction against us, our officers or directors, it may be required to institute a new proceeding in India and obtain a decree from an Indian court.

However, the party in whose favor such final judgment is rendered may bring a new suit in a competent court in India based on a final judgment that has been obtained in the United States or other such jurisdiction within three years of obtaining such final judgment. It is unlikely that an Indian court would award damages on the same basis as a foreign court if an action were brought in India. Moreover, it is unlikely that an Indian court would award damages to the extent awarded in a final judgment rendered outside India if it believes that the amount of damages awarded were excessive or inconsistent with public policy in India. In addition, any person seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain the prior approval of the RBI to repatriate any amount recovered, and we cannot assure that such approval will be forthcoming within a reasonable period of time, or at all, or that conditions of such approvals would be acceptable. Such amount may also be subject to income tax in accordance with applicable law. Further, any judgment in a foreign currency would be converted into Indian Rupees on the date of judgment (and not on the date of payment), which could also increase risks relating to foreign exchange.

Consequently, it may not be possible to enforce in an Indian court any judgment obtained in a foreign court, or effect service of process outside of India, against Indian companies, entities, their directors and executive officers and any other parties resident in India. Additionally, there is no assurance that a suit brought in an Indian court in relation to a foreign judgment will be disposed of in a timely manner.

68. A third party could be prevented from acquiring control of our Company because of anti-takeover provisions under Indian law.

There are provisions in Indian law that may delay, deter or prevent a future takeover or change in control of our Company, even if a change in control would result in the purchase of your Equity Shares at a premium to the market price or would otherwise be beneficial to you. Such provisions may discourage or prevent certain types of transactions involving actual or threatened change in control of our Company. Under the SEBI Takeover Regulations, an acquirer has been defined as any person who, directly or indirectly, acquires or agrees to acquire shares or voting rights or control over a company, whether individually or acting in concert with others. Although these provisions have been formulated to ensure that interests of investors/shareholders are protected, these provisions may also discourage a third party from attempting to take control of our Company. Consequently, even if a potential takeover of our Company would result in the purchase of the Equity Shares at a premium to their market price or would otherwise be beneficial to its stakeholders, it is possible that such a takeover would not be attempted or consummated because of the Takeover Regulations. Further, there are requirements under the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Prohibition of Insider Trading) Regulations, 2015 and the Takeover Regulations if the shareholding of any entity exceeds the specified threshold.

69. The Offer Price of our Equity Shares, our price-to-earnings ratio and our enterprise value to EBITDA ratio may not be indicative of the trading price of our Equity Shares upon listing on the Stock Exchanges subsequent to the Offer and, as a result, you may lose a significant part or all of your investment.

Our Offer Price has been determined by our Company, in consultation with the BRLMs through the book building process, based on which the enterprise value to EBITDA ratio and price-to-earnings ratio for the Fiscal, 2025 is set out below.

Particulars	Ratio vis-à-vis Floor Price (In multiples, unless otherwise specified)	Ratio vis-à-vis Cap Price
Enterprise value to EBITDA ⁽¹⁾	18.39	19.33
Price-to-earnings ratio	27.63	29.02

Notes:

⁽¹⁾ Enterprise Value is computed as the market capitalization of our Company based on the Price Band of ₹ 378 to ₹ 397 per Equity Share, plus the net debt as on March 31, 2025. Market capitalization of our Company is calculated as Post Issue No of Shares multiplied by price per share as per the Price Band.

Further, our Offer Price, the multiples and ratio specified above may not be comparable to the market price, market capitalization and price-to-earnings ratios of our peers and would be dependent on the various factors included under “Basis for Offer Price” beginning on page 165. Accordingly, any valuation exercise undertaken for the purposes of the Offer by our Company, in consultation with the BRLMs, would not be based on a benchmark with our industry peers. The relevant financial parameters on the basis of which Price Band was determined, have been disclosed under “Basis for Offer Price” beginning on page 165 and was disclosed in the price band advertisement. For details of comparison with listed peers, please see “Basis for Offer Price” beginning on page 165.

Prior to this Offer, there has been no public trading market for our Equity Shares. It is possible that, after this Offer, an active trading market will not develop or continue. Listing and quotation do not guarantee that a market for our Equity Shares will develop, or if developed, the liquidity of such market for our Equity Shares. If an active trading market does not develop, you may have difficulty selling any of our Equity Shares that you buy. The Offer Price has been determined by our Company in consultation with the BRLMs through the Book Building Process and is based on certain factors, as described under “Basis for Offer Price” beginning on page 165 and may not be indicative of the trading price of our Equity Shares, upon listing on the Stock Exchanges subsequent to the Offer. The market price of the Equity Shares may be influenced by many factors, some of which are beyond our control, including:

- the failure of security analysts to cover the Equity Shares after this Issue, or changes in the estimates of our performance by analysts;
- the activities of competitors and business partners;
- future sales of the Equity Shares by our Company or our shareholders;
- investor perception of us and the industry in which we operate;
- our quarterly or annual earnings or those of our competitors;
- developments affecting fiscal or industrial regulations;
- results of operations that vary from the expectations of securities analysts and investors;
- fluctuations in stock market prices and volume;
- the public’s reaction to our press releases and adverse media reports; and
- general economic and stock market conditions.

The trading price of our Equity Shares could be subject to significant fluctuations, and may decline below the Offer Price. Consequently, you may not be able to sell our Equity Shares at prices equal to or greater than the price you paid in this offering. In addition, the stock market often experiences price and volume fluctuations that are unrelated or disproportionate to the operating performance of a particular company. These broad market fluctuations and industry factors may materially reduce the market price of the Equity Shares, regardless of our Company's performance. A decrease in the market price of our Equity Shares could cause you to lose some or all of your investment.

70. The Equity Shares have never been publicly traded, and after the Offer, the Equity Shares may experience price and volume fluctuations and an active trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop. Further, the Offer Price may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Offer.

While our Equity Shares are expected to trade on NSE and BSE after the Offer, an active trading market on the Stock Exchanges may not develop, be sustained or be liquid after the Offer, or if such trading or liquidity develops, there can be no assurance that it will continue. If an active trading market does not develop, you may have difficulty selling any of our Equity Shares that you buy. The Offer Price has been determined by our Company in consultation with the BRLMs through the Book Building Process and may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares at the time of commencement of trading of the Equity Shares or at any time thereafter. The Offer Price is based on numerous factors, as described in the section "Basis for Offer Price" beginning on page 165. The market price of the Equity Shares may be subject to significant fluctuations in response to, among other factors, variations in our operating results, market conditions specific to the industry we operate in, developments relating to India, volatility in securities markets in jurisdictions other than India, variations in the growth rate of financial indicators, variations in revenue or earnings estimates by research publications, changes in expectations as to our future financial performance, including financial estimates by research analysts and investors, announcements by us or our competitors of new products, significant acquisitions, strategic alliances, joint operations or capital commitments, announcements by third parties or governmental entities of significant claims or proceedings against us, new laws and governmental regulations or changes in laws and governmental regulations applicable to our industry, including market conditions specific to the industry we operate in, additions or departures of key management and changes in economic and legal and other regulatory factors. Consequently, the price of our Equity Shares may be volatile, and you may be unable to resell your Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price, or at all, and may as a result lose all or a part of your investment.

71. The current market price of some securities listed pursuant to certain previous issues managed by the BRLMs is below their respective issue prices. The determination of the Price Band is based on various factors and assumptions and the Offer Price of the Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Offer.

The current market price of securities listed pursuant to certain previous initial public offerings managed by the BRLMs is below their respective issue prices. For further information, see "Other Regulatory and Statutory Disclosures — Price information of past issues handled by the Book Running Lead Managers" on page 556. The factors that could affect the market price of our Equity Shares include, among others, broad market trends, financial performance and results of our Company post-listing, and other factors beyond our control.

The determination of the Price Band is based on various factors and assumptions, and has been determined by our Company, in consultation with the BRLMs. Furthermore, the Offer Price of the Equity Shares has been determined by our Company, in consultation with the BRLMs through the Book Building Process. These are based on numerous factors, including factors as described under "Basis for Offer Price" beginning on page 165 and may not be indicative of the market price for the Equity Shares after the Offer. In addition to the above, the current market price of securities listed pursuant to certain previous initial public offerings managed by the BRLMs is below their respective issue price. For further details, see "Other Regulatory and Statutory Disclosures — Price information of past issues handled by the Book Running Lead Managers" on page 556. The factors that could affect the market price of the Equity Shares include, among others, broad market trends, financial performance and results of our Company post-listing, and other factors beyond our control. We cannot assure you that an active market will develop or that sustained trading will take place in the Equity Shares, nor provide any assurance regarding the price at which the Equity Shares will be traded after listing.

72. Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of income arising on the sale of and dividend on the Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws and regulations, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. Any capital gain exceeding ₹125,000, realized on the sale of listed equity shares on a recognized stock exchange, held for more than 12 months immediately preceding the date of transfer, will be subject to long term capital gains in India, at the rate of 12.50% (plus applicable surcharge and cess). This beneficial rate is, inter alia, subject to payment of Securities Transaction Tax (“STT”). Further, any gain realized on the sale of equity shares in an Indian company held for more than 12 months, which are sold using any platform other than a recognized stock exchange and on which no STT has been paid, will be subject to long term capital gains tax in India at 12.50%. Further, any capital gains realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less immediately preceding the date of transfer will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India. Such gains will be subject to tax at the rate of 20.00% (plus applicable surcharge and cess), subject to STT being paid at the time of sale of such shares. Otherwise, such gains will be taxed at the applicable rates. Capital gains arising from the sale of the Equity Shares will be exempt from taxation in India in cases where the exemption from taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India’s ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain upon the sale of the Equity Shares. Similarly, any business income realized from the transfer of Equity Shares held as trading assets is taxable at the applicable tax rates subject to any treaty relief, if applicable, to a non-resident seller.

73. Investors will not be able to sell immediately on an Indian stock exchange any of the Equity Shares they purchase in the Offer.

The Equity Shares will be listed on the Stock Exchanges. Pursuant to applicable Indian laws, certain actions must be completed before the Equity Shares can be listed and trading in the Equity Shares may commence. Investors’ book entry, or ‘demat’ accounts with depository participants in India, are expected to be credited within one working day of the date on which the Basis of Allotment is approved by the Stock Exchanges. The Allotment of Equity Shares in this Offer and the credit of such Equity Shares to the applicant’s demat account with depository participant could take approximately two Working Days from the Bid Closing Date and trading in the Equity Shares upon receipt of final listing and trading approvals from the Stock Exchanges is expected to commence within three Working Days of the Bid Closing Date. There could be a failure or delay in listing of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges. Any failure or delay in obtaining the approval or otherwise commence trading in the Equity Shares would restrict investors’ ability to dispose of their Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that the Equity Shares will be credited to investors’ demat accounts, or that trading in the Equity Shares will commence, within the time periods specified in this risk factor. We could also be required to pay interest at the applicable rates if allotment is not made, refund orders are not dispatched or demat credits are not made to investors within the prescribed time periods.

74. Holders of Equity Shares in other jurisdictions may be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and thereby suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

Under the Companies Act, a company having share capital and incorporated in India is required to offer holders of its equity shares pre-emptive rights to subscribe and pay for a proportionate number of equity shares to maintain their existing ownership percentages prior to the issuance of any new equity shares, unless the pre-emptive rights have been waived by the adoption of a special resolution by holders of three-fourths of the equity shares who have voted on such resolutions. However, if the laws of the jurisdiction that you are in does not permit the exercise of such pre-emptive rights without us filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such jurisdiction, you will be unable to exercise such pre-emptive rights unless we make such a filing. We may elect not to file a registration statement in relation to pre-emptive rights otherwise available by Indian law to you. To the extent that you are unable to exercise pre-emptive rights granted in respect of the Equity Shares, you may suffer future dilution of your ownership position and your proportional interests in us would be reduced.

75. QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid, and Retail Individual Investors are not permitted to withdraw their Bids after Bid/Offer Closing Date.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are required to pay the Bid Amount on submission of the Bid and are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid. Retail Individual Investors can revise their Bids during the Bid/ Issue Period and withdraw their Bids until Bid/ Issue Closing Date. While our Company is required to complete all necessary formalities for listing and commencement of trading of the Equity Shares on all Stock Exchanges where such Equity Shares are proposed to be listed including Allotment pursuant to the Offer within three Working Days from the Bid/ Issue Closing Date or such other timeline as may be prescribed under applicable law, events affecting the Bidders' decision to invest in the Equity Shares, including material adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations or financial condition may arise between the date of submission of the Bid and Allotment. Our Company may complete the Allotment of the Equity Shares even if such events occur, and such events limit the Bidders' ability to sell the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the Offer or cause the trading price of the Equity Shares to decline on listing.

76. Any future issuance of Equity Shares or convertible securities or other equity linked securities by our Company may dilute your shareholding and sales of the Equity Shares by our major shareholders may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Any future issuance of the Equity Shares, convertible securities or securities linked to the Equity Shares by our Company, including issuance of Equity Shares to employees or former employees upon exercise of vested options held by them under the ESOP Scheme, may dilute your shareholding. Any such future issuance of Equity Shares or future sales of the Equity Shares by any of our significant shareholders may also adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares and impact our ability to raise funds through an offering of our securities or by incurring debt. Any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur could also affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. Additionally, the disposal, pledge or encumbrance of the Equity Shares by any of our significant shareholders, or the perception that such transactions may occur, may affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that we will not issue further Equity Shares or that our existing Shareholders will not dispose of further Equity Shares after the completion of the Offer (subject to compliance with the lock-in provisions under applicable law) or pledge or encumber their Equity Shares. Any future issuances could also dilute the value of shareholder's investment in the Equity Shares and adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. Such securities may also be issued at prices below the Offer Price. We may also issue convertible debt securities to finance our future growth or fund our business activities. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur may also affect the market price of our Equity Shares.

77. There is no guarantee that our Equity Shares will be listed on the stock exchanges in a timely manner or at all.

In accordance with Indian law and practice, permission for listing and trading of our Equity Shares will not be granted until after certain actions have been completed in relation to this Offer and until Allotment of Equity Shares pursuant to this Offer. In accordance with current regulations and circulars issued by SEBI, our Equity Shares are required to be listed on the BSE and NSE within such time as mandated under UPI Circulars, subject to any change in the prescribed timeline in this regard. However, we cannot assure you that the trading in our Equity Shares will commence in a timely manner or at all. Any failure or delay in obtaining final listing and trading approvals may restrict your ability to dispose of your Equity Shares.

Rationale for Selection of Peers

Our company is part of a multi-national group and is engaged in the business of manufacturing and selling of auto-components, namely clean air, powertrain and suspension solutions. For the purpose of selection of peer-set, we have focused on multi-national and domestic auto-component companies listed in India having reasonable size, scale and returns and diversified/similar product portfolio. Thus, the quantitative criteria for selection of our peers includes reasonable size (market capitalisation of more than Rs 150,000 million as on the date of DRHP and comparable return metrics (Return of Equity exceeding 15% for Fiscal Year 2025). Basis these criteria, our listed peers have been identified as Bosch Ltd, Timken India Ltd, SKF India Ltd, ZF Commercial Vehicle Control Ltd, Uno Minda Ltd, and Sona BLW Precision Forgings Ltd. Further, based on similar product portfolio, we have also considered Sharda Motor Industries Limited and Gabriel India Limited as our peers because of their significant presence in emission after-treatment industry and suspension industry, respectively. Please note that SKF Limited demerged its automotive business pursuant to scheme of arrangement w.e.f October 1, 2025 and has been considered as peer based on quantitative criteria of pre demerger market capitalisation of more than Rs 150,000 million as on the date of DRHP.

Notes:

- (1) Value added Revenue (VAR) means revenue from operations after excluding the cost of substrate sales. Thus, it is computed as revenue from operations minus the cost of substrates. Substrates are porous ceramic filters coated with a catalyst - typically, precious metals such as platinum, palladium, and rhodium. We do not manufacture substrates; they are supplied to us by Tier II suppliers generally at the direction of our OEM customers, and we assemble the substrates into the final manufactured products that we sell to our OEM customers. They are a necessary component of exhaust aftertreatment systems for emission control. The need for substrate components grows for more sophisticated emission control solutions to meet more stringent environmental regulations, particularly for commercial on road and off-road vehicles. These substrates are included in inventory and are "passed through" to the customer at cost, plus a nominal handling fee. Since we take title to the substrate inventory and have responsibility for both the delivery and quality of the finished product including the substrates, the revenues and related expenses are recorded at gross amounts. Substrate costs depend on precious metals prices, which may be volatile. While our OEM customers generally assume the risk of precious metals price volatility, it affects our reported revenue from operations and dilutes profitability margins at the revenue from operations level. Hence, we believe VAR is an important metric to understand our overall business because VAR eliminates the effect of this uncontrollable portion of our revenue from operations, including the effect of potentially volatile precious metals prices.
- (2) VAR Growth (%) is calculated as VAR for the current period/Fiscal minus VAR for the previous period/Fiscal as a percentage of VAR for the previous period/Fiscal.
- (3) Revenue from operations refers to the revenue from operations as appearing in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information.
- (4) Revenue Growth (%) is calculated as Revenue from operations for the current fiscal minus Revenue from operations for the previous period /Fiscal as a percentage of Revenue from operations for the previous period /Fiscal.
- (5) EBITDA refers to earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortization and is calculated as restated profit for the period/ year plus total tax expense, finance cost, depreciation and amortization expense minus other income.
- (6) EBITDA Growth (%) is calculated as EBITDA for the current period/fiscal less EBITDA for the previous period/fiscal as a percentage of EBITDA for the previous period/Fiscal.
- (7) EBITDA Margin (%) (Basis VAR) is calculated as EBITDA as a percentage of VAR.
- (8) EBITDA Margin (%) (Basis Revenue from Operations) is calculated as EBITDA as a percentage of revenue from operations.
- (9) Profit after tax (PAT) represents restated profit for the year as appearing in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information.
- (10) PAT Growth (%) is calculated as PAT for the current period/Fiscal less PAT for the previous period/Fiscal as a percentage of PAT for the previous period/Fiscal.
- (11) PAT Margin % (Basis VAR) is calculated as Restated profit for the period/year as a percentage of VAR.
- (12) PAT Margin % (Basis Revenue from Operations) is calculated as Restated profit for the period/year as a percentage of Revenue from Operations.
- (13) Net Debt is Calculated as Total Debt (including Lease Liabilities) less cash and cash equivalents. Negative Net Debt above indicates higher cash as compared to our borrowings and current and non-current lease liabilities.
- (14) Net Debt to Equity Ratio is calculated as Net Debt divided by Total Equity.
- (15) Net Debt to EBITDA Ratio is calculated as Net Debt divided by EBITDA.

- ⁽¹⁶⁾ Return on Equity is calculated as restated profit for the period/year divided by Average Equity. Average Equity is calculated as average of the total equity at the beginning and at the end of the relevant period/fiscal. Total equity refers to the sum of Equity attributable to owners of Parent and Non-Controlling Interest.
- ⁽¹⁷⁾ Return on Capital Employed is calculated as earning before interest and taxes (EBIT) as a percentage of Capital Employed. EBIT is calculated as Restated profit for the period/year plus finance cost plus total tax expense less other income. Capital employed is calculated as sum of Total Equity, Total Debt (including lease liabilities), Deferred tax liabilities minus Intangible assets, Deferred tax assets, Capital redemption reserve, Capital Reserve on Business Combination and Capital reserve.
- ⁽¹⁸⁾ Fixed Asset Turnover Ratio is calculated as Revenue from operations divided by Average Net Fixed Assets. Average Net Fixed Assets is calculated as average of opening and closing balance of Property, Plant and Equipment and Capital work-in-progress as per the Restated Consolidated Financial Information.
- ⁽¹⁹⁾ Net Working Capital is calculated as Current Assets (excluding assets classified as held for sale and receivables related to sale of investment in Motocare India Private Limited classified under Other financial assets) less Current Liabilities (excluding liabilities relating to assets held for sale) as per Restated Consolidated Financial Information.
- ⁽²⁰⁾ Net Working Capital Days is calculated as 365 (for Fiscals) or 91 (for three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024), multiplied by Net Working Capital turnover, rounded off to zero decimals. Net working capital turnover is calculated as Net Working Capital divided by Revenue from Operations.
- ⁽²¹⁾ Cash Conversion Cycle is calculated as the sum of Receivable Days and Inventory Days less Payable Days, rounded to the nearest whole number. Receivable Days is calculated as average trade receivables divided by (revenue from operations divided by 365 for Fiscals or 91 for three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 (as applicable)), rounded to the nearest whole number. Inventory Days is calculated as average inventories divided by (cost of goods sold divided by 365 for Fiscals or 91 for three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 (as applicable)), rounded to the nearest whole number. Cost of goods sold comprises Cost of Materials Consumed, Purchases of Stock in Trade and Changes in inventories of finished goods, semi-finished goods and Stock in trade. Payable Days is calculated as average trade payables divided by (total purchases divided by 365 for Fiscals or 91 for three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 (as applicable)), rounded to the nearest whole number. Purchases includes purchase of stock-in-trade, raw materials and packing materials. Average Trade payable included payables for purchases and vendor bill financing.
- ⁽²²⁾ Business Divisions-wise Revenue from Operations consist of Revenue of Clean Air and Powertrain Solutions Division and Advanced Ride Technology Division. Revenue of Clean Air and Powertrain Solutions consists of Revenue from operations of the Company and its subsidiaries Federal-Mogul Ignition Products India Limited, Federal-Mogul Bearings India Limited, and Federal-Mogul Sealings India Limited while Advanced Ride Technology Revenue consist of revenue from operations of subsidiary Tenneco Automotive India Private Limited.

We do not manufacture substrates; they are supplied to us by Tier II suppliers generally at the direction of our OEM customers, and we assemble the substrates into the final manufactured products that we sell to our OEM customers. They are a necessary component of exhaust aftertreatment systems for emission control. The need for substrate components grows for more sophisticated emission control solutions to meet more stringent environmental regulations, particularly for commercial on road and off-road vehicles. These substrates are included in inventory and are “passed through” to the customer at cost, plus a nominal handling fee. Since we take title to the substrate inventory and have responsibility for both the delivery and quality of the finished product including the substrates, the revenues and related expenses are recorded at gross amounts. Substrate costs depend on precious metals prices, which may be volatile. While our OEM customers generally assume the risk of precious metals price volatility, it affects our reported revenue from operations and dilutes profitability margins at the revenue from operations level. Hence, we believe VAR is an important metric to understand our overall business because VAR eliminates the effect of this uncontrollable portion of our revenue from operations, including the effect of potentially volatile precious metals prices.

Section 115BAA of the ITA, introduced vide The Taxation Laws (Amendment) Act, 2019, lays down certain conditions on fulfillment of which domestic companies are entitled to avail a concessional tax rate of 22% (plus applicable surcharge and cess). The option to apply under this tax rate is made available from Financial Year (‘FY’) 2019-20 relevant to Assessment Year (‘AY’) 2020-21 and the option once exercised shall apply to subsequent AYs. The concessional tax rate of 22% (plus surcharge of 10% and health and education cess of 4%) is subject to a company not availing any of the following deductions / exemptions under the provisions of the ITA:

- Section 10AA: Tax holiday available to units in a Special Economic Zone.
- Section 32(1)(iia): Additional depreciation.
- Section 32AD: Investment allowance.
- Section 33AB / 33ABA: Tea coffee rubber development expenses / site restoration expenses
- Section 35(1)(ii) or 35(1)(iia) or 35(1)(iii) / 35(2AA) / 35(2AB): Expenditure on scientific research.
- Section 35AD: Deduction for capital expenditure incurred on specified businesses.
- Section 35CCC / 35CCD: Expenditure on agricultural extension / skill development.

The total income of a company availing the beneficial tax rate of 25.168% (i.e., 22% tax plus 10% surcharge and 4% health & education cess) is required to be computed without set off of any carried forward loss and depreciation attributable to any of the aforesaid deductions/incentives. A company can exercise the option to apply for the beneficial tax regime in its return of income filed under section 139(1) of the ITA. Further, provisions of Minimum Alternate Tax (‘MAT’) under section 115JB of the ITA shall not be applicable to companies availing this concessional tax rate.

The provisions do not specify any limitation / condition on account of turnover, nature of business or date of incorporation for opting for the concessional tax rate. Accordingly, all existing as well as new domestic companies are eligible to avail this concessional tax rate by filing Form 10-IC which is a pre-requisite for availing the concessional tax rates under section 115BAA of the ITA.

Note: The Company has opted for the lower tax rate under section 115BAA of the ITA starting FY 2019-20 and onwards, and therefore, is eligible for a concessional effective tax rate of 25.168% (including applicable surcharge and health and education cess) subject to fulfilment of above conditions.

2. Deduction in respect of inter-corporate dividends – Section 80M of the ITA

As per the provisions of section 80M of the ITA, inserted with effect from 01 April 2021, a domestic company, shall be allowed to claim a deduction of dividend income earned from any other domestic company or a foreign company or a business trust. The Company is entitled to claim such deduction subject to fulfilment of conditions specified under Section 80M of the ITA.

As per section 80JJAA of the ITA, where a company is subject to tax audit under section 44AB of the ITA and derives income from business, it shall be allowed to claim a deduction of an amount equal to 30% of additional employee cost (relating to specified category of employees) incurred in the course of such business in a previous year, for 3 consecutive assessment years including the assessment year relevant to the previous year in which such additional employment cost is incurred.

The eligibility to claim the deduction is subject to fulfilment of prescribed conditions specified in sub-section (2) of section 80JJAA of the ITA. Further, to claim the aforesaid deduction, the Company is required to furnish the report of an accountant electronically in Form 10DA containing the particulars of deduction prior to the due date of filing tax audit report as per section 44AB of the ITA.

Macroeconomic Overview of the Global & Indian Economy

Overview of the Global Economy

Review and Outlook of Global GDP

Global economic growth remained rangebound during CY2024 with several large economies showing resilience despite geopolitical tensions, high interest rates and the growing intensity of extreme weather events. Further tightening of financial conditions also challenged global trade and industrial production in CY2024.

However major policy shifts are resetting the global trade system and bringing uncertainty to the resilient global economy. The outlook for global trade has declined sharply due to surge in tariffs and trade policy. The new tariff measures by the United States and countermeasures by its trading partners may have adverse impact on economic growth and inflation. The sudden rise in trade tension and high level of policy uncertainty is expected to have a notable impact on global economic activity. In turn, the global growth pace is projected to decline in CY2025.

Global growth is expected to decline at 3.0% in CY2025 compared to 3.3% in CY2024. Growth in advanced economies is projected to slow on account of greater policy uncertainty, trade tensions, and softer demand momentum. Growth in advanced economies is projected to be at 1.5% in CY2025 and 1.6% in CY2026. The US economy expected to slow down to 1.9% in 2025 compared to 2.8% in CY2024, due to higher tariffs and cut down in government spendings. In Euro area marginal growth is expected, 1.0% in CY2025 compared to 0.9% in CY2024.

In emerging markets and developing economies, growth is expected to slow down to 4.1% in CY2025 compared to 4.3% in CY2024, with significant downgrades for countries affected most by recent trade measures. The growth outlook for China has been revised upward to 4.8% a significant increase of 0.8% from the previous estimates of IMF. This upward revision is driven by the country's better than expected performance in the first half of CY2025 as well as substantial reduction in tariffs between the US and China which has boosted economic activity.

The growth outlook is more stable for India despite global environment uncertainty and subdued growth. The growth is projected to be at 6.4% in CY2025 compared to 6.5% in CY2024. The steady expansion of the economy is supported by private consumption, particularly in rural areas. India has emerged as the fastest growing major economy outpacing the growth of major countries to become the world's fourth largest economy in fiscal 2025.

Review and Outlook of Inflation in Key Economies

The global inflation rate is expected to decline to 4.2% in CY2025 and 3.6% in CY2026, largely consistent with IMF previous estimates. This decline is driven by weakening demand and decreasing energy prices. In advance economy, inflation expected to decline by 2.4% in CY 2025 compared to 2.8% in CY2024. However, for the United States inflation rose to 2.9% in CY2025 compared to 2.4% in CY2024. In the US, tariffs are expected to gradually impact consumer prices leading to higher inflation in the second half of CY2025 however, these tariffs will have a dampening effect on inflation in the other regions. Inflation is projected to be above 2% target until CY 2026. Whereas the euro area is likely to see more moderate inflation due to factors such as currency appreciation and one-time fiscal measures. In emerging and developing Asia the inflation rose to 2% in CY2025 compared to 1.6% in CY2024. In China the headline inflation relatively stable while core inflation expected to rise slightly to 0.5% in CY2025 and 0.8% in CY2026 driven by recent higher than expected record and reduced tariffs.

The inflation outlook at the overall level has posed significant challenges and subject to high uncertainty, particularly the recently imposed tariffs across countries. Tariffed countries face a negative demand shock as export demand diminishes, exerting downward pressure on prices. Trade uncertainty adds to the layer of demand shocks while households postpone investment and spendings and this effect is boosted by tighter financial conditions and increased exchange rate volatility.

The global economy is expected to slow down due to increased US tariffs, which will reduce demand for exports, and impacting the global growth. Global growth is expected to decline to 3.0 % in CY2025 from 3.3% in CY2024.

Overview of the Indian Economy

Review of GDP growth over fiscals 2019-2025 and Outlook for fiscals 2026-2030

India ranks as the world's 4th largest economy and is the fastest growing among major economies. The Indian economy logged 4.3% CAGR between fiscals 2019 and 2024. Economic growth was supported by benign crude oil prices, soft interest rates and low current account deficit. The Indian government also undertook key reforms and initiatives, such as Saptarishi priorities focused on infrastructure, green growth, and youth empowerment financial inclusion initiatives, and gradual opening of sectors such as retail, e-commerce, defense, railways, and insurance for foreign direct investments (FDIs).

Growth surpassed forecasts in fiscal 2024, driven by strong government spending and a sharp rise in manufacturing and construction growth. Globally, growth in major economies such as the US and China beat estimates and has contributed to better export earnings for India.

According to the National statistics Offices (NSO) second advance estimates (SAE) projects India's real gross domestic product (GDP) growth at 6.5% for the fiscal 2025, slightly higher than first advance estimates.

The real GDP grew 7.8% in the first quarter of fiscal 2026 from 7.4% in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2025 and 6.5% in the corresponding quarter of fiscal 2025. Following a sluggish pace in fiscal 2024, private consumption picked up in fiscal 2025. The upward trend expected to continue with private consumption anticipated to outpace GDP growth in fiscal 2026.

Crisil Intelligence expects GDP growth 6.5% in fiscal 2026 owing to slower global growth led by tariff tensions and increase the uncertainty on investment and spending decision by businesses and households. India's goods exports are expected to be directly impacted due its trade agreement with the US; however, services exports are expected to be resilient considering domestic drivers would support growth momentum.

Near-term Review and Outlook on GDP

India transition to the world's fourth largest economy and fastest growing among major economies has been on the back of services, industry and agriculture sectors thriving.

Outlook on GDP

After a strong GDP growth in the past three fiscals, GDP growth is expected to remain steady at 6.5% in fiscal 2025 however risks given the global turmoil. GDP growth was at a five-quarter high of 7.8% in the first quarter of fiscal 2025 compared to 7.4% in fiscal 2024 for the same period. The nominal GDP growth slowed to 8.8% from 10.8% As inflation eased and borrowing costs decreased, it gave significant boost to consumer spending.

Domestic private consumption growth strengthened despite a high base effect, boosting both manufacturing and services. Higher government spending in the first quarter contributed to a sharp rise in government consumption expenditure and healthy fixed investment growth. Export growth was fueled by the front-loading of goods exported in anticipation of higher US tariffs. On the supply side, gross value added (GVA) rose 7.6% from 6.8%. Services and manufacturing saw a significant rise in growth. A lower deflator benefited both these sectors.

Growth in mining, construction and electricity slowed due to an early onset of the southwest monsoon. Agriculture growth softened compared to the previous quarter but stayed at its quarterly decadal trend.

The tariffs, a global trade slowdown and geopolitical uncertainties are expected to have a non-uniform impact on the Indian economy. Consumer demand – buoyed by healthy rural incomes, lower inflation and interest rates, and government’s tax relief – is expected to remain robust and support overall GDP growth, while healthy government investment spending should continue to provide buffer. Private consumption accounts for a greater share of India’s GDP around 56.5% in fiscal 2025 compared to gross exports 21.6% for the same period. However, in the absence of an India-US trade deal, some export-oriented sectors expected to witness major impact, including labour-intensive sectors such as textiles, gems and jewelry and seafood. Specifically, the micro, small and medium enterprises sector faces formidable challenges.

Crisil Intelligence expect GDP growth to improve to 6.5% in fiscal 2026 with downside risks. The tariff moves and shifting global supply chains will keep domestic private corporate sector investment cautious in the fiscal 2026. However tailwinds are expected to support growth in India. A healthy monsoon, benign inflation, the Reserve Bank of India’s (RBI) rate cuts, and tax relief by government are expected to strengthen domestic consumer demand.

India to remain a growth outperformer globally.

Despite slowdown in the near term, India’s growth is expected to outperform over the medium run. Crisil Intelligence expects GDP growth to average 6.7% between fiscals 2025 and 2030, compared with 3.3% globally as estimated by the IMF.

Key factors impacting the business environment

- Strong domestic demand is expected to drive India's growth over peers in the medium term.
- Medium-term growth is anticipated to be bolstered by increased capital spending on infrastructure and asset development projects, leading to enhanced growth multipliers.
- The government's future capital expenditures are expected to be supported by factors such as tax buoyancy, simplified tax structures with lower rates, tariff structure reassessment, and tax filing digitization.
- Investment prospects are optimistic, given the government's capex push, progress of Production-Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme, healthier corporate balance sheets, and a well-capitalized banking sector with low non-performing assets (NPAs).

GST reforms to accelerate consumption and support domestic sales

- The Government of India has revamped the Goods and Services Tax (GST) structure with three slabs of 5%, 18% and 40%.
- In the automobile industry, electric vehicles will continue to be taxed at 5%, while other segments have undergone a rate revision to either 18% or 40% (see tables below)

Table 1: Consumption driven goods

Category	Items	Old Rate	GST	New rate	GST
Consumer Electronics	Air Conditioners, Dishwashing Machines, TVs over 32 inches, Monitors, Projectors		28%		18%
Food Items	Packaged namkeens, Sauces, Pasta, Instant Noodles, Chocolates, Coffee, Preserved Meat, Cornflakes, Butter, Ghee, etc.		12%		5%
Food Items	Packaged namkeens, Sauces, Pasta, Instant Noodles, Chocolates, Coffee, Preserved Meat, Cornflakes, Butter, Ghee, etc.		18%		5%

Category	Items	Old Rate	GST	New rate	GST
Daily usage items	Hair oil, soap bars, shampoos, toothbrushes, toothpaste, tableware, kitchenware, other household articles, etc.		12-18%		5%

Note: Green colour shade indicates positive impact; Red indicates negative impact

Scale of impact indicates positive/negative impact on the demand of CV segments mentioned in the subsequent column.

Source: Press release document by MoF dated 3rd Sep 2025

- Lower GST on consumer goods, food, and daily-use items to reduce expenditure for households, leaving them with more money to spend. This is likely to boost overall consumption, especially in price-sensitive rural and semi-urban areas.
- Higher demand for essentials will increase goods movement, which will benefit SCVs and LCVs for last-mile deliveries and ICVs for mid-mile distribution.

Table 2: Primary /bulk goods

Category	Items	Old Rate	GST	New rate	GST
Cement and other construction materials	Marble and travertine blocks, Granite blocks		12%		5%
	Portland cement, aluminous cement, slag cement, super sulphate cement and similar hydraulic cements, whether or not colored or in the form of clinkers		28%		18%
	Sand lime bricks or Stone inlay work		12%		5%
Coal/Lignite and derived fuels	Coal: briquettes, ovoid's and similar solid fuels manufactured from coal		5%		18%
		Lignite, whether or not agglomerated, excluding jet	5%		18%

Source: Press release document by MoF dated 3rd Sep 2025

- The reduction in GST on cement and other construction materials will lower project costs, make infrastructure and build projects more affordable. This is likely to boost construction activity across urban and semi-urban areas.
- On the other hand, higher GST on coal and lignite may increase raw material production costs. As a result, M&HCV (cargo) and Tippers may witness moderate change/increase in freight volumes.

Table 3: Others

Category	Items	Old GST Rate	New GST rate
Agriculture	Tractors, harvesters, sprinklers, drip systems, pumps	12%	5%

Source: Press release document by MoF dated 3rd Sep 2025

- The reduction in GST on agricultural inputs such as seeds, fertilizers, and farm equipment will lower costs for farmers, improving affordability.
- Lower GST on medical, healthcare, and insurance services will reduce household expenses on essential services, effectively increasing disposable income.
- This is likely to moderately increase consumption, hence support demand for SCV, LCV, and ICV segments.

Table 4: GST for vehicle pricing

Category	Old GST Rate	New GST rate
Buses	28%	18%
Light commercial vehicles (LCV) - Goods	28%	18%
Medium and heavy commercial vehicles (MHCV) – Goods	28%	18%

Source: Press release document by MoF dated 3rd Sep 2025

- Prices for LCVs, MHCVs and buses will reduce by about ~7.8%. However, it does not consider any pass-through that may happen from automotive component manufacturers to original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) in the form of GST reduction as all automotive components have been brought under the ambit of 18%.
- From a domestic sales perspective, in fiscal 2026, CVs may see flat-to-marginal-positive growth.

Category	Criteria	Old GST Rate	New GST rate
Small Cars (Petrol/LPG/CNG)	Engine less than equal to 1,200 cc & length less than equal to 4m	28% + 1% cess	18%
Small Cars (Diesel/Diesel-hybrid)	Engine less than equal to 1,500 cc & length less than equal to 4m	28% + 3% cess	18%
Larger/Luxury Cars/SUVs/Big Cars	Engine greater than 1,500 cc & length more than 4m	28% + compensation cess (variable)	40%

Source: PIB.gov published on 8th Sept 2025

- By reducing the effective rate on small cars to 18% and capping larger vehicles at 40%, the government has simplified what was earlier mix of GST plus compensation cess.
- No more cess on any of these car categories. The compensation cess (which added up significantly in luxury/large vehicle segment) is removed under the new structure.

Potential Impact of US tariffs

India's share of global merchandise exports doubled to 1.8% in fiscal 2023 from 0.9% in 2005. However, the global economy is undergoing significant challenges due to slowing international trade and rising geopolitical tensions. The recent tariffs imposed by the US, as well as potential counter measures from affected countries, are likely to significantly impact global trade patterns. Specifically, the US has introduced an additional 25% tariff on Indian goods, effective 21 days from August 6, 2025, citing India's ongoing purchase of Russian oil. This new tariff adds to the existing 25% tariff announced on July 31, 2025, resulting in a total additional tariff of 50% on Indian products.

Despite the challenging trade environment, India remains engaged to strengthening its bilateral relationships. From a global trade perspective, the US market is significantly larger and more crucial for export opportunities compared to the countries with which India has recently signed trade agreements. To put this into perspective, India's trade deals with the UAE, Australia, and the UK, signed over the past three years, collectively account for around 6% of global merchandise trade. In contrast, the US constitutes 14% share of worldwide merchandise imports. Moreover, the US is a vital market for India's exports, share approximately 20% of India's total merchandise exports in the fiscal year. Between fiscal 2021 and 2025, India's merchandise exports to the US grew at a remarkable 14% CAGR, outpacing the overall export growth rate of 11% CAGR.

The recent shift in US trade policy, including the imposition of a 50% tariff on Indian goods, is expected to have a profound impact on key manufacturing sectors such as textiles, leather, gems and jewelry, and marine products. However, certain sectors like pharmaceuticals, smartphones, energy, and specific chemicals are currently exempt from these additional tariffs. We believe that this steep tariff may be a negotiating tactic, and the final tariffs agreed upon could be lower. For example, in April 2025, the US initially imposed a 145% tariff on Chinese goods however eventually settled on a significantly lower rate of 34% ad valorem duty and 20% additional duty, totaling 54%. This suggests that there may be room for negotiation and a potential reduction in tariffs.

The tariff shock over the past three months has added to the uncertainty, putting investments on hold in the short term as corporates await certainty and stability on tariffs to gauge their ultimate impact. To mitigate the potential impact of US tariffs on its exports, India could harness the benefits of the recently concluded India-UK trade deal, apart from accruing benefits from other free trade agreements (FTAs; with Australia and the UAE). As for the India-UK Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement (CETA), it is yet to be ratified, so the benefits are likely to materialize only after a few months.

India-UK Trade Agreement

With India and the UK inking the CETA on July 24, 2025, trade opportunities for domestic companies in the manufacturing and services sectors are set to increase. The UK alone accounts for 3% share of world merchandise imports compared with a combined 2% share in the case of Australia and the UAE, with which India signed trade deals in 2022. Specifically, the total goods and services trade between the UK and India was over $45 billion in 2024, with India's exports to the UK at ~$28 billion and imports from the UK at ~$18 billion.

Highlights of the agreement

- Bilateral trade to increase by $30 billion annually by 2040.
- The agreement eliminates tariffs on 99% of Indian goods for the UK market.
- India applies Tariff rate Quotas (TRQs) to sensitive high value goods.

Under the CETA, India has granted the UK access for 12,540 commodities. Of these, an impressive 62% of tariff line items are duty-free from the first day of implementation. This move underscores India's commitment to opening its market while still protecting critical domestic sectors. Key commodities benefiting from this immediate duty-free access are products of plant and animal origin, marine products and a wide range of chemicals. The tariffs on imports of gin and scotch from the UK will halve from 150% on day one and ease to 40% from year 10 onwards. For many other alcoholic beverages, the duty will reduce to 110% from the current 150% and continue to be lowered in nine equal slabs from next year. After 10 years, the duty will stand at 75%. UK car manufacturers will benefit from reduction in tariffs to 10% from up to 110%, starting with internal combustion engine cars and transitioning to electric vehicles and hybrids. Prior to the CETA, India's applied most favored nation (MFN) tariffs on imports of UK goods were relatively high, at a trade-weighted average of ~16% across all tariff lines. This agreement will reduce that to 4-5%.

As for India, the UK has granted access to nearly 99% of Indian goods, with 80% of the goods covered duty-free from the day of implementation. The immediate elimination of tariff dramatically improves the competitiveness of Indian exports in the UK market, with pharmaceuticals, gems and jewellery, and textiles among the biggest winners. For Indian imports, the UK's MFN applied tariffs will fall from a trade-weighted average of 2% to almost 0%, with gains to sectors such as textiles outpacing overall export growth from India to the UK. For reference, prior to the CETA, India's apparel sector faced a duty disadvantage of ~10%, which posed challenges for exporters in sustaining their order books. As a result, many core products that were previously produced in India shifted to Bangladesh and other manufacturing destinations. However, with the current agreement, India now has a level playing field.

Impact on the Auto Industry due to US tariffs and UK FTA

- The US tariffs are more of a slowdown in the short to medium term: they can disrupt export revenues, force reconfiguration of supply chains, and squeeze margins.
- The UK-India FTA is more of a medium to long-term opportunity: it lowers entry barriers, especially for premium vehicles, but there are qualifications and gradual implementation that temper its immediate effects. The FTA opens doors for Indian component makers and EV related firms to export to UK markets under more favorable duty structures. For consumers, the FTA may bring down the cost of imported luxury/premium/UK-manufactured cars gradually.

Key factors in the budget 2025-26 that can influence medium to long-term growth:

- Stronger Consumption Support: Tax relief measures and enhanced allocations for welfare programs like PMAY, PMGSY and MGNREGS (Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Scheme) to boost demand and economic activity. Recently there was a key announcement made during the union budget 2025-26 in February 2025 pertaining to direct taxes. As per the new tax regime, no income tax payable up to the annual income of Rs 12.75lakh and a new tax bracket subject to 25% tax added to 20-24Lakh income tax slab.
- Sustained Infrastructure Investment: Increased funding for roads, highways, railways, and urban development, driving long-term growth and job creation.
- Government-Led Capital Expenditure: Continued high Capex allocation supporting various industries.
- Employment & Skilling Initiatives: Allocations for new employee generation schemes, vocational training, and opening of 'centre of excellence' will enhance workforce productivity and help in skilling the youth of the country.
- Push for Innovation & Industrial Growth: Increased R&D funding, incentives for EVs and electronics manufacturing, and export promotion to strengthen India's global competitiveness.

Lowering supply chain dependency on China

India including other nations are actively pursuing strategies to reduce supply chain dependency on China in the wake of pandemic and growing geo-political tensions.

This includes diversifying the supply chain by sourcing inputs from various countries with a goal of reducing the risk of relying on a single country. Furthermore, India is also trying to strengthen the domestic manufacturing environment through various policy initiatives. Key strategies adopted by India to diversify the supply chain includes:

Foreign investments: India is attracting multi-national companies those who are actively seeking to diversify their manufacturing bases away from China. Government is aiding these companies in terms of tax benefits and incentive schemes. India has also published new policies on FDI to attract investments from various countries across sectors.

- Domestic manufacturing: Government is pushing domestic companies to develop products locally and bring certain level of localization in the products, thereby reduce dependence on China. This involves introduction of initiatives and schemes like Make in India, Atmanirbhar Bharat, China plus one, PMP and PLI.
- Trade diversification: India is actively engaging in trade pacts and FTA to diversify their trade partners. Strengthening trade ties with developing and developed economies offers alternatives to sourcing goods and technology.

To reduce the dependency on China and prepare for potential future supply chain challenges, 14 nations under the Indo-Pacific Economic Framework (IPEF), including the United States, Japan, and India, have reached an agreement aimed at augmenting supply chain resilience and diversification. The agreement involves sharing information with each other and coordinating responses during the time of crises. Under the agreement, the participating countries would establish an IPEF supply chain council, supply chain crisis response network, and labor rights advisory network that will provide a framework to strengthen supply chains and prevent potential disruptions.

Driven by geopolitical shifts and rising tariffs, several MNCs are investing heavily in India to diversify production and build it as an export base,

- Apple now manufactures about ~14% of its iPhones in India, aiming 26% within a few years, via partners like Foxconn and Tata electronics.
- Walmart has boosted sourcing from India across categories like toys, apparel and electronics.
- Vietnam based Vinfast has planned to invest Rs 4,000 crore in the next 5 years and have started construction of their EV manufacturing facility in Tamil Nadu.

Together, these points highlight India's growing strength as a global manufacturing and export hub.

Atmanirbhar Bharat Campaign

Atmanirbhar Bharat Abhiyan or the self-reliant India campaign was launched in May 2020 amid the Covid-19 pandemic, with a special and comprehensive economic package of INR 20 trillion, equivalent to 10% of the country's GDP.

The scheme was launched with the primary intent of fighting the pandemic and making the country self-reliant based on five pillars: economy, infrastructure, technology-driven system, demography, and demand. The stimulus package announced by the government under the scheme consisted of five tranches, intended to boost businesses, including Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs), help the poor (including farmers), boost agriculture, expand the horizons of industrial growth, and bring in governance reforms within the country.

PLI scheme provides boosts to industrial investments in the short-to-medium term.

The PLI scheme's primary objective is to make manufacturing in India globally competitive by removing sectoral obstacles, creating economies of scale and ensuring efficiency. It is designed to create a complete component ecosystem in India and make the country an integral part of the global supply chain. The PLI scheme is a time-bound incentive scheme by the government which rewards companies in the 5-15% range of their annual revenue based on the companies meeting pre-decided targets for incremental production and/or exports and capex over a base year. The stronger-than-expected pick-up in demand and larger companies gaining share over smaller companies led to revival of capex in fiscal 2022. The rise in fiscal 2024 was on account of the expansion plans underway by India Inc.

In Budget 2025-26, government has increased its allocation to the PLI scheme to ~ Rs. 17,517 crores for fiscal 2026, aimed at driving growth across industries and enhancing competitiveness. Capex is expected to peak in the next two fiscals, followed by incentive payouts, which will support the growth of Indian businesses and reduce import dependence.

Urban Population growth metrics

According to United Nations Population Division (World Urbanization Prospects: 2018 Revision) urban population constituted 36% of the total population in India in CY2023, which had increased by 14% in the previous 10 years. The urban population accounted for approx. 519 million people in CY2023, already the second largest urban community in the world. India's urban population is projected to be 675 million in 2035, which will be ~43% of the overall Indian population. In the interim, the urban population is expected to be approximately 542 million in 2025 and 607 million in 2030. According to the Economic Survey 2023-24, it is expected that by 2030, more than 40 percent of India's population will live in urban areas.

Rise of the Middle Class

As per Crisil estimates, India's GDP is expected to grow ~6.7% between FY25 - FY31 to make it the third largest economy with a GDP inching closer to USD 7 trillion and lift per capita income to the upper middle-income category. By fiscal 2031, India's per capita income will rise to ~USD 4500, thereby making it an upper middle-income nation. (As defined by World Bank, lower middle-income countries are those with per capita income of USD 1,000 to USD 4,000 and upper middle-income countries are those with per capita income of above USD 4,000 to ~USD 12,000)

As per PRICE ICE 360° survey report, India is poised for significant economic growth, by 2047 if political and economic reforms yield the desired outcomes. With a projected conservative annual growth rate of 6-7%, the country could see substantial increases in average annual household disposable income.

By the end of this decade, the demographic structure of the country will shift from an inverted pyramid, which represents a small wealthy class and a large low-income class, to a rudimentary diamond shape. In this new structure, a significant portion of the low-income class will transition to the Middle Class. Consequently, the income distribution will feature a small lower layer comprising the Destitute and Aspirer groups, a substantial Middle Class, and a sizable wealthy Rich layer at the top by end of the decade. The growth rate of the population is notably higher for the upper income groups compared to the lower income groups. In fact, the growth rate for the lowest income groups may even be negative.

Rural income growth numbers

The average monthly income of households saw a substantial rise of 57.6% over a five-year period, increasing from Rs. 8,059 in 2016-17 to Rs. 12,698 in 2021-22. This indicates a nominal compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 9.5%.

The annual average financial savings of households increased to Rs. 13,209 in 2021-22 from Rs. 9,104 in 2016-17. Overall, 66% of households reported saving money in 2021-22, compared to 50.6% in 2016-17. Rural households have experienced notable improvements in income, savings, insurance coverage, and financial literacy.

Review and outlook of Indian Passenger vehicle industry

Review of Indian domestic PV industry (fiscal 2020 to Q1 2026)

Between fiscals 2020 and 2023, India's domestic PV sales clocked 12.1% CAGR. From the low base of fiscal 2021, PV sales bounced back and grew healthily to reach a historic high of 4.2 million vehicles in fiscal 2024, registering a CAGR of 16%.

Review of domestic PV sales volume

Source: SIAM, CRISIL Intelligence

In fiscal 2023, the PV industry grew 27% y-o-y, more than double the rate 13% y-o-y witnessed in fiscal 2022. The orderbooks of auto OEMs were further supported by several new launches in the growing SUV category, which saw higher traction. Facelifts of existing models and easing supply of semiconductors also helped. In fact, overall wholesale volumes reached a historic high of 3.9 million units in the fiscal.

Fiscal 2024 marked the third year of consecutive growth in PV industry by recording 8% growth. This growth was over a high base of fiscal 2023. During the year, the orderbooks of auto OEMs were further supported by a plethora of launches in the growing UV (Utility vehicles) category, which had witnessed high traction, along with multiple facelifts of existing models and easing semiconductor supplies that drove record sales in each quarter in fiscal 2024. The overall wholesale volumes settled at ~4.2 million units in fiscal 2024.

During fiscal 2025, growth momentum of the industry continued, albeit at a slower pace, backed by the continued traction for the SUV segment, intermittent launches and improvement in disposable income. On the high base of fiscal 2024, the industry grew 2.5% in fiscal 2025 to hit a record 4.3 million units in fiscal 2025.

The domestic sales in Q1 of fiscal 2026 reached 1.01 million units, a marginal decrease of 1.4% compared to Q1 of fiscal 2025. UV segment grew by 3.8% and continued to dominate contributing around 66% of overall PV sales while hatchback segment saw significant decline by 11.2%.

Segmental shifts amidst premiumization

Based on body types, PVs in India are broadly classified into hatchbacks, sedans, SUVs, multipurpose vehicles (MPVs) and vans. Traditionally, domestic vehicle buyers have been cost conscious, with fuel efficiency and initial vehicle buying cost being the two key factors influencing the decision-making. Hence, the hatchback segment had been leading PV sales over the years primarily because of the lower ticket size and lower running costs, making them affordable to the average Indian customer.

However, with a growing share of younger buyers with global exposure, there is an increasing awareness and preference towards other parameters such as driving experience, safety, advanced features aesthetics and comfort especially considering India's challenging road conditions, which are impacting the decision-making process. It is one of the reason, customers are opting for more premium models for better comfort and ride experience. To address this change, OEMs such as Tata Motors and Hyundai have started incorporating enhanced vehicle safety in their recent launches. Several car makers have introduced advanced features in top variants and gradually incorporated them in even the mid-level variants. Furthermore, rising disposable income has fueled growth in the SUV segment.

Modern consumers in India are preferring mid-end or top end version of the vehicles moving away from the traditional fuel-efficient budget friendly small cars towards higher priced feature loaded larger cars which offer much more space, taller ride height, seamless connectivity, and improved performance. Further, there has been a major shift in customer preference with the launch of compact and mid-size SUVs. The share of small cars reduced over the last few years and share of SUVs increased. This was majorly driven by shift in consumer sentiments towards newly launched feature rich vehicles in the SUV segment.

Over the last few years, OEMs have started introducing hybrid models into the market. For example, Toyota launched Hycross and Urban Cruiser Hyryder, Maruti Suzuki launched Grand Vitara and Invicto, setting the stage for hybrid cars in India. Also, OEMs are actively launching EVs in the domestic market. Some key models include Tata Nexon, Tata Punch, MG ZS EV, MG Windsor, MG Comet and Hyundai Creta. Further, with the rise of EVs and hybrids, modern vehicles have started adding semi-active suspension system to improve ride comfort and overall handling. All these additional features have also aided the premiumization within the passenger vehicle industry.

There has been a perceptible shift in customer buying behavior, with customers prioritizing vehicle experience over costs and willing to pay a premium. They are also ready to accept longer waiting times for the desired vehicle. More and more customers are now opting to buy mid-to-top level variants that fall within their budgets. The shift towards premium vehicles is resulting in inter-segmental and intra-segmental shifts. As the market shifts towards premium vehicles, SUVs and hybrids, the demand for higher technological requirements is expected to translate to increased CPV, demand for high-performance products and critical components.

Note: Add-on technology-Advanced ride technologies in premium SUVs have started incorporating semi-active and electronic suspension

In fiscal 2019, the share of small cars, large cars, UVs, and vans were 46.9%, 18.8%, 28.9% and 5.4% respectively.

Competitive OEM landscape

The domestic PV market is oligopolistic with a few players dominating the entire industry. Until fiscal 2025, Maruti Suzuki was leading the PV industry in terms of domestic sales volumes followed by Hyundai. However as of Q1 FY26, Mahindra is the second-largest contributor to domestic sales, closely followed by Hyundai and Tata Motors. These four players together account for ~80% of the market.

Changing powertrain mix in the Indian PV industry.

In fiscal 2025, the share of diesel powertrains in the retail industry slid to 18% and the share of petrol variants contributes 58% in fiscal 2025. A shift in OEM focus from conventional fuel such as Petrol and diesel to CNG vehicles is visible. Discontinuation of diesel models by a few OEMs such as Maruti with the onset of stricter BSVI norms, exacerbated the situation for diesel vehicles.

Indian domestic passenger vehicle industry, which was completely dominated by the conventional fuels, has witnessed fast acceptance of alternate fuels especially in the last 2-3 years. In fact, the share of CNG powertrain more than doubled to 19.4% in fiscal 2025, EV share rose to 2.7% and the latest addition, strong hybrids share reached 2.2%. The pace of growth continued for alternative fuel in Q1 fiscal 2026, with EV share reaching 4.1% and strong hybrid reaching 2.7%, expanding their presence in the vehicle retails.

Going forward, CRISIL Intelligence expects the share of alternate fuel vehicles to witness a multi-fold growth while the conventional fuel vehicle's share will slide.

Powertrain-wise outlook of the industry

This has also led to expansion of the CNG vehicle portfolio by players, especially in premium segments like premium hatchbacks, compact SUVs and mid-size SUVs wherein they have announced future launches. This will lend further incentive to CNG buyers.

Electrification is another trend witnessed in the Indian domestic passenger vehicle market in the last 2/3 years. However, for EVs, range anxiety, limited charging infrastructure, import dependency on certain components, higher import duties and underdeveloped local supply chain are some of the bottlenecks.

The recent entry of strong hybrid vehicles such as Maruti Suzuki Grand Vitara, Maruti Suzuki Invicto, Toyota HyRyder, Toyota Hycross and Honda City have witnessed fast acceptance due to improved mileage, environmental benefits coupled with absence of EV concerns like range anxiety, limited charging infrastructure, etc. In the last 2 years, strong hybrid powertrains have grabbed 2% of the annual retail of the PV industry.

In the long-term horizon, CRISIL Intelligence projects higher traction for strong hybrids, further buoyed by attractive hybrid offerings, OEM focus, infrastructure availability and government support.

Key regulatory/macroeconomic trends and domestic sales growth drivers

Vehicle penetration in India

The Indian PV market is one of the fastest growing in the world and ranked second in terms of annual sales (after China) in 2023. However, Indian PV sector has historically seen significant periodic fluctuations in overall demand. The market is highly underpenetrated. According to CRISIL Intelligence, car penetration of 27.5 per 1,000 people in India as of fiscal 2025 was significantly lower than that of developed countries and even emerging economies such as Brazil, Russia, and Mexico, providing significant headroom for growth, especially given the expected increase in disposable income, faster economic growth, younger population, and increased focus of international OEMs. With penetration below the global average, India offers tremendous growth potential for automobile manufacturers.

Regulations/safety norms

Based on European emission standards, the Indian government has introduced and implemented Bharat Stage (BS) norms in a phased manner. These mandatory norms increase the capital expenditure of auto OEMs and in turn significantly impact the industry's profitability. Currently, India has adopted BS-VI norms.

Companies have invested in the relevant technology, research, and development, and signed joint ventures (JVs) with global players to adhere to BS-VI stage 2 norms applicable from fiscal 2024, leading to price hikes across vehicle segments owing to the addition of new technologies to meet new emission regulations. Globally, countries are adopting stricter emission norms and zero-emission targets. India introduced BS VI in two stages, with Stage II mandating On-Board Diagnostics (OBD) in 2023. Europe and the US are moving towards EURO-7 and US2027 norms for PV and CV segments. India's next leap, BS VII, is expected to be introduced, significantly raising the bar for emission control and driving the country towards cleaner mobility, aligning with global standards and supporting environmental goals. This move will curb emissions and help achieve emission targets, contributing to a more sustainable transportation ecosystem. new technologies to meet new emission regulations.

Premiumization trend

The average selling price (ASP) increased at a CAGR of 7-9% between fiscals 2019 and 2024 due to the premiumization trend as well as a sharp rise in vehicle prices. Consumers in India are opting for mid-end or top-end versions of vehicles and moving away from traditional fuel-efficient budget-friendly small cars to higher priced feature-loaded large cars, which offer more space, better ride height, seamless connectivity, and an improved performance. Further, there has been a major shift in customer preference with the launch of compact and mid-size SUVs. The share of small cars (hatchbacks) reduced from 46.9% in fiscal 2019 to 28% in fiscal 2024, majorly driven by a shift in consumer sentiment towards newly launched feature-rich vehicles in the SUV segment. Meanwhile, the share of SUVs increased from 23.1% in fiscal 2019 to over 51% in fiscal 2024. Increased spending of the upper middle class after the pandemic, a higher number of models launches in the category (which has higher profit margins), and an increase in affordability with the launch of compact SUVs led to cannibalization of the share of hatchbacks and compact sedans.

Evolving emission standards

Industry has witnessed a tightening of emission norms in line with global environmental objectives with landmark shift to BS VI norms in April 2020 marked a significant leap from BS IV, skipping an entire generation of standards, and aligning India closer to Euro VI norms. This transition required substantial investment in engine technology, after-treatment systems, and fuel quality upgrades, resulting in higher vehicle costs and increased content per vehicle (CPV). The upcoming Bharat Stage-VII norms are expected to be like the Euro 7 norms which is applicable across Europe and all on-road vehicle categories. OEMs are preparing for another wave of capital expenditure focused on advanced emission control technologies. While this raises affordability challenges, it also pushes the industry toward cleaner technologies, potentially accelerating the shift to zero or low emission vehicles.

EV penetration in PVs

EV penetration in the PV segment was insignificant till fiscal 2021 amid a limited vehicle portfolio, coupled with lower customer awareness. Fast expansion of the portfolio (from three models in fiscal 2019 to ~14 models in fiscal 2024), rising environmental awareness, government support and expanding EV infrastructure have led to a sharp rise in EV adoption. In turn, the penetration of EVs rose from 0.1% in fiscal 2019 to 2.6% by fiscal 2025. EV sales are to reach 180,000-200,000 units in fiscal 2026 with the penetration level projected to rise to 4-5%.

However, electrification in the PV segment is still at a nascent stage and there is a significant scope for expansion.

Outlook of the domestic PV industry (fiscals 2025 to 2030P)

CRISIL Intelligence expects the macroeconomic scenario to support industry growth with GDP projected to grow at a healthy pace between fiscals 2025 and 2030. India’s GDP growth is expected to outperform other major geographies over the next five years at 6-8%. Inflation levels are also expected to remain subdued in the 3-5% range, which is within the RBI’s target band. CRISIL Intelligence has assumed three years of normal monsoons within the five-year outlook period and has considered positive momentum in rural demand. Fuel prices are also expected to remain almost steady in the next five years. These favorable macroeconomic factors are expected to support consumer disposable income.

Besides macroeconomic factors continued government support in terms of policies as well as continued expenditure and investments are expected to boost the industry. The favorable demographics are an added advantage for India and expected to help propel the PV industry.

Additionally, OEMs are expected to continue to launch feature-rich competitively priced vehicles, aiding overall demand growth.

The financing scenario is projected to remain favorable for the industry and lend further support amid expanding financing reach and high loan to value (LTV) levels. Moreover, after multiple rate hikes in the past two years, a rate cut of 25-50 bps is expected to keep interest rates competitive in the near term. Given projections of subdued inflation levels in the long term, any further rate hike seems unlikely.

Changing market dynamics, including a younger consumer base, premiumization, electrification, shorter replacement cycles (four to five years currently visa-a-vis seven to eight years ago) will provide further impetus to demand. Additionally, the government’s push for scrapping old vehicles (as per the government regulation vehicles above the age of 15 years will be compulsorily scrapped) is expected to shorten replacement cycles and support demand. Further, capacity expansion by players such as Maruti Suzuki, Hyundai, Tata Motors is expected to support growing vehicle demand. Moreover, expansion of supporting infrastructure such as EV charging stations and CNG pumps will also enhance the choice of customers in terms of powertrains.

CRISIL Intelligence expects domestic sales to grow at a 4-6% CAGR between fiscals 2025 and 2030 to reach 5.3-5.7 million vehicles.

PV export outlook for India

India's PV exports are projected to grow 6-8% CAGR between fiscal 2025 to fiscal 2030. A substantial growth of 12-14% is expected in fiscal 2026. This is supported by the sustained demand for Indian-made vehicles in international markets, particularly in emerging regions such as Latin America, Africa, and Southeast Asia, where there is a growing demand for affordable and reliable vehicles. Further competitively priced models, especially in the utility vehicle (UV) and premium sedan segment expected to drive the large car market.

A few years ago, India was a major export hub for cars such as hatchbacks and compact sedans. However, shift towards the UV segment along with higher variants and automatic transmissions has successfully transformed the industry becoming the large car exporter over past five to six years. OEMs are actively broadening their portfolios to cater to changing consumer preferences in both domestic as well as global markets. Further, premium sedans such as Hyundai Verna and Volkswagen Virtus are key models driving the large car market.

Key regulatory trends related to emission norms and trends related to clean air

There have been various emission norms to regulate air pollutants from vehicles. The Bharat stage emission standard (BSES) by the government of India, set limits for pollutants emitted by vehicles.

Key emission Norms-

The Bharat Stage (BS) norms in India are emission standards instituted by the government to regulate the output of air pollutants from internal combustion engine equipment, including motor vehicles. These norms are designed to improve air quality by reducing vehicle emissions and are aligned with the European emission standards. The implementation of BS6 Stage 2 norms, effect from April 2023, will have significant impacts on passenger vehicles in India.

Here's a concise overview of these effects.

- Real Driving Emissions (RDE): Mandatory testing to ensure vehicles meet emission standards in real-world driving conditions.
- Enhanced On-Board Diagnostics (OBD 2): Advanced OBD systems to monitor real-time emissions and ensure ongoing compliance.
- Stricter Emission Limits: Tighter limits for pollutants like NOx, PM, HC, and CO.

India promotes alternative fuels like compressed natural gas (CNG), liquified petroleum gas (LPG) and biodiesel to reduce emissions.

Estimated penetration of electric PVs by segment by fiscal 2030P

The FAME-II subsidy is skewed towards vehicles for commercial use. No benefits are provided to personal car owners.

CRISIL Intelligence expects the share of EVs in total passenger car sales to grow to 15-20% in fiscal 2030 from 2.6% in fiscal 2025. Further, the share of EVs expected to rise 4-5% in fiscal 2026. The growth in penetration is expected to be supported by new launches, with 11 new models expected in fiscal 2026. This would drive more choices for consumer basis on price point and segments.

Review and outlook of Commercial Trucks Industry (> 3.5 to 55 tons)

Review of domestic Commercial Trucks industry

The domestic CT industry witnessed significant fluctuations in sales volumes over the past few years, influenced by economic cycles, regulatory changes, and external disruptions.

In fiscal 2019, CT sales peaked at approximately 400 thousand units, supported by strong economic activity and government investment in infrastructure development. However, the industry faced a sharp downturn in fiscal 2021, with volumes dropping to 184 thousand units due to sluggish demand and pandemic induced disruptions. With the gradual recovery of economic activity, fiscal 2022 saw a moderate revival, as sales increased to 262 thousand units, supported by pent-up replacement demand and improved freight rates. This momentum accelerated in fiscal 2023, when the industry recorded a remarkable rebound to 355 thousand units, nearly reaching pre-pandemic levels. The surge was driven by improved transporter profitability, rising industrial output, and fleet expansion.

Fiscal 2024 continued this positive trajectory, marginally surpassing the previous year with 368 thousand units sold, benefiting from sustained demand and government led infrastructure projects. Trend in fiscal 2025 signals marginal growth with sales surpassing 369 thousand units. This can be attributed to subdued economic activity, cautious fleet expansion, and reduced construction spending.

Segmental Trends

The domestic CTs industry has undergone significant segmental shifts over the years, shaped by economic cycles, policy changes, and market dynamics. Fiscal 2019 saw peak industry volumes at 400 thousand units, with a balanced contribution from Light Commercial Vehicles (LCVs), Tipplers, and Medium & Heavy Commercial Vehicles (MHCVs). However, subsequent years witnessed substantial variations in segment-wise market share due to changing demand patterns, regulatory shifts, and macroeconomic conditions.

2. Tipper includes only MAV and LCV tippers.

Note: All percentages have been rounded off.

LCV segment, which excludes less than 3.5 tonnes had a share of 12% in FY19 and have largely remained rangebound. After witnessing a surge between the years FY20 and FY22, the segmental share reached 13% in FY2024 and increased to 17% in FY2025.

MHCV segment, primarily comprising heavy-duty trucks, has exhibited a relatively stable trajectory in recent years. MHCVs commanded a dominant 68% share in FY19, reflecting strong industrial and infrastructure-driven demand. This gradually moderated to 67% in FY20 and further dropped to 62% in FY21 amid an economic downturn, constrained freight demand, and financing bottlenecks that delayed fleet replacement. As economic conditions improved and infrastructure projects resumed, MHCV penetration surged to 69% in FY22 and peaked at 71% in FY23, underscoring a sharp recovery led by renewed construction activity and increased logistics movements. In FY24, MHCV share eased slightly to 68% and remained steady at 67% in FY25, reflecting a normalization phase. This indicates sustained underlying demand despite transitional pressures such as softer industrial output and uncertainty around policy continuity in an election year.

Tipplers, a specialized sub-segment catering to construction, mining, and infrastructure applications, accounted for 20% of CV sales in FY19. The share moderated to 17% in FY20 and rose to 22% in FY21, benefiting from a low base and delayed infrastructure projects. However, subsequent years saw a rationalization of demand, with penetration declining to 18% in FY22, followed by a rebound to 20% in FY23. In FY24, the tipper segment accounted for 19% of total volumes and further moderated to 17% in FY25. This fluctuation suggests sensitivity to public and private investment cycles. Despite intermittent slowdowns, the segment continues to exhibit resilience, supported by steady execution of road, mining, and rural infrastructure projects.

Player wise Trend

Competitive landscape in CTs has evolved due to changing customer preferences, regulatory transitions, and increasing penetration of alternative fuel technologies.

Growth Drivers for CTs in India

Increasing freight rates to aid in materialization of deferred demand

In fiscal year 2025, fuel prices constituted approximately 55% of transporter costs, exerting a considerable influence on their overall profitability. During this period, diesel prices remained stable. Concurrently, freight rates also rose by an estimated 12%, signalling improved transporter profitability and heightened demand for freight services. These favourable factors are expected to boost Commercial Vehicle (CV) sales, as the industry capitalizes on the increased demand in the transportation sectors.

Easier Financing Options Enhancing Truck Sales Momentum

Access to vehicle financing has improved notably over the past few years, driven by increased participation from banks, NBFCs, and captive financing arms of OEMs. Financial institutions have started offering customized loan products with longer repayment tenures, lower EMIs, and flexible down payment structures. The government's initiatives to formalize small fleet operators and improve their creditworthiness through digital lending platforms and GST-linked profiling have also enhanced access to credit. As a result, first-time buyers and small fleet owners are finding it easier to purchase CV, thereby supporting demand growth in the sector.

Stable agricultural output

Over fiscal 2025 to 2030, CRISIL projects 3-4% gross value added (GVA) growth in agriculture. In fiscal 2024, Agri GVA grew at 2% over last year and expected to remain steady in coming years.

In the current fiscal, kharif sowing was initially delayed due to the delayed monsoon. However, sowing has picked up in recent months. Moreover, higher MSP allocation for fiscal 2024 and good prices in mandis have maintained the positivity on-ground. Going ahead, the rainfall progress and spread to play a key role for the current kharif cycle. The progress of the monsoon and its impact on rural demand especially for two wheelers and tractors, remain as key monitorable.

Healthy industrial growth

The Indian industry's gross value added (GVA) had been growing rapidly, in line with the GDP averaging ~averaging around 6% between fiscals 2020 and 2025. After consecutive weak fiscals of 2020 and 2021 due to the COVID-19 outbreak, industrial GVA is estimated to have grown by approximately 6.4% on-year in fiscal 2025. Over the next five-year period (fiscal 2025-2030), industry GVA is expected to be robust driven by the government's focus on 'Make in India' with the stated aim of the government to push up the share of Manufacturing in India's GDP from 17% to 25%. Moreover, improvement in infrastructure and higher expected corporate expenditure is likely to support the capex cycle going forward post-fiscal 2024. India's ambitious infrastructure development plans, including the Bharatmala Pariyojana and Sagarmala programs, are expected to drive commercial vehicle demand during fiscal 2025 to fiscal 2030, as the resulting increase in construction and logistics activities boosts demand for heavy and medium commercial vehicles.

Government's focus on infrastructure

The National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP) for fiscal 2019-2025 is a government initiative to develop infrastructure across the country and provide world class services to its citizens. The total capital expenditure in infrastructure sectors in India during fiscal 2020 to 2025 is projected at Rs 111 lakh crore.

Almost 83% of project allocation indirectly benefits the CV sector in India, and this push for infrastructure is a major driver of growth.

Focus on infrastructure and higher mining production to bolster tipper demand

Over the next five-year period (fiscal 2025-2030), industry GVA is expected to be robust driven by the government's focus on 'Make in India' with the stated aim of the government to push up the share of Manufacturing in India's GDP from 17% to 25%. Moreover, improvement in infrastructure and higher expected corporate expenditure is likely to support the capex cycle going forward post-fiscal 2024. India's ambitious infrastructure development plans, including the Bharatmala Pariyojana and Sagarmala programs, are expected to drive commercial vehicle demand during fiscal 2025 to fiscal 2030, as the resulting increase in construction and logistics activities boosts demand for heavy and medium commercial vehicles. The budgeted capex allocation for infrastructure ministries for fiscal 2024 has shown a 28% increase over fiscal 2023 RE (revised estimates) to Rs. 18.6 lakh crore. Execution by the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) will reach up to ~14-15 km/day in fiscal 2027, as against ~11 km/day in fiscal 2021, aided by the Bharatmala project. Projects such as Sagarmala and investments in various irrigation projects will further drive MHCV demand. We expect coal production to expand at ~4.5-5.5% CAGR between fiscals 2024 and 2029, while iron ore mining will also likely grow at ~3.5-4.5% CAGR during this period, aiding tipper demand.

Replacement demand

The replacement cycle of LCVs, which are typically replaced every 6-8 years, has been impacted by the pandemic and the subsequent materialization of delayed replacements in fiscals 2023-2025. As a result, fiscal 2026 is expected to see a lower growth in the sub one tonne segment. However, the pickup and ULCV segments are expected to drive the growth of the LCV segment, supported by positive rural sentiments and a shift towards higher tonnage vehicles.

JNNURM – I (Jawaharlal Nehru National Urban Renewal Mission) buses, sold during the peak seasons of fiscals 2011 and 2012, are expected to be replaced once funds are released by the central and state governments for purchase. This replacement is expected to gain pace now, aiding long-term MCV bus growth. The government's mandate to replace private vehicles (such as vans) with school buses in some cities, is also expected to augur well.

Also, the centre's scrappage policy is likely to attract 6,00,000-6,50,000 MHCV vehicles for scrapping there by driving the replacement demand.

Scrappage policy

MoRTH, in August 2018, considered incentivizing the scrapping of vehicles sold before April 2005 (15 years old). After deliberations on the modalities on implementation of the norm, the government currently aims to promote vehicle scrapping by exempting registration charges for truck purchases made after scrapping older trucks. To incentivize scrappage of older vehicles, the government has increased the registration charges for older vehicles and increased stringency of fitness tests. These will entail higher costs for owners of older vehicles. Hence, by disincentivizing the ownership of older vehicles, the government expects the scrappage of older vehicles to increase. We expect the impact of the norms to be limited on additional scrappage (apart from vehicles scrapped in the normal course of business). If, through higher incentives from the government and OEMs, transporters are able to be incentivized to scrap vehicles older than 15 years, we expect 6,00,000-6,50,000 MHCVs to be available for scrapping. Although translation of the same into demand for new CVs will be a monitorable based on implementation and incentivization levels.

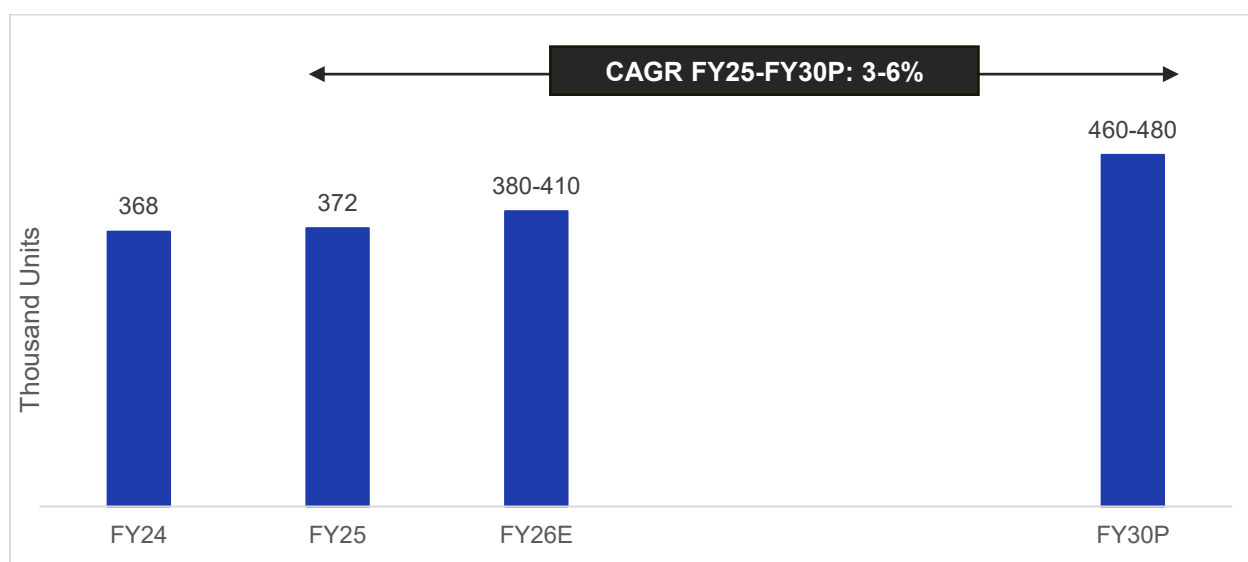

Outlook of the Indian CTs industry

CT industry, encompassing Light Commercial Vehicles (LCV), Medium and Heavy Commercial Vehicles (MHCV), and Tippers, has witnessed a fluctuating yet resilient performance in recent years. Fiscal 2023 marked a strong recovery, driven by robust replacement demand, infrastructure development, and increased government spending. However, fiscal 2024 growth has moderated, reflecting the impact of economic headwinds and supply-side challenges.

The segmental dynamics of the CTs industry highlight a transition toward a more balanced fleet mix, with LCVs stabilizing, MHCVs recovering, and tippers maintaining steady demand. The sustained push for infrastructure development, increased logistics digitization, and policy-driven fleet modernization is expected to shape the segment-wise trends in the coming years. Looking ahead, the CT industry is expected to record a steady growth trajectory with a projected CAGR of 3-5% from FY25 to FY30. Fiscal 2025 witnessed a marginal slowdown, particularly in MHCVs and Tippers, due to short-term economic uncertainties. However, LCVs remained resilient, backed by continued infrastructure momentum.

Medium & Heavy Commercial Vehicles (MHCV) Set to Thrive in the Coming Five Years

The MHCV industry is expected to grow, with a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of approximately 4-6% projected from fiscal year 2025 to fiscal year 2030.

Long-term MHCV sales are likely to be driven by several factors, including the country's improving industrial activity, consistent agricultural output, and the government's continued emphasis on infrastructure development. Additionally, fluctuations in commodity prices, interest rates, and availability of financing can affect demand. However, volume growth may be limited due to efficiencies gained from the implementation of the Goods and Services Tax (GST), the development of improved road infrastructure, and the commissioning of the dedicated goods corridor (DFC). Nonetheless, the industry remains on a promising growth trajectory in the coming years. Over the next five-year period (fiscal 2025-2030), industry GVA is expected to be robust driven by the government's focus on 'Make in India' with the stated aim of the government to push up the share of Manufacturing in India's GDP from 17% to 25%. Moreover, improvement in infrastructure and higher expected corporate expenditure is likely to support the capex cycle going forward post-fiscal 2024. India's ambitious infrastructure development plans, including the Bharatmala Pariyojana and Sagarmala programs, are expected to drive commercial vehicle demand during fiscal 2025 to fiscal 2030, as the resulting increase in construction and logistics activities boosts demand for heavy and medium commercial vehicles.

LCV sales to grow at a modest pace in the long run.

Light commercial vehicle (LCV) demand is expected to grow at a 3-5% CAGR from fiscal 2025 to 2030, owing to increased private consumption, lower penetration, increased availability of redistribution goods, and improved financing. The industry grew at a 3% CAGR between fiscal 2020 and 2025.

Upper-end light commercial vehicles (ULCVs) provide lower returns to the transporter than ICVs and are best suited for captive use. Entry restrictions on ICV trucks and higher tonnage MHCVs are expected to keep demand from this segment buoyant. However, the higher toll on ULCV trucks versus pickups will limit segment growth.

Review and outlook for electrification in CTs (fiscal 2018- 2030P)

Electrification in CTs

The Indian government has launched a scheme to provide financial incentives for electric trucks (e-trucks) under the PM E-DRIVE initiative, aiming to accelerate the country's transition to clean and sustainable freight mobility. The scheme, guided by Prime Minister Narendra Modi, will offer incentives of up to ₹9.6 lakh per vehicle for N2 (includes trucks with a Gross Vehicle Weight (GVW) above 3.5 tonnes and up to 12 tonnes) and N3 category (covers trucks with GVW exceeding 12 tonnes and up to 55 tonnes) electric trucks, with a focus on promoting affordability and reducing emissions. The initiative is expected to support the deployment of approximately 5,600 e-trucks, with key sectors such as cement, ports, and logistics set to benefit. The scheme also mandates the scrapping of old, polluting trucks and requires manufacturer-backed warranties to ensure reliability and performance.

Looking ahead, the future of electric CTs in India will likely begin with short-haul and urban freight applications, with fleet operators and government-backed logistics pilots paving the way. As battery densities improve and charging infrastructure expands under the National Electric Highway program and NITI Aayog's mobility roadmap, medium and heavy electric trucks may see broader acceptance, especially in closed-loop logistics and green freight corridors. Also, the roll out of e-Truck incentives through PM E-DRIVE is expected to give a further thrust to truck electrification. According to PIB, the is aimed at promoting affordability and the incentive amount will depend on the GVW of the electric truck, with the maximum incentive set at Rs 9.6 lakh per vehicle. The scheme is expected to support the deployment of approximately 5,600 e-trucks across the country.

Electrification in HCV goods vehicles

EV adoption in the HCV segment is expected to be negligible in the near future as operational profile makes them highly expensive. Further, the current charging infrastructure is not suitable for larger HCV batteries, which will make electric adoption unviable for the near future.

Review and outlook of Indian tractor industry

Review of Indian tractor industry

In fiscal 2022, domestic tractor demand dropped 6.4% on-year after growing 26.6% in fiscal 2021. Price hikes by OEMs, higher inventory at dealerships, lower commercial demand, negative farmer sentiment owing to rising cost of cultivation, low fertiliser availability and increase in other expenditure (such as marriages and other social occasions) hampered the demand.

In fiscal 2023, tractor sales grew 12.2% on-year to an all-time high of ~945,000 units. Healthy crop prices, sound reservoir levels owing to above-normal monsoon, higher MSPs announced by the government and better rabi acreage, all led to positive farmer sentiment. Healthy festival demand because of various schemes and discounts supported the retail growth momentum. Commercial demand during the fiscal, however, remained rangebound in fiscal 2023 owing to slower retail momentum in eastern states and a complete ban on sandmining.

Domestic tractor industry logged 3% CAGR between fiscals 2019 and 2025

Source: TMA, CRISIL Intelligence

In fiscal 2024, domestic tractor sales dropped by 7.4% on-year to ~875,724 units, on account of lower reservoir levels and negative farmer sentiments. Uneven rainfall distribution with monsoon being 6% below normal for the season has led to slower pick-up in the retail market. Erratic monsoon, lower reservoir levels, decline in rabi acreage contributed towards a 7.4% on-year decline in tractor sales for fiscal 2024.

A large part of domestic tractor sales is driven by replacement demand. The typical holding period for a tractor is 6-9 years. Most of the tractors in the country is replaced within 7-8 years. Of the domestic demand, 50-60% constitute replacement demand.

In fiscal 2025, with an above normal monsoon season aiding farmer sentiments, the domestic tractor sales rose by 7-8% in the fiscal 2025 after declining in fiscal 2024. The growth revival majorly supported by favorable rainfall boosted kharif crop output, with higher reservoir levels aiding rabi crop profitability which further supported sales. Government measures, including increased crop procurement and higher minimum support prices (MSP) for the rabi season, have boosted farmers' cash flow thereby leading to healthy retail momentum.

Factors impacting tractor industry

Emission norms

From January 2023, TREM IV was introduced for tractors above 50HP, aligning with Bharat Stage (BS) IV norms for off-road vehicles marked a significant regulatory shift aimed at curbing emissions from the agricultural sector. With application of TREM IV, the price of more than 51 hp tractors has gone up by Rs 1-1.5 lacs further dampening demand with farmers shifting towards 41-50 hp tractors. For this reason, share of >51 hp tractors had gone down in fiscal 2024.

Implementation of the TREM V emission norms, which are set to take effect from April 1, 2026, could influence buying patterns, potentially leading to pre-buying ahead of the deadline as farmers and dealers look to purchase tractors before price increases. However, the final impact will depend on clarity around regulatory timelines, OEM preparedness, and cost implications for end-users.

EV penetration

Adoption of electric tractors in India remains at a nascent stage, with limited penetration in broader market. Until FY2019, electric tractors in India were few and largely imported from international markets. However, a shift began in FY2020, when domestic manufacturers started investing in the development and production of electric models.

Leading traditional tractor OEMs like Mahindra, Escorts Kubota, and Sonalika (International Tractors Ltd) have since initiated R&D and rolled out their first few prototypes electric tractors. In parallel, dedicated EV startups such as AutoNxt Automation, Bull Work Mobility, and Powerland Agro have focused exclusively on electric tractor development, targeting niche applications.

Despite this growing interest, cumulative registrations of electric tractors in India remain low-just 127 units to date including both imported units and domestically produced prototypes. Deployment has primarily been concentrated in a few agriculturally intensive states like Haryana and Punjab, where state-level support and targeted trials have facilitated early experimentation.

Companies are currently engaging in pilot testing with select customers to evaluate real-world performance, collect user feedback, and optimize design before considering broader commercial rollout. While these steps mark important progress, the current electric tractor volumes are minuscule when compared to the overall Indian tractor market, which sells over 900,000 units annually.

Demand drivers

Tractor demand in the country is mainly dependent on farmer incomes from agricultural operations, which, in turn, gets impacted by various factors such as monsoon, crop prices, government procurement, etc. The government regulation governing rural infrastructure development also affects non-farm tractor demand, which accounts for roughly 20-25% of overall domestic demand for the vehicles. Additionally, availability of formal financing channels also supports the demand.

Competition

Player-wise domestic market share (volume-wise): M&M gained significant market share in FY25

Source: CRISIL Intelligence

Going forward, CRISIL Intelligence expects the competition in the industry to intensify further. However, the top five players will continue to account for 85-90% of the industry by volume. A strong distribution network, brand recall, captive financiers and diverse product range are critical to maintain market position in the tractor industry.

Tractor exports

Exports, accounting for about 10% of the overall tractor sales as of fiscal 2025, are expected to grow at a pace of 3-5% on-year in fiscal 2026 on account of revival in demand from the USA, Europe and other Asian countries. In fiscal 2025, exports rose by a slower ~1% on-year reaching ~99,000 units. Revival in demand from the US, Europe and Asia to support growth but not enough to get back to fiscal 2022 highs.

Strategic push, such as setting up a base in foreign countries, by players to cater to the global demand would aid export sales. With most of the global companies de-risking exports from China due to the complexities and disruptions in the nation, India has become the natural hedge against Chinese exports. Further, with most of the companies equipped to comply with TREM IV norms, exports have bloomed in the past few years.

The export data for Indian tractors over the years from FY20 to FY25 reflects a fluctuating trend in the international market. This data underscores the influence of various global and domestic factors on the tractor export industry. The CAGR for this five-year period, considering both the ups and downs, stands at approximately 1.3%. While this growth rate may appear moderate, it signifies the resilience of the Indian tractor export industry in the face of various economic and global challenges.

Outlook of Indian tractor industry

Domestic demand to grow 5-7% over next five years on a high base (fiscals 2025 – 2030P)

CRISIL Intelligence projects domestic tractor sales to expand at 5-7% compound annual growth rate (CAGR) during fiscals 2025 to 2030, after factoring in one to two years of erratic monsoon during the period along with healthy sales expected in the remaining years. From fiscal 2018 to 2023, the industry registered a CAGR of 5% due to healthy sales in fiscals 2017, 2018, 2021 and 2023.

However, anticipated decline in rabi profitability, low subsidy disbursement in the first quarter of fiscal 2025 amid general elections and slower growth in commercial demand to prevent further growth in fiscal 2025.

In fiscal 2025, with IMD's (Indian Meteorological Department) prediction of a normal monsoon season, domestic tractor sales grew by 6-8% on-year in volume terms. A normal monsoon season is expected to lead to healthy reservoir levels thereby positively impacting farmer sentiments and 8-10% on-year increase in volumes up for replacement to further support growth in the fiscal. Healthy rainfall led to higher festive demand in the second and third quarters. Healthy reservoir levels boosted rabi acreage and thereby crop profitability which, in turn, boosted tractors sales in the last quarter of the fiscal.

Tractor industry sales expected to increase 5-7% between fiscals 2025 and 2030P

Note – P: Projected
Source: CRISIL Intelligence

Growth up to fiscal 2030 will be on the back of low tractor penetration in the country (three tractors per 100-hectare area), government's focus on improving farm incomes through various schemes, promotion of farm mechanisation, and investments to improve rural infrastructure.

Tractors is a cyclical industry and has been observed that whenever the industry gets into a downturn, it takes 4-5 quarters for the industry to recover. Thus, assuming that the industry will be impacted by poor monsoon for one to two years between fiscal 2025 and 2030 with the industry taking 4-5 quarters to recover, our long-term assessment suggests that the tractor industry will grow at a CAGR of 5-7%. The growth will be supported by low tractor penetration in India (3 tractors per 100-hectare area); government's focus on improving farm incomes through various schemes, promoting farm mechanization; and investments to improve rural infrastructure. Strong pick up in replacement demand along with higher crop prices aiding revival in the second half of fiscal 2025. Domestic tractor sales grew at a pace of 6-8% on-year in fiscal 2025 on account of increase in cash in hands of farmers, healthy replacement demand and rise expected by 2-4% on-year in fiscal 2026.

Segment-wise growth outlook (fiscals 2025 – 2030P)

CRISIL expects upgradation from 31-40 hp tractors to 41-50 hp tractors over the next five years, as farmers are likely to upgrade to higher hp segments, realising the benefits of mechanization and higher productivity from increased usage of implements along with tractors. This has played out from fiscal year 2020 to 2025, with 41-50 hp now accounting for 64% in the total share gaining 15% share and 31-40 losing almost 8%. Additionally, the growing trend of collaborative farming, increasing commercial usage, and higher irrigation intensity will boost usage of higher hp tractors. We expect a more gradual movement towards 51 hp and above tractors, as they are less amenable to multipurpose applications (like the 41-50 hp) and the price gap is big (at least 10-15% between a 50 hp and a 55-60 hp tractor since emission norms change at 50 hp).

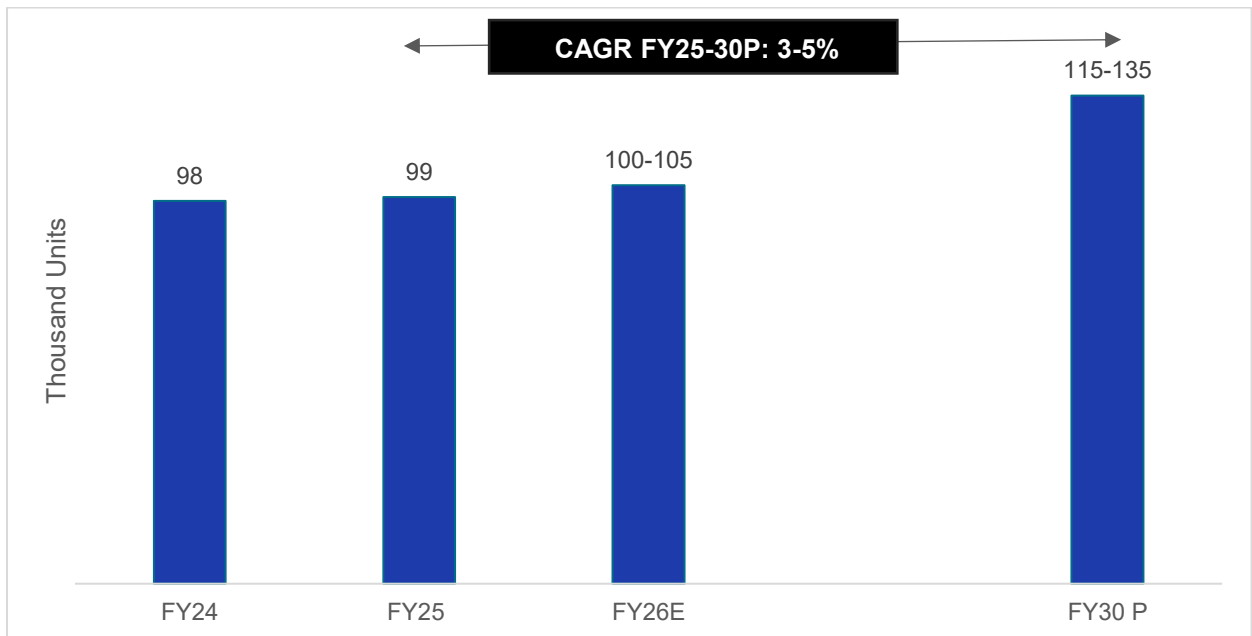

The market for 70-75 hp tractors is niche and is still evolving in India. These tractors are used mainly for farming along with implements, while 41-50 hp tractors can also be used for haulage and commercial activities such as sand mining. This increases their viability as these can be used for at least 700 hours a year.

Exports expected to grow at a CAGR of 3-5% from fiscals 2025 to 2030P

Note – E: Expected; P: Projected
Source: CRISIL Intelligence

Exports are expected to grow at a CAGR of 3-5% between fiscals 2025 and 2030. The USA, Europe & Asia are likely to remain the focal regions for long-term exports. Further, with India emerging as an export hub for relatively small tractors (30-75 horsepower/hp), and major companies increasing focus on international markets with the launch of 90-120 hp tractors, we expect sustainable export growth over the next five years. Rising demand for <30 hp tractors for gardening and hobby farming purposes is also expected to support growth.

Key growth drivers

Rabi crop profitability expected to improve in CY2025. In fiscal 2025, with an above normal monsoon season aiding farmer sentiments. Favourable rainfall boosted kharif crop output, with higher reservoir levels aiding to rabi crop profitability to further support tractor sales. Anticipated price rise of commodities like wheat, maize, paddy and mustard to drive the profitability growth on-year in CY2025. Government measures, including increased crop procurement and higher minimum support prices (MSP) for the rabi season, have uplifted farmers' cash flow thereby leading to healthy retail momentum.

Replacement demand expected to be higher

A large part of domestic sales is driven by replacement demand. Typical holding period for a tractor is around 6 to 9 years with most of the tractors being replaced in the country within 7-8 years. Of the overall domestic demand, 50-60% of the sales are replacement demand. For states having high penetration of tractors such as Punjab and Haryana, the replacement demand accounts for about 70-80% of the total sales. While states where farmer incomes are lower as compared to Punjab and Haryana have a lower replacement cycle (higher age tractors) compared to the industry average.

Replacement demand is expected to be higher by 15-17% on-year in fiscal 2026 on account of healthy sales registered in fiscals 2017, 2018 and 2019.

Non-farm usage of tractors on the rise

Commercial demand for tractor account for 16-23% of overall tractor demand on aggregate. Apart from their primary application in agriculture operations, tractors are also used to haul bricks, sand, and farm produce. In poor crop years and in months when there is no agricultural activity, renting out tractors for commercial purposes provides farmers an alternate source of income, thereby proving to be a good hedge. Some tractors are designed specifically for haulage operations and are used exclusively in commercial activities. Based on our industry interactions, tractors are also used as an alternative to pickups for haulage purposes. In fiscal 2026, we estimate commercial demand to rise to 17-19% of total tractor demand which can be attributed to an uptick in PMAY and PMGSY expenditures.

Rental model and low-cost tractors key to penetrating fragmented land holdings in India

Despite the huge potential total arable land offers, the fragmented land-holding pattern in India remains a hurdle. With over 80% of land holdings being small and marginal (less than 2 ha), most farmers are unable to afford tractors. They depend on renting tractors or buying small tractors to improve productivity, a trend which is rapidly gaining hold.

Custom Hiring Centres (CHC) are a major component of the government's 'Sub-Mission on Agricultural Mechanisation (SMAM)' policy. These centres maintain farm equipment and machinery which can be rented out, especially to small and marginal farmers who cannot afford them.

Private sector participation via multiple unique business models is also improving farm mechanisation. CHCs face challenges such as lack of awareness among consumers about farm equipment usage, availability issue, high initial investment cost, maintenance of farm machinery, and providing equipment specific to local cropping patterns. Monitoring of CHCs remains a major challenge. However, involvement of key stakeholders and introduction of favourable schemes and policies can make the CHC concept successful in India.

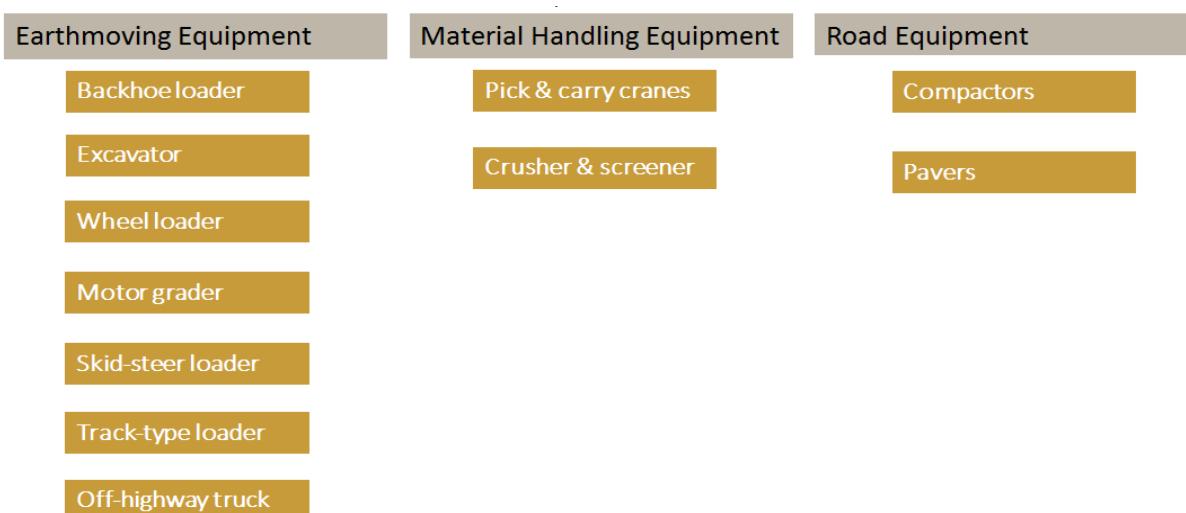

Review and Outlook of Indian Construction Equipment (CE) Industry (Earth moving and material handling)

Review of the domestic demand (fiscals 2023 – 2025)

CE are largely used for construction and infrastructure activity

CE are engineering machines and vehicles used for construction (industrial & infrastructure), agriculture, mining, waste management, and logging activities. They are also used to prepare the ground, excavation, haulage of material, and dumping/laying in a specified manner. The various types of machines used are backhoe loaders, excavators, wheeled loaders, skid steer loaders, graders, cranes, dozers and compactors.

Excavators, backhoe loaders, pick & carry cranes and compactors account for ~73% of the CE industry's revenue. In the construction sector, CE is mainly used in infrastructure and industrial construction.

Construction equipment has an average life of about 7-8 years, depending on frequency of the usage. However, various components need to be regularly serviced and replaced and hence, after-sales service forms a critical part of the manufacturers' offering. Hirers and small contractors are the major end-users of CE. Large engineering, procurement & construction (EPC) companies account for only about 10% of total demand. Backhoe loaders are most popular in the Indian market as they are multi-functional (i.e. excavation and loading), relatively low on maintenance and easy to mobilize. It accounted for ~50% (volume) and ~28% (value) of the CE market, followed by excavators ~35% (volume) and ~47% (value) which have a specialized usage pattern.

Emission norms and applicability to construction and mining equipment

The construction equipment vehicles (CEVs) are regulated by Bharat stage CEV emission norms, stage IV came into effect from April 2021 and latest CEV stage V implemented from 1st January 2025 aligning with European stage IV and V standard for diesel engines used in non-road mobile machinery. India will become the third region outside of the European Union and United states to adopt Stage V-equivalent emission standards. Non-wheeled equipment, mainly deployed in off-road / off-highway applications like mining and irrigation, continues to be outside the purview of these emission norms for now, in contrast with developed markets (like the EU), where such equipment is treated at par with the on-road CEVs and is regulated together under common norms.

CEV V emission standards will also accommodate a wider range of engines including those smaller than~37kw and larger than 560kw and stringent emission limits on particulate matter (PM), particulate number (PN) (BS V only), nitrogen oxide (NOX), hydrocarbon (HC), and carbon monoxide (CO). This is the first time India has adopted one set of consistent standards regulating both agricultural and construction equipment.

The stringent PM and PN limits are set at a level which will ensure diesel particulate filters, the key technology needed to effectively control particulate matter emissions from diesel engines, adopted as expected in the European Stage V standards. Engines equipped with selective catalytic reduction also must meet ammonia emission limits of 25 ppm for those less than 56 kW, and 10 ppm for those above 56 kW. Stringent emission regulations are critical to prevent a significant increase in air pollution from non-road diesel equipment. By implementing emission norms for construction equipment and mining, industries can reduce pollution and promote sustainable development.

Indicators for construction equipment industry on a rise

Quarterly movement in the sales of the equipment can be easily tracked through a host of factors as in the chart below. Execution of projects was robust in fiscal 2023 especially for mining activities. To be sure these parameters were on a high base of fiscal 2022. The momentum has continued in fiscal 2024. However, normalisation in overall construction activity was observed in fiscal 2025, the quarterly indicators for the current fiscal reaffirm the same.

Healthy growth recorded in all segments in fiscal 2025

Construction equipment sector grew 26% in volume terms in fiscal 2024, following an 18% increase in fiscal 2023, driven by growth in the end user industries. The infrastructure sector growth is led by healthy rise on high bases in state and central government capex budgets, Government initiatives such as Gati Shakti and the focus on NIP to boost the infrastructure segments while Mining sector is expected to show growth in FY25 in order to meet the rising demand from the Power and metal sectors.

Healthy credit ratios across parameters

Construction equipment (CE) companies exhibit robust financial health, maintaining a favourable gearing ratio typically between 0 and 1, reflecting their balanced approach to debt. With generally low debt levels, these firms boast healthy interest coverage ratios, benefiting from high financial flexibility, largely owing to their affiliation as subsidiaries of global industry giants.

Low EV Penetration outlook

Despite the broader push for electrification across the automotive and CV sectors, EV adoption in the construction equipment (CE) industry remains minimal with current penetration of electric construction machinery estimated to be less than 1%, largely limited to pilot deployments of compact equipment such as electric mini-excavators and loaders. Key barriers include the lack of high-capacity battery technology for heavy-duty use, limited charging infrastructure on construction sites, and high upfront costs. Given these structural challenges, the industry's transition to electric equipment is expected to remain slow in the near term.

However, OEMs are gradually ramping up R&D and collaborating with global partners to localize electric variants. EV penetration in CE is likely to see meaningful traction only post FY2027, once supporting ecosystem and policy incentives are in place.

Outlook on the construction equipment industry (fiscals 2025 – 2030)

CE industry to record double digit growth in fiscal 2024 on a high base; growth to moderate in fiscal 2025

Construction equipment sector grew 26% in volume terms in fiscal 2024 driven by growth in the end user industries. Volume growth normalisation of 3-4% is seen in fiscal 2025 with the industry to breach high levels of 120K+ in volume sales with growing end user industry segments like roads, railways and urban infrastructure.

The infrastructure sector growth is led by healthy rise on high bases in state and central government capex budgets, government initiatives such as Gati Shakti and the focus on NIP to boost the infrastructure segments while mining sector is expected to show growth in fiscal 2025 in order to meet the rising demand from the power and metal sectors.

The volume sold are at an all-time high with rising infra and mining activity in the backdrop coupled with newer machinery complying to the BS-IV norms introduced in the market.

With humongous central government push and rising spur in construction activities, market size is expected to increase due to higher realisations and increase in prices passed on to consumers due to cost inflation of raw materials. However, since volumes have reached to peak in fiscal 2024, the momentum is moderate in fiscal 2025.

Long term potential intact driven by growth in end-user segments

The construction industry in India is expected to grow steadily at an annual rate of 5-7% between fiscal years 2026 and 2030. This growth will be mainly driven by increased spending on infrastructure projects such as roads and railways, supported by both central and state government investments.

Review and outlook on the Indian Automotive Components industry

Auto component production (which includes sales to OEMs, exports and the replacement market) has increased at 13.4% CAGR to Rs 8,622 billion in fiscal 2025 from Rs 4,592 billion in fiscal 2020. The Indian automotive component sector has experienced robust growth, driven by a combination of factors including resilient domestic demand, increase in exports, and enhanced value addition. As the country navigates its transition towards advanced mobility solutions, the industry is undertaking requisite investments, adopting cutting-edge technologies, and augmenting localization efforts to effectively cater to both the domestic and international markets.

While domestic sales are more volatile due to various factors such as regulations, fuel prices, economic cycles, etc. that impact short-term demand, exports and the aftermarket help buffer overall growth in auto component production from similar fluctuations.

The domestic auto components industry largely comprises small and medium enterprises. The industry is composed of 780+ organized players and 5,800 unorganized players. In terms of revenue, however, the organized segment dominates. Auto Component Manufacturers Association (ACMA) members represent 85% of the overall industry turnover. Over the past few years, more auto component companies have been registering as members of the ACMA.

Auto component production revenue increased at 13.4% CAGR between fiscals 2020 and 2025, helped by the economic recovery, buoyant demand from the OEM and replacement markets as well as increase in exports. CRISIL Intelligence estimates domestic auto component production revenue to increase 7-9% in fiscal 2026.

Production of automotive components depends on consumption by different end-user segments, such as OEMs, exports and the replacement market.

Auto component production revenue has surpassed the fiscal 2020 levels, when the industry reported robust growth across segments. Passenger vehicles, commercial vehicles and tractors are seen surpassing pre-Covid levels of production in fiscal 2023 while 2W, 3W will recover from the slump in fiscals 2021 and 2022, albeit remaining below pre-Covid levels. Healthy demand from OEMs will drive auto-component demand followed by the replacement and export markets.

The second wave in April 2021 and the resultant lockdown impacted industry revenue in the first quarter of fiscal 2022. Post the reopening, there was some recovery in the industry in the second half. Growth in the fiscal was aided by economic recovery, buoyant demand from key export destinations such as North America and Europe and increased demand from the replacement market led by pent-up demand.

Review of exports of auto components (fiscal 2020 to 2025)

Auto component exports grew at a strong 13.4% CAGR during fiscals 2020-2025. Even during fiscals 2017-2020, exports increased to a healthy 11% CAGR. There was a contraction in fiscal 2021 amid the pandemic and related restrictions.

Growth drivers for Indian auto component industry

Demand side factors:

Vehicle production: PVs, CVs and tractors are seen surpassing pre-Covid levels of production in fiscal 2025 while 2W, 3W will recover from slump in fiscals 2021 and 2022, albeit still below pre-Covid levels. Healthy demand from OEMs has been driving auto-component demand followed by replacement and export markets.

CRISIL Intelligence expects almost all vehicle segments to log robust production growth over fiscals 2025-30P. Production of 2Ws, 3Ws, PVs and CVs are projected to grow at a CAGR of 8-10%, 8-10%, 6-8% and 3-5%, respectively, over the forecast period.

Rising Per capita income: According to the International Monetary Fund's estimates, India's per capita income (at current prices) is expected to increase at a 9.19% CAGR over CY 2025-30.

Investment in Infrastructure: Infrastructure improvements are expected to support automobile demand on account of employment generation, and improved accessibility and mobility.

Ride sharing: Rise of ridesharing and the gig economy can drive demand for auto components as vehicles in these services tend to have higher usage and mileage, which leads to more frequent wear and tear on parts like tires, brakes, and engine components. The constant operation also increases the need for regular maintenance and part replacements, benefiting the aftermarket segment of auto companies. Moreover, fleet operators seek to keep vehicles in optimal condition, which further drives demand for auto parts.

Electrification

To curb pollution levels, EVs are gaining global interest. In India as well, EVs are gaining popularity as the government is extending support via various policies to encourage EV adoption. Furthermore, growing awareness and concern for environmental issues is likely to drive electrification in India. The government support, coupled with rising awareness about EVs, environmental concerns, as well as the expansion in EV infrastructure is driving electrification in India. The EV segment received a real thrust in the last two years backed by model launches at competitive rates, price hikes in ICE vehicles, elevated fuel costs as well as an improvement in infrastructure support. Schemes such as Electric Mobility Promotion Scheme 2024 (EMPS 2024), FAME, PM E-DRIVE and PLI have offered a thrust to both demand and supply side of the EV market.

Supply side Factors:

- India has a cost advantage in auto component production since it has cheap labour costs, is the world's second-largest producer of steel, and is close to important automotive markets. This makes it an ideal location for businesses to source vehicle components.
- India exports a significant amount of car components, which is likely to increase in the future years. India excels at manufacturing particular types of vehicle components, such as shafts, bearings, and fasteners, giving it a competitive advantage over other countries.
- The industry has been continuously upping its quality standards and developing new products to compete globally. Trade liberalisation in western markets has led to the emergence of Asia as an export hub for Europe, and North and South America over the past decade. With supply-chain realignment, several countries (including India) are likely to emerge as global outsourcing hubs in the coming years.
- Many domestic manufacturers have successfully entered strategic alliances/collaborations, while others are actively testing the waters. Many of the world's leading Tier 1 suppliers have set up manufacturing facilities in India, in key automotive hubs such as Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu, National Capital Region (NCR) and Gujarat.
- Changes in the process of manufacturing and designing will support the pricing power of component manufacturers. Decline in auto component manufacturing in Europe largely due to rising energy costs, driven by geopolitical tensions and stringent environmental regulations, which have eroded profitability and led to reduced production capacity have also contributed to India's advantage. At the same time, the China +1 strategy has driven companies to diversify their manufacturing bases, with India emerging as a preferred alternative as a key export hub for automotive components, due to its lower costs, supportive government policies, and strategic location near growing markets.
- Moreover, the decline in CNG prices during the fiscal year 2024 supports the shift toward greater CNG usage, reinforcing the long-term potential for its adoption in vehicles. Volatile fuel prices, coupled with potential government incentives for eco-friendly alternatives, could further stimulate demand for CNG-powered vehicles.
- Powertrain industry benefits from a dual-channel demand structure, ensuring stability and growth across economic cycles. When new car sales increase, OEM demand for powertrain components rises as automakers ramp up production. Conversely, consumers retain their vehicles longer, driving demand for replacement powertrain products in the OES aftermarket. This acts as a demand driver when the OE demand/new vehicle sales experience a dip.

Outlook of Indian auto components industry (fiscal 2025 to 2030P)

CRISIL Intelligence expects auto component market size to grow at 9-11% CAGR between fiscals 2025 and 2030 to reach INR 13,500-14,500 billion. This is primarily driven by an increase in production off-take across all vehicle segments, which will support growth in the OEM market. Long-term growth will appear higher over a low base wherein the auto component industry witnessed a significant decline in the preceding two fiscals (fiscals 2020 and 2021). Demand from all segments has grown further post fiscal 2023.

CRISIL Intelligence projects auto component revenue would increase 7-9% in fiscal 2026. The growth in fiscal 2026 will be aided by continued economic growth (GDP growth of ~6.5%), buoyant demand from the OEM and replacement market. Auto component exports (accounting for 22% of the overall demand in fiscal 2025) are projected to record a 6-8% on year growth in fiscal 2026. The growth would be on the back of demand from North America and Europe which together contribute ~60-65% to the export demand. Export revenues are also expected to be supported by increased global demand and China +1 strategy. However, rising inflation and global economic slowdown remains key monitorable.

OEM demand is expected to clock 9-11% CAGR between fiscals 2025 and 2030 on the back of robust production growth across asset classes in the medium term (on a low base) and aided by realization growth via OEM price increases.

The auto component replacement market is projected to increase by 6-8% CAGR between fiscals 2025 and 2030. This is due to healthy OEM sales barring the pandemic impacted fiscal 2020 and 2021 along with two to three years of replacement cycles. Moreover, auto component players undertook price hikes to offset the uptick in commodity prices. Hence, rising realization, to some extent, coupled with pent-up demand from fiscal 2021 wherein the vehicular movement was restricted is likely to aid the demand growth. Besides, demand in the replacement market is expected to grow due to an increase in penetration of cab aggregator services in the overall stock of passenger vehicles. Nonetheless, increased durability of components (better quality), better road infrastructure and increase in service intervals would restrict the robust growth.

Review and outlook of Tenneco Specific Components

Tier I suppliers are entities which supply products directly to the Original Equipment manufacturers (OEM) which are into the production of 2W, 3W, PV, CV and OH vehicles. Tier I companies that offer complete or assembled products such as transmission, engines, electronics, etc. OEMs prefer single suppliers for critical components to ensure consistent quality, streamline logistics, and enable close collaboration on design and performance. This approach reduces variability and enhances efficiency, though it requires strong trust and risk management due to dependency on one source.

The automotive industry is characterized by high customer stickiness due to the customized and technology-intensive nature of products, as well as the stringent and time-consuming product approval processes. This creates a barrier to entry for new suppliers, making it difficult for them to board new customers. As a result, existing suppliers with established relationships and approved products have a competitive advantage, leading to a stable and predictable revenue stream. The industry's dynamics favor long-term partnerships and relationships, where suppliers invest in research and development to meet the evolving needs of their customers, and customers prioritize reliability and quality over the price and new supplier onboarding.

Also, Tier 1 vendors play a crucial role in the supply chain, providing independent or integrated components to the automotive industry. They work with Tier 2 and Tier 3 vendors, adding value to products through manufacturing, design, or integration, and generating revenue by transforming raw materials into higher-value products. Tier 2 suppliers provide products and services to Tier 1 suppliers and often directly to OEMs. As direct suppliers to OEMs, Tier 1 vendors occupy the second level in the supply chain pyramid, promoting efficiency and specialization in the industry.

Review and outlook of domestic Clean air solutions

Indian automobile industry is shifting towards low or no emission driven by government regulations and increasing need for ecofriendly vehicles. Aftertreatment systems in a vehicle are designed to reduce emissions and pollutants released into the atmosphere. These systems are typically used with ICE vehicles, particularly diesel engines, to minimize the environmental impact of vehicle emissions. The primary goal of aftertreatment systems is to reduce harmful emissions such as nitrogen oxides (NO_x), particulate matter (PM), carbon monoxide (CO), and hydrocarbons (HC). Hence to reduce emissions, the automotive industry is focusing on developing advanced technologies such as exhaust gas recirculation (EGR) system and selective catalytic reduction (SCR) systems that are part of the modern aftertreatment systems. The use of aftertreatment systems in construction equipment, tractors and industrial applications (gensets) is also on the rise with tightening emission regulations.

Some common aftertreatment systems found in vehicles are Diesel Particulate Filter (DPF), Selective Catalytic Reduction (SCR) System, Diesel Oxidation Catalyst (DOC), Ammonia Slip Catalyst (ASC) and Exhaust Gas Recirculation (EGR) System.

Exhaust system: Exhaust system in a vehicle plays a crucial role in reducing emissions and improving fuel efficiency and enhance overall vehicle performance. The exhaust system is a critical component of a vehicle, responsible for directing exhaust gases away from the engine and reducing emissions. Major components of the exhaust system are exhaust manifold, downpipe, muffler, tailpipe and exhaust pipes. Exhaust manifold collects exhaust gases from the engine's cylinders and directs them into the exhaust system. Downpipe connects the exhaust manifold to the catalytic converter or turbocharger. Muffler is responsible for reducing the noise level of the exhaust gases. The muffler also helps to regulate the flow of exhaust gases, ensuring that they are directed away from the vehicle. Tailpipe which is part of the cold end directs the exhaust gases out of the vehicle. Exhaust pipes are responsible for connecting various components of the exhaust system.

Catalytic converter: The catalytic converter is a vital component of a vehicle's emission control system, responsible for reducing harmful pollutants and emissions from exhaust gases. A catalytic converter uses a catalyst to convert pollutants in the exhaust gases into harmless substances. It is typically located between the engine and the muffler, and its primary function is to reduce the emissions of CO, HC, and NO_x. The catalytic converter uses a catalyst, typically made from precious metals such as platinum, palladium, and rhodium, to facilitate chemical reactions that convert pollutants into harmless substances.

Emission norms and applicability to automotive industry

To enhance energy security and improve efficiency in use of energy for sustainability. The government has taken several measures, including diversification in sources of imports, promotion of alternate fuels, increasing production of oil and gas, substitution of energy refinery processes, and notification of fuel efficiency norms. The government has been promoting the use of biofuels such as ethanol and biodiesel to reduce environmental pollution.

Auto Fuel Vision and Policy-2025 initially proposed the implementation of BS-IV emission norms from 01.04.2017, BS-V emission norms for new vehicle from 01.04.2020 and BS-VI emission norms from 2024. However, Government decided to move directly from BS-IV to BS-VI emission norms in April 2020. India's decision to leapfrog from BS-IV to BS-VI in just three years, compared to a decade in Europe posed a major challenge. European solutions weren't directly applicable due to cost, infrastructure, and vehicle differences.

Achieving a 50% reduction in particulate matter and 87% reduction in nitrogen oxides required significant innovation.

The Bharat Stage (BS) norms in India are emission standards instituted by the government to regulate the output of air pollutants from internal combustion engine equipment, including motor vehicles. These norms are designed to improve air quality by reducing vehicle emissions and are aligned with the European emission standards. The implementation of BSVI Stage II norms, effect from April 2023, will have significant impacts on vehicles in India. Here's a concise overview of these effects.

- Real Driving Emissions (RDE): Mandatory testing to ensure vehicles meet emission standards in real-world driving conditions.
- Enhanced On-Board Diagnostics (OBD 2): Advanced OBD systems to monitor real-time emissions and ensure ongoing compliance.
- Stricter Emission Limits: Tighter limits for pollutants like NO_x, PM, HC, and CO

The implementation of BSVI emission norms has led to a significant reduction in vehicular pollution. This drives towards the development of improved engine technologies such as introduction of advanced emission control system, installation of catalytic convertor or diesel particulate filters (DPF) to reduce particulate matter and selective catalyst reduction (SCR) systems for reduction in Nitrogen Oxides (NO_x) emissions in BS-VI compatible vehicles. The shift to BSVI norms has created a surge in demand for Clean air solutions including filters, catalytic converters and sensors.

Emission norms and applicability to construction and mining equipment

Construction equipment (excavators, loaders, compactors, and cranes) and mining equipment (dump truck) emit pollutants like particulate matter (PM), nitrogen oxides (NO_x) and carbon monoxide (CO) contributing to air pollution. They also emit greenhouse gases (GHGs) like carbon dioxide (CO₂), methane (CH₄) and nitrogen oxide (N₂O) which contribute to climate change.

The construction equipment vehicles (CEVs) are regulated by Bharat stage CEV emission norms, stage IV came into effect from April 2021, and latest CEV stage V implemented from 1st January 2025 aligning with European stage IV and V standard for diesel engines used in non-road mobile machinery. India will become the third region outside of the European Union and United states to adopt Stage V-equivalent emission standards. Non-wheeled equipment, mainly deployed in off-road / off-highway applications like mining and irrigation, continues to be outside the purview of these emission norms for now, in contrast with developed markets (like the EU), where such equipment is treated at par with the on-road CEVs and is regulated together under common norms.

CEV V emission standards will also accommodate a wider range of engines including those smaller than~37kw and larger than 560kw and stringent emission limits on particulate matter (PM), particulate number (PN) (BS V only), nitrogen oxide (NO_x), hydrocarbon (HC), and carbon monoxide (CO). This is the first time India has adopted one set of consistent standards regulating both agricultural and construction equipment.

The stringent PM and PN limits are set at a level which will ensure diesel particulate filters, the key technology needed to effectively control particulate matter emissions from diesel engines, adopted as expected in the European Stage V standards. Engines equipped with selective catalytic reduction also must meet ammonia emission limits of 25 ppm for those less than 56 kW, and 10 ppm for those above 56 kW. Stringent emission regulations are critical to prevent a significant increase in air pollution from non-road diesel equipment. By implementing emission norms for construction equipment and mining, industries can reduce pollution and promote sustainable development.

Emission norms and applicability to Genset Industry

The genset industry, also known as the generator, set industry, is a sector that manufactures and supplies generator sets, which are used to generate electricity in various applications, including residential, commercial, industrial, and recreational. The industry is driven by the growing demand for reliable and efficient power generation solutions or power backup solutions, particularly in areas where the grid is unreliable or non-existent. There are different types of gensets including diesel, gasoline, natural gas and biofuel. Diesel generators are primarily used to provide backup power in industries. However, these generators emit harmful substances such as NO_x, Sulphur dioxide (SO₂) and PM contributing to air pollution

The Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) has established guidelines for genset emissions, including limits for PM, NO_x, CO and SO₂. India has adopted stage II and III emission norms for genset aligning with international standards. With the introduction of CPCB IV+ emission standard government aims to achieve 90% decrease in PM and NO_x concentration in generator exhaust, surpassing the existing CPCB II standard. These emission standards are designed to simplify the regulatory landscape by establishing a single benchmark for portable and fixed generators, regardless of fuel type, with a power output of up to 800 KW to streamlined approach towards maintaining strict emissions reduction targets.

The CPCB IV+ guidelines will also drive towards significant technological evolution within the diesel generator industries. The manufacturers are required to invest in advanced engines and emission control technologies, including electronic fuel systems, advanced after-treatment systems (ATS), and exhaust gas recirculation (EGR) systems, to meet these standards. These advancements will lead to more efficient fuel combustion, improved pollutant control, and enhanced fuel efficiency.

The genset manufacturers must acquire type approval from CPCB, demonstrating compliance with emission norms. The manufacturers must also ensure conformity of production (CoP), verifying that genset meet emission standards during production. Noise pollution (Control and Regulation) complies with noise pollution regulation such as those specified by the CPCB.

Emission norms and applicability to Tractors Industry

Tractors follow non-road emission standards aligned with the BS emission norms. For a long time, both agricultural tractors and Construction Equipment Vehicles had the same emission standards under Bharat Stage (CEV/TREM). In September 2020, the agricultural machinery (TREM) and construction equipment vehicles (CEV) norms were separated.

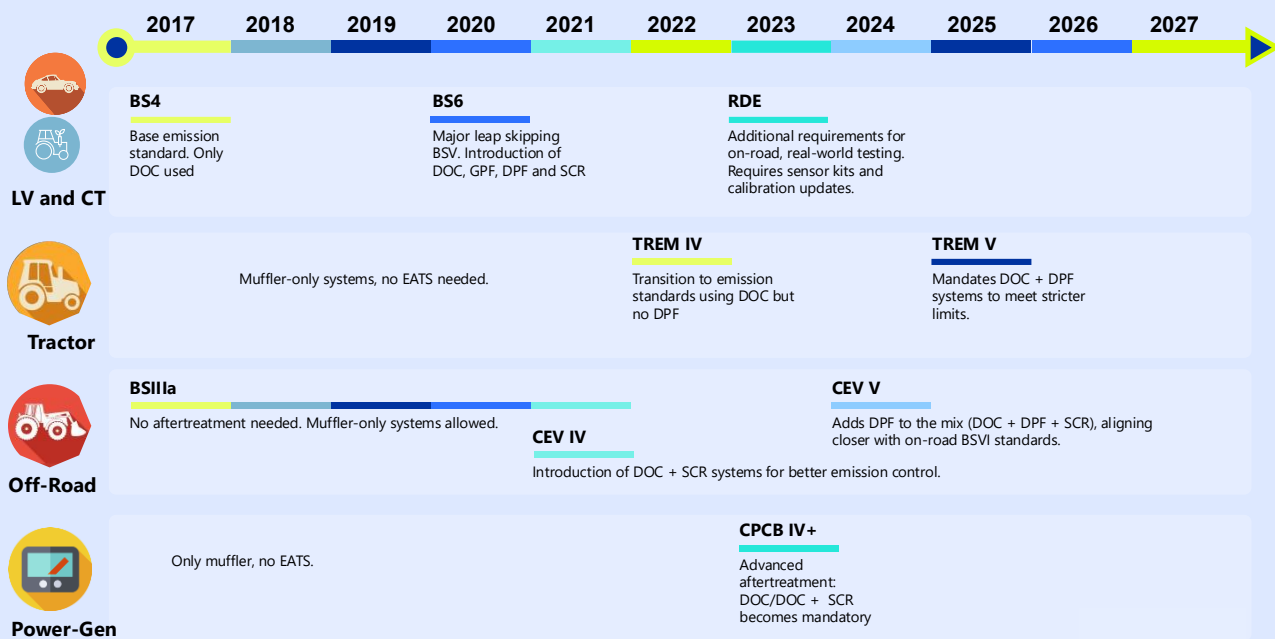

TREM IV emission norms are the latest standards introduced by the Indian government to control the release of harmful gasses from diesel engines. TREM IV norms came into effect from 1st January 2023. The norms would be applicable only for more than 50 HP tractors, which forms a smaller category of total tractors produced in the country. Those below 50 HP, which comprises most of the tractors, operate under the TREM-IIIa emission norm. TREM IV focuses on CO, HCs, NO_x, PM, and PN pollutants. There is a requirement for advanced technologies such as EGR (exhaust gas recirculation), SCR (selective catalytic reduction) and DPF (diesel particulate filter) in this standard. TREM-V norms are expected to be rolled out in April 2026.

Stringent emission norms driving the adoption of advanced aftertreatment systems

Globally, countries are adopting stricter emission norms and zero-emission targets. Countries including India have adopted stricter emission norms in the past and are expected to continue implementing stricter emission norms across vehicle segments including PVs, CVs, tractors, construction and mining equipment. India and other countries are expected to continue implementing stricter emission standards across the PV, CV and OH end markets, such as Corporate Average Fuel Efficiency/Economy (CAFE) norms, Tractor Emission Regulation of India V (TREM V), Bharat Stage 7 (BS7), Construction Equipment Vehicle (CEV-V) and Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB IV+).

As emission norms are becoming more stringent after treatment system manufacturers design and produce newer products to meet the standard, leading to the use of advanced tech that complies with the emission and performance. These advance techs add cost and complexity to the after-treatment systems. Thus, the realization of the after-treatment system increases as the emission norms are becoming more stringent.

Tightening emission norms

Note: These new standards aim to further reduce levels of harmful emissions such as hydrocarbons, carbon dioxide, nitrogen oxides and particulate matter, from vehicles.

CAFE III standards are likely to be implemented from 2027-2032, propose carbon emission targets of 91.7 gm CO₂ per km, and 70 gm CO₂ per km for CAFE IV norms from 2032-2037 based on the World Harmonized Light Vehicles Testing Procedure (WLTP).

Also, growth in warehousing, spurred by e-commerce drives the cranes segment thereby increasing the demand for SCR and DPF systems for diesel variants. Mid-range tractors (30-50 Hp) contributes to the largest share in the Indian tractor industry, driven by versatile agricultural use. OEMs are integrating TREM regulated engines, requiring SCR and EGR systems to meet norms, especially as exports rise. In the high HP category (51 and above Hp), the segment seems to grow driven by the rise in commercial farming and construction applications, these tractors use diesel engines needing robust after treatment components to curb emissions.

Review and outlook of domestic Suspension Components

Shock Absorbers

Shock absorber is a crucial suspension component designed to control and dampen the impact and vibrations caused by road irregularities. It ensures that a vehicle maintains stability, traction, and comfort by absorbing energy from the suspension system. Without shock absorbers, vehicles would experience excessive bouncing and instability, making driving uncomfortable and unsafe.

Struts

Strut Assembly is a structural suspension component that combines a shock absorber and coil spring into a single unit. It provides both damp and structural support, reducing the number of separate suspension components needed. Struts support the vehicle's weight, whereas shock absorbers only dampen motion.

Key trends and growth drivers for Shock absorbers & struts

Technological advancements in suspension systems are transforming the automotive industry, particularly in India, where vehicle performance, ride comfort, and durability are key concerns due to diverse road conditions.

Adaptive and semi-active suspension systems

Modern premium and high-end vehicles feature semi-active and adaptive suspension systems with sensors and electronically controlled dampers that adjust in real time, improving ride comfort, stability, and handling. Example: Vehicles with magnetorheological dampers adjust shock absorber stiffness based on road conditions, reducing vibrations and improving stability. As technology becomes more accessible, semi-active suspensions are making their way into more mainstream models. Also, with the rise of EVs, OEMs are moving towards advanced and low noise suspension systems to achieve superior comfort and counteract the effects of battery weight. For example, BE 6e and XEV 9e, the new EV models from Mahindra use intelligent semi-active dampers. Also, Mahindra Roxx uses the first in-segment hydraulic rebound system (HRS), a suspension system that offers improved ride quality than conventional products.

The demand for advanced suspension systems is driven by the need for enhanced driving experience and performance. Premiumization in PVs, fueled by SUV demand, and electrification are expected to further boost demand for advanced suspension systems in the automotive market.

Lightweight and high-strength materials: Suspension components are now being made with aluminum alloys, carbon composites, and high-strength steel to reduce vehicle weight while maintaining durability. Lighter shocks and struts contribute to better fuel efficiency, a crucial factor in India's cost-conscious market.

Advanced Manufacturing Techniques: Technologies like 3D printing, laser welding, and precision forging enhance the quality and reliability of shocks and struts, ensuring longer lifespan and improved performance. Manufacturers are adopting automated production lines and AI-driven quality control systems to improve efficiency.

Integration of Smart Sensors and IoT: Use of smart sensors in suspension systems allowing real-time monitoring of road conditions, vehicle load, and driving dynamics with these systems providing predictive maintenance alerts, reducing downtime and improving vehicle longevity.

EVs and Hybrids: Transforming the Shocks and Struts market

Shift to electric and hybrid vehicles is reshaping suspension design due to their heavier battery packs, which demand stronger and more durable shocks and struts. Additionally, the absence of engine noise makes suspension vibrations and road noise more noticeable, driving the need for quieter, more refined damping systems.

Regenerative braking in EVs alters weight distribution and ride dynamics, requiring adaptive suspension solutions. Many EVs now integrate air suspension and smart dampers, which enhance comfort, efficiency, and compatibility with autonomous driving systems. As India's EV adoption grows, demand for advanced, electronically controlled suspension systems will continue to rise.

Key growth drivers and trends impacting the Domestic Spark plug market

Implementation of BS VI emission norms

- BSVI engines require higher quality spark plugs with precious metals like platinum and iridium, which can withstand the increased combustion pressure and temperature.
- BS VI engines are designed for better fuel efficiency and lower emissions. The spark plug plays a crucial role in achieving these goals, leading to increased demand.
- Growing demand for gasoline direct engines has been adopted, which requires specialized spark plugs.
- BS VI norms have emphasized the importance of regular maintenance and servicing. This has led to an increase in spark plug replacement, driving growth for the market.

Increased demand for CNG specific spark plug

- CNG vehicles require fewer spark plugs compared to petrol. The CNG engines typically use single spark plug per cylinder whereas petrol engines use multiple spark plugs.
- CNG engines require specialized spark plugs designed to adapt to the higher combustion pressure and temperature associated with CNG combustion. This will lead to demand for specialized spark plugs designed for CNG vehicles.
- BSVI norms have played a significant role in supporting the growth of CNG vehicles. Strict emission norms of BSVI have made CNG vehicles a more attractive option.
- CNG penetration in PV has increased from 7% in FY2020 to 17% in FY2025. CNG powered PV clocked 19% CAGR over the fiscal 2020-25.

Rising vehicle population and advanced engine technology

India's vehicle population is increasing rapidly, driven by rising incomes, urbanization and growing demand for transportation. The domestic sale of passenger vehicle expected to increase by 5% CAGR over the fiscal 2025-30. Advance engine technology such as gasoline direct injection (GDI) and turbocharging requires the use of specialized spark plug that can tolerate higher engine pressure and temperature. Demand for strong hybrid vehicles also increased significantly in fiscal 2024, which requires spark plug that can optimize engine efficiency, reduce emission and improve fuel economy. The increasing vehicle penetration and advanced technology will lead to an increase in demand for spark plugs.

Strong replacement market

As vehicles become more reliable and durable, their lifespan increases. This results in more vehicles requiring spark plug replacement and hence it accelerates the overall demand. Also, the growing vehicle population creates large aftermarket for ignition systems components, driving demand. The competitive market for the ignition system including pricing strategies affects the overall demand. The aftermarket is driven by cost considerations, with customers and mechanics alike seeking to reduce expenses by choosing lower-cost spark plug materials like copper and nickel. In the independent aftermarket, mechanics often make purchasing decisions based on price, favoring more economical spark plug options to maintain competitive pricing for their services.

Emerging trends in spark plug industries

- Increasing adoption of CNG, LPG and hybrid vehicles drives the demand for specialized spark plugs, which accelerates the overall spark plug demand.
- Increasing demand for fuel efficiency and high-performance vehicles drives the demand for advanced ignition systems. The growing demand for hybrid vehicles is driving demand for specialized spark plugs.
- Growing auto components e-commerce and online sales platforms are making it easier for consumers to purchase the products online in turn driving the demand for auto components.
- The demand for platinum and iridium spark plug is increasing due to their superior performance, durability and fuel efficiency, particularly advanced engines.
- Modern engines operate at higher combustion temperatures, leading to greater electrode wear. Platinum and iridium, known for their heat resistance and durability, are increasingly used to support this condition.
- The rise in hybrid vehicles, which require different types of sparks plugs than traditional gasoline engines, is driving the demand for platinum and iridium spark plugs.
- The Auto manufacturers are inclined towards more efficient and cleaner-burning engines to comply with stricter emission regulations globally, further driving demand for advanced spark plug technologies.

Review and outlook of domestic Bearings and Sealings components

Bearings

Bearings play a critical role in an automobile by reducing friction between moving parts, supporting loads, and ensuring smooth operation. They are used in various components, including the engine, wheels, transmission, and suspension. Below is a comprehensive breakdown of different types of bearings in an automobile.

Engine Bearing products market size (fiscals 2025-30P)

The domestic OE engine bearings market is estimated at INR 4,915 million in FY25 and is expected to grow at a CAGR of 6-8%, reaching INR 6,500-7,200 million by FY30. Growth will be driven by increased vehicle production across segments, including passenger vehicles, CTs, off-highway vehicles, and tractors. The PV accounts for a significant portion, with an estimated INR 2,782 million market in FY25 in OE demand, while CTs & off-highway vehicle (OH + tractors) market is estimated at INR 1,044 million and INR 789 million in FY25.

Domestic OE and AM Engine Bearings market size (fiscal 2025-30P)

The domestic bearings market is led by the passenger vehicle (PV) segment, which holds the largest revenue share at 57%, driven by growing vehicle production, increasing demand for fuel efficiency, and the adoption of advanced bearing technologies. Tractors account for 14% of the market, supported by consistent demand in the agriculture sector and increasing mechanization while Small commercial vehicle (SCV) segment contributes 6%. Meanwhile, CTs and off-highway vehicles hold 21% and 2% shares respectively, with demand primarily driven by infrastructure development and construction activities. As industries continue to evolve, the need for high-performance, durable bearings is expected to rise across all vehicle segments.

Domestic AM Engine Bearings market, value in INR Million, FY25-30P

Domestic market size of AM is estimated at INR 1,672 million in FY25 and it is expected to reach INR 2,000-2,200 million in FY30 with a CAGR of 4-6% between FY25 to FY30. The aftermarket segment is driven by the replacement cycle and vehicle parc. The improving rural economy and growing use of two-wheelers in last-mile delivery by e-commerce players/food chains will increase two-wheeler miles driven, supporting the AM segment.

Engine Sealings

Gaskets and seals that prevent leaks of oil, coolants, and gases while ensuring proper compression and efficiency in an engine. They include the cylinder head gasket, turbo gasket, heat shield, cold gasket and exhaust system gasket, each playing a critical role in maintaining engine performance and reliability.

Components included in sealings are:

Cold gaskets

Heat shield

Cylindrical head gasket

Turbo gasket

Exhaust system gasket

The sealings market is poised for growth, driven by rising demand for durable and high-performance components in the automotive sector with OE market size expected to expand from INR 9,224 million in FY25 to INR 12,900-14,200 million by FY30, reflecting a CAGR of 7-9% during FY25-30. This growth is supported by advancements in sealing materials, increasing adoption in hybrid and CNG vehicles, and stringent emission regulations. As manufacturers focus on improving thermal resistance, durability, and sealing efficiency, the sector is expected to witness sustained expansion in the coming years.

Source: Crisil Intelligence

Indian sealings market is led by passenger vehicles, which account for 49% of the total revenue share in FY25. Major dominance is driven by the high demand for durable and high-performance sealing solutions in SUV segment. CTs holds a significant share of 17% since CTs operate under extreme conditions, requiring advanced sealing technologies to ensure engine efficiency, prevent leakage, and enhance vehicle longevity is a must. Additionally, the expansion of logistics, infrastructure projects, and growing freight movement in India have further boosted demand for truck components, including sealings.

Off-highway segment holds a 7% share, driven by increased mechanization in agriculture and infrastructure development. The tractor segment also demands a share of 24%, reflecting the sector's dependence on robust sealing technologies for engine reliability and hydraulic systems.

Domestic market size of AM is estimated at INR 4,142 million in FY25 and it is expected to reach INR 5,000-5,600 million in FY30 with a CAGR of 4-6% between FY25 to FY30. Major share of the AM is driven by PV segment and 2W segment.

Threats and Challenges

Growth (%)	FY23-24	FY24-25E	FY23-25E CAGR
Passenger Vehicle	8%	1-3%	4-5%
Commercial Trucks	4%	-0.7-0.7%	1-3%
Tractors	-7%	7-8%	-0.3-0.3%
Construction Equipment	26%	3-4%	13.5-14.5%

Demand Side Challenges

Increase in vehicle cost of ownership

A vehicle's cost of ownership is determined by its cost of acquisition and cost of operations, and both have a significant impact on the demand. The cost of vehicle acquisition rises when OEMs transfer the impact of increased manufacturing costs to the customers. In the past, industry has seen price hikes owing to several reasons like implementation of emission norms, increase in raw material prices and general inflationary hikes. These are also likely to push vehicle prices upwards going forward. Auto finance rates are also pivotal in determining affordability. The cost of operations for a customer is directly impacted by fluctuations in crude oil prices and INR USD exchange rates, that cause rise in fuel import costs and overall fuel prices.

Inherent cyclicality of the domestic PV business

The passenger vehicle industry has close linkages with growth in GDP as well as business cycles impacting the incomes of probable customers thereby making the industry susceptible/vulnerable to these changes. This cyclical nature of the passenger vehicle industry poses constant challenges to the industry players and component suppliers as they have to constantly manage inventory optimally and profitably.

Inherent cyclicality of Commercial trucks and OH dependent Industries

The demand for commercial trucks and construction equipment are closely tied to economic growth. During periods of robust economic expansion, there is an increase in industrial output, infrastructure projects, and logistics activities, driving higher demand for commercial trucks and construction equipment. Conversely, during economic slowdowns, demand plummets as businesses reduce capital expenditures and transportation needs decline. For instance, the CT industry has seen 3 business cycles in the past 2 decades:

- FY04 to FY09 (peak in FY08)
- FY 09 to FY15 (peak in FY12)
- FY15 to FY 21 (peak in FY19)
- FY21 to ongoing

It has been seen that there can be a swing of more than 20-25% between the peaks and troughs of the business cycles of the CT Industry which in turn can makes business planning complicated for players involved in supply of components to the commercial trucks Industry.

Supply Side Challenges

Raw Material Availability and Cost

Cost Management: Fluctuating prices of raw materials like iron and steel pose significant challenges to managing costs. A sudden spike in prices, such as the increase in iron ore prices, can erode profit margins and make it difficult to offer competitive pricing to customers. Metal product manufacturers must either absorb these costs, reducing profitability, or pass them on to customers, potentially losing business to cheaper alternatives.

Supply Chain Disruptions: Volatile raw material prices can also lead to supply chain disruptions if suppliers are unable to secure consistent and affordable supplies. Also energy prices, coke prices and supply-demand balances can impact the raw material cost. This inconsistency can result in production delays and missed deadlines, damaging relationships with OEMs and other key clients.

Dependence on Imports

EV players rely heavily on imported components (e.g., lithium-ion cells, semiconductors), while ICE vehicles are affected by fluctuations in commodity prices (e.g., steel, aluminum). However, with growing electronic content in modern vehicles, ICE vehicles are also susceptible to semiconductor shortage.

Localization and Regulatory Barriers

Government initiatives (e.g., PLI, Atmanirbhar Bharat) require significant upfront capital investments, which some OEMs struggle to meet.

Increasing Competition

A surge in new entrants and portfolio expansions by legacy players intensifies competition, making customer acquisition challenging.

Skilled Labour Shortage

Skilled labour is one of the most important supply side aspects in the manufacturing sector. Training and retaining skilled workers in areas such as welding, fabricated assembly, surface finishing Industry is a key driving factor for success of any segment of the industry including Metal and Metal specific industry

Thus, inadequate availability of skilled labour can be one of the significant challenges impacting the Fabrication assemblies Industry in India. This shortage can span across various facets, from production to maintenance and innovation, ultimately affecting the industry's growth and global competitiveness.

Policy and Regulatory Challenges

Changes in tax and duties regime

Changes in duties and tax structures present significant threats to the automotive welding, tubular fabrication and fabricated assembly industry. These changes can have multifaceted impacts on cost structures, supply chains, and overall competitiveness.

This threat is particularly significant due to India's evolving tax landscape and the government's periodic adjustments to import duties and other taxes.

OUR BUSINESS

Some of the information in this section, especially information with respect to our plans and strategies, contains certain forward-looking statements that involve risks, assumptions, estimates and uncertainties. You should read “Forward-Looking Statements” beginning on page 58 for a discussion of the risks and uncertainties related to those statements and “Risk Factors” beginning on page 59 for a discussion of certain risks that may affect our business, financial condition or results of operations. Our actual results may differ materially from those expressed in, or implied by, these forward-looking statements.

We have included various operational and financial performance indicators in this Prospectus, many of which may not be derived from our Restated Consolidated Financial Information. Such indicators are not a measure of performance calculated in accordance with applicable accounting standards and are not defined under Ind AS, IFRS or U.S. GAAP, and therefore, should not be viewed as substitutes for performance, liquidity or profitability measures under such applicable accounting standards. The manner in which such operational and financial performance indicators are calculated and presented, and the assumptions and estimates used in such calculations, may vary from that used by other companies in India and other jurisdictions. Investors should consult their own advisors in making an investment decision and evaluate such information in the context of the Restated Consolidated Financial Information and other information relating to our business and operations included in this Prospectus. We have presented reconciliations of certain Non-GAAP Measures in “Other Financial Information” beginning on page 484.

We have included in this section various metrics based on ‘revenue from operations’ (which primarily comprises revenue generated from the sale of manufactured goods) as included in our Restated Consolidated Financial Information as well as value-added revenue (“VAR”). We define VAR as revenue from operations after excluding the cost of substrates. Substrates are porous ceramic filters coated with a catalyst - typically, precious metals such as platinum, palladium, and rhodium. We do not manufacture substrates; they are supplied to us by Tier II suppliers generally at the direction of our OEM customers, and we assemble the substrates into the final manufactured products that we sell to our OEM customers. They are a necessary component of exhaust aftertreatment systems for emission control. The need for substrate components grows for more sophisticated emission control solutions to meet more stringent environmental regulations for on road and off-road vehicles. These substrates are included in inventory and are “passed through” to the customer at cost, plus a nominal handling fee. Since we take title to the substrate inventory and have responsibility for both the delivery and quality of the finished product including the substrates, the revenues and related expenses are recorded at gross amounts. Substrate costs depend on precious metals prices, which may be volatile. While our OEM customers generally assume the risk of precious metals price volatility, it affects our reported revenue from operations and dilutes profitability margins at the revenue from operations level. Hence, we believe VAR is an important metric to understand our overall business because VAR eliminates the effect of this uncontrollable portion of our revenue from operations, including the effect of potentially volatile precious metals prices. Therefore, we have included metrics based on both revenue from operations and VAR. For details on the computation of VAR, see “Other Financial Information” beginning on page 484.

Our Customers

In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscal 2025, we served 101 and 119 customers, respectively, including all top seven PV OEMs in India and all top five CT OEMs in India (ranking of OEMs determined based on sales volume in Fiscal 2025) (Source: CRISIL Report). Our customers include global and well-known names such as Ashok Leyland Limited, Bajaj Auto Limited, Cummins India Limited, Daimler India Commercial Vehicle, Honda Motorcycle and Scooter India Private Limited, Hyundai Motor India Limited, John Deere India Private Limited, Kirloskar Oil Engines Limited, Mahindra & Mahindra Limited, Maruti Suzuki India Limited, Renault Nissan Automotive India Private Limited, Royal Enfield, Skoda Auto Volkswagen India Private Limited, Tata Motors Limited, Toyota Kirloskar Motor Private Limited, Vinfast Trading and Production Joint Stock Company, and VE Commercial Vehicles Limited.

We enjoy customer stickiness with long-standing relationships, as demonstrated by our top 10 customers having been with us for an average of 19.2 years, as of June 30, 2025. We are an integral part of our customers' product development cycles, working closely with them from the design stage to create customized, technology-intensive products critical for vehicle performance. The automotive industry is characterized by high customer stickiness due to the customized and technology-intensive nature of products, as well as the stringent and time-consuming product approval processes, which creates a barrier to entry for new suppliers (Source: CRISIL Report). As a result, existing suppliers with established relationships and approved products have a competitive advantage, leading to a stable and predictable revenue stream. The industry's dynamics favor long-term partnerships and relationships, where suppliers invest in research and development to meet the evolving needs of their customers, and customers prioritize reliability and quality over price and new supplier onboarding (Source: CRISIL Report). The programs awarded to us are typically long-term, lasting three to seven years for PV and CV programs. Historically, after awarding us the initial programs, our customers typically also award us subsequent or replacement programs.

Our Group Leverage

We derive advantages from Tenneco Group's global presence and brand strength, as well as its global standards of governance and operations, which bolster our operations and market position in India. We leverage Tenneco Group's global R&D initiatives to enhance our innovation capabilities and product offerings. We also capitalize on Tenneco Group's vendor relationships to optimize our raw material procurement processes and costs. In addition, Tenneco Group's established global partnerships facilitate business with key OEMs in India.

We are positioning ourselves as a production and export hub for major Tenneco Group markets, including North America, Europe, APAC and Africa. In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscal 2025, 2024 and 2023, we exported products to 18, 18, 20, 22, and 21 countries, respectively, including Argentina, Brazil, China, Czech Republic, Poland, Germany, Belgium, Indonesia, Thailand, Japan, Turkey, South Korea, Mexico, South Africa, the U.K., the U.S. and Vietnam.

We integrate proven Tenneco Group frameworks, such as the Office of Strategic Execution ("OSE"), the P3 Operating System and the P3X Accelerator Program, with our domestic expertise to drive innovation and operational efficiency.

- The OSE is responsible for driving rapid change, specifically targeting cost of goods sold and revenue growth across the company. It functions as a “skunk works” style team with a dotted line reporting structure to business units to drive changes across operations, including procurement, manufacturing, selling, general and administrative expenses, and R&D, as well as enabling revenue growth through volume targets, new customer acquisition, and pricing strategy.
- The P3 Operating System standardizes processes across our plants, facilitating enhanced efficiency, agility, and performance management.
- The P3X Accelerator Program focuses on building capabilities for consistent execution, strengthening our competitive edge in the industry.

R&D

We are committed to innovation, supported by our R&D (i.e., engineering, research and application development) capabilities in India and the ability to leverage Tenneco Group’s global initiatives and product portfolio. As of June 30, 2025, we operated two R&D technical centers in India equipped to address both global and local customer needs. Our R&D technical centers collaborate with Tenneco Group’s network of engineering and technical center worldwide, which as of December 31, 2024, comprised 39 engineering and technical centers (of which 12 centers support our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions division and 10 centers support our Advanced Ride Technologies division). We share information on emerging technologies and changing customer preferences with other geographical units in the Tenneco Group, facilitating the development of new products and technologies.

In India, we focus on “localization,” which involves adapting Tenneco Group’s global technologies to meet local needs and preferences, and onshoring manufacturing to India, where development and production costs are lower. This approach enhances our product offerings and optimizes cost efficiency, complemented by our investment in local engineering capabilities. We further benefit from Tenneco Group’s standardized global engineering processes and technical centers, ensuring efficient and reliable design validation and accelerated time-to-market. For example, in Fiscal 2024, we expedited the development of an advanced hydraulic rebound system, which offers superior ride quality compared to passive suspension systems, in India. This system, conceptualized by Tenneco Group overseas, was first brought to market in India before being introduced in other regions by the Tenneco Group. Similarly, in Fiscal 2020, when India implemented BS6, we leveraged Tenneco Group’s Euro 6-compliant Clean Air Solutions products to develop BS6-compliant products and introduced 45 new products across 26 vehicle platforms over a 13-month period between May 2019 and June 2020.

Our Manufacturing Facilities and Supply Chain

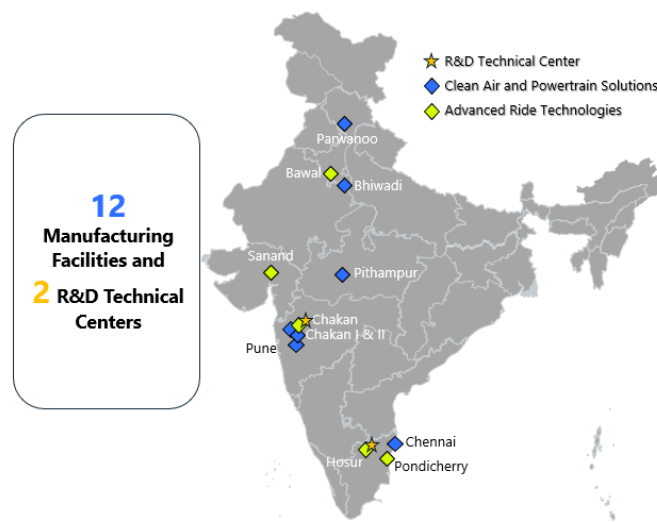

As of June 30, 2025, we operate 12 manufacturing facilities, comprising seven Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions facilities and five Advanced Ride Technologies facilities, across seven states and one union territory in India. These facilities are strategically positioned near our customers in key automotive OEM hubs such as Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu, National Capital Region (NCR) and Gujarat (Source: CRISIL Report), with most located in industrial estates to minimize delivery time. Our manufacturing facilities are equipped with modern technologies such as process automation, robotic and laser welding cells, and adhere to stringent quality standards including IATF 16949, ISO 45001 and ISO 14001 to ensure that our products meet customers’ expectations. Our Chakan I and Chennai Facilities are certified under Trusted Information Security Assessment Exchange (“TISAX”), a standard used in the automotive industry to assess and demonstrate information security.

For the quarter ended June 30, 2025, the installed production capacity for Clean Air Solutions was 694.75 thousand units for “cold end” products (mufflers and exhaust pipes), with a utilization rate of 46.37%; and 494.25 thousand units for “hot end” products (catalytic converters), with a utilization rate of 79.77 %. For the quarter ended June 30, 2025, for Advanced Ride Technologies, the installed production capacity was 5,169.27 thousand units, with a utilization rate of 86.16%. As of March 31, 2025, the annual installed production capacity for Clean Air Solutions was 2.58 million units for “cold end” products (mufflers and exhaust pipes), with a utilization rate of 54.81%; and 1.87 million units for “hot end” products (catalytic converters), with a utilization rate of 80.57%. For Advanced Ride Technologies, the annual installed production capacity was 20.68 million units, with a utilization rate of 83.00%. See also “Risk Factors—Internal Risk Factors—Our Bhiwadi Facility, Hosur Facility and Puducherry Facility currently operate at high-capacity utilization levels and we may not be able to meet additional demand for our products until we are able to increase our capacity. Further, if we underestimate or overestimate the demand for our products, the capacity utilization of our manufacturing plants may be under-utilized or over-utilized, respectively, which could adversely affect our profitability and manufacturing schedules.” on page 99 and “Our Business – Manufacturing – Facilities” on page 298.

We maintain a localized supply chain that complies with Tenneco Group’s global procurement standards. In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, domestic sources accounted for 86.57%, 86.75%, 91.53%, 91.94% and 92.47% of our cost of raw materials consumed (excluding the cost of substrates), respectively. We encourage our suppliers to have plants or warehouses near our facilities to help ensure timely receipt of materials and to manage fluctuations in production volumes. Our purchases of raw materials (including commodities and components) attributable to our top 10 suppliers in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscal 2025, 2024 and 2023 was ₹2,642.47 million, ₹2,555.19 million, ₹9,452.77 million, ₹14,969.96 million and ₹14,695.46 million, or 31.54%, 31.22%, 30.18%, 39.52% and 42.47% of our raw material purchases (net), respectively. The reduction in the dependency on our top ten suppliers in Fiscal 2025 compared to Fiscal 2024 was primarily due to a fall in substrate prices and some customers switching to lower cost Indian substrate suppliers, as we source substrates primarily from our top ten suppliers. Additionally, we started to manufacture catalytic converter casings in-house instead of importing them, which in turn reduced the overall purchases from top ten suppliers. For further details, see “Risk Factors – Internal Risk Factors –We depend on a limited number of suppliers to procure our raw materials and certain components (such as pressed parts, electrodes and bimetal strips). In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023 our purchases of raw materials from our top ten suppliers for the respective periods/Fiscals contributed to 31.54%, 31.22%, 30.18%, 39.52%, and 42.47% of our raw material purchases (net), respectively. For certain of our components such as pressed parts, electrodes and bimetal strips, we are dependent on a single supplier. Interruptions in the supply of raw materials and components could adversely affect our ability to manufacture our products, execute our projects and consequently our business and results.” on page 76.

We manage our capital investments effectively through strategies such as process automation, product modularization, part standardization, asset reuse, and just-in-time capacity planning, enabling us to adapt to changing customer demands across our markets. Our partnerships with suppliers and customers help optimize inventory turns, resulting in 32, 34, 34, 34 and 38 Inventory Days in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively. For further details of our manufacturing, see “ – Manufacturing–Facilities” on page 298.

Summary of our Financial Performance

We have achieved strong financial returns and margins over the last three Fiscals.

We believe that our strategies for operational efficiency (raw material cost improvements and management of other expenses) have improved our margin performance over the three months ended June 30, 2025 and past three Fiscals, and that our cash management practices, achieved by maintaining a tight working capital cycle, along with our capital allocation process through flexible manufacturing and cost-effective automation, have allowed us to remain Net Debt free in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023. We also maintained the highest ROCE and ROE among our peers in Fiscal 2025 (Source: CRISIL Report). This performance provides us with the financial and operational strength to invest in new facilities to meet customer demand and highlight our profitable growth.

A summary of our key financial metrics are set forth below for the periods/Fiscals indicated.

We believe we enjoy customer stickiness due to the customized, technology-intensive nature of our products and the stringent, time-consuming approval processes required by our customers. OEMs prefer single suppliers for critical components to ensure consistent quality, streamline logistics, and enable close collaboration on design and performance (Source: CRISIL Report). This approach reduces variability and enhances efficiency, though it requires strong trust and risk management due to dependency on one source (Source: CRISIL Report).

This product development process includes design analysis and validation, prototyping, and product testing, with our engineering teams collaborating closely with customers beginning with the design stage. The approval process often includes audits and inspections by our customers' quality assurance teams, who assess our manufacturing facilities, production processes, and quality control measures. In India, mandatory homologation, overseen by the Automotive Research Association of India ("ARAI"), certifies that a vehicle is roadworthy and meets specified criteria. Changing a component supplier for a program would necessitate re-certification with the ARAI. The significant investment of time and resources in these processes makes customers reluctant to switch suppliers during the course of a program.

As of June 30, 2025, we have been awarded 427 programs for which we have commenced production (358 programs for Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions and 69 programs for Advanced Ride Technologies) from over 50 customers across our product portfolio, both in India and overseas.

2. Strategically diversified portfolio of proprietary products and solutions well positioned to capture market and industry trends

In addition to supplying OEMs, we generate revenue from the aftermarket and exports, traditionally counter-cyclic revenue streams. As different geographies experience economic cycles at different points of time as opposed to concurrently, we pursue export opportunities to other Tenneco Group companies and OEMs. This revenue structure reduces the impact of downturns in the automotive industry and promotes stability and resilience in our financial performance.

3. Innovation-focused approach aided by our ability to leverage Tenneco Group's global R&D initiatives to cross-deploy global technologies for proprietary, modular and customized products at Indian price points

We are committed to innovation, supported by our R&D capabilities and the ability to leverage Tenneco Group's global R&D initiatives and product portfolio. As of June 30, 2025, Tenneco Group is the owner of more than 5,000 active patents and patent applications worldwide and more than 7,500 active trademarks worldwide. Our R&D initiatives, driven by our technical team often in close collaboration with our customers, develop innovative, cost-effective and customized systems and solutions. As of the date of this Prospectus, we have nine designs registered under Class 12 - 16 of the Designs Act 2000 and one patent registered under the Patents Act, 1970 in India.

As of June 30, 2025, we operated two R&D technical centers in India equipped to address global and local customer needs. Our Clean Air Solutions technical center at our Chakan I Facility in Pune conducts functional simulations based on customer inputs or benchmark data, such as Computational Fluid Dynamics ("CFD"), and engages in product testing through its four test cells. The technical center is equipped for hot shaker, bending fatigue, weld fatigue, thermal shock, thermal cycle, and vibration testing, which are crucial for validating product performance and durability. Post-test analysis capabilities include weld seam analysis and material composition analysis. Our test facilities are certified by global customers such as John Deere and Skoda Auto Volkswagen India Private Limited. Our R&D technical center at our Hosur Facility engages in prototyping, testing and validation to ensure the performance, reliability and durability of our Advanced Ride Technologies products, complemented by mobile labs that can be relocated to customer sites across India to fine-tune vehicle ride and handling performance directly on test tracks.

The following case studies highlight R&D collaborations with customers, leveraging global technologies to localize products, and pioneering new products and technologies in India:

A. Collaborative product development with Customer A Challenge: Customer A, an Indian automotive manufacturer, required a cost-effective and efficient exhaust aftertreatment system to replace their existing "switchback" architecture, which featured a two-stage mixer external tube within a box cover enclosure. The key feature was to have a standard system fitting and mounting applicable to all models.

Solution: We and Customer A co-developed a "C-type" exhaust aftertreatment system architecture. This innovative design incorporates an advanced mixer built into the transition channels between the Oxidation Module (DOC and DPF) and the Reduction Module (SCR), while maintaining the standard system architecture and mounting across models. The compact "C-Shape" system includes a uniquely designed conical swirl mixer reactor integrated within the exhaust gas transfer chambers.

Impact: The "C-Shape" system delivered improved performance over its predecessor, achieving over 20% reduction in weight. This advancement led to increased productivity at the manufacturing plant, with fewer parts and a simpler architecture, resulting in higher capacity through production automation. Moreover, we believe close collaborations where we co-develop solutions with our customers from the ground up enhance customer stickiness.

B. Leveraging Tenneco Group’s European products to pioneer BS6-compliant solutions in India

Challenge: India’s rapid transition from BS4 in 2017 to BS6 in 2020—compared to Europe’s nearly decade-long transition from Euro 4 in 2005 to Euro 6 in 2014—posed significant challenges due to differences in cost, infrastructure, and vehicle specifications. Achieving a 50% reduction in particulate matter and an 87% reduction in NOx as required by BS6 required substantial innovation.

Solution: We utilized Tenneco Group’s European Clean Air Solutions products, which complied with Euro 6 standards, to develop India-specific solutions by making necessary adjustments, such as incorporating urea mixing technology to comply with BS6. To support demand, we expanded manufacturing capabilities with new plants in Pithampur, Chakan, and Chennai, and implemented training programs to equip teams with next generation emission technology skills.

Impact: We introduced 45 new BS6 compliant products in India across 26 vehicle platforms over a 13-month period between May 2019 and June 2020. Our BS6-compliant CT platform enabled us to acquire new customers, including Kirloskar Oil Engines Limited. This demonstrates our ability to leverage Tenneco Group’s capabilities to launch products quickly.

C. Introduction of India’s first electronic suspension system for Mahindra Challenge: Mahindra sought advanced suspension solutions to differentiate its upcoming EVs by enhancing ride comfort and handling through real-time suspension adjustments.

Solution: We introduced continuously variable semi-active suspension electronic dampers for Mahindra’s EV models. This involved developing modular parts and training our Indian engineers in Europe and North America. We collaborated with Tenneco Group’s European experts to tailor the software for Indian road conditions and manufactured the dampers in Europe, with modular assembly in India to ensure efficient delivery.

Impact: The introduction of the continuously variable semi-active suspension electronic dampers enhanced Mahindra’s BE6 and XEV 9e EV models by improving ride comfort and stability and offering driver-selectable modes (Comfort, Standard, Sport). This innovation earned us the “Innovation Award for XEV9E & BE6” at the 2025 Mahindra Supplier Conference and highlights the strong collaboration among Mahindra, Tenneco Europe and us.

4. Flexible and automated manufacturing footprint of 12 strategically located plants well-supported by a localized supply chain

We have 12 manufacturing facilities across seven states and one union territory in India, comprising seven Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions facilities and five Advanced Ride Technology facilities, as of June 30, 2025. Our facilities are strategically located in key automotive OEM hubs in India such as Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu, National Capital Region (NCR) and Gujarat (Source: CRISIL Report). This geographic diversity allows us to serve major automotive markets across India while optimizing freight and logistics cost, providing our clients with timely and reliable access to our products. For further details for our manufacturing, see “–Manufacturing–Facilities” on page 298.

We believe that our existing manufacturing facilities, as supplemented by ordinary course production line expansion, are sufficient to support our current business with incremental capital expenditure for new business. In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscal 2025, 2024 and 2023, we have expanded our manufacturing capacity using internal accruals, without relying on long-term bank borrowings, a practice we intend to continue given our financial position. We generally plan for and invest in expanding our manufacturing capacity based on our estimated customer base expansion. We take a customer-centric approach by locating our facilities close to our customers, enabling us to swiftly address customer needs. For example, in 2018, we were awarded a contract by Volvo Eicher Commercial Vehicles Limited, in Pithampur, Madhya Pradesh, prompting us to establish a new manufacturing facility in Pithampur to meet local demand expectations.

Our facilities are equipped with advanced technologies and quality production processes, including automated production processes with remote diagnostics, robotic cells, and laser markings for product traceability. Our assembly lines are digitized for efficient inspection and recording. We employ precision manufacturing techniques such as robotic welding, grinding and electroplating in controlled environments to maintain quality and cleanliness. We also operate high-speed automated production lines and integrated systems for various components, including laser welding. Additionally, our plants feature IATF-certified measurement rooms with laser 3D scanners and facilities for detailed material analysis and precision measurement. Our focus on safety has resulted in a recordable incident rate¹ of less than 0.25 in the three months ended June 30, 2025. We are supporting customer satisfaction through our product quality, achieving a customer defect rate of less than two parts per million parts supplied and delivery rate² greater than 99.00% in the three months ended June 30, 2025.

Our manufacturing facilities are supported by a highly localized supply chain aimed at efficiency and cost optimization. The tables below set forth the breakdown of our cost of materials consumed including and excluding substrates from domestic and imported sources for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

We have established a Tier II supply base across India. By sourcing materials and components locally, we shorten lead times, minimize costs and enhance the overall product quality. We encourage key long-distance suppliers to have warehouses near our plants to minimize transportation risks. Our global supplier selection processes ensure quality and cost-effectiveness, leveraging global relationships with competitive suppliers, particularly for steel, our primary commodity. For further details see, “Raw Materials and Suppliers” on page 311. We maintain multiple suppliers across commodities to mitigate supply chain risks and have supplier agreements to ensure capacity for uninterrupted supply. Our procurement and planning processes are designed to ensure supply chain readiness, resilience and security. Our partnership with suppliers allows us to maintain optimal inventory levels. Typically, we receive forecasts from three to six months in advance from our customers, which we use to plan for materials. Based on the customer production plan, we provide daily and weekly plans to our suppliers. For high-value imports, we generally collaborate with OEMs and the relevant import supplier for long-term planning. Additionally, we leverage volume across all our locations within India and abroad through the Tenneco Group to drive economies of scale and enhance supply chain flexibility. We also leverage Tenneco Group’s global purchasing power to negotiate price and payment terms with suppliers. Regular supplier audits ensure our customers are protected in terms of cost, quality, and delivery, while SAP-based production planning and supplier schedule forecasting enhance delivery performance.

Our commitment to lean manufacturing and common operating standards is exemplified by our “first time right” approach, fostering a culture of inbuilt quality through process design, equipment selection, and continuous training and development at all levels. Our manufacturing technology ensures that our products meet global standards at local costs and speed to market through standardized products. We regularly participate in the QCFI and have won awards on our case study presentation on quality improvement and the KAIZEN continuous improvement award in Fiscal 2024.

Our “program launch” system or “TenPlus” monitors all business program stages, from project award to design verification, including product development and industrialization phases. Gate checklists and timely escalation aim to ensure that all phases are completed within given timelines. Furthermore, our global strategic initiatives such as the OSE have been instrumental in enhancing operational efficiency and yield improvements. By establishing task forces and leveraging plant-level teams for the resourcing of direct and indirect materials, these initiatives have contributed to optimizing our operational and material cost structures over the past years.

Our “P3” operating system, focused on People, Performance, and Pride, drives further efficiency and plant standardization. Through P3, we continuously focus on monitoring safety performance (including significant injury and fatality rates, and safety improvements), people development (measured by the number of P3 training modules completed), quality leadership (assessed by component yield rate, planned and unplanned manufacturing scrap, and customer concerns per million), cost leadership (evaluated through EBITDA, inventory days in hand, year-over-year cost improvements, and labor productivity), delivery performance, plant maturity systems (illustrating both performance and the methods by which metrics are achieved), and the 5S methodology (a system for maintaining shop floor cleanliness and visual standards). Cross-functional collaboration between plants and central functions such as sales, purchasing, human resources, and finance help lower our operating costs and selling, general, and administrative expenses.

5. Strong financial performance supported by growth, profitability and efficient use of capital

We believe our track record of growth, profitability and efficient use of capital positions us well for continued success and underscores our commitment to delivering value to our stakeholders. Over the past three Fiscals, we experienced growth and improved our margins. Our restated profit for the year increased from ₹3,810.43 million in Fiscal 2023 to ₹4,167.87 million in Fiscal 2024 and ₹5,531.43 million in Fiscal 2025, representing a CAGR of 20.48% and increased from ₹1,503.08 million in the three months ended June 30, 2024 to ₹1,680.88 million in the three months ended June 30, 2025, representing an increase of 11.83%. Our Strategies

The strategies described below have been approved by way of a board resolution passed by our Board of Directors at their meeting held on June 30, 2025.

1. Capturing market opportunities driven by tightening emission standards

Our Clean Air Solutions business benefits from stricter emissions standards. Traditionally, India has implemented stricter emission standards across the PV, CV, and industrial markets, such as BS6, Construction Equipment Vehicle (CEV-IV) and Tractor Emission Norms Stage IV (TREM IV). India and other countries are expected to continue implementing stricter emission standards across the PV, CV and OH end markets, such as Corporate Average Fuel Efficiency/Economy (CAFE) norms, Tractor Emission Regulation of India V (TREM V), Bharat Stage 7 (BS7), Construction Equipment Vehicle (CEV-V) and Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB IV+) (Source: CRISIL Report).

These new standards aim to further reduce levels of harmful emissions such as hydrocarbons, carbon dioxide, nitrogen oxides and particulate matter, from vehicles (Source: CRISIL Report), meaning that more sophisticated emissions technologies and components in vehicles will be required, thereby increasing demand for our Clean Air

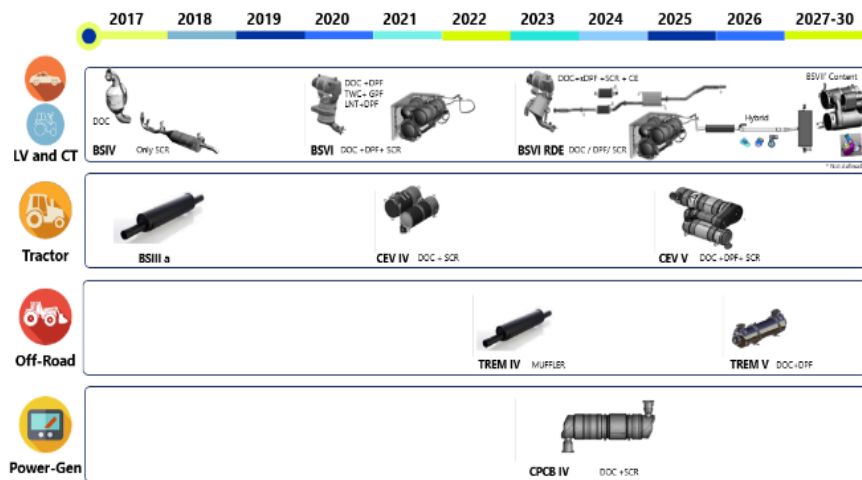

Solutions products. Tightening standards have historically required substantial investment in engine technology, after-treatment systems, and fuel quality upgrades, resulting in higher content per vehicle (“CPV”) (Source: CRISIL Report).

Our Clean Air Solutions business is strategically positioned to capitalize on increasingly stringent global and regional emission standards. With our diversified end-market spanning CVs and PVs and increasing CPV trends, we are well-positioned to sustain our growth irrespective of evolving electrification in PVs / CVs.

The image below details certain historical and expected changes following implementation of new emission standards.

DOC refers to diesel oxidation catalysts; DPF refers to diesel particulate filters; GPF refers to gasoline particulate filters; PM refers to particulate matter; RDE refers to real driving emissions standards; and SCR refers to selective catalytic reduction. (Source: CRISIL Report)

We plan to target key OEMs across all end markets with modular and standardized emission control solutions that are compliant with BS7, CAFE norms, TREM V, CPCB and CEV. Our strategy involves early engagement with both Indian and global OEMs to offer Clean Air Solutions products compliant with future standards. By tailoring global technologies to India-specific needs, we expect this strategy to enable faster time to market and strengthen our market position.

2. Capitalizing on trends toward premiumization, SUVs, EVs and hybrids

Capitalizing on the trends toward premiumization (i.e., rising PV prices), SUVs, EVs and hybrids presents a substantial opportunity for our business. As the market shifts towards premium vehicles, SUVs, EVs and hybrids, the demand for higher technological requirements is expected to translate to increased CPV and demand for our high-performance products (Source: CRISIL Report).

The diagram below illustrates the rising PV price trend, increase SUVs as a percentage of PVs and EV penetration in PVs.

Note: The above graphical representations are based on data provided in the CRISIL Report
(1) Based on OEM factory cost for Indian PVs.

In India, PVs are categorized into hatchbacks, sedans, SUVs, multipurpose vehicles and vans. Historically, cost-conscious buyers prioritized fuel efficiency and initial purchase cost, making hatchbacks the most popular segment due to their affordability and lower running costs (Source: CRISIL Report). However, a growing number of younger, globally exposed buyers now prioritize driving experience, safety, advanced features, aesthetics, and comfort, especially considering India’s challenging road conditions, leading to increased demand for premium vehicles (Source: CRISIL Report). OEMs have responded by enhancing vehicle safety and incorporating advanced features in recent launches, even in mid-level vehicles. Furthermore, rising disposable incomes have further fueled growth in the SUV segment (Source: CRISIL Report).

We plan to capitalize on premiumization trends. Premiumization has led to a focus on delivering high performance engines that provide exceptional acceleration and responsiveness. Premium vehicles often feature advanced technologies that improve fuel efficiency and reduce emission. Premiumization has also led to a focus on smaller or higher performance vehicles. As a result, there has been an increase in the need for smaller engines. Therefore, manufacturers are using turbocharging and supercharging technologies to boost power and efficiency. Smaller engines are typically lighter, which can lead to a reduction in the overall weight of the vehicle. This reduced weight can result in less stress on the shocks and struts. Hence, smaller engines can enable the use of advanced materials such as lightweight metals and composites in the suspension components including shocks and struts. These materials can provide improved performance, durability and weight reduction (Source: CRISIL Report).

Our business divisions’ targeted approaches to capture the opportunities presented by these trends are set out below:

Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions: In the Clean Air Solutions business, our modular system approach in exhaust aftertreatment systems allows us to create a versatile product portfolio that caters to the larger engine-sized SUV segments experiencing market growth.

In the Powertrain business, we are focused on developing products for ICE vehicles, including mild hybrid and plug-in hybrid, addressing tight packaging space constraints and optimizing products to be compliant with CAFE norms set by the OEMs. Tight packaging space constraints arise due to the limited space available within a vehicle to accommodate components, especially in hybrid vehicles where additional systems, such as electric motors and battery packs, must be integrated alongside traditional powertrain components. Our products are designed to maximize efficiency and performance within these confined spaces, ensuring that hybrid vehicles can meet the CAFE norms fuel efficiency targets while maintaining functionality and reliability.

By strategically aligning with these trends, we aim to capture market opportunities, strengthen OEM partnerships, and improve our market position.

Advanced Ride Technologies: Our Advanced Ride Technologies products are engineered to deliver superior ride quality and performance, aligning with premiumization and EV trends to generate higher CPV and enhance our market position. We will continue to focus on innovative technologies, including continuously variable semi-active suspension electronic dampers for better ride handling, hollow rods for weight savings, and Adaptive Ride Height Suspension System 2.0 for noise elimination and improved ride quality. We expect to further leverage advancements like next generation suspension valve technology for enhanced tuning and performance.

The table below details certain historical and expected changes in suspension technologies.

Note: RV refers to rebound valve; MTV refers to multi-tune valve; CV refers to compression valve; MTV CL refers to multi-tunable valve control logic; CV+ refers to the upgraded version of compression valve; FDD RC1 refers to frequency dependent damping, revision control 1; SDD refers to stroke dependent damping; CVSAe refers to continuously variable semi active - external valve; and CVSAe2/Kinetic refers to continuously variable semi active - external two valves with kinetic technology (for hydraulic anti-rolle pitch control system).

3. Enhancing competitiveness through strategic localization – “Make in India”

Localization involves adapting global technologies for the Indian market, thereby allowing our domestic customers to differentiate their vehicles in a highly competitive market. Benefits of localization include lower logistics cost, reduced supply chain risks, reduced import duties, cost competitiveness. However, in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023 we did not receive any grants, subsidies or other benefits from the Government in connection with our localization efforts. Through localization, we aim to improve margins, expand our share of wallet with customers by improving responsiveness and matching target prices and grow our presence at key OEMs, particularly in under-penetrated categories such as CVs.

Localizing Advanced Ride Technologies’ critical components and global products to gain further market share: We have transitioned leading Indian OEMs from passive suspension products to advanced technologies from Tenneco Group’s portfolio, including the Advanced Hydraulic Rebound System, to meet the growing demand for enhanced ride experience and comfort. However, our reliance on imported components for these technologies presents an opportunity for further localization. By manufacturing valving technologies in India, we aim to reduce logistics costs, government duties, and supply chain risks, thereby lowering costs for our customers, increasing CPV, expanding market share, and improving margins. We expect these localization efforts to allow us to continue capturing market demand for these advanced suspension products at lower costs.

Localizing Powertrain products to improve cost competitiveness and increase revenue: We continue to explore localization strategies which typically deliver cost savings and could lead to competitive differentiation. For example, we aim to localize Tenneco Group’s patented IROX bearings. These polymer-coated bearings are particularly suitable for India’s road conditions, where vehicles frequently start and stop, as they reduce engine friction and enhance efficiency. While IROX bearings offer benefits, importing them incurs a premium. By localizing the manufacturing of IROX bearings, we expect to improve our cost competitiveness and increase our share of wallet with customers in India.

Our localization efforts also extend to ceramic spark plugs. We are collaborating with a supplier to produce ceramic components locally, with technical support from Tenneco Group’s engineering team. This initiative involves developing capabilities to manufacture specialized ceramics and custom powders that meet the dielectric and mechanical strength requirements for spark plug applications.

4. Positioning our operations in India as an export hub with global manufacturing standards

India is emerging as a key export hub for automotive components, driven by companies diversifying their manufacturing bases, and India’s lower costs, supportive government policies, and strategic location near growing markets (Source: CRISIL Report). We are focused on further establishing India as a central hub for exports, both for the Tenneco Group and for third-party OEMs. We aim to leverage our access to global customers and manufacturing capabilities to serve international markets efficiently and cost-effectively, while maintaining global standards.

In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, we exported products to 18, 18, 20, 22 and 21 countries, respectively. For example, we export our engine bearings to multiple Tenneco Group locations in Europe and supply our exhaust aftertreatment systems to multiple global regions for a multinational CT OEM customer. In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, our VAR from export sales was ₹933.58 million, ₹522.25 million, ₹2,830.45 million, ₹2,159.67 million and ₹3,000.15, representing 8.00%, 4.81%, 6.46%, 5.06% and 7.69% of our VAR, respectively. This indicates significant potential to increase our export VAR. We believe our competitive products, design and manufacturing capabilities, and cost savings resulting from the localization initiatives described above, makes us a preferred supplier for Tenneco Group companies and global third-party OEM customers.

The graphic below shows the products we currently export:

Third-party OEMs: We intend to leverage our Indian engineering capabilities to reduce costs for our customers and target white spaces that Tenneco Group does not currently serve by directly acquiring new business from India. Additionally, leveraging our expertise and complementary product lines, we are exploring the production of other components in adjacent product segments to drive further growth.

Leveraging the Tenneco Group ecosystem: We aim to increase exports from India to serve other entities within the Tenneco Group, leveraging Tenneco Group’s ecosystem. We plan to enhance vertical integration, including transferring or shifting manufacturing lines from other countries to India, to better serve Tenneco Group entities.

5. Continued focus on R&D and innovation

Our commitment to R&D and innovation is central to our strategy. We intend to penetrate white spaces and expand our share of wallet with existing clients by introducing new products that leverage innovative technologies. We will continue to focus on identifying and addressing emerging global trends to deliver advanced technology, while adapting features to meet local customer preferences and requirements. We will enhance our internal capabilities and continue to leverage Tenneco Group’s global R&D initiatives and insights. Our strategy includes investing in engineering teams and software development for suspension technologies to enhance electronics penetration in ride dynamics within India, training our Indian teams in Europe and North America, and building a mobile lab for advanced suspension systems. To capture opportunities in alternative, sustainable fuels, we are currently in the product prototype sample submission and validation stage for Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions products suitable for alternatives to ICE. Our R&D initiatives include:

Transition to low-carbon technologies: We are developing hydrogen engine exhaust solutions through proprietary simulation tools, new materials for hydrogen combustion conditions and specialized laboratory capable of generating hydrogen impact data. Our modular exhaust solutions for hydrogen, hybridization and other renewable fuels under development include ignition coils with diagnostic features and spark plugs with retracted design geometry to prevent hydrogen pre-ignition, engine misfiring, and knocking.

We are a member of hydrogen alliances in Europe and the United States.

Driving emission compliance and fuel efficiency: We are exploring thermal management and energy recovery systems that optimize aftertreatment performance and reduce emissions. We have developed SCR technologies that deliver NOx reduction with improved exhaust gas mixing performance. Our CO₂ -reduction focused performance products aim to improve fuel economy and reduce friction through various innovations. These include sealing solutions and coating technologies (such as IROX bearings) for engine efficiency, high-temperature and high-strength materials for thermal efficiency, and lightweight technologies including composite tubes for damper bodies, plastic spring seats, aluminum dampers, and hollow piston rods. We are not just responding to regulations—we are anticipating them with our product developments.

Enabling premiumization and hybridization: To support the growing trend of vehicle premiumization and hybridization, we have developed hydraulic rebound stoppers for speed bumps and potholes, rebound valves and frequency dependent damping for rough roads, and semi-active control valves for comfort and handling in premium vehicles such as SUVs and high-end electric vehicles. Our acoustic tuning innovations help improve driving experiences in hybrids and engines with poor sound characteristics.

6. Further leverage efficiencies and cross-selling across two divisions to drive overall growth profile

Following the consolidation of our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions and Advanced Ride Technologies business divisions under one management, we aim to drive revenue growth by cross-selling across our business divisions. Our strategy will leverage long-term customer relationships within one division to capture opportunities in another division or business line, focusing on white spaces or un-serviced customer programs. For example, we have long-term PV OEM customers in our Advanced Ride Technologies division who are not yet customers of our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions division. We plan to leverage our relationships to target specific engine programs with our powertrain products and expand our presence with these customers.

To support our cross-selling efforts, we rely on our common key raw material sourcing, which provides benefits such as reduced development time and better pricing leverage due to using a common set of suppliers. Our standardized P3 and OSE operating model further aids cross-selling by facilitating quicker plant certification by customers and compliance with customer-specific audits through the P3 shop floor performance monitoring system. Additionally, cost improvement methodologies through OSE initiatives enable us to offer competitive pricing and offset the impact of year-over-year price reductions expected by customers. Other benefits include standardized program management, footprint leverage, and common key account resources.

7. Continued focus on operational efficiencies to ensure sustained improvement in profit and cash generation

Our strategy focuses on enhancing operational efficiencies to drive sustained margin and cash improvements, particularly in light of industry challenges such as tariffs. We have already improved our margins in the past three Fiscals by targeting key areas impacting the bottom line such as material costs, manufacturing and direct labor expenses, as well as indirect functions like selling, general, and administrative expenses and R&D. For example, our cost of raw materials consumed as a percentage of revenue from operations improved from 70.37% in Fiscal 2023 to 70.15% in Fiscal 2024 and 65.05% in Fiscal 2025. For the three months ended 30 June 2025, this continued to improve to 64.42%, compared to 66.69% for the three months ended 30 June 2024. Our cost of raw materials consumed excluding cost of substrates as a percentage of VAR improved from 63.34% in Fiscal 2023 to 61.76% in Fiscal 2024 and 60.98% in Fiscal 2025. For the three months ended 30 June 2025, this was stable at 60.79%, compared to 60.98% for the three months ended 30 June 2024. We will continue to focus on these initiatives while leveraging our global procurement power to optimize direct purchasing and supplier negotiations, improving our manufacturing capabilities through our P3 operating systems and implementing a “clean sheet” approach (i.e. analyzing cost elements and optimizing costs in a systematic manner) to rightsizing selling, general, and administrative expenses and R&D. Additionally, we aim to continue to improve our Payable Days and Receivable Days and optimize our inventory.

In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, we maintained Receivable Days below 50 days and our Payable Days were 100 days, 95 days, 105 days, 89 days and 90 days, respectively. We leverage our partnership with key suppliers and strengthen their financial position by helping them obtain vendor financing which allows for longer account payable days. The table below sets forth our raw material cost and inventory cycle for the periods/Fiscals indicated.

Cost of goods sold comprises Cost of materials consumed, Purchases of Stock in Trade and Changes in inventories of finished goods, semi finished goods and Stock in trade

We plan to further optimize our inventory levels and reduce Inventory Days through the P3 initiative, which enhances our efficiency through fast inventory changeovers and standardized, modular processes that minimize work-in-progress inventory and variants of the same components. We will continue to leverage vendor-managed inventory models, where suppliers provide inventory on a just-in-time basis.

Additionally, we plan to increase our production capacity in line with growing demand and technological advancements in a capital-efficient manner. Our modular and standardized design and manufacturing approach allows us to reuse and redeploy assets.

Our Products

Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions

Our Clean Air Solutions products and systems are designed to reduce pollution and optimize engine performance and acoustic tuning. Vehicle emission control products and systems play a critical role in safely conveying noxious exhaust gases away from the passenger compartment and reducing the level of pollutants and engine exhaust noise to acceptable levels. Precise engineering of the exhaust system - which extends from the manifold that connects an engine's exhaust ports to an exhaust pipe, to the catalytic converter that eliminates pollutants from the exhaust, and to the muffler that modulates noise emissions - leads to a tuned engine sound, reduced pollutants, and optimized engine performance.

We also offer Powertrain Solutions products to PV, CV and Industrial/Others OEM customers for use in new production and for the aftermarket. There are three product lines, (i) ignition, which includes spark plugs and ignition coils; (ii) bearings, which include main bearings, connecting rod bearings, connecting rod bushes, and thrust washers/flanges; and (iii) sealings, which include hot and cold gaskets, multi-layer-steel ("MLS") gaskets and heat shields (collectively, "powertrain products").

The following diagrams set forth details of the product lines sold by our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions divisions:

We also enter into transactions with entities in the Tenneco Group from time to time, including for the sale of our products and services. For further details, see “Risk Factors – Internal Risk Factors – We depend on entities in the Tenneco Group for our operations, such as the license of brands, patented designs, technical know-how, purchase of certain parts and materials, and R&D. Any adverse change in our relationship, including the termination of our License Agreement, could have an adverse impact on our business, reputation, financial condition, and results of operations” on page 60.

Customer Contracts

For OEM customers, we typically enter into general purchase agreements that set out the general terms, supplemented by purchase orders that specify pricing while order quantities are updated through order schedules. Most of our customers provide us with forecasts of order volumes and a tentative delivery schedule, as well as annual sales projections that help us estimate the production requirements and capital expenditure for that product line.

We also receive long-term production contracts for specific products supplied for vehicles with target volumes. These supply relationships typically extend over the life of the related vehicle, subject to interim design and technical specification revisions. In addition to customary commercial terms and conditions, long-term production contracts generally provide for annual price adjustments based on expected productivity improvements, material price variations, and other factors. OEM customers typically retain the right to terminate agreements due to changing business conditions. OEM order fulfillment is typically manufactured in response to customer purchase order releases.

Open purchase orders generally contain the commercial terms of supply for the program including price, delivery location and certain “Incoterms”, which are pre-defined commercial terms published by the International Chamber of Commerce relating to international commercial law. The purchase orders are typically subject to conditions such as ensuring that all products delivered to the customer have been inspected and will be safe for use, that orders will be fulfilled according to predetermined delivery schedules and that all products will be built to customer specifications. Some of our customers have the right to check and verify our relevant manufacturing systems processes, which may include inspection of the manufacturing facilities, review of the manufacturing processes and review of the raw materials. Furthermore, our purchase or supply contracts contain a provision that warrants conformity of products to specifications or descriptions furnished by the customers and further warrants that products delivered will be merchantable and free from defects.

Under customer purchase orders, we are usually entitled to pass on price escalations of specified input materials to our customers. This includes steel and substrates. Other production costs such as the cost of fuel, spares, manpower, inventory carrying cost and currency fluctuations are typically borne by us and are subject to ongoing negotiations.

Aftermarket

We sell our products to the aftermarket primarily through Motocare, a Tenneco Group Company. Additionally, OEMs sell some of our products to their dealers for use as spare parts in the aftermarket (original equipment spare parts (“OES”)). Our aftermarket products include spark plugs, bearings and suspension systems, which are sold under the Monroe and Champion brands.

Until October 2023, our Advanced Ride Technologies division conducted direct sales to the aftermarket. From October 2023 onwards, we transitioned to selling all of our aftermarket products to Motocare (in addition to other entities in the Tenneco Group), which then sell them to the aftermarket. We do not engage third-party dealers to market, sell, and deliver products in the aftermarket.

For the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024, 2023, our revenues from our sales to Motocare (which were subsequently sold to the aftermarket by Motocare) were ₹627.79 million, ₹575.72 million, ₹2,315.97 million, ₹1,757.26 million and ₹610.37 million, or 4.88%, 4.53%, 4.74%, 3.21% and 1.26% of our revenue from operations, or 5.38%, 5.31%, 5.29%, 4.12%, and 1.56% of our VAR, respectively.

Note:

(1) “Programs awarded” refers to programs which are contracted to us. There is generally a time lag between the time we receive a program award and the time when the OEM commences commercial production for that program. Accordingly, the programs that commenced production in a period/Fiscal include programs that were awarded in prior periods/Fiscals.

A program refers to a project officially contracted or commissioned by an OEM to a manufacturer for the development and supply of specific components or systems for a particular vehicle model or series. It typically includes a commitment to deliver the agreed-upon parts within specified timelines, quality standards, and cost parameters. Our customers’ supplier selection process can take anywhere from six to over 18 months, starting from the issuance of a RFQ to the awarding of the program. The programs awarded to us are typically long-term, lasting three to seven years for PV and CV programs.

Manufacturing

Plant and Machinery

Our facilities are equipped with a comprehensive array of manufacturing equipment.

Our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions business uses CNC pipe bending machines, and automatic muffler manufacturing machines for manufacturing pipes and mufflers. For catalytic converter manufacturing, we have fully automated converter canning lines and assembly welding robots supported by auto leak testers and laser marking machines with digital data recording features.

Our engine bearing manufacturing facilities use sintering machines with integrated furnaces, and blanking, coining and forming presses. Our Bhiwadi plant for ignition systems has high speed automated machines for center and terminal electrode manufacturing, precious metal tip welding processes and ceramic glazing furnaces for manufacturing spark plugs. Our sealing facility has high tonnage blanking and forming presses and ultrasonic cleaning and laser welding for our precision MLS gaskets.

Our Advanced Ride Technologies business uses hydraulic presses, special purpose robotic welding machines, and high precision assembly lines with data integrity and digital data recording for our shock absorber and strut manufacturing. Sintered components used in shock absorber assembly are manufactured using high-capacity compaction presses and temperature-controlled furnaces at our Puducherry facility.

We own all of the machinery described above.

Facilities

As of June 30, 2025, we had 12 manufacturing facilities strategically located near key OEM hubs in India, comprising four manufacturing facilities for Clean Air Solutions, three manufacturing facilities for our Powertrain Solutions and five manufacturing facilities for Advanced Ride Technologies products.

All our facilities ordinarily operate 24 hours a day, six days a week, except on national holidays. Set forth below are images of our manufacturing facilities.

- (1) The installed capacity for the above dates is calculated based on the past production mix in the respective period/Fiscal. The installed capacity information of the Company and Subsidiaries is based on rated installed capacity of all machinery for the highest-produced product during the preceding period/Fiscal, taken on a quarterly basis for interim periods (unannualized) and on an annual basis for each fiscal year. Installed capacity information is based on various assumptions and estimates, including standard capacity calculation practice installed at the relevant manufacturing facility. Assumptions and estimates taken into account for measuring installed capacities are based on 75 working days in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and 300 working days in a Fiscal on a six day, three shift basis.
- (2) Actual production represents quantum of production in the relevant manufacturing facility in the relevant period/Fiscal.
- (3) Capacity utilization is calculated as quantum of production in the relevant facility in the relevant period/Fiscal, divided by the capacity available of relevant manufacturing facility during the relevant period/Fiscal. Capacity available during the period/Fiscal represents the installed capacity that was available during the relevant period/Fiscal (taken on a quarterly basis for interim periods (unannualized) and on an annual basis for each fiscal year) and is calculated based on the aggregate of monthly installed capacity.
- (4) Production at the Chakan II Facility started in Fiscal 2025.
- (5) The Chakan ART Facilities receives base shock absorbers from our Hosur and Bawal Facilities for the modular assembly of peripheral parts according to our customer requirements.
- (6) The Puducherry Facility for our Advanced Ride Technologies division manufactures and supplies sintered parts to our Hosur, Bawal and Sanand Facilities to manufacture struts and shock absorbers.
- (7) Cold ends capacity utilization at our Chakan I Facility decreased to 63.03% in Fiscal 2025 from 84.31% in Fiscal 2024, primarily because a customer relocated the production of a vehicle model from Pune to another state.
- (8) Cold ends capacity utilization at our Chennai Facility decreased to 42.75% in Fiscal 2024 from 77.18% in Fiscal 2023, primarily because customers transitioned from three-piece cold end systems to single-piece cold end systems in Fiscal 2024 which reduced our production volume when compared to Fiscal 2023.
- (9) Hot ends capacity utilization at our Chennai Facility decreased to 41.50% in Fiscal 2025 from 70.10% in Fiscal 2024 and 52.65% in the three months ended June 2025 from 55.33% in the three months ended June 30, 2024, primarily because we carried out capacity improvement projects and a pull forward of demand in the last quarter of Fiscal 2024, which increased our CV OEM customers' inventory and reduced the demand for our clean air products in Fiscal 2025 and the three months ended June 30, 2025.

See also “Risk Factors—Internal Risk Factors—Our Bhiwadi Facility, Hosur Facility and Puducherry Facility currently operate at high-capacity utilization levels and we may not be able to meet additional demand for our products until we are able to increase our capacity. Further, if we underestimate or overestimate the demand for our products, the capacity utilization of our manufacturing plants may be under-utilized or over-utilized, respectively, which could adversely affect our profitability and manufacturing schedules.” on page 99.

Key Manufacturing Processes

Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions

Clean Air Solutions

The production of Clean Air Solutions products involves several key steps. The manufacturing of catalytic converters includes steel shell fabrication using tungsten inert gas welding and laser welding technology, catalyst canning on automated lines, and 15-axis robotic assembly welding cells for DOC, DPF, SCR and mixers. Mixers blend exhaust gases with urea (commonly known as AdBlue), enabling harmful nitrogen oxides to react with ammonia, forming non-harmful nitrogen gas and water vapor in the SCR converter. These processes are integrated with leak testers and traceability marking. For products used in CVs, specialized assembly lines are used for brackets, sensors, and wiring harnesses, complete with testing and end-to-end traceability.

The production of mufflers and pipe systems involves 5-axis computerized numeric controlled (“CNC”) machines, such as pipe bending machines, cold spinning and automatic muffler manufacturing lines integrated with vision systems which can be programmed to manufacture various parts. Final assembly welding is performed on special-purpose machines and robotic cells.

Powertrain Solutions

Ignition

The production of ignition products involves the following main steps. The manufacturing process begins with high-speed automated production lines that fabricate the shell, terminal, and central electrode. The ceramic body (bisque) of the spark plug undergoes an embossing process, during which the sales symbol and traceability code are applied. This is followed by the application of a protective glaze layer to the ceramic body. The glazed body is then fired in a high-temperature furnace, fusing the glaze to the surface and creating a smooth, durable, and protective finish.

Next, the core assembly process integrates the ceramic body, central electrode, terminal, carbon, and copper powder. These components undergo sintering in electric furnaces, where the high temperature transforms the pressed powders into a solid, cohesive structure.

Following the core assembly process, the shell and core are securely combined with gaskets and silment powder to enhance structural integrity and sealing performance, ensuring the spark plug can withstand the high-pressure combustion environment of an engine.

After assembly, the electrode gap between the center and ground electrodes is adjusted to meet specific application requirements. Finally, each spark plug undergoes end-of-line high-voltage cyclic dielectric testing to ensure it is defect-free and compliant with stringent quality standards.

Additionally, specialized manufacturing processes are employed for premium spark plugs, including advanced welding techniques for attaching precious metals such as iridium and platinum. These enhancements are designed to meet the rigorous durability and performance requirements of modern high-performance engines.

Bearings

The production of bearings involves a series of steps, including sintering, slitting, blanking, forming, coining, facing, grooving, lip and hole creation, countersinking, deburring, height broaching, internal diameter machining and dimensional inspection, ultrasonic cleaning, oiling and packing. The process begins with sintering to impart bearing properties to the metal strip, followed by blanking to the required size. The blank is then formed into the bearing shape through various stages, with special broaching and hole/slot making processes to complete manufacturing. Bearings are inspected on the production line, cleaned using sophisticated ultrasonic cleaning processes and then packed.

Bushings undergo similar processes, with additional facing and cylindrical grinding operations for finishing critical dimensions. Bushings are packed on the production line after calibration and inspection.

Sealings

The production of sealing products involves the use of special presses to ensure precise profiles. Screen printing of polymer impregnation and curing in special furnaces maintain sealing properties at high temperatures and pressures in gaskets. A special laser welding process is used in hot-end gaskets to precisely manufacture multilayer alloy steel gaskets.

Advanced Ride Technologies

The manufacturing process of shock absorbers and strut assemblies begins with base assembly using automatic and robotic welding machines. Precision grinding of piston rods and electroplating are performed to achieve high-quality surface finish and toughness. In the final assembly process, base assemblies and piston rods are combined with high-precision parts like pistons and discs, then filled with shock absorber oil in a controlled environment to ensure quality and cleanliness. Modular assembly is conducted based on customer-specific designs, adding coil springs and top mounts as required. All dampers undergo fit, function, and noise testing to ensure quality. The assembly cells are interconnected and comply with long-term traceability requirements under Industry 4.0 standards.

Cost reduction, efficiency improvement measures and technologies

We are committed to cost reduction and efficiency improvements through a variety of strategic measures. Our value engineering workshops are designed to focus on cost optimization and capability building. All our plants operate under our “P3” (People, Performance, and Pride) operating system, which emphasizes standardization, continuous improvement, and performance enhancement through people development. Our culture of continuous improvement and kaizen initiatives, which are small and quick improvements carried out at shop floor with involvement of all employees, along with a focus on material, manufacturing, and logistics cost optimization, helps us remain competitive and engage all business functions.

We adhere to global benchmark practices in operations, investing in advanced equipment such as bending machines, catalyst canning lines, and robotic assembly lines for Clean Air Solutions products and electroplating lines and 15-axis robotic cells for Advanced Ride Technologies products. We also localize equipment to improve cost structures while maintaining global manufacturing standards. Our logistics initiatives, including scan-to-ship, which involves marking finished goods and packaged shipping containers with a 2D data-matrix, an advanced version of a barcode system, for scanning at the end of the production line and in the dispatch section, to generate a customer invoice to avoid duplication of material handling in dispatch and reduce shipping errors.

We also conduct Value Analysis and Value Engineering (“VAVE”) workshops to optimize material usage and drive performance improvements through productivity initiatives and operating cost reduction measures.

The table below sets forth the technologies utilized in our manufacturing processes.

Quality Assurance and Quality Control

Adherence to quality standards is critical to our operations, as any defect in our products or failure to comply with our customers’ design specifications may lead to the cancellation of purchase orders and a loss of reputation. We also believe in proactive quality assurance which starts at the design stage. We conduct Design Failure Mode and Effect Analysis (“DFMEA”) and product validation through soft simulations and actual performance testing before starting series production. We address potential product failure modes by conducting a DFMEA, where a group of design, engineering and manufacturing experts brainstorm various ways the product can fail to help ensure it is safely designed to address these potential failures and guarantee the designed product lifespan. Similarly, we address potential manufacturing process failure modes by conducting Process Failure Mode and Effect Analysis (“PFMEA”), where a cross-functional team ensures a robust design process that addresses key product features verified in manufacturing processes through various inbuilt checks.

To maintain quality standards and comply with our customers’ design specifications, we implement a stringent quality control mechanism. At each stage of the manufacturing process, components are examined by our operators to ensure that no defects are passed on to the next stage. We conduct inspections at the end of the production line to ensure that only high-quality parts are shipped to customers. Additionally, customer representatives inspect our manufacturing facilities and processes. We also have a dedicated team of engineers responsible for quality assurance. For further details, see “Risk Factors – Internal Risk Factors – We are subject to strict performance requirements, including, but not limited to, the quality of our products and delivery schedules, and failing to comply (including due to problems with our component suppliers) may lead to cancellation of orders, product recalls, product liability claims, warranty claims, litigation and other disputes and claims” on page 86.

Most of our manufacturing facilities have been certified for international standards of quality management systems, such as IATF 16949 Quality certification, ISO 45001 for Occupational health and Safety Management system and ISO 14001 certification for Environment Management System. These certifications ensure that systems and processes are maintained, and that sound safety, quality manufacturing, and environmental standards are in place.

We provide end-to-end design solutions, including tool and die manufacturing, engineering solutions, new system and component design, enhancements to existing systems and components, benchmarking, design analysis and simulation, rapid prototyping, testing and validation, lightweighting, process optimization and material optimization. We use global tools such as CATIA V5, NX UG for basic design tasks, including the preparation of engineering drawings and product layout designs in both 2D and 3D formats. Additionally, we employ knowledge-based manufacturing and engineering tools and software to define product standardization based on manufacturing feasibility analysis, thereby reducing the overall lead time for new product development.

PPAP refers to production part approval process.

Our engineering activities utilize our product development tool “TEN Plus,” where we gather technical requirements, conduct product feasibility reviews, perform DFMEA and a design validation plan (“DVP”), and manage design releases in a global product data management tool.

As of June 30, 2025, we operated two R&D technical centers in India equipped to address global and local customer needs. Our Clean Air Solutions R&D technical center at our Chakan I Facility conducts functional simulations based on customer inputs or benchmark data, such as Computational Fluid Dynamics (“CFD”), and engages in product testing through its four test cells. The technical center is equipped for hot shaker, bending fatigue, weld fatigue, thermal shock, thermal cycle, and vibration testing, which are crucial for validating product performance and durability. Post-test analysis capabilities include weld seam analysis and material composition analysis. Our R&D technical center at our Hosur Facility, engages in prototyping, testing and validation to ensure the performance, reliability and durability of our Advanced Ride Technologies products. In addition, we have mobile labs at our Hosur Facility, which can be relocated near customer locations in India as needed. These mobile labs allow us to fine-tune the ride and handling performance of vehicles directly on a test track.

As part of the Tenneco Group, we benefit from Tenneco LLC’s global R&D initiatives. We are well-connected with other geographical units in the Tenneco Group and periodically share information on emerging trends and changing customer preferences. This enables us to promptly identify evolving customer preferences and invest in new products and technologies. We adapt and customize global technologies and features to meet local customer needs, design preferences and performance requirements. We collaborate with Tenneco Group’s network of engineering and technical centers, which as of December 31, 2024, includes 39 engineering and technical centers worldwide (of which 12 centers support our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions division and 10 centers support our Advanced Ride Technologies division). Notes:

(1) Includes projects that have been designed and planned but have not yet commenced production.

Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions: In 2014, we deployed SCR converter technology for BS4-compliant CVs in India. We developed products suitable for stricter emission standards when BS6 was implemented in Fiscal 2020, which required the use of LNT, SDPF, and DPF converter technologies and urea mixing elements combined with SCR converters for NOx reduction, as well as gasoline particulate filters. With the introduction of real drive emission standards under BS6.2 which required vehicles to meet emission standards for “on road” driving conditions in Fiscal 2023, we launched a new generation SCRs for emission control during actual road driving conditions. Currently, we are working on solutions for future emission standards, such as e-heaters and hydrogen fuel-compliant systems.

Advanced Ride Technologies: We launched the multi-tune valve technology in India in Fiscal 2012, after which it was validated and introduced to the market in other regions. We launched the design of the strut and shock in the market in India in Fiscal 2015 using a piston rod and piston of smaller diameters while maintaining the same performance level of ride quality, and the same design was used by Tenneco for production in Brazil. In Fiscal 2024, we brought to market an advanced hydraulic rebound system which is used in the Mahindra Thar Roxx, before its commercialization in other regions by the Tenneco Group.

We are exploring the rollout of next-generation double tube construction valves in India, which enhance ride comfort by providing better control of hydraulic rebound and compression, in calendar year 2025.

The principal raw materials for our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions division's products include: (i) for Clean Air Solutions, stainless steel, catalyst, stamping parts, raw tubes, insulating mats and sensor bosses; (ii) for ignition, metal shells, ceramic insulators, central electrodes, and precious metal tips; (iii) for sealings, stainless steel, cold rolled close annealed steel, rubber-coated steel, graphite rolls; and (iv) for bearings, ferrous and non-ferrous bi-metal strips. The principal raw materials for our Advanced Ride Technologies products include steel tubes and rods, stamping parts, springs, and hydraulic oil.

We source the majority of materials and components from suppliers based in India. However, we also import raw materials and components from several countries including Germany, Spain, USA, Macedonia, Belgium, China, France, Japan, South Korea, and Mexico. For our raw materials and components, we issue purchase orders that set out the general terms and specify the pricing, delivery schedule and delivery details. Accordingly, we do not enter into long-term pricing agreements. For additional information, see "Risk Factors—Internal Risk Factors—Our operations and profitability are substantially dependent on the availability and cost of raw materials, including steel and components such as pressed parts, electrodes and bimetal strips. In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, cost of materials consumed accounted for 64.42%, 66.69%, 65.05%, 70.15% and 70.37% of our revenue from operations, and any volatility in the prices of these materials may adversely impact our business, results of operations and financial condition." beginning on page 65. For the breakdown of our cost of materials consumed including and excluding substrates from domestic and imported sources for the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, see "Our Competitive Strengths—Flexible and automated manufacturing footprint of 12 strategically located plants well-supported by a localized supply chain" on page 281.

The largest component of our cost of raw materials is steel. We utilize Tenneco Group's global purchasing leverage to source steel from domestic and international suppliers through various contractual agreements. We maintain a diversified supplier base to reduce supplier concentration risk. We address price increases by evaluating alternative materials and processes, reviewing material substitution opportunities, increasing component sourcing from cost-effective countries and locally, strategically pursuing domestic global purchasing strategies for specific commodities and negotiating with our customers to allow us to recover these higher costs from them.

We have long-standing relationships with certain of our suppliers and rely on general purchase agreements that set out the general terms and are supplemented by purchase orders setting out the pricing, scheduling and delivery details. We generally set our purchases in line with the terms and prices that are agreed with our customers. Under certain of the purchase orders and general purchase agreements, we have the right to inspect all materials that are provided to us. While suppliers typically handle the delivery of raw materials to us, we may opt to collect them ourselves when it is cost-effective to optimize transportation costs and manage our plant inventory.

We have a rigorous supplier evaluation, selection and quality control process to ensure that we partner with suppliers who can comply with our quality standards, delivery schedules and other contractual obligations. We require all our suppliers to be IATF-certified and select suppliers based on the adequacy of their organizational structure, technical capabilities, production capacities, and our packaging requirements.

Utilities

Power and fuel

Our manufacturing processes require a constant and uninterrupted voltage supply to ensure that the products are of high quality, while also enhancing the productivity and lifetime of our machines and equipment. We use a substantial amount of electricity, diesel and piped natural gas for our operations. We source most of our electricity requirements from state electricity boards and use diesel generating sets as backup in case of state electricity failure. We have also entered into long-term power purchase agreements with third parties (including renewable power distribution companies), typically for a term of three years, at our Chennai and Hosur plants. Similarly, our diesel and piped natural gas needs are also met domestically through natural gas distribution companies and through dealers located around our facilities.

The table below sets forth our power and fuel costs, including as a percentage of revenue from operations for the periods/Fiscals stated:

Water

Our manufacturing processes require water consumption although they are not water intensive. The requirement for water is primarily met through local utility companies or local government entities. We undertake water conservation measures on an ongoing basis and reuse water to reduce wastage. We have sewage treatment facilities in each plant and reuse treated water.

Storage and Transportation

Storage

As of June 30, 2025, we leased 12 warehouses in India, comprising three warehouses for the Clean Air Solutions business located in Bhopal (Madhya Pradesh), Anantapur (Andhra Pradesh), and Pithampur (Madhya Pradesh), three warehouses for the Advanced Ride Technologies business (one located in Chennai (Tamil Nadu), and two in Hosur (Tamil Nadu)), four warehouses for ignition products located in Chennai (Tamil Nadu), Haridwar (Uttarakhand), Halol (Gujarat), and Anantapur (Andhra Pradesh), and two for bearing products located in Pune (Maharashtra) and Chennai (Tamil Nadu). The warehouses are strategically located close to our key customers and serve as our delivery points, helping our customers manage their requirements efficiently. These warehouses are owned by third parties and our storage space can be flexibly increased depending on our requirements. For the sealings and bearings products, we store our finished products at our manufacturing facilities and do not own or lease separate warehouses.

Transportation

As our manufacturing facilities are located in key automotive OEM hubs such as Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu, National Capital Region (NCR) and Gujarat (Source: CRISIL Report), close to our customers in India, our customers typically manage their own delivery transportation and directly pick up the finished products from our manufacturing facilities or warehouses. In some cases, we ship finished goods to our customers by road, air, or rail within their delivery schedules, and the associated transportation costs are generally included in the purchase price. We engage third-party logistics providers for our transportation needs and typically enter into agreements with them for a period of one year. Under these agreements, we are required to specify the number of trucks needed for the delivery of any consignment, and either we or the third-party logistics provider obtain transit insurance for goods entrusted to the third-party logistics provider for door-to-door deliveries to customers.

For our overseas customers, we utilize a variety of transportation arrangements, and the purchase orders outline the terms related to transportation. We generally export our products through sea shipments and, in exceptional circumstances, by air to ensure that customer production lines operate without interruption.

Sales and Marketing

As of June 30, 2025, we have 24 full-time employees dedicated to sales and marketing. Our sales and marketing team focuses on developing customer relationships, acquiring new development and manufacturing contracts, identifying new customers, generating business opportunities, and tracking customer receivables. The team consists of professionals such as skilled engineers, key account managers and program managers, organized by customer and product type. Our sales and marketing team provides the appropriate mix of operational, technical and commercial expertise needed to interface successfully with the OEMs. Moreover, we conduct and/or participate in brand and sales and marketing activities, such as tech shows and exhibitions at major automotive or non-automotive expositions, both on our own as well as jointly with other entities in the Tenneco Group.

Our “capture process” for winning new business/accounts involves working closely with the OEM engineering and purchasing teams. Bidding on OEM platforms typically requires several months of engineering and business development activities. Throughout the process, our sales team, program managers and product engineers assist the OEM customer in defining the project’s technical and business requirements. A standard part of the process includes our engineering and sales personnel working with customers’ integrated product teams and assisting them with developing component/system specifications and test procedures. Given that the OEM business involves long-term production contracts awarded on a platform-by-platform basis, our strategy is to leverage our engineering expertise and long-standing customer relationships to target and win new business and increase operating margins.

We have key account managers who serve as the single point of contact for one or more customers, handling all business-related discussions and information. They are responsible for managing existing business relationships and identifying and securing new business opportunities across one or more of our product lines.

Human Resources

As of June 30, 2025, we had 2,017 full-time employees, 512 of whom were members of labour unions. We have entered into labor union agreements involving, among others, revised wage structures, ex-gratia payments, attendance bonuses and the provision or enhancement of insurance policies.

The following table sets forth the number of our full-time employees by segment and function as at the dates indicated:

Note:

(1) Calculated as the number of full-time employees who left our Company during the period/Fiscal divided by the average number of full-time employees during the period/Fiscal. The average number of full-time employees is computed as the average of the number of employees at the beginning and end of the period/year.

We are focused on developing the expertise, skill sets and know-how of our employees. Our personnel policies are aimed at recruiting talented individuals and promoting the development of their skills, including through in-house as well as external training programs. Our training encompasses safety protocols, quality problem-solving, manufacturing efficiency, program management, leadership development, and promoting diversity, inclusion, and equity.

Environment, Health and Safety

Environment, Health and Safety (“EHS”) is one of our core values. We strive to conduct all operations in a manner that causes zero harm to people and the environment and to comply with laws and regulations concerning the protection of health, employee safety and the environment.

Our employee health and safety policy is designed to promote workplace well-being and minimize the risk of accidents at our facilities. We adhere to Tenneco Group’s “EHS Cardinal Rules” which address critical areas such as machine safety, electrical safety, hazardous material management, material handling, and the safe operation of powered industrial vehicles. These rules set clear expectations for associates, visitors, and contractors at our locations and must be followed in accordance with related EHS procedures and specifications. Violations can result in disciplinary action, including termination. Safety performance is a key factor for facility certification under our “P3” operating system.

Occupational Health and Safety

The health and safety of our workforce is a top priority for our organization. We have adopted a policy framework, compliance assessment, risk mitigation, and training programs to ensure that our safety standards are being met. Our collective action toward cultivating a safety culture is led by our EHS leaders who oversee the execution of our EHS policy and management systems. The policy is regularly reviewed and emphasizes our dedication to providing safe work environments as part of our efforts to achieve operational excellence. Our management systems are built upon the ISO 45001 standard. As of June 30, 2025, 9 of our manufacturing facilities were certified to the ISO 45001 framework.

All of our employees undergo safety training before starting operations on the shop floor, learning about machine safe operations, setup processes, and the lockout/tagout process for setups or maintenance. Use of personal protective equipment such as safety goggles, safety shoes, among others, is mandatory. Operators must perform safety checks on machines to ensure all safety functions are operational before starting them. All our plants conduct regular safety drills to prepare for emergency situations. Layered audits by the management team ensure adherence to safe practices.

We strive for zero work-related injuries and illnesses by encouraging active reporting and executing our injury prevention rules and programs. We encourage employees to report unsafe conditions or suggest safety improvements, and we prioritize addressing them. We recognize safety improvements through our reward and recognition (“R&R”) program. At each of our locations, we require all safety incidents, including near-miss events, to be promptly reported to ensure that concrete actions are taken to prevent recurrence. We invest in thorough safety training programs for our team members to contribute to a safe workplace, prevent injuries, and maintain compliance with our safety standards. We implement regular employee safety audits, management review meetings, and periodic employee safety meetings, and conduct periodic emergency mock drills in our plants.

During the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, we had incidents of two, two, one and three injuries respectively, and no fatalities

See also “Risk Factors – Internal Risk Factors – We regularly work with hazardous materials, and heavy machinery at our manufacturing facilities and activities in our operations can be dangerous, which could cause injuries to people or damage property.” on page 111.

Environment

We recognize our responsibility to actively address climate change and continuously assess and manage climate-related risks and opportunities within our business and value chain. We are focused on limiting greenhouse gas (“GHG”) emissions at our sites and contributing to sector-wide climate actions. Some of these initiatives include:

- In our Clean Air Solutions business, we have installed a 990 kWp captive solar system in our Chakan I plant. Additionally, our Chennai plant has a green power purchasing agreement. We minimize single-use packaging by utilizing reusable trolleys and packaging.
- At our Hosur Advanced Ride Technologies plant, we have a green power purchase agreement and have installed a heat recovery system for compressors, which eliminates the need for electrical heaters and reduces power consumption.
- We have implemented power-saving initiatives at several manufacturing facilities, such as using roof top solar plants and high-volume low speed fans on shop floors.

We adhere to strict processes of handling and disposal of hazardous waste, with regular monitoring. Our facilities maintain sewage treatment plants and effluent treatment plants, using treated water for internal purposes to reduce freshwater demand. Initiatives such as waterless urinals using biodegradable liquids have significantly reduced water demand in some plants. We also support tree plantation drives at multiple locations.

We have established processes to eliminate or streamline waste streams and improve resource recovery efforts across our business groups to mitigate the risks of pollution, landfill runoff, and other negative impacts from waste disposal. Waste management, especially the handling of hazardous waste, is incorporated into our environmental health and safety strategies. In Fiscal 2025, we initiated and implemented multiple projects to advance our waste management efforts, such as using reusable packaging for deliveries to our customers, eliminating corrugated boxes, employ returnable packing for components from suppliers and reuse wooden pallets.

As of June 30, 2025, 10 of our manufacturing facilities were certified to the ISO 14001 standard. These frameworks provide guidance to improve our environmental performance and validate our approach through certifications.

We have obtained, or are in the process of renewing, all material environmental consents and licenses required by our manufacturing facilities from the relevant governmental agencies that are necessary for us to carry on our business. Our activities are subject to the environmental laws and regulations of India, which govern, among other things, air emissions, wastewater discharge, and handling, storage and disposal of hazardous substances and wastes.

Intellectual Property

We rely on a combination of intellectual property laws, confidentiality procedures and contractual provisions to protect our intellectual property. As of the date of this Prospectus, we had nine registered designs under the Designs Act, 2000 and one] patent registered under the Patents Act, 1970 in India. For further details, see “Risk Factors – Internal Risk Factors – Our inability to protect or use our intellectual property rights and our failure to keep our technical knowledge confidential may adversely affect our business” on page 109.

Information Technology, Data Protection and Privacy

We utilize third-party business software and solutions to support our operations. Additionally, we have implemented office automation and security systems at our manufacturing facilities and offices throughout India. We make efforts to consistently update our systems, to ensure efficiency and business continuity. We use SAP as an enterprise resource planning software across all plants.

Data collected during our operations, including customer data, is handled in accordance with our data security and data privacy policies. We employ various technical and organizational security measures to protect our systems, products, and data. For instance, we use security firms to protect us from cyber-attacks, internal firewall devices for network protection, and multifactor authentication to prevent unauthorised access. Our devices are regularly updated with mandatory IT system updates, USB ports are disabled, and BitLocker is enabled to prevent data loss or breaches in our plants. We utilize VPN for private access to our intranet. Additionally, we have an access control system in place for our server and computer rooms to ensure physical security. Our data protection and security policies and procedures are established and implemented to manage data security and privacy, with regular reviews by our team to assess performance and update policies and processes for business transactions. For more details on risks related to cybersecurity or privacy breaches, please see “Risk Factors – Internal Risk Factors – Failure or disruption of our Information Technology (“IT”) systems may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.” on page 113.

Insurance

We maintain insurance policies that we believe are customary for companies operating in our industry. These include policies in relation to machinery, commercial liability, fire, employee compensation, public offering of securities, reimbursement policy for directors, company and officers, and vehicles among others. Our policies are subject to customary exclusions and deductibles, including with respect to the maximum amount that can be claimed based on the coverage limits. While we believe that the level of insurance we maintain would be adequate to cover the normal risks associated with the operation of our business, we do not have insurance policies to cover all possible events. Set forth below are certain details with respect to our insurance claims in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024, and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023.

Particulars (Amount in ₹ millions)	For the three months ended June		For Fiscal 2025	For Fiscal 2024	For Fiscal 2023*
	2025	30, 2024
Claims lodged (A)	72.01	Nil	1.81	0.53	5.19
Less: Claims under process (B)	57.01	Nil	Nil	Nil	Nil
Net claims lodged (C = A- B)	15.00	Nil	1.81	0.53	5.19
Amount received pursuant to claims	15.00	Nil	1.81	0.53	3.67

*In Fiscal 2023, our Company submitted an insurance claim of ₹5.12 million to cover the value of goods in a shipment that was involved in a transit accident. The insurance company reimbursed the value of the fully damaged goods and we sold the remaining goods as regular sales or as scrap. Consequently, we did not incur any loss with respect to such claims.

In Fiscal 2025, a fire at the Parwanoo Facility of our Subsidiary FMBIL affected the electroplating facility and disrupted operations for several days. We filed an insurance claim in May 2025 for ₹40.00 million for machinery loss and ₹32.01 million for business disruption losses. In May 2025, we received an insurance payment of ₹15.00 million towards the total insurance claim of ₹40.00 million for machinery loss. The remaining balance of ₹25.00 million under the ₹40.00 million claim for machinery loss and the ₹32.01 million claim for business disruption losses remain under processing by the insurance company.

While our insurance claims have not exceeded our insurance coverage and we have not recognized any losses in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023 due to the partial or full rejection of our claims by our insurers, we cannot guarantee that our future claims will continue to be covered or accepted in full. Also, see “Risk Factors – Internal Risk Factors – Our insurance coverage may not be adequate to protect us against all potential losses, which may have an adverse effect on our results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.” on page 94.

Shops and establishments legislations in various states

Under the provisions of local shops and establishments legislations applicable in the states in India where our establishments are set up and business operations exist, such establishments are required to be registered. Such legislations regulate the working and employment conditions of the workers employed in shops and establishments, including commercial establishments, and provide for fixation of working hours, rest intervals, overtime, holidays, leave, termination of service, maintenance of records, maintenance of shops and establishments and other rights and obligations of the employers and employees. These shops and establishments' acts, and the relevant rules framed thereunder, in each state, also prescribe penalties in the form of monetary fine or imprisonment for violation of provisions, as well as procedures for appeal in relation to such contravention of the provisions.

In addition to the local shops and establishments legislations, the employment of workers, depending on the nature of activity, is regulated by a wide variety of generally applicable labour laws. The various other labour and employment-related legislations (and rules issued thereunder) that may apply to our operations, from the perspective of protecting the workers' rights and specifying registration, reporting and other compliances, and the requirements that may apply to us as an employer, would include the following:

- Employee's Compensation Act, 1923.
- Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952.
- Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948.
- The Equal Remuneration Act, 1976.
- Maternity Benefit Act, 1961.
- Minimum Wages Act, 1948.
- Payment of Bonus Act, 1965.
- Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972.
- Payment of Wages Act, 1936.
- The Child Labour (Prohibition and Regulation) Act, 1986.
- The Labour Welfare Fund Act, 1965.
- Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013.
- Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946
- Industrial Disputes Act, 1947
- Industrial (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951
- The Trade Unions Act, 1926

In order to rationalize and reform labour laws in India, the Government of India has enacted four labour codes, namely:

- (a) The Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020 received the assent of the President of India on September 28, 2020, which amends and subsumes certain existing legislations, including the Factories Act, 1948, the Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970, and the Inter-State Migrant Workmen (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 1979. This code provides for, among other things, standards for health, safety and working conditions for employees of establishments..
- (b) The Industrial Relations Code, 2020 received the assent of the President of India on September 28, 2020, and proposes to subsume three existing legislations, namely, the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the Trade Unions Act, 1926 and the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946. The Industrial Relations Code, 2020 will come into effect on a date to be notified by the Central Government.
- (c) The Code on Wages, 2019 received the assent of the President of India on August 8, 2019. Through its notification dated December 18, 2020, the Government of India brought into force certain sections of the Code on Wages, 2019 pertaining to the central advisory board. The remaining provisions of this code will be brought into force on a date to be notified by the Government of India. It proposes to subsume four separate legislations, namely, the Payment of Wages Act, 1936, the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, the Payment of Bonus Act, 1965 and the Equal Remuneration Act, 1976.
- (d) The Code on Social Security, 2020 received the assent of the President of India on September 28, 2020. Through its notification dated December 18, 2020, the Government of India brought into force sections 42(1), 42(2), 42(3), 42(10), 42(11), 67(2)(s), 67(2)(t) (to the extent that they relate to the central advisory board) and 69 (to the extent that it relates to sections 7, 9 (to the extent that they relate to the Government of India) and 8 of the Minimum Wages Act, 1986)) of the Code on Wages, 2019. Through its notification dated April 30, 2021, the Government of India brought into force Section 142 of the Code on Social Security, 2020 which lays down that a person must have a valid Aadhaar in order to avail benefits or services under the code. The remaining provisions of this code will be brought into force on a date to be notified by the Government of India. It amends and consolidates several separate legislations including the Employee's Compensation Act, 1923, the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948, the Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952, the Employment Exchanges (Compulsory Notification of Vacancies) Act, 1959, the Maternity Benefit Act, 1961, and the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972.

Intellectual Property Laws

The Trademarks Act, 1999 (the "Trademarks Act")

The Trademarks Act governs the statutory protection of trademarks and prohibits any registration of deceptively similar trademarks, among others. The purpose of the Trademarks Act is to grant exclusive rights to marks such as a brand, label and heading, and to obtain relief in case of infringement of such marks. Indian law permits the registration of trademarks for both goods and services. Under the provisions of the Trademarks Act, an application for trademark registration may be made before the Trademark Registry by any person claiming to be the proprietor of a trademark, whether individual or joint applicants, and can be made on the basis of either actual use or intention to use a trademark in the future. Once granted, a trademark registration is valid for 10 years unless cancelled, subsequent to which, it can be renewed. If not renewed, the mark lapses and the registration are required to be restored. Further, pursuant to the notification of the Trade Marks (Amendment) Act, 2010 ("Trademark Amendment Act") simultaneous protection of trademarks in India and other countries has been made available to owners of Indian and foreign trademarks. The Trademark Amendment Act also seeks to simplify the law relating to transfer of ownership of trademarks by assignment or transmission and to conform Indian trademark law to international practice.

The Patents Act, 1970 (the "Patents Act")

The Patents Act governs the patent regime in India. A patent under the Patents Act is an intellectual property right relating to inventions and grant of exclusive right, for limited period, provided by the Government to the patentee, in exchange of full disclosure of his invention, for excluding others from making, using, selling and importing the patented product or process or produce that product. The Patents Act recognizes both product and process patent and prescribes eligibility criteria for grant of patents, including the requirement that an invention must satisfy the requirements of novelty, utility and non-obviousness in order for it to avail patent protection.

The Design Act, 2000 (the "Design Act")

The Design Act consolidates and amends the law relating to the protection of designs. The Design Act is a complete code in itself and is statutory in nature and protects new or original designs from getting copied which cause loss to the proprietor. The proprietor upon registration gets 'copyrights in design' for the period of 10 years from the date of registration which can be renewed for a second period of five years, before the expiration of original period of 10 years. The controller registers a design under this Act after verifying that the design of any person, claiming to be the proprietor, is the new or original design not previously published anywhere in any country and is not against any public policy or morality. Any obvious or fraudulent imitation of a design, which is already registered, without the consent of its proprietor, is unlawful. It also prohibits the import of any material which closely resembles a registered design. The Central Government also drafted the Design Rules, 2001 (the "Design Rules") under the authority of the Design Act for the purposes of specifying certain prescriptions regarding the practical aspects related to designs such as payment of fees, register for designs, classification of goods, address for service, restoration of designs, etc.

The FDI Policy consolidates all the press notes, press releases, and clarifications on FDI issued by DIPP. Further, the RBI has enacted the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Rules, 2019 ("FEMA Rules") and the Foreign Exchange Management (Mode of Payment and Reporting of Non-Debt Instruments) Regulations, 2019 which regulate the mode of payment and reporting requirements for investments in India by a person resident outside India. The FEMA, the FEMA Rules, and the FDI Policy prescribe certain requirements with respect to downstream investments by Indian companies that are owned or controlled by foreign entities and with respect to foreign investment into India

- i. Basis of Accounting and Restriction on Distribution and Use

We draw attention to Note 2.1 to the Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements, which describes the purpose and basis of preparation. The Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements have been prepared by the Company solely for the purpose of preparation of the Restated Consolidated Financial Information as required under the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2018 as amended from time to time (the "ICDR Regulations") in relation to the proposed initial public offering of the Company and to comply with the general directions dated 28 October 2021 received from Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) by the Company through Lead Managers (the "SEBI Communication"). As a result, the Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements may not be suitable for any another purpose and are not financial statements prepared pursuant to any requirements under Section 129 of the Act, as amended. The Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements cannot be referred to or distributed or included in any offering document or used for any other purpose except with our prior consent in writing. Our report is intended solely for the purpose of preparation of the restated consolidated financial information and to comply with SEBI Communication and is not to be used, referred to or distributed for any other purpose without our prior written consent. Our Opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

- ii. With respect to one of its subsidiary Federal-Mogul Ignition Products (India) Limited we draw attention to Note 47(i) to the Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements which describes about a significant difference of Rs. 40.30 million between the physical inventory count conducted in December 2023 and the perpetual inventory records of the Company. The management was unable to provide adequate quantification against various potential causes identified for this discrepancy, and the Company has charged the entire amount to the statement of profit and loss under "Cost of materials consumed" for the year ended 31 March 2024. Although the physical inventory count and roll-forward procedures for inventory balance as at 31 March 2024 were found to be appropriate, the lack of supporting evidence to reconcile the earlier difference raised concerns about the possibility of misappropriation of inventory or other irregularities. Accordingly, in compliance with the requirements of Section 143(12) of the Companies Act, 2013 read with Rule 13(1)(ii) of the Companies (Audit and Auditors) Rules, 2014 (as amended), we had reported this matter to the Central Government on 06 January 2025, as the unexplained discrepancy may indicate a potential fraud. The Board of Directors have taken necessary actions as described in Note 47(i) to the Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements and have confirmed that all identifiable adjustments have been made to the Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements as at and for the year ended 31 March 2024. Our Opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Note 47(i) as described above is reproduced as Note 2.1 to the Restated Consolidated Financial Information

iii. With respect to one of its subsidiary Federal-Mogul Ignition Products (India) Limited we draw attention to Note 47(ii) to the Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements which describes the status of convening the Company's Annual General Meeting (AGM) within the prescribed timelines as specified under the Companies Act, 2013. On 17 June 2025, the Company filed the compounding application under section 441 of the Companies Act, 2013 before the Registrar of Companies. The potential impact (including penalties or other regulatory consequences, if any) arising from said non-compliance and consequential non-compliances is currently not fully ascertainable, as the compounding proceedings are yet to be concluded by the authorities. Based on management's assessment, the Company has recognized a provision of Rs 2.15 million towards potential penal charges on an estimated basis in the financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2024. Our Opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Note 47(ii) as described above is reproduced as Note 2.1 to the Restated Consolidated Financial Information

i. Basis of Accounting and Restriction on Distribution and Use

We draw attention to Note 2.1 to the Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements, which describes the purpose and basis of preparation. The Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements have been prepared by the Company solely for the purpose of preparation of the restated consolidated financial information as required under the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2018 as amended from time to time (the "ICDR Regulations") in relation to the proposed initial public offering of the Company and to comply with the general directions dated October 28, 2021 received from Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) by the Company through Lead Managers (the "SEBI Communication"). As a result, the Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements may not be suitable for any another purpose and are not financial statements prepared pursuant to any requirements under Section 129 of the Act, as amended. The Special Purpose Consolidated Financial Statements cannot be referred to or distributed or included in any offering document or used for any other purpose except with our prior consent in writing. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Our opinion on the special purpose interim consolidated financial statements / Consolidated Financial Statements/special purpose consolidated financial statements is not modified in respect of this matter.

The other auditors of the subsidiary, as mentioned above, have examined the special purpose restated standalone financial information of the subsidiary and have confirmed that the special purpose restated standalone financial information:

- a) have been prepared after incorporating adjustments for the changes in accounting policies, material errors and regrouping/reclassifications retrospectively in the three month period ended 30 June 2024 and in the financial years ended 31 March 2025, 31 March 2024 and 31 March 2023 to reflect the same accounting treatment as per the accounting policies and grouping/classifications followed by the Group as at and for the three month period ended 30 June 2025;
 - b) does not contain any qualifications/ observations requiring any adjustments for the matters mentioned in paragraph 7 below. However, those qualifications/ observations in the Companies (Auditor's Report) Order, 2020 issued by the Central Government of India in terms of sub section (11) of section 143 of the Act and reporting under Rule 11(g) of the Companies (Audit and Auditors) Rules, 2014 (as amended) for the years ended 31 March 2025, 31 March 2024 and 31 March 2023 which do not require any adjustments in the Special Purpose Restated Standalone Financial Information have been disclosed in note 39 of the Special Purpose Restated Standalone Financial Information and Note 39 as mentioned above has been reproduced in Note 2.1 to the Restated Consolidated Financial Information; and

7. Based on examination report dated 16 October 2025 provided by the other auditors, the audit reports on the standalone financial statements of the subsidiary issued by the other auditors included following:

a. Qualified Opinion on Independent Auditor's Report on the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ('the Act') for the year ended 31 March 2023:

"According to the information and explanations given to us and based on our audit, the following material weakness has been identified as at 31 March 2023:

The Company's internal financial controls had inadequate segregation of duties, supervisory controls over vendor payments and timely reconciliations thereof, which has resulted in misappropriation of funds through fraudulent payments as explained in Note 51 to the accompanying standalone financial statements, impacting trade payable balances and its consequential impact on the earnings, reserves and surplus and related disclosures in the financial statements.

A 'material weakness' is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Company's annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis.

In our opinion, except for the possible effects of the material weaknesses described above on the achievement of the objectives of the control criteria, the Company has, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements and such controls were operating effectively as of 31 March 2023, based on the internal control with reference to financial statements criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the ICAI.

We have considered the material weaknesses identified and reported above in determining the nature, timing, and extent of audit tests applied in our audit of the financial statements of the Company as at and for the year ended 31 March 2023, and the material weaknesses does not affect our opinion on the financial statements of the Company.”

b. Emphasis of Matter for the year ended 31 March 2023

“We draw attention to note 53 of the accompanying financial statements, which states that the Company has not complied with provisions of Section 92, 96, 129 and 137 of the Companies Act, 2013 (‘the Act’), with respect to filing of annual return with the Registrar of Company (ROC), conducting its Annual General Meeting (‘AGM’), laying of its financial statements in such AGM and submission of financial statements with the ROC within the prescribed timelines for the year ended 31 March 2023. The management of the Company is in the process of making good the aforementioned defaults by filing necessary application with the relevant authorities for compounding of such non-compliances with the Act and is of the view that the possible impact of such non-compliance including fines and penalties that may be levied under the Act, would not be material to the accompanying financial statements. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.”

Note 51 and Note 53 as mentioned above have been reproduced in Note 2.1 to the Restated Consolidated Financial Information.

Material accounting policies and other explanatory notes to Restated Consolidated Financial Information
(All amounts in INR Millions, unless otherwise stated)

Until the period ended 30 June 2024, the Company did not have any subsidiary and hence it prepared a set of standalone Ind AS financial statements for itself. In view of the proposed IPO, Tenneco LLC did a reorganisation in which certain fellow subsidiaries of the Company (namely, Federal-Mogul Ignition Products India Limited, Federal-Mogul Sealings India Limited, Federal-Mogul Bearings India Limited and Tenneco Automotive India Private Limited ("TAIPL")) became subsidiaries of the Company with effect from 26 March 2025 through a share swap arrangement wherein the Company acquired the shareholding in the subsidiaries through an issue of its own equity shares. Prior to such reorganisation, TAIPL was owning DRIV business segment through its wholly owned subsidiary i.e. Motocare India Private Limited ("Motocare") and the shareholding in Motocare was transferred on 24 March 2025 ("Motocare Transfer") before the reorganisation got effected to Federal-Mogul Motorparts India Limited, a fellow subsidiary, as DRIV business segment was not meant to be part of the reorganisation for the proposed IPO. Such transfer of shareholding of Motocare was done against a cash consideration of Rs. 8,293.51 million (representing fair value of net assets of Motocare ("Motocare Consideration")) receivable over the period bearing an interest rate of 12% per annum compounded annually. This reorganisation is considered as a common control transaction as required under Appendix C of Ind AS 103 ("Business Combinations").

As a result, as per Appendix C of Ind AS 103, the Company prepared and presented consolidated financial statements including Federal-Mogul Ignition Products India Limited, Federal Mogul Sealings India Limited, Federal Mogul Bearings India Limited and Tenneco Automotive India Private Limited (standalone only for the year ended 31 March 2025) for the comparative period financial information presented as part of restated consolidated financial information as at and for the three month period ended 30 June 2025 and as at and for the year ended 31 March 2025. Considering, Motocare was not acquired by the Company as part of the reorganisation, the restated consolidated financial information of the Company does not include the financial information of Motocare (DRIV business segment) for the comparative period presented. The Company has reflected the impact of Motocare Transfer from the date of opening balance sheet of earliest period presented while preparing the restated consolidated financial information as at and for the three month period ended 30 June 2025 and as at and for the year ended 31 March 2025 and recorded a receivable equivalent to carrying value of Motocare investment value and recognised the difference between Motocare consideration value and carrying value of investment in Motocare under 'Capital Reserve on Business Combination under Common Control'.

Pursuant to the Companies (Indian Accounting Standard) Second Amendment Rules, 2015, Federal-Mogul Ignition Products India Limited, Federal Mogul Sealings India Limited, Federal Mogul Bearings India Limited (collectively known as "Certain subsidiaries") prepared their first set of statutory financial statements as per Indian Accounting Standards (Ind-AS) notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 (as amended from time to time) for the year ended 31 March 2025 and consequently 1 April 2023 is the transition date for preparation of such statutory financial statements. The Restated Consolidated Financial Information do not require any adjustments for the above-mentioned Matters.

These Restated Consolidated Financial Information have been prepared on accrual basis and on a historical cost basis, except for certain items of financial assets and financial liabilities measured at fair value / amortised cost. Refer note 29.

2.2 Summary of Material Accounting Policies

a) Basis of Consolidation

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information incorporate the financial statements of the Company and entities controlled by the Company (its Subsidiaries) up to each reporting period. Control is achieved when the Company:

- has the power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affects its returns.

The Company reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Company obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Company loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, the results of Subsidiaries acquired or disposed of during the period are included in profit or loss from the date the Group gains control until the date when the Company ceases to control the Subsidiary.

Where necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of Subsidiaries to bring the accounting policies used into line with the Company's accounting policies.

All intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between the members of the Group are eliminated on consolidation.

Non-controlling interests in Subsidiaries are identified separately from the Group's equity therein. Those interests of non-controlling shareholders that are present ownership interests entitling their holders to a proportionate share of net assets upon liquidation may initially be measured at fair value or at the non-controlling interests' proportionate share of the fair value of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement is made on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis. Subsequent to acquisition, the carrying amount of non-controlling interests is the amount of those interests at initial recognition plus the non-controlling interests' share of subsequent changes in equity.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Group and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of the Subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Group and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

Changes in the Company's interests in Subsidiaries that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amount of the Company's interests and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the Subsidiaries. Any difference between the amount by which the non- controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognised directly in equity and attributed to the owners of the Group.

When the Company loses control of a subsidiary, the gain or loss on disposal recognised in profit or loss is calculated as the difference between (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest and (ii) the previous carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), less liabilities of the subsidiary and any non-controlling interests. All amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to that subsidiary are accounted for as if the Company had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities of the subsidiary (i.e. reclassified to profit or loss or transferred to another category of equity as required/permitted by applicable Ind ASs). The fair value of any investment retained in the former subsidiary at the date when control is lost is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition for subsequent accounting under Ind AS 109 when applicable, or the cost of initial recognition of an investment in an associate or a joint venture.

Business Combinations under Common Control

Business combinations involving entities or businesses in which all the combining entities or businesses are ultimately controlled by the same party or parties both before and after the business combination, are considered as common control business combinations. Such business combinations involving entities or businesses under common control shall be accounted for using the pooling of interest method.

The assets and liabilities of the combining entities or businesses are reflected at their carrying amounts, barring certain assets and liabilities not taken over in terms of business transfer agreements. No adjustments are made to reflect fair values or recognise any new assets or liabilities. The only adjustments that are made are to harmonize accounting policies. The financial information in the financial statements in respect of prior periods should be restated as if the business combination had occurred from the beginning of the preceding period in the financial statements, irrespective of the actual date of the combination. The identity of the reserves appearing in the financial statements of the transferor is preserved and appears in the financial statements of the transferee in the same form in which they appeared in the financial statements of the transferor, for case of acquisition of stake in equity.

The differences, if any, between the amount of consideration paid or payable in cash or and the amount of share capital of the transferor and further adjusted for harmonization of the accounting policies, has been transferred to 'Capital reserve on business combination under common control and presented separately from other capital reserves.

During the financial year ended 31 March 2025 Tenneco Clean Air India Limited, acquired businesses by way of acquisition of equity stake from companies which were ultimately controlled by the same parties both before and after the business combination as explained in note 2.1 above. These transactions were in the nature of acquisition of the equity stake from the existing shareholders.

Pursuant to the requirements of Appendix C of the Ind AS 103, these business combinations under common control are accounted for using the pooling of interest method as explained above. The details of the business combinations, the carrying value of the assets, liabilities and reserves acquired and harmonized as per the revised accounting policies, and the resultant capital reserve are given in note 40.

b) Current and non-current classification

All assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Group's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in the Act. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and non-current liabilities, as the case may be.

c) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the results of operations during the period. Although these estimates are based upon management's best knowledge of current events and actions, actual results could differ from these estimates. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognised in the current and future periods.

d) Property, plant and equipment

Recognition and initial measurement

Property plant and equipment are stated at their cost of acquisition. The cost comprises purchase price, borrowing cost if capitalisation criteria are met and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use. Any trade discount and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognised in Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

Subsequent measurement (depreciation and useful lives)

Property, plant and equipment are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is provided on a straight-line basis, computed on the basis of useful lives (as set out below) prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013:

Asset Class	Estimated useful life (in years)
Plant and machinery	5-15 years
Furniture and fixtures	10 years
Office equipment	5 years
Computers	3 years
Vehicles	8 years
Buildings	30 years

The residual values, useful lives and method of depreciation are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

De-recognition

An item of property, plant and equipment and any significant part initially recognised is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the income statement when the asset is derecognised.

e) Intangible assets

Recognition and initial measurement

Intangible assets (Computer softwares) are stated at their cost of acquisition. The cost comprises purchase price, borrowing cost if capitalisation criteria are met and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use.

Subsequent measurement (amortisation)

The cost of capitalised software is amortised over a period of 5 years from the date of its acquisition.

f) Impairment of non-financial assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any).

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

g) Impairment of financial assets

The Group assesses at each date of balance sheet whether a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired.

Ind AS 109 requires expected credit losses to be measured through a loss allowance. Group performs credit assessment for customers on an annual basis. Group recognizes credit risk, on the basis of lifetime expected losses and where receivables are due for more than twelve months.

For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12 month expected credit losses or at an amount equal to the life-time expected credit losses if the credit risk on the financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

h) Financial instruments

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument and are measured initially at fair value adjusted for transaction costs, except for those carried at fair value through profit or loss which are measured initially at fair value. Trade receivable that do not contain significant financing component are initially recognised at transaction price. Subsequent measurement of financial assets and financial liabilities is described below.

Non-derivative financial assets

Subsequent measurement

- i. Financial assets carried at amortised cost – a financial asset is measured at the amortised cost if both the following conditions are met:
 - The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows, and
 - Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method.

- ii. Financial assets carried at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI)

A financial asset is subsequently measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if it is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding and selling financial assets.

iii. Financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)

Financial assets are measured at fair value through profit or loss unless they are measured at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income on initial recognition. The transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are immediately recognised in statement of profit and loss.

iv. Derecognition of financial assets

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or it transfers the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for derecognition under Ind AS 109.

Non-derivative financial liabilities

Subsequent measurement

Subsequent to initial recognition, all non-derivative financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

De-recognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is de-recognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the statement of assets and liabilities if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

i) Fair value measurement

The Group measures financial instruments at fair value at each balance sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- I. In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- II. In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Group uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

Level 1 — Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2 — Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable

Level 3 — Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Group has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above.

j) Leases

The Group as a lessee

The Group's leased asset classes primarily consist of leases for land, building and vehicles. The Group assesses whether a contract contains a lease, at inception of a contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Group assesses whether: (i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset (ii) the Group has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease and (iii) the Group has the right to direct the use of the asset.

The Group recognises a right-of-use asset and a corresponding lease liability with respect to all lease agreements in which it is the lessee, except for short-term leases (defined as leases with a lease term of 12 months or less) and leases of low value assets. For these short term or low value asset leases, the Group recognises the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased asset are consumed.

At the date of commencement of the lease, the Group recognises a right-of-use asset ("ROU") and a corresponding lease liability for all lease arrangements in which it is a lessee, except for leases with a term of twelve months or less (short-term leases) and low value leases. For these short-term and low value leases, the Group recognises the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Certain lease arrangements include options to extend or terminate the lease before the end of the lease term. ROU assets and lease liabilities include these options when it is reasonably certain that they will be exercised.

The right-of-use assets are initially recognised at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or prior to the commencement date of the lease plus any initial direct costs less any lease incentives. They are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Right-of-use assets are depreciated from the commencement date on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and useful life of the underlying asset.

The lease liability is initially measured at amortised cost at the present value of the future lease payments. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if not readily determinable, using the incremental borrowing rates in the country of domicile of these leases. Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability are made up of fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments) and variable payments based on an index or rate. Subsequent to initial measurement, the liability will be reduced for payments made and increased for interest. Lease liabilities are remeasured with a corresponding adjustment to the related right of use asset if the Group changes its assessment of whether it will exercise an extension or a termination option.

k) Inventories

Inventories are valued as follows:

Raw materials, components, stores and spares and packing material.	Lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost represents purchase price and other direct costs and is determined on a moving weighted average cost basis. However, materials and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost if the finished products in which they will be incorporated are expected to be sold at or above cost.
Work-in-progress	Lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost for this purpose includes material, labour and appropriate allocation of overheads. Cost is determined on a moving weighted average basis.
Finished Goods: - Manufactured	Lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost for this purpose includes material, labour and appropriate allocation of overheads. Cost is determined on a moving weighted average basis.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale. Provision for obsolescence is determined based on management's assessment and is charged to Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

l) Revenue Recognition

Revenue is measured based on the consideration specified in a contract with a customer and excludes amounts collected on behalf of third parties. A performance obligation is a promise in a contract to transfer a distinct good (or a bundle of goods) to the customer. A contract's transaction price is allocated to each distinct performance obligation and recognised as revenue, as or when, the performance obligation is satisfied. Revenue towards satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured at the amount of transaction price (net of variable consideration) allocated to that performance obligation. The transaction price of goods sold and services rendered is net of variable consideration on account of various discounts and schemes offered by the Company as part of the Contract. The Group recognises revenue from the following major sources:

i) Sale of products:

Revenue from sale of products is measured based on the consideration specified in a contract with a customer and excludes amounts collected on behalf of third parties. It is measured at consideration received or receivable, net of returns and allowances, trade discounts and volume rebates. The Company recognises revenue when it transfers control over a product to a customer i.e. when goods are delivered at the delivery point, as per terms of the agreement, which could be either customer premises or carrier premises who will deliver goods to the customer. When payments received from customers exceed revenue recognised to date on a particular contract, any excess (a contract liability) is reported in the Balance Sheet under other current liabilities.

Satisfaction of performance obligations

The Group's revenue is derived from the single performance obligation to transfer primarily products under arrangements in which the transfer of control of the products and the fulfilment of the Group's performance obligation occur at the same time. Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when the Group has transferred control of the goods to the buyer and the buyer obtains the benefits from the goods, the potential cash flows and the amount of revenue (the transaction price) can be measured reliably, and it is probable that the Group will collect the consideration to which it is entitled to in exchange for the goods.

Whether the customer has obtained control over the asset depends on when the goods are made available to the carrier or the buyer takes possession of the goods, depending on the delivery terms. For the Group, generally the criteria to recognise revenue has been met when its products are delivered to its customers or to a carrier who will transport the goods to its customers, this is the point in time when the Group has completed its performance obligations. Revenue is measured at the transaction price of the consideration received or receivable, the amount the Company expects to be entitled to.

Payment terms

The sale of goods is typically made under credit payment terms differing from customer to customer and ranges between 30-60 days.

ii) Interest:

Interest income is recorded on accrual basis.

iii) Revenue from services:

Revenue from sale of services is recognised upon rendering the services based on agreements/ arrangements with the concerned parties. For fixed price contracts, revenue is recognised based on the actual service provided till the end of the reporting period as a proportion of the total services to be provided overtime since the Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

The Group provide designing services for customised tools to its customers and recognises its revenue over time using an input method to measure progress towards complete satisfaction of tool designing.

Where the Group cannot reasonably measure the outcome of a performance obligation, but the Group expects to recover the costs incurred in satisfying the performance obligation, in those circumstances, the Group recognises revenue only to the extent of the costs incurred until such time that it can reasonably measure the outcome of the performance obligation.

iv) Revenue from development of customer paid tools:

The Group incurs pre-production tooling costs related to the products developed for its customers under supply arrangements. Tooling income (net) represents amounts recovered from customers, which are in excess of development costs incurred by the Group to manufacture such tools, similarly tooling cost (net) represents costs incurred by the Group in excess of amounts recovered from customers. The Group recognizes such tooling income (net)/ tooling cost (net) when the control of the goods have passed on to the customer. The Group expenses all pre-production tooling costs related to customer owned tools for which reimbursement is not contractually guaranteed by the customer or for which the customer has not provided a non-cancellable right to use the tooling, at the time of their estimation. When it is probable that total development costs will exceed the tooling revenue, the expected loss is recognized as an expense in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which such probability occurs.

The tooling income (net) is deferred and recognized over the initial contract period over which supply of goods using developed tools will be made available to the customer. The contract period is generally 3 to 5 years, so tooling income is recognised accordingly. The deferred portion of such income is recognised as deferred income in financial statements.

v) Contract assets

A contract asset is the Group's right to consideration in exchange for goods or services that the Group has transferred to the customer. A contract asset becomes a receivable when the Group's right to consideration is unconditional, which is the case when only the passage of time is required before payment of the consideration is due. The impairment of contract assets is measured, presented and disclosed on the same basis as trade receivables. The Contract asset in case of Group comprises of deferred income which relates to expenses incurred but not billed yet as per the terms of contract.

The Group's contract assets are disclosed in Note 6(b) , Note 6(f) and Note 18.

vi) Contract liabilities

A contract liability is the obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer. If a customer pays consideration before the Group transfers goods or services to the customer, a contract liability is recognised when the payment is made or the payment is due (whichever is earlier). Contract liabilities are recognised as revenue when the Group performs under the contract. The Contract liability comprises of unearned income which relates to excess of invoicing over cost incurred for a particular project.

The Group's contract liabilities are disclosed in Note 14, Note 15 and Note 18.

vii) Export Benefits/Incentives

Export entitlements under the Duty Entitlement Pass Book (DEPB) Scheme/ Duty Drawback scheme are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss when the same is received by the Group.

m) Statement of Cash flows

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit for the period is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Group are segregated.

n) Foreign Currency Transactions

Functional and presentation currency

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information are presented in Indian Rupee ('INR or Rs') which is also the functional and presentation currency of the Group.

Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are recorded in the functional currency, by applying to the exchange rate between the functional currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction.

Foreign currency monetary items outstanding at the balance sheet date are converted to functional currency using the closing rate. Non-monetary items denominated in a foreign currency which are carried at historical cost are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transactions.

Exchange differences arising on such conversion and settlement at rates different from those at which they were initially recorded, are recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they arise.

o) Retirement and Other Employee Benefits

(i) Defined Contribution Plans:

These are plans in which the Group pays pre-defined amounts to funds administered by government authority/ Company and does not have any legal or constructive obligation to pay additional sums. These comprise contributions in respect of Employees' Provident Fund and Employees' State Insurance. The Group's payments to the defined contribution plans are recognised as employee benefit expenses when they are due.

(ii) Defined Benefit Plans:

Gratuity liability under the Payment of Gratuity Act is accrued on the basis of an actuarial valuation made at the end of each reporting period. The actuarial valuation is done as per projected unit credit method.

Actuarial gains and losses arising from past experience and changes in actuarial assumptions are credited or charged to other comprehensive income in the period in which such gains or losses are determined.

- (iii) Short term compensated absences are provided for based on estimates. Long term compensation liability for leave encashment is determined in accordance with Group policy and is measured on the basis of valuation by an independent actuary at the end of the reporting period. The actuarial valuation is done as per projected unit credit method.

Actuarial gains and losses arising from past experience and changes in actuarial assumptions are charged to Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which such gains or losses are determined.

- (iv) Share based payments:

Share-based compensation benefits are provided to employees via plans of Tenneco LLC., Restricted Stock Units.

Restricted Stock Units (RSUs):

The fair value of RSUs is recognised as an employee benefit expense with a corresponding increase in equity. The total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the fair value of the RSUs vested. The total expense is recognised over the vesting period, which is the period over which all of the specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied. At the end of each period, the Group revises its estimates of the number of RSUs that are expected to vest based on the non-market vesting and service conditions. It recognises the impact of the revision to original estimates, if any, in profit or loss, with a corresponding adjustment to equity. This has been discontinued since 2024.

- (v) Bonus Plans:

The Group recognises a liability and an expense for bonuses. The Group recognises a provision where contractually obliged or where there is a past practice that has created a constructive obligation.

p) Income Taxes

Tax expense comprises of current and deferred tax. Current income tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the tax authorities in accordance with the Income Tax Act, 1961 enacted in India.

Current income tax relating to items recognised outside profit or loss is recognised outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity).

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of temporary differences between carrying amount of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and corresponding amount used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax assets on unrealised tax loss are recognised to the extent that it is probable that the underlying tax loss will be utilised against future taxable income. This is assessed based on the Company's forecast of future operating results, adjusted for significant non-taxable income and expenses and specific limits on the use of any unused tax loss. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside statement of profit and loss is recognised outside Statement of Profit and Loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity).

q) Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

r) Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

Provisions are recognised when an enterprise has a present obligation as a result of past event; it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions are discounted to their present values, where the time value of money is material. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

Provisions are measured at the estimated expenditure required to settle the present obligation, based on the most reliable evidence available at the reporting date, including the risks and uncertainties associated with the present obligation. Provisions are discounted to their present values, where the time value of money is material.

Any reimbursement that the Group can be virtually certain to collect from a third party with respect to the obligation is recognised as a separate asset. However, this asset may not exceed the amount of the related provision.

All provisions are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate. In cases where the outflow of economic resources as a result of present obligations is considered improbable or remote, no provision is recognised.

Contingent liability is disclosed for:

- Possible obligations which will be confirmed only by future events not wholly within the control of the Group or
- Present obligations arising from past events where it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation cannot be made.

Contingent assets are not recognised. However, when inflow of economic benefits is probable, related asset is disclosed.

s) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent comprise cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

t) Significant management judgement in applying accounting policies and estimation uncertainty

The preparation of the Group's financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the related disclosures.

Significant management judgements

Recognition of deferred tax assets – The extent to which deferred tax assets can be recognised is based on an assessment of the probability of the future taxable income against which the deferred tax assets can be utilised.

Evaluation of indicators for impairment of assets – The evaluation of applicability of indicators of impairment of assets requires assessment of several external and internal factors which could result in deterioration of recoverable amount of the assets.

Classification of leases – The Group enters into leasing arrangements for various assets. The classification of the leasing arrangement as a finance lease or operating lease is based on an assessment of several factors, including, but not limited to, transfer of ownership of leased asset at end of lease term, lessee's option to purchase and estimated certainty of exercise of such option, proportion of lease term to the asset's economic life, proportion of present value of minimum lease payments to fair value of leased asset and extent of specialised nature of the leased asset.

Impairment of financial assets – At each balance sheet date, based on historical default rates observed over expected life, the management assesses the expected credit loss on outstanding financial assets.

Provisions – At each balance sheet date basis the management judgment, changes in facts and legal aspects, the Group assesses the requirement of provisions against the outstanding warranties and guarantees. However, the actual future outcome may be different from this judgement.

Significant estimates

Recoverability of advances/receivables - At each balance sheet date, based on historical default rates observed over expected life, the management assesses the expected credit loss on outstanding receivables and advances.

Useful lives of depreciable/amortisable assets – Management reviews its estimate of the useful lives of depreciable/amortisable assets at each reporting date, based on the expected utility of the assets.

Uncertainties in these estimates relate to technical and economic obsolescence that may change the utility of certain software, customer relationships, IT equipment and other plant and equipment.

Defined benefit obligation (DBO) – Management's estimate of the DBO is based on a number of underlying assumptions such as standard rates of inflation, mortality, discount rate and anticipation of future salary increases. Variation in these assumptions may significantly impact the DBO amount and the annual defined benefit expenses.

u) Borrowings

Borrowings are initially recognised at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred. Borrowings are subsequently measured at amortised cost. Any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption amount is recognised in Statement of Profit and Loss over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method. Fees paid on the establishment of loan facilities are recognised as transaction costs of the loan to the extent that it is probable that some or all of the facility will be drawn down. In this case, the fee is deferred until the draw down occurs. To the extent there is no evidence that it is probable that some or all of the facility will be drawn down, the fee is capitalised as a prepayment and amortised over the period of the facility to which it relates.

Borrowings are derecognised from the balance sheet when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expired. The difference between the carrying amount of a financial liability that has been extinguished or transferred to another party and the consideration paid, including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed, is recognised in Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss as other gains/(losses).

Borrowings are classified as current liabilities unless the company has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period.

v) Trade and other payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Group prior to the end of reporting period which are unpaid. The amounts are unsecured and are paid as per the terms of contracts with the supplier. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting period. They are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

w) Dividend

The final dividend on shares is recorded as a liability on the date of approval by the shareholders and interim dividends are recorded as a liability on the date of declaration by the Group's Board of Directors. Income tax consequences of dividends on financial instruments classified as equity will be recognized according to where the entity originally recognized those past transactions or events that generated distributable profits. The Group declares and pays dividends in Indian rupees. Group is required to pay / distribute dividend after deducting applicable taxes.

x) Segment reporting

Operating segments are reported in a manner consistent with the internal reporting provided to the Chief Operating Decision Maker. The CODM is responsible for allocating resources and assessing performance of the operating segments of the Group.

The directors of Tenneco Clean Air India Limited assess the financial performance and position of the Company and make strategic decisions. The directors who have been identified as being the Chief Operating Decision Maker consist of Chief Executive Officer, the Vice President & General Manager India and Finance Director. Refer Note 35 for segment information presented.

y) Recent Pronouncements

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time.

MCA notified amendments effective on or after 1 April 2025 to:

- Ind AS 21 The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates to specify how an entity should assess whether a currency is exchangeable and how it should determine a spot exchange rate when exchangeability is lacking,
- Ind AS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements paragraphs 69 to 76 to specify the requirements for classifying liabilities as current or non-current,
- Ind AS 7 Statement of Cash Flows and Ind AS 107 Financial Instruments: Disclosures to clarify the characteristics of supplier finance arrangements and require additional disclosure of such arrangements.
- Ind AS 12 Income Taxes in response to the OECD's BEPS Pillar Two rules and include:
 - i. A mandatory temporary exception to the recognition and disclosure of deferred taxes arising from the jurisdictional implementation of the Pillar Two model rules; and
 - ii. Disclosure requirements for affected entities help users of the financial statements better understand an entity's exposure to Pillar Two income taxes arising from that legislation, particularly before its effective date.

The mandatory temporary exception – the use of which is required to be disclosed – applies immediately. The remaining disclosure requirements apply for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2025, but not for any interim periods ending on or before March 31, 2026.

The Group has reviewed the recent pronouncements and based on its evaluation has determined that it does not have any impact in its restated consolidated financial information.

f. Satisfaction of performance obligations

The Company's revenue is derived from the single performance obligation to transfer primarily its products under arrangements in which the transfer of control of the products and the fulfilment of the Company's performance obligation occur at the same time. Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when the Company has transferred control of the goods to the buyer and the buyer obtains the benefits from the goods, the potential cash flows and the amount of revenue (the transaction price) can be measured reliably, and it is probable that the Company will collect the consideration to which it is entitled to in exchange for the goods.

Whether the customer has obtained control over the asset depends on when the goods are made available to the carrier or the buyer takes possession of the goods, depending on the delivery terms. Revenue is measured at the transaction price of the consideration received or receivable, the amount the Company expects to be entitled to.

Revenue from sale of services is recognised upon rendering the services based on agreements/ arrangements with the concerned parties. For fixed price contracts, revenue is recognised based on the actual service provided to the end of the reporting period as a proportion of the total services to be provided overtime since the Company's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Company and the Company has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

g. Payment terms

The sale of goods is typically made under credit payment terms differing from customer to customer and ranges between 30-90 days (excluding transit days).

29 Fair value disclosures

i) Fair values hierarchy

Financial assets and financial liabilities measured at fair value in the statement of financial position are classified into three Levels of a fair value hierarchy. The three levels are defined based on the observability of significant inputs to the measurement, as follows:

Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for financial instruments.

Level 2: The fair value of financial instruments that are not traded in an active market is determined using valuation techniques which maximise the use of observable market data rely as little as possible on entity specific estimates.

Level 3: If one or more of the significant inputs is not based on observable market data, the instrument is included in level 3.

ii) Fair value of instruments measured at amortised cost

Cash and cash equivalents, other bank balances, trade receivables, other current financial assets, trade payables and other current financial liabilities approximate their carrying amounts largely due to the short-term maturities of these instruments. The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities is the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

30 Financial risk management

Risk Management

The Group's activities expose it to market risk, liquidity risk and credit risk. The Group's board of directors has overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of the Group's risk management framework. This note explains the sources of risk which the entity is exposed to and how the entity manages the risk and the related impact in the financial statements.

A) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The Group is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily trade receivables).

Cash and cash equivalents and bank deposits

Credit risk related to cash and cash equivalents and bank deposits is managed by only accepting highly rated banks and diversifying bank deposits and accounts in different banks across the country.

Trade receivables

The Group closely monitors the credit-worthiness of the debtors through internal systems that are configured to define credit limits of customers, thereby, limiting the credit risk to pre-calculated amounts. The Group assesses increase in credit risk on an ongoing basis for amounts receivable that become past due and default is considered to have occurred when amounts receivable become six months past due.

Other financial assets measured at amortised cost

Other financial assets measured at amortised cost includes loans and advances to employees, security deposits and others. Credit risk related to these other financial assets is managed by monitoring the recoverability of such amounts continuously, while at the same time internal control system in place ensure the amounts are within defined limits.

Expected credit losses:

The Group provides for expected credit losses based on the following:

The Group recognizes lifetime expected credit losses on trade receivables using a simplified approach, wherein Group has defined percentage of provision by analysing historical trend of default based on the criteria defined above. And such provision percentage determined have been considered to recognise life time expected credit losses on trade receivables.

B) Liquidity risk

Prudent liquidity risk management implies maintaining sufficient cash and marketable securities and the availability of funding through an adequate amount of committed credit facilities to meet obligations when due. Due to the nature of the business, the Group maintains flexibility in funding by maintaining availability under committed facilities.

Management monitors rolling forecasts of the Group's liquidity position and cash and cash equivalents on the basis of expected cash flows. The Group takes into account the liquidity of the market in which the entity operates. In addition, the Group's liquidity management policy involves projecting cash flows in major currencies and considering the level of liquid assets necessary to meet these, monitoring balance sheet liquidity ratios against internal and external regulatory requirements and maintaining debt financing plans.

The tables below analyses the Group's financial liabilities into relevant maturity classification based on their contractual maturities for all non-derivative financial liabilities.

The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual undiscounted cash flows. For balances due within 12 months amounts equal their carrying values as the impact of discounting is not significant.

The Group is exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from foreign currency transactions, primarily with respect to the US Dollar, Euro and Chinese Yuan. Foreign exchange risk arises from recognised assets and liabilities denominated in a currency that is not the functional currency of any of the Group. Considering the low volume of foreign currency transactions, the Group's exposure to foreign currency risk is limited and the Group hence does not currently use any derivative instruments or forward contracts to manage its exposure. Also, the Group does not use forward contracts and swaps for speculative purposes.

31 Capital management

The Group's capital management objectives are:

- to ensure the Group's ability to continue as a going concern
- to provide an adequate return to shareholders

The Group monitors capital on the basis of the carrying amount of equity less cash and cash equivalents as presented on the face of balance sheet.

Management assesses the Group's capital requirements in order to maintain an efficient overall financing structure while avoiding excessive leverage. This takes into account the subordination levels of the Group's various classes of debt. The Group manages the capital structure and makes adjustments to it in the light of changes in economic conditions and the risk characteristics of the underlying assets. In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may adjust the amount of dividends paid to shareholders, return capital to shareholders, issue new shares, or sell assets to reduce debt.

Tenneco LLC maintains stock based compensation plans approved by their shareholders, in terms of which stock options are granted to their employees including employees of the subsidiaries. Accordingly Tenneco LLC had granted restricted stock units to directors of the Company which are settled in cash by Tenneco LLC. These awards (i.e., RSUs) generally require, among other things, that the award holder remain in service with the Company during the restriction period, which is currently three years, with a portion of the award vesting equally each year. The fair value of restricted stock units, determined by Tenneco LLC, is equal to the average of the high and low trading price of Tenneco LLC, stock at the date of grant. RSUs (both cash-settled and share-settled) are time based service awards and generally vest according to a three year graded vesting schedule.

Since the Company does not have an obligation to settle Tenneco LLC's RSUs to its (i.e., Company's) employees, the Company measures the services received from its employees in accordance with the requirements applicable to equity-settled share-based payment transactions and recognises a corresponding increase in equity as a deemed capital contribution from Tenneco LLC.

During the last year, the RSU's are settled by the Tenneco LLC. There was no cross charge from Tenneco LLC to the company for the purpose of settling the RSU's.

B. Compensated absences

Accumulated leave, which is expected to be utilised within the next 12 months, is treated as short-term employee benefit. The Group measures the expected cost of such absences as the additional amount that it expects to pay as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the reporting date. The Group treats accumulated leave expected to be carried forward beyond twelve months, as long-term employee benefit for measurement purposes. Such long-term compensated absences are provided for based on the actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method at the year-end

37 Per transfer pricing legislation under sections 92-92F of the Income Tax Act, 1961, the Group is required to use certain specific methods in computing arm's length prices of international transactions with associated enterprises and maintain adequate documentation in this respect. Since law requires existence of such information and documentation to be contemporaneous in nature, the Group has appointed independent consultants for conducting a Transfer Pricing Study (the 'Study') to determine whether the transactions with associate enterprises undertaken during the financial year are on an 'arms length basis'. Management is of the opinion that the Group's international transactions are at arm's length and that the results of the on-going study will not have any impact on the financial statements and the independent consultants appointed have also preliminarily confirmed that they do not expect any transfer pricing adjustments.

The financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2025, were the first financial statements prepared in accordance with Ind-AS for above companies. Upto the financial year ended 31 March 2024, the financial statements were prepared in accordance with accounting standards notified under the section 133 of the Companies Act 2013, read together with paragraph 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014 ("Indian GAAP" or "Previous GAAP" or "IGAAP").

Accordingly, the Group has prepared financial statements which comply with Ind AS applicable for the financial year ending on 31 March 2025, together with the comparative period data as at and for the year ended 31 March 2024, as described in the summary of material accounting policies.

Financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2023 have been prepared in accordance with requirements of SEBI Circular dated 31 March 2016 and Guidance Note on Reports in Company Prospectuses (Revised 2019) issued by ICAI after making suitable adjustments to the accounting heads from their Indian GAAP values following accounting policies (both mandatory exceptions and optional exemptions) availed as per Ind AS 101 consistent with that used at the date of transition to Ind AS (1 April 2023) and as per the presentation, accounting policies and grouping/classifications followed as at and for the year ended 31 March 2025. In preparing these financial statements, the Group has considered transition date to be 1 April 2022.

An explanation of how the transition from previous GAAP to Ind AS has affected the Group's financial position, financial performance and cash flows is set out in the following tables and notes.

A. Exemptions and Exceptions availed

In preparing these Ind AS financial statements, the Group has availed certain exemptions and exceptions in accordance with Ind AS 101, as explained below. The resulting difference between the carrying values of the assets and liabilities in the financial statements as at the transition date under Ind AS and IGAAP have been recognised directly in equity (retained earnings). This note explains the adjustments made by the Group in restating its IGAAP financial statements, including the total equity as at 1 April 2022, 1 April 2023 and the total equity and total comprehensive income as at and for the year ended 31 March 2023 and 31 March 2024.

A.1 Ind AS Optional Exemptions

Set out below are the applicable Ind AS 101 optional exemptions applied in the transition from previous IGAAP to Ind AS.

A.1.1 Deemed cost exemption

Ind AS 101 permits a first time adopter to elect to continue with the carrying value for its property, plant and equipment and intangible assets recognised in the financial statements as at the date of transition to Ind AS, measured as per the previous GAAP and use that as its deemed cost as at the date of transition. Accordingly, the Group has elected to measure all of its property, plant and equipment and intangible assets at their previous GAAP carrying value.

A.1.2 Leases

An entity has to assess whether a contract or arrangement contains a lease as per Ind AS 116. As a first time adopter, entity has an option to make this assessment on the basis of facts and circumstances existing at the date of transition as per Ind AS 101. The Group has elected to apply this exemption for such contracts/arrangements.

Under Ind AS 101 an entity can elect not to apply the requirement to create a right of use asset and lease liability as on the date of transition with respect to the leases for which the lease term ends within 12 months of the date of transition. The Group has opted to apply this practical exemption and has not recognized a right of use asset and a corresponding lease liability in respect of leases where the lease term ends within 12 months from the date of transition.

In cases where the lease term ends beyond a period of 12 months from the date of transition, the Group has applied modified retrospective approach and measured its lease liability at the present value of the remaining lease payments discounted using the Group's incremental borrowing rate at the date of transition to Ind AS. Further, the right-to-use asset has been measured at an amount equal to the lease liability, adjusted by the amount of any prepaid or accrued lease payments relating to that lease recognised in the Balance Sheet immediately before the date of transition to Ind AS.

As on the transition date, the Group has applied modified retrospective approach and measured its lease liability at the present value of remaining lease payments by discounting of the remaining lease payments using the Group's incremental borrowing rate. Further, the right-to-use asset has been measured at an amount equal to the lease liability, adjusted by the amount of any prepaid or accrued lease payments relating to that lease recognised in the Balance Sheet immediately before the date of transition to Ind AS.

As a first time adopter, the Group has used the following optional exemptions permitted:

- Assessed whether contracts as at transition date contains a lease based on facts and circumstances existing as on that date
- Applying a single discount rate to a portfolio of leases with reasonably similar characteristics.
- Not to recognize right-of-use assets and liabilities for leases with less than 12 months of lease term at the transition date
- Not to recognize right-of-use assets and liabilities for leases of low value assets
- Hindsight is considered in determining the lease term

A.1.3 Revenue from contract with customers

A first-time adopter is not required to restate contracts that were completed before the earliest period presented. A completed contract is a contract for which the entity has transferred all of the goods or services identified in accordance with previous GAAP.

As a first time adopter of Ind AS, the Group has decided to use the above exemption.

A.2 Ind AS mandatory exceptions

The Group has applied the following exceptions from full retrospective application of Ind AS which are mandatorily required under Ind AS 101:

A.2.1 Estimates

The Group's estimates in accordance with Ind ASs at the date of transition to Ind AS shall be consistent with estimates made for the same date in accordance with previous GAAP (after adjustments to reflect any difference in accounting policies), unless there is objective evidence that those estimates were in error. Ind AS estimates as at 1 April 2023 are consistent with the estimates as at the same date made in conformity with previous GAAP.

The Group made estimates for following items in accordance with Ind AS at the date of transition as these were not required under IGAAP:

- Impairment of financial assets based on expected credit loss model

A.2.2 Classification and measurement of financial assets

Ind AS 101 requires an entity to assess classification and measurement of financial assets on the basis of the facts and circumstances that exist at the date of transition to Ind AS. Consequently, the Group has applied the above assessment based on facts and circumstances existing at the transition date.

A.2.3 Impairment of financial assets

Application of the impairment requirements of Ind AS 109 retrospectively.

The Group has applied impairment requirements of Ind AS 109 retrospectively using reasonable and supportable information to determine the credit risk at the date when the financial instruments were initially recognised, and to compare that to the credit risk at the date of transition to Ind AS. Requirements under Ind AS 109 for impairment are applied against trade receivables.

Impact of Ind AS adoption on the statement of cash flows for the year ended 31 March 2024 and 31 March 2023:

On Ind AS adoption, the cashflows from leases are recorded under financing activity whereas under previous GAAP they were recorded within operating activity. On adoption of Ind AS, the lease payments are presented under financing activities as principal elements of lease liability amounting to Rs. 0.45 millions (31 March 2023: Rs. 0.11 millions) and finance costs paid towards lease liabilities amounting to Rs. 0.11 millions (31 March 2023: 0.03 millions).

C: Notes to First Time Adoption of Ind AS

a) Leases

Under previous GAAP, the lease payment made for the properties taken on lease is recognised as Rent Expenses in the Statement of Profit and Loss for the period. Ind AS 116 sets out the principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of leases for both lessees and lessors. It introduces a single, on-balance sheet lease accounting model for lessees. Under Ind AS, the Company should recognise right-to-use asset (ROU asset) and lease liability for the properties taken on lease subject to exemption provided in the Ind AS 116. On application of Ind AS 116, the nature of expenses has changed from lease rent to depreciation cost for the right-to-use asset, and finance cost for interest accrued on lease liability. There is no change in accounting by the lessor.

b) Actuarial gains and losses

The impact is on account of measurement of employee benefits obligations as per Ind AS 19. Under previous GAAP, actuarial gains and losses were recognised in profit and loss. Under Ind AS, the actuarial gains and losses forming part of remeasurement of the net defined benefit liability / asset, are recognised in the Other Comprehensive Income (OCI) under Ind AS instead of profit or loss.

c) Deferred tax

The previous GAAP requires deferred tax accounting using the income statement approach, which focuses on differences between taxable profits and accounting profits for the period. Ind AS 12 requires entities to account for deferred taxes using balance sheet approach which focuses on temporary differences between the carrying amount of an asset or liability in the balance sheet and its tax base. Various transitional adjustments has resulted in recognition of temporary differences.

Notes to Restated Consolidated Financial Information
(All amounts in INR Millions, unless otherwise stated)

- (ii) The Board of Directors of Federal-Mogul Ignition Products India Limited (FMIPL) engaged an independent firm to assist them for investigating the allegations (other than frivolous allegations from an anonymous source) involving misconduct of certain employees. Basis the investigation and Board's evaluation on all such matters, the management of FMIPL has determined the impact of Rs. 0.76 million which is insignificant and has been recognized in the books of account. The management of FMIPL had taken appropriate action involving termination of an employee and a vendor involved in such matter. The Board concluded that no further adjustment required in the financial statements as at and for the year ended 31 March 2024 in respect of all these matters.

The Company did not have an appropriate Entity Level Control with reference to financial statements for timely communication of whistle-blower complaints, received by Tenneco LLC pursuant to the policy implemented by Tenneco LLC along with outcome of investigations completed, to the Board of Directors; which could lead to risk of undetected fraud and consequential implications on financial statements, not implementing remedial action in timely manner to prevent further occurrences, delay in preparation of financial statements and consequential non-compliance with regulatory requirements.

- (iii) FMIPL has filed tax audit report for the year 2023-24 based on Management accounts, as the Statutory Audit of FMIPL for FY 2023-24 under Companies Act, 2013 was yet to be finalized till the due date of tax audit i.e. 30 November 2024, therefore, for the purpose of filing of Tax Audit Report (TAR) under section 44AB of Income Tax Act, 1961, Form 3CA could not be filed as the same can be filed only if statutory audit of FMIPL has been completed. However FMIPL has filed tax audit report for FY 2023-24 along with Form 3CB along with the management account and required disclosure was also given in for 3CB filed on tax portal.

- (iv) During the year ended 31 March 2024, after ascertainment of applicability, Federal Mogul Sealings India Limited (FMSIL) could not comply with the provisions of Section 149 as only one Independent Director was appointed in the Board Meeting held on 31st January, 2024 and under Section 177 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with Companies (Appointment and Qualification of Directors) Rules, 2014 the Audit Committee could not be constituted.

This resulted in FMSIL not having an Audit Committee constituted during the year from April 1, 2023 to March 31, 2024 in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013. However, FMSIL appointed the remaining independent director and constituted the Audit Committee in the Board Meeting held on 18 June, 2024.

The monetary penalty, if any, is not expected to be material in relation to the above.

Overview

We are part of the Tenneco Group, a U.S. headquartered key global Tier I automotive component supplier (Source: CRISIL Report). Tenneco Group generated US$16,777 million in revenue in the year ended December 31, 2024. Our first manufacturing plant in India was established in 1979 at Parwanoo. We manufacture and supply critical, highly engineered and technology intensive clean air, powertrain and suspension solutions tailored for Indian OEMs and export markets. Our customer base spans across OEMs who use our products in: (i) passenger vehicles ("PVs"), (ii) commercial vehicles ("CVs"), which comprises commercial trucks ("CTs") and off-highway vehicles ("OHs"), and (iii) industrial and other applications, which comprises generator sets, small commercial vehicles with gross vehicle weight of less than 3.5 tons, two wheelers and three wheelers ("Industrial/Others"). We also sell to the aftermarket primarily through Motocare India Private Limited ("Motocare"), a subsidiary of Tenneco LLC and our Group Company.

We are well-positioned in each of our product offerings:

- We are the largest supplier of Clean Air Solutions to Indian CT OEMs, with a market share of 57%;
- We are the largest supplier of Clean Air Solutions to Indian OH OEMs (excluding tractors), with a market share of 68%;
- We are among the top four suppliers of Clean Air Solutions to Indian PV OEMs, with a market share of 19%; and
- We are the largest supplier of shock absorbers and struts to Indian PV OEMs, with a market share of 52%

(each in terms of value (revenue) in Fiscal 2025) (Source: CRISIL Report).

We benefit from: (i) our long-standing partnerships with the top Indian OEMs as identified in the CRISIL Report across end markets, (ii) our ability to leverage Tenneco Group's global R&D for proprietary, modular and bespoke solutions, (iii) our ability to engineer end-to-end solutions in India, (iv) our ability to leverage an efficient, flexible and quality focused manufacturing model in India, and (v) manufacturing capacity with shared and reusable assets across facilities and regions.

As of June 30, 2025, we have 12 manufacturing facilities, comprising seven Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions facilities and five Advanced Ride Technology facilities, across seven states and one union territory in India. In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscal 2025, we served 101 and 119 customers, respectively, including all top seven PV OEMs in India and all top five CT OEMs in India (ranking of OEMs determined based on sales volume in Fiscal 2025) (Source: CRISIL Report). We operate two R&D technical centers in India equipped to address both global and local customer needs

Our Business Model

Income

Revenue from operations

We primarily earn revenue from the manufacture and sale of automotive components under two business divisions:

- The Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions division comprises:
 - (i) Clean Air Solutions, where we design, manufacture and sell exhaust aftertreatment systems, such as catalytic converters, mufflers and exhaust pipes to OEMs ("Clean Air Solutions"); and
 - (ii) Powertrain Solutions, where we design, manufacture and sell engine bearings, sealing systems and ignition products (such as spark plugs and ignition coils) to OEMs and the aftermarket under the Champion brand ("Powertrain Solutions").
- The Advanced Ride Technologies division designs, manufactures and sells shock absorbers, struts and advanced suspension systems under the Monroe brand to OEMs and the aftermarket ("Advanced Ride Technologies"). These products are used for internal combustion engine ("ICE") vehicles and hybrid and electric vehicles ("EVs").

For our OEM customers, we typically participate in rigorous vendor selection process, which can take from six to over 18 months, starting from the issuance of a request for quote to the awarding of the program. Program awards do not include firm volume commitments or long-term supply agreements with our customers. Under the nomination agreements, our customers provide us only with forecast volume for the program and there is no commitment on their part to purchase the quantities specified in the volume projections. Such volume projections are based on several economic and business factors, variables and assumptions.

In addition to revenue from operations (which primarily comprises revenue generated from the sale of manufactured goods), we also track value-added revenue (“VAR”). We define VAR as revenue from operations after excluding the cost of substrates. Substrates are porous ceramic filters coated with a catalyst - typically, precious metals such as platinum, palladium, and rhodium. We do not manufacture substrates; they are supplied to us by Tier II suppliers generally at the direction of our OEM customers, and we assemble the substrates into the final manufactured products that we sell to our OEM customers. They are a necessary component of exhaust aftertreatment systems for emission control. The need for substrate components grows for more sophisticated emission control solutions to meet more stringent environmental regulations for on road and off-road vehicles. These substrates are included in inventory and are “passed through” to the customer at cost, plus a nominal handling fee. Since we take title to the substrate inventory and have responsibility for both the delivery and quality of the finished product including the substrates, the revenues and related expenses are recorded at gross amounts. Substrate costs depend on precious metals prices, which may be volatile. While our OEM customers generally assume the risk of precious metals price volatility, it affects our reported revenue from operations and dilutes profitability margins at the revenue from operations level. Hence, we believe VAR is an important metric to understand our overall business because VAR eliminates the effect of this uncontrollable portion of our revenue from operations, including the effect of potentially volatile precious metals prices. This volatility is evident in the table below. In Fiscal 2024, VAR grew by 9.40% compared to Fiscal 2023, whereas revenue from operations grew by 13.26% due to a 29.57% increase in the cost of substrates. Conversely, in Fiscal 2025, VAR grew by 2.61% compared to Fiscal 2024, whereas revenue from operations declined by 10.56% due to a 57.44% decrease in the cost of substrates. In the three months ended June 30, 2025, VAR grew by 7.52% compared to the three months ended June 30, 2024, while revenue from operations grew by 1.17%.

Particulars	For the three months period ended June 30,		For Fiscal
	2025	2024	2025	2024	2023
	(₹ millions)	(₹ millions)	(₹ millions)	(₹ millions)	(₹ millions)
Revenue from operations	12,856.21	12,707.72	48,904.30	54,676.12	48,273.68
VAR	11,665.36	10,849.24	43,801.21	42,686.07	39,020.00

In addition to supplying OEMs, we generate revenue from the aftermarket, a traditionally counter-cyclic revenue stream. We sell to the aftermarket primarily through Motocare, a subsidiary of Tenneco LLC. Additionally, OEMs sell some of our products to their dealers for use as spare parts in the aftermarket (original equipment spare parts (“OES”). The powertrain industry in particular benefits from a dual-channel demand structure, ensuring stability and growth across economic cycles (Source: CRISIL Report). When new car sales increase, OEM demand for powertrain components rises as automakers ramp up production. Conversely, when new car sales decrease, consumers retain their vehicles longer, driving demand for replacement powertrain products in the OES aftermarket. This acts as a demand driver when OEM demand/new vehicle sales experience a dip (Source: CRISIL Report). This revenue structure reduces the impact of downturns in the automotive industry and promotes stability and resilience in our financial performance.

However, we also import raw materials and components from several countries including, but not limited to, the USA, Spain, China, Germany, Republic of Korea, North Macedonia, Belgium, Czech Republic, Italy and Mexico. The tables below set forth the breakdown of our cost of materials consumed including and excluding substrates from domestic and imported sources for the periods/Fiscals indicated.

Apart from our own sourcing team developing vendors, we also leverage Tenneco Group's global purchasing power to negotiate price and payment terms with suppliers. We have also gradually localized many items by developing local sources. This helps us shorten lead times and minimize costs.

Employee benefits expense

Our employee benefits expense primarily includes salaries, wages and bonus. It also includes contributions to provident and other funds, and workmen and staff welfare expenses. The table below shows our full-time employees as of the dates indicated:

Particulars	As of June 30,		As of March 31,
Number of employees	2,017	1,964	1,992	1,963	1,991

We use a balance of full-time and contractual labor to manage cyclical demand for our products. For further information, see “Risk Factors – Internal Risk Factors – We depend on contract labor for carrying out operations at our manufacturing facilities and any disruption to the availability of contract labor for our manufacturing facilities or our inability to control the cost of our contract labor could adversely affect our operations. Further, we may be held responsible for paying wages of such workers, if independent contractors through whom such workers are hired default on their obligations, and such obligations could have an adverse effect on our results of operations and financial condition.” on page 98.

Depreciation and amortisation expense

Depreciation and amortisation expense primarily comprises depreciation on property, plant and equipment.

Other expenses

Our other expenses primarily include (i) power and fuel, (ii) stores and spares consumed, (iii) packing materials consumed, (iv) sub-contracting expenses, (v) freight and forwarding charges, (vi) network service fees/management support charges, (vii) royalty expense, and (viii) repairs and maintenance.

Power and fuel

Power and fuel expense primarily includes costs associated with electricity and fuel sourced for our operations. Our manufacturing processes require a constant and uninterrupted voltage supply to ensure that the products are of high quality, while also enhancing the productivity and lifetime of our machines and equipment. We use a substantial amount of electricity, diesel and piped natural gas for our operations. We source most of our electricity requirements from state electricity boards and use diesel generating sets as backup in case of state electricity failure. We have also entered into long-term power purchase agreements with third parties (including renewable power distribution companies), typically for a term of three years, at our Chennai and Hosur plants. Similarly, our diesel and piped natural gas needs are also met domestically through natural gas distribution companies and through dealers located around our facilities.

Stores and spares consumed

Stores and spares consumed primarily includes items which are consumables used for running our manufacturing facilities and equipment on a day-to-day basis.

Packing materials consumed

Packing materials consumed primarily include packaging material for finished products.

Subcontracting expenses

Subcontracting expenses primarily includes expenses incurred for sub-contracted personnel that we engage through independent contractors for carrying out ancillary and supporting tasks such as material handling, loading and unloading, packing, sorting, housekeeping and manual welding.

Freight and forwarding charges

Freight and forwarding charges primarily includes fees that we pay to our transportation service providers to support delivery of products to customers in India and internationally.

Network service fees

Network service fees primarily include allocation of cost for shared corporate functions paid to Tenneco Group. For Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, these items are recorded under Other expenses - Management support charges.

Royalty expense

Royalty expense includes royalty paid to Tenneco Group companies for rights to use certain technical know-how and related intellectual property rights owned by or licensed by Tenneco Group companies and the “Tenneco” trademarks, names, and logos. For additional information, see “Risk Factors – Internal Risk Factors – We depend on entities in the Tenneco Group for our operations, such as the license to use Tenneco Group’s brands and patented designs, technical know-how, purchase of certain parts and materials, and R&D. Any adverse change in our relationship, including the termination of our License Agreement, could have an adverse impact on our business, reputation, financial condition, and results of operations.” on page 60 and “History and Certain Corporate Matters – Summary of Key Agreements” on page 337.

Repairs and maintenance

Repairs and maintenance primarily includes costs incurred to maintain buildings and plant and machinery.

Principal Factors Affecting our Financial Condition and Results of Operations

The paragraphs below discuss certain factors that have had, and we expect will continue to have, a significant effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

1. Economic conditions in the markets in which we operate

Our operations are dependent on the overall economic conditions in the markets in which we operate, including India, the U.S. and Europe. Any change in macro-economic conditions in these markets, including changes in interest rates, government policies or taxation, political, geo-political, economic or other developments could affect our business and results of operations. For example:

- During the course of February and April 2025, U.S. President Donald Trump implemented tariffs on several major trading partners, including India, Canada and the European Union, with a baseline of 10% tariffs on all countries, including India and an additional individualized reciprocal higher tariff on the countries with which the U.S. has the largest trade deficits. Subsequently, the U.S. increased tariffs on most imports from India to 50% in August 2025, including for our Clean Air and Advanced Ride Technologies products. Although these U.S. tariffs have increased the costs of such products to our customers, we continue to export to the U.S. and, as of the date of this Prospectus, have not received any customer requests for price or volume reductions attributable to the tariff increase. These tariffs, together with countermeasures that have been or may be adopted by trading partners affected by these tariffs are likely to disrupt global trade and increase volatility in financial markets, including stock, currency and interest rate markets. Additionally, the Trump administration has announced and rescinded multiple tariffs on several foreign jurisdictions, which has increased uncertainty regarding the ultimate effect of the tariffs on economic conditions.

The table below set forth the breakdown of our revenue from sales to the U.S. including as a percentage of our revenue from operations for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Particulars	For the three months ended June 30, 2025		2024		For Fiscal 2025		For Fiscal 2024		For Fiscal 2023
	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations	Amount (₹ millions)	% of revenue from operations

- export demand, and technological advancements, including the shift towards electric and alternative fuel vehicles.
- General levels of GDP growth in a country or region, and trends in personal disposable income and consumer spending in that country or region influence demand for our OEM customers' products.
- India and other countries are actively pursuing strategies to reduce supply chain dependency on China in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic and growing geo-political tensions. (Source: CRISIL Report). This includes diversifying the supply chain by sourcing inputs from various countries with a goal of reducing the risk of relying on a single country. India is emerging as a key export hub for automotive components, driven by companies diversifying their manufacturing bases, and India's lower costs, supportive government policies, and strategic location near growing markets (Source: CRISIL Report).

2. Our customers and their demand for our products

Our financial performance has largely been driven by, and a key factor to our future success will be, our ability to continue to deliver value for our OEM customers, increase our customer base, and deepen our relationships with our existing customers. In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and Fiscal 2025 we served 101 and 119 customers, respectively, including all top seven PV OEMs in India and all top five CT OEMs in India, based on sales volume in Fiscal 2025 (Source: CRISIL Report).

The table below sets forth the number of customers we served in the periods/Fiscals indicated.

Particular	of	Three months ended June 30,		Fiscal
		2025	2024	2025	2024	2023
Number of customers		101	100	119	268	277

Until October 2023, our Advance Ride Technologies division conducted direct sales to the aftermarket. From October 2023 onwards, we transitioned to selling all of our aftermarket products directly to Motocare (in addition to other entities in the Tenneco Group), which then sell them to the aftermarket. This resulted in a decrease in the number of customers we served in Fiscal 2025 as compared to Fiscal 2024 and 2023.

Our customers include global and well-known names such as Ashok Leyland Limited, Bajaj Auto Limited, Cummins India Limited, Daimler India Commercial Vehicle, Honda Motorcycle and Scooter India Private Limited, Hyundai Motor India Limited, John Deere India Private Limited, Kirloskar Oil Engines Limited, Mahindra & Mahindra Limited, Maruti Suzuki India Limited, Renault Nissan Automotive India Private Limited, Royal Enfield, Skoda Auto Volkswagen India Private Limited, Tata Motors Limited, Toyota Kirloskar Motor Private Limited, Vinfast Trading and Production Joint Stock Company, and VE Commercial Vehicles Limited.

In terms of value (revenue) in Fiscal 2025, we are the largest supplier of Clean Air Solutions to Indian CT OEMs with a market share of 57%, the largest supplier of Clean Air Solutions to Indian OH OEMs (excluding tractors) with a market share of 68% and among the top four suppliers of Clean Air Solutions to PV OEMs with a market share of 19% (Source: CRISIL Report). We are also the largest supplier of shock absorbers and struts to Indian PV OEMs with a market share of 52% in terms of value (revenue) in Fiscal 2025 (Source: CRISIL Report). As of June 30, 2025, we have been awarded 427 programs for which we have commenced production (358 programs for Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions and 69 programs for Advanced Ride Technologies) from over 50 customers across our product portfolio, both in India and overseas.

Historically, our revenue from operations from our top five and top ten customers has been significant.

Particulars ⁽¹⁾	For the three months ended June 30, 2025		For the three months ended June 30, 2024		For Fiscal 2025		For Fiscal 2024		For Fiscal 2023

Note: (1) The top 10 customers have been identified based on their contribution to our revenue from operations in Fiscal 2025.

We expect the significance of our top customers to remain high. For further information, see “Risk Factors – Internal Risk Factors – We are dependent on our top ten customers. Our top ten customers (based on Fiscal 2025) contributed 80.57%, 82.32%, 81.54%, 83.92% and 77.79% of our revenue from operations in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, respectively. If one or more of these customers chooses not to source products from us, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.” on page 63.

Customer demand for our products depends on the end markets for their products. The Indian PV sector has historically seen significant periodic fluctuations in overall demand. The length and timing of any cycle in the vehicle industry cannot be predicted with certainty, and we cannot predict when manufacturers will increase or reduce production. PV production and sales are influenced by various factors, including consumer demand. Consumer demand is affected by employment and income levels, fuel prices, economic conditions, demographic trends, interest rates, urbanization, premiumization trends and the availability of automobile financing.

The CV market in India is cyclical, based on factors that include macroeconomic conditions, government infrastructure spending, regulatory changes such as the implementation of new emission standards, monsoon and climate changes and economic conditions that influence industrial production and construction activities. Long-term medium and heavy CV sales are likely to be driven by several factors, including India's improving industrial activity, consistent agricultural output, and the government's continued emphasis on infrastructure development (Source: CRISIL Report). For further information, see “Risk Factors – Internal Risk Factors – We derived a significant portion of our revenue from operations, i.e. 81.35%, 83.44%, 82.04%, 83.87% and 83.06% in the three months ended June 30, 2025 and June 30, 2024 and in Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024 and Fiscal 2023, respectively, from the passenger vehicle (“PV”) and commercial vehicle (“CV”) sectors in India. Any adverse changes in these sectors in India could adversely impact our business, results of operations and financial condition.” on page 62.

3. Government policies

Government policies, particularly with regard to emission standards, affect the demand for our products and our product mix. Our Clean Air Solutions business benefits from stricter emissions standards. Over the past five years, India has implemented stricter emission standards across the PV, CV, and industrial markets, such as BS6, Construction Equipment Vehicle (CEV-IV) and Tractor Emission Norms Stage IV (TREM IV). India and other countries are expected to continue implementing stricter emission standards across the PV, CV and OH end markets, such as Corporate Average Fuel Efficiency/Economy (CAFE) norms, Tractor Emission Regulation of India V (TREM V), Bharat Stage 7 (BS7), Construction Equipment Vehicle (CEV-V) and Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB IV+) (Source: CRISIL Report). These new standards aim to further reduce levels of harmful emissions such as hydrocarbons, carbon dioxide, nitrogen oxides and particulate matter, from vehicles, meaning that more sophisticated emissions technologies and components in vehicles will be required, thereby increasing demand for our Clean Air Solutions products. Tightening standards have historically required substantial investment in engine technology, after-treatment systems, and fuel quality upgrades, resulting in higher content per vehicle (“CPV”) (Source: CRISIL Report).

Our ability to capitalize on increasingly stringent global and regional emission standards by targeting key OEMs across all end markets with modular emission control solutions that are compliant with future emissions standards will directly affect our future results of operations. For further information, see “Risk Factors – Internal Risk Factors – Our business is heavily influenced by government policies and regulations regarding emission standards, which significantly impact our industry. Delays in the implementation of emission standards may affect the growth of our business.” on page 65, and “Our Business – Our Strategies – Capturing market opportunities driven by tightening emission standards” on page 284.

4. Industry trends

As the market shifts towards premium vehicles, SUVs and hybrids, the demand for higher technological requirements is expected to translate to increased CPV and demand for our high-performance products (Source: CRISIL Report). Capitalizing on the trends toward premiumization, SUVs and hybrids presents a substantial opportunity for our business. In India, historically, cost-conscious buyers prioritized fuel efficiency and initial purchase cost, making hatchbacks the most popular segment due to their affordability and lower running costs (Source: CRISIL Report). However, a growing number of younger, globally exposed buyers now prioritize driving experience, safety, advanced features, aesthetics, and comfort, especially considering India's challenging road conditions, leading to increased demand for premium vehicles (Source: CRISIL Report). OEMs have responded by enhancing vehicle safety and incorporating advanced features in recent launches, even in mid-level vehicles. Furthermore, rising disposable incomes have further fuelled growth in the SUV segment (Source: CRISIL Report).

This presents an opportunity for our Advanced Ride Technologies, where we plan to focus on innovative technologies, including continuously variable semi-active suspension electronic dampers for better ride handling, hollow rods for weight savings, and Adaptive Ride Height Suspension System 2.0 for noise elimination and improved ride quality. Our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions stands to benefit from the trend toward mild hybrid and plug-in hybrid vehicles. Tight packaging space constraints arise due to the limited space available within a vehicle to accommodate components, especially in hybrid vehicles where additional systems, such as electric motors and battery packs, must be integrated alongside traditional powertrain components. Our ability to design products that maximize efficiency and performance within these confined spaces will affect our ability to capture market opportunities, strengthen OEM partnerships, and improve our market position. For further information, see “Our Business – Our Strategies – Capitalizing on trends toward premiumization, SUVs, EVs and hybrids” on page 285.

5. Support from the Tenneco Group

Historically, we have derived significant advantages from the support provided by Tenneco Group. This includes Tenneco Group’s global presence and brand strength, which bolster our operations and market position in India, Tenneco Group’s global purchasing scale, which allows us to optimize procurement processes and reduce costs, Tenneco Group’s established global partnerships, which facilitate business with key OEMs in India and our ability to leverage Tenneco Group’s global R&D initiatives.

We have entered into arrangements with entities in the Tenneco Group, including for (i) the sale of our products and services; (ii) the purchase of parts and materials for use in the manufacturing of our shock absorbers and struts, exhaust aftertreatment systems, and ignition and bearings products; (iii) product validation and testing services outside of India; (iv) technical training and R&D support; and (v) the leasing of the premises where our Corporate Office is situated. We have also entered into the License Agreement with Tenneco Holdings LLC for technical know-how and related intellectual property rights pursuant to which our Company and our Subsidiaries have the right to manufacture and sell products in India using Tenneco Holdings LLC’s trademarks. Further, we have entered into a master affiliate intangible property and network services agreement with Tenneco Automotive Operating Company LLC, Federal-Mogul Powertrain LLC and Federal-Mogul Ignition LLC, pursuant to which our Company and our Subsidiaries have the right and license to use certain intangible property and know-how related to Tenneco’s P3 operating system, together with access to a bundle of associated network elements and services, in India.

Our R&D technical centers collaborate with Tenneco Group’s network of engineering and technical center worldwide, which as of December 31, 2024, comprised 39 engineering and technical centers (of which 12 centers support our Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions division and 10 centers support our Advanced Ride Technologies division). We share information on emerging technologies and changing customer preferences with other geographical units in the Tenneco Group, facilitating the development of new products and technologies. In India, we focus on “localization,” which involves adapting Tenneco Group’s global technologies to meet local needs and preferences, and onshoring manufacturing to India, where development and production costs are lower. This approach enhances our product offerings and optimizes cost efficiency, complemented by our investment in local engineering capabilities. We further benefit from Tenneco Group’s standardized global engineering processes and technical centers, ensuring efficient and reliable design validation and accelerated time-to-market. For example, in Fiscal 2024, we expedited the development of an advanced hydraulic rebound system, which offers superior ride quality compared to passive suspension systems, in India. This system, conceptualized by Tenneco Group overseas, was first brought to market in India before being introduced in other regions by the Tenneco Group. Similarly, in Fiscal 2020, when India implemented BS6, we leveraged Tenneco Group’s Euro 6-compliant Clean Air Solutions products to develop BS6-compliant products and introduced 45 new products across 26 vehicle platforms over a 13-month period between May 2019 and June 2020.

The continued support for the Tenneco Group will be a key factor in our future performance, including our ability to bring new, high-quality products to market that are tailored to the demands of our OEM customers. For further information, see “Our Business – Our Group Leverage” on page 270, “Our Business – Design, Engineering, Research and Development” on page 308, and “Our Business – Our Competitive Strengths – Innovation-focused approach aided by our ability to leverage Tenneco Group’s global R&D initiatives to cross-deploy global technologies for proprietary, modular and customized products at Indian price points” on page 280.

6. Cost of Raw Materials

Our profitability is substantially dependent on the availability and cost of raw materials, including steel, and components. We generally do not assume the risk of pricing fluctuations for substrates. In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, our cost of materials consumed excluding substrates accounted for 60.79%, 60.98%, 60.98%, 61.76% and 63.34% of our VAR, respectively.

Our primary raw material is steel, which is subject to fluctuations in commodity prices. The table below sets forth our cost incurred for the purchase of steel for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

Particulars	For the three months ended June 30, 2025		2024		For Fiscal 2025		For Fiscal 2024		For Fiscal 2023
	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed excluding cost of substrates	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed excluding cost of substrates	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed excluding cost of substrates	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed excluding cost of substrates	Amount (₹ millions)	% of cost of materials consumed excluding cost of substrates
Cost of steel	4,485.58	63.25%	4,198.07	63.45%	16,653.45	62.35%	16,195.52	61.43%	17,640.91	71.38%
Cost of materials consumed excluding cost of substrates	7,091.44	100.00%	6,615.82	100.00%	26,710.31	100.00%	26,364.99	100.00%	24,715.24	100.00%

We source the majority of parts and materials from suppliers based in India. However, we also import raw materials and components from several countries including, but not limited to, the USA, Spain, China, Germany, Republic of Korea, North Macedonia, Belgium, Czech Republic, Italy and Mexico. In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, the cost of imported materials consumed excluding cost of substrates accounted for 13.43%, 13.25%, 8.47%, 8.06% and 7.53% of our cost of materials consumed excluding the cost of substrates, respectively.

Increases in the prices of our raw materials may result in our incurring higher input costs in the manufacture of our products. While we seek to pass on cost increases to our customers, our cash flows may be adversely affected in case of a time lag between the date of procurement of our raw materials and the date on which we can reset the component prices for our customers to account for the increase in the prices of such raw materials. For further information, see “Risk Factors – Internal Risk Factors – Our operations and profitability are substantially dependent on the availability and cost of raw materials, including steel and components such as pressed parts, electrodes and bimetals strips. In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024 and Fiscals 2025, 2024 and 2023, cost of materials consumed accounted for 64.42%, 66.69%, 65.05%, 70.15% and 70.37% of our revenue from operations, and any volatility in the prices of these materials may adversely impact our business, results of operations and financial condition.” on page 65.

7. Manufacturing Capacity and Utilization

Our results of operations are directly affected by our production volume, which in turn depends on several factors, including our manufacturing capacity and market demand. As of June 30, 2025, we operated 12 manufacturing facilities in India. The table below sets forth the capacity utilization across 12 manufacturing facilities for the periods/Fiscals indicated:

(1) Capacity utilization is calculated as quantum of production in the relevant facility in the relevant period/Fiscal, divided by the capacity available of relevant manufacturing facility during the relevant period/Fiscal. Capacity available during the period/Fiscal represents the installed capacity that was available during the relevant period/Fiscal (taken on a quarterly basis for interim periods (unannualized) and on an annual basis for each fiscal year) and is calculated based on the aggregate of monthly installed capacity.

(2) Production at the Chakan II Facility started in Fiscal 2025.

(3) The Chakan ART Facility receives base shock absorbers from our Hosur and Bawal Facilities for the modular assembly of peripheral parts according to our customer requirements.

(4) The Puducherry Facility for our Advanced Ride Technologies division manufactures and supplies sintered parts to our Hosur, Bawal and Sanand Facilities to manufacturer struts and shock absorbers.

For further details, see “Our Business – Manufacturing – Facilities” on page 298.

To maintain profitability, we must maintain high levels of capacity utilization, which is affected by our product mix and customer demand. Decline in the demand for our products will prevent us from achieving full capacity utilization of our manufacturing facilities.

We believe that our existing manufacturing facilities, as supplemented by ordinary course production line expansion, are sufficient to support our current business with incremental capital expenditure for new business. However, we may expand our manufacturing capacity in the future to meet the requirements of new business from existing customers or new customers. In the three months ended June 30, 2025 and 2024, and Fiscal 2025, 2024 and 2023, we expanded our manufacturing capacity using internal accruals, without relying on long-term bank borrowings, a practice we intend to continue given our financial position. We generally plan for and invest in expanding our manufacturing capacity based on our estimated customer base expansion. We take a customer-centric approach by locating our facilities close to our customers, enabling us to swiftly address customer needs. The success of any capacity addition and expected return on investment in capital expenditure depend on our ability to generate adequate customer demand to ensure maximum utilization of the capacity addition.

8. Foreign Exchange

While our reporting currency and principal revenue are in Indian Rupees, we are exposed to exchange rate fluctuations, particularly in the Euro, U.S. Dollar, Chinese Yuan, South Korean Won and British Pound, due to our import of raw materials, particularly substrates and steel, imports of manufacturing machinery and export sales. To the extent that we are unable to match costs incurred in foreign currencies with revenue received, or that there are sharp exchange rate fluctuations between such currencies, we could have significant unhedged exposure on the translation of receivables and trade payables.

The table below set forth the breakdown of our VAR from domestic and export sales, and as a percentage of our total VAR and revenue from operations for the periods/Fiscals indicated.

Revenue from operations

- Clean Air & Powertrain Solutions: Revenue decreased by 6.05% to ₹7,234.96 million in the three months ended June 30, 2025 from ₹7,700.74 million in the three months ended June 30, 2024, primarily due to a decrease in our substrate revenue by 35.92% to ₹1,190.85 million in the three months ended June 30, 2025 from ₹1,858.48 million in the three months ended June 30, 2024. This decrease was primarily due to a fall in substrate prices and some customers switching to lower cost Indian substrate suppliers. Additionally, we started to manufacture catalytic converter casings in-house instead of importing them, which in turn reduced the overall cost to our customers and thus reduced our pass-through revenue. VAR increased by 3.45% to ₹6,044.11 million in the three months ended June 30, 2025 from ₹5,842.26 million in the three months ended June 30, 2024 primarily due to an increase in CV revenue.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Historically, our primary liquidity requirements have been to finance our working capital needs and incremental capital expenditure for manufacturing equipment. We have met these requirements through our cash flows from operations and, in Fiscal 2023, through borrowings and cash flows from operations. In the last three Fiscal Years, we did not need any capital infusions from our shareholders. As of June 30, 2025, we had ₹3,707.74 million in cash and cash equivalents and ₹2.05 million of bank balances other than cash and cash equivalents. As of June 30, 2025, we had no bank borrowings, though we have uncommitted secured credit facilities for working capital and other purposes for an aggregate amount of ₹3,543.70 million.

We believe our existing cash and cash equivalents, cash generated from operations and our working capital facilities, will be sufficient to meet our working capital and capital expenditures needs for at least the next 12 months and beyond.

Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risks

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty will not meet its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. We are exposed to credit risk from our operating activities, primarily trade receivables.

Cash and cash equivalents and bank deposits

Credit risk related to cash and cash equivalents and bank deposits is managed by only accepting highly rated banks and diversifying bank deposits and accounts in different banks across the country.

Trade receivables

We closely monitor the credit-worthiness of the debtors through internal systems that are configured to define credit limits of customers, thereby limiting the credit risk to pre-calculated amounts. We assess increase in credit risk on an ongoing basis for amounts receivable that become past due and default is considered to have occurred when amounts receivable become six months past due. Some of our customers offer vendor financing programs at competitive rates through their banks or NBFC's and without recourse to us. We evaluate these on the merits and use them to our advantage to discount our receivables and convert them to cash. This mitigates our credit risk significantly in addition to increasing our liquidity. Our trade receivables values and Receivable Days are shown in the table below.

Particulars	Unit	As of June 30,		As of March 31,
		2025	2024	2025	2024	2023
Trade receivables	₹ million	5,895.61	5,697.22	6,872.31	5,597.62	5,631.82
Receivable Days ⁽¹⁾	days	45	40	47	37	42

(1) Receivable Days is calculated as average trade receivables divided by (revenue from operations divided by 365 for Fiscals or by 91 for the three months ended June 30 (as applicable)), rounded to the nearest whole number.

Other financial assets measured at amortised cost

Other financial assets measured at amortised cost includes loans and advances to employees, security deposits and others. Credit risk related to these other financial assets is managed by monitoring the recoverability of such amounts continuously, while at the same time internal control system in place ensure the amounts are within defined limits.

Liquidity risk

Prudent liquidity risk management implies maintaining sufficient cash and marketable securities and the availability of funding through an adequate amount of committed credit facilities to meet obligations when due. Due to the nature of the business, we maintain flexibility in funding by maintaining availability under committed facilities. Management monitors rolling forecasts of our liquidity position and cash and cash equivalents on the basis of expected cash flows. We take into account the liquidity of the market in which the entity operates. In addition, our liquidity management policy involves projecting cash flows in our reporting currency and considering the level of liquid assets necessary to meet these, monitoring balance sheet liquidity ratios against internal and external regulatory requirements and maintaining debt financing plans.

Market Risk

Foreign currency risk

The Indian Rupee is our reporting currency. As a consequence, our results are presented in Indian Rupee and exposures are managed against Indian Rupee accordingly. We are exposed to foreign exchange risk arising from foreign currency transactions, primarily with respect to the US Dollar, Euro and Chinese Yuan. Foreign exchange risk arises from recognised assets and liabilities denominated in a currency that is not the functional currency of our Company. Considering the low volume of foreign currency transactions, our exposure to foreign currency risk is limited and we hence do not use any derivative instruments to manage its exposure; this may however change in future periods. Also, we do not use forward contracts and swaps for speculative purposes.

Significant Economic Changes

Our business has been subject, and we expect it to continue to be subject, to significant economic changes that materially affect or are likely to affect income from continuing operations. See “Risk Factors” and “–Principal Factors Affecting Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations” on pages 59 and 498, respectively.

Unusual or Infrequent Events of Transactions

Except as described in this Prospectus, there have been no other events or transactions that may be described as “unusual” or “infrequent”.

Known Trends or Uncertainties

Our business has been affected and we expect will continue to be affected by the trends identified above in the heading titled “–Principal Factors Affecting Our Financial Condition and Results of Operations” on page 498 and the uncertainties described in the section titled “Risk Factors” beginning on page 59. Except as described or anticipated in this Prospectus, there are no known factors which we expect will have a material adverse impact on our revenues or income from continuing operations.

Future Relationship Between Cost and Income

Other than as described elsewhere in this Prospectus, there are no known factors that might affect the future relationship between costs and revenues.

Critical Accounting Policies

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is measured based on the consideration specified in a contract with a customer and excludes amounts collected on behalf of third parties. A performance obligation is a promise in a contract to transfer a distinct good (or a bundle of goods) to the customer and is the unit of account in Ind AS 115. A contract’s transaction price is allocated to each distinct performance obligation and recognized as revenue, as or when, the performance obligation is satisfied. Revenue towards satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured at the amount of transaction price (net of variable consideration) allocated to that performance obligation. The transaction price of goods sold and services rendered is net of variable consideration on account of various discounts and schemes offered by us as part of the contract. We recognize revenue from the following major sources:

i. Sale of products:

Revenue from sale of products is measured based on the consideration specified in a contract with a customer and excludes amounts collected on behalf of third parties. It is measured at consideration received or receivable, net of returns and allowances, trade discounts and volume rebates. We recognize revenue when we transfer control over a product to a customer, i.e., when goods are delivered at the delivery point, as per terms of the agreement, which could be either customer premises or carrier premises, where goods will be delivered to the customer. When payments received from customers exceed the revenue recognized to date on a particular contract, any excess (a contract liability) is reported in the Balance Sheet under other current liabilities.

Satisfaction of performance obligations

Our revenue is derived from the single performance obligation to transfer primarily products under arrangements in which the transfer of control of the products and the fulfilment of our performance obligation occur at the same time. Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when we have transferred control of the goods to the buyer and the buyer obtains the benefits from the goods, the potential cash flows and the amount of revenue (the transaction price) can be measured reliably, and it is probable that we will collect the consideration to which we are entitled to in exchange for the goods.

Whether the customer has obtained control over the asset depends on when the goods are made available to the carrier or the buyer takes possession of the goods, depending on the delivery terms. For us, generally the criteria to recognize revenue has been met when its products are delivered to its customers or to a carrier who will transport the goods to its customers, this is the point in time when we have completed our performance obligations. Revenue is measured at the transaction price of the consideration received or receivable, the amount we expect to be entitled to.

Payment terms

The sale of goods is typically made under credit payment terms differing from customer to customer and ranges between 30-60 days.

ii. Interest:

Interest income is recorded on accrual basis.

iii. Revenue from services

Revenue from sale of services is recognized upon rendering the services based on agreements/arrangements with the concerned parties. For fixed price contracts, revenue is recognized based on the actual service provided to the end of the reporting period as a proportion of the total services to be provided overtime since our performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to us and we have an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

We provide designing services for customized tools to its customers and recognizes its revenue over time using an input method to measure progress towards complete satisfaction of tool designing.

We recognize revenue from designing of tools over time if it can reasonably measure its progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation.

Where we cannot reasonably measure the outcome of a performance obligation, but we expect to recover the costs incurred in satisfying the performance obligation, in those circumstances, we recognize revenue only to the extent of the costs incurred until such time that it can reasonably measure the outcome of the performance obligation.

iv. Revenue from development of customer paid tools:

We incur pre-production tooling costs related to the products developed for its customers under supply arrangements. Tooling income (net) represents amounts recovered from customers, which are in excess of development costs incurred by us to manufacture such tools, similarly tooling cost (net) represents costs incurred us in excess of amounts recovered from customers. We recognize such tooling income (net)/ tooling cost (net) when the control of the goods have passed on to the customer. We expense all pre-production tooling costs related to customer owned tools for which reimbursement is not contractually guaranteed by the customer or for which the customer has not provided a non- cancellable right to use the tooling, at the time of their estimation. When it is probable that total development costs will exceed the tooling revenue, the expected loss is recognized as an expense in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which such probability occurs.

The tooling income (net) is deferred and recognized over the initial contract period over which supply of goods using developed tools will be made available to the customer. The contract period is generally 3 to 5 years, so tooling income is recognized accordingly. The deferred portion of such income is recognized as deferred income in financial statements.

v. Contract assets

A contract asset is our right to consideration in exchange for goods or services that we have transferred to the customer. A contract asset becomes a receivable when our right to consideration is unconditional, which is the case when only the passage of time is required before payment of the consideration is due. The impairment of contract assets is measured, presented and disclosed on the same basis as trade receivables. The contract asset comprises deferred income which relates to expenses incurred but which are not yet billed as per the terms of contract.

Our contract assets are disclosed in Note 6(b), Note 6(f) and Note 18.

vi. Contract liabilities

A contract liability is the obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which we have received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer. If a customer pays consideration before we transfer goods or services to them, a contract liability is recognized when the payment is made or the payment is due (whichever is earlier). Contract liabilities are recognized as revenue when we perform under the contract. The contract liability comprises unearned income which relates to excess of invoicing over cost incurred for a particular project.

Our contract liabilities are disclosed in Note 15 and Note 18.

vii. Export Benefits/Incentives:

Export entitlements under the Duty Entitlement Pass Book (DEPB) Scheme / Duty Drawback Scheme are recognized in the Special Purpose Statement of Profit and Loss when we receive the same.

Property, plant and equipment

Recognition and initial measurement

Property plant and equipment are stated at their cost of acquisition. The cost comprises purchase price, borrowing cost if capitalization criteria are met and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use. Any trade discount and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognized as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to us. All other repair and maintenance costs are recognized in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss as incurred.

Subsequent measurement (depreciation and useful lives)

Property, plant and equipment are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Depreciation on property, plant and equipment is provided on a straight-line basis, computed on the basis of useful lives (as set out below) prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013:

Asset Class	Estimated useful life (in years)
Plant and machinery	5-15 years
Furniture and fixtures	10 years
Office equipment	5 years
Computers	3 years
Vehicles	8 years
Buildings	30 years

The residual values, useful lives and method of depreciation are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate.

De-recognition

An item of property, plant and equipment and any significant part initially recognized is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in the income statement when the asset is derecognized.

Intangible assets

Recognition and initial measurement

Intangible assets (computer software) are stated at their cost of acquisition. The cost comprises purchase price, borrowing cost if capitalization criteria are met and directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for the intended use.

Subsequent measurement (amortization)

The cost of capitalized software is amortized over a period of 5 years from the date of its acquisition.

Leases

Our operations as a lessee

Our leased asset classes primarily consist of leases for land and building. We assess whether a contract contains a lease, at inception of a contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, we assess whether: (i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset, (ii) we have substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease, and (iii) we have the right to direct the use of the asset.

We recognize a right-of-use asset and a corresponding lease liability with respect to all lease agreements in which it is the lessee, except for short-term leases (defined as leases with a lease term of 12 months or less) and leases of low value assets. For these short term or low value asset leases, we recognize the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leased asset are consumed.

At the date of commencement of the lease, we recognize a right-of-use asset (“ROU”) and a corresponding lease liability for all lease arrangements in which it is a lessee, except for leases with a term of twelve months or less (short-term leases) and low value leases. For these short-term and low value leases, we recognize the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Certain lease arrangements include options to extend or terminate the lease before the end of the lease term. ROU assets and lease liabilities include these options when it is reasonably certain that they will be exercised.

The right-of-use assets are initially recognized at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or prior to the commencement date of the lease plus any initial direct costs less any lease incentives. They are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Right-of-use assets are depreciated from the commencement date on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and useful life of the underlying asset.

The lease liability is initially measured at amortized cost at the present value of the future lease payments. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if not readily determinable, using the incremental borrowing rates in the country of domicile of these leases. Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability are made up of fixed payments (including in substance fixed payments) and variable payments based on an index or rate. Subsequent to initial measurement, the liability will be reduced for payments made and increased for interest. Lease liabilities are remeasured with a corresponding adjustment to the related right of use asset if we change our assessment of whether it will exercise an extension or a termination option.

Inventories

Inventories are valued as follows:

Raw materials, components, stores and spares and packing material	Lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost represents purchase price and other direct costs and is determined on a moving weighted average cost basis. However, materials and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost if the finished products in which they will be incorporated are expected to be sold at or above cost.
Work-in-progress	Lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost for this purpose includes material, labor and appropriate allocation of overheads. Cost is determined on a moving weighted average basis.
Finished Goods: - Manufactured	Lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost for this purpose includes material, labor and appropriate allocation of overheads. Cost is determined on a moving weighted average basis.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale. Provision for obsolescence is determined based on management’s assessment and is charged to the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss.

Foreign Currency Transactions

Functional and presentation currency

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information are presented in Indian Rupees ('INR or Rs'), which is also our functional and presentation currency.

Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are recorded in the functional currency, by applying to the exchange rate between the functional currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction.

Foreign currency monetary items outstanding at the balance sheet date are converted to functional currency using the closing rate. Non-monetary items denominated in a foreign currency which are carried at historical cost are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transactions.

Exchange differences arising on such conversion and settlement at rates different from those at which they were initially recorded, are recognized in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they arise.

Retirement and other employee benefits

i. Defined Contribution Plans:

These are plans in which we pay pre-defined amounts to funds administered by a government authority or a company and do not have any legal or constructive obligation to pay additional sums. These comprise contributions in respect of Employees' Provident Fund and Employees' State Insurance. Our payments to the defined contribution plans are recognized as employee benefit expenses when they are due.

ii. Defined Benefit Plans:

Gratuity liability under the Payment of Gratuity Act is accrued on the basis of an actuarial valuation made at the end of each financial period. The actuarial valuation is done as per projected unit credit method.

Actuarial gains and losses arising from past experience and changes in actuarial assumptions are credited or charged to other comprehensive income in the period in which such gains or losses are determined.

iii. Short term compensated absences are provided for based on estimates. Long term compensation liability for leave encashment is determined in accordance with our policy and is measured on the basis of valuation by an independent actuary at the end of the financial year. The actuarial valuation is done as per projected unit credit method.

Actuarial gains and losses arising from past experience and changes in actuarial assumptions are charged to the Restated Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which such gains or losses are determined.

iv. Share based payments:

Share-based compensation benefits are provided to employees via plans of Tenneco LLC (formerly Tenneco Inc.), Restricted Stock Units.

Restricted Stock Units ("RSUs"):

The fair value of RSUs is recognized as an employee benefit expense with a corresponding increase in equity. The total amount to be expensed is determined by reference to the fair value of the RSUs vested.

The total expense is recognized over the vesting period, which is the period over which all of the specified vesting conditions are to be satisfied. At the end of each period, we revise our estimates of the number of RSUs that are expected to vest based on the non-market vesting and service conditions. We recognize the impact of the revision to original estimates, if any, in profit or loss, with a corresponding adjustment to equity.

v. Bonus Plans:

We recognize a liability and an expense for bonuses. We recognize a provision where contractually obliged or where there is a past practice that has created a constructive obligation.

6. Other pending litigation involving our Group Company, Federal-Mogul Goetze (India) Limited

Pursuant to an agreement and plan of merger dated February 22, 2022, between Pegasus Holdings III, LLC (“Acquirer”), Tenneco LLC (formerly known as Tenneco Inc.) and Pegasus Merger Co. (“Merger Sub”), the Merger Sub merged into Tenneco LLC, with Tenneco LLC being the surviving entity (such merger, the “Underlying Transaction”) and a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Acquirer. Tenneco indirectly held 74.98% of the voting share capital of one of our Group Companies, namely, Federal-Mogul Goetze (India) Limited (the “Target Company”). The completion of the Underlying Transaction thus led to an open offer under regulations 3(1), 4 and 5(1) of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeover) Code, 2011 (“SEBI Takeover Regulations”). Accordingly, the Acquirer made a public announcement dated February 23, 2022 in connection with the open offer and subsequently filed a draft letter of offer dated December 1, 2022 (“DLoF”) with the Securities and Exchange Board of India (“SEBI”) offering to acquire up to 13,916,676 fully paid-up equity shares constituting 25.02% of the voting share capital of the Target Company at an offer price of ₹ 295.65 (inclusive of delayed interest) per equity share. SEBI raised concerns regarding the methodology adopted for valuation of the shares of the Target Company, and vide its order dated August 30, 2023, appointed a valuer under regulation 8(4) read with regulation 8(16) of the SEBI Takeover Regulations (“SEBI Order”). Aggrieved by SEBI Order, the Acquirer filed an appeal on September 8, 2023 before the Hon’ble Securities Appellate Tribunal (“SAT”) under regulation 15T of the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992, (“SEBI Act”). The SAT by way of the impugned order and judgement dated December 20, 2024, quashed the SEBI Order and held that no further valuation by an independent chartered accountant was necessary (“Impugned Order”). Thereafter, SEBI filed a civil appeal dated February 18, 2025 (“Appeal”) under Section 15Z of the SEBI Act before the Supreme Court of India, against the Acquirer, challenging the Impugned Order and prayed for inter alia stay of the Impugned Order and reconsideration of the valuation method for the determination of the offer price of the equity shares of the Target Company. The matter is currently pending before the Supreme of Court of India.

While Federal-Mogul Goetze (India) Limited is not involved in the abovementioned matter, such matter is in relation to its open offer under regulations 3(1), 4 and 5(1) of the SEBI Takeover Code. An adverse outcome of this matter will not have a material impact on our Company.*

Phased implementation of Unified Payments Interface (“UPI”)

SEBI has issued the UPI Circulars in relation to streamlining the process of public issue of, inter alia, equity shares. Pursuant to the UPI Circulars, the UPI Mechanism has been introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism (in addition to mechanism of blocking funds in the account maintained with SCSBs under ASBA) for applications by UPI Bidders through Designated Intermediaries with the objective to reduce the time duration from public issue closure to listing from six Working Days to up to three Working Days. The SEBI in its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/TPD1/CIR/P/2023/140 dated August 9, 2023, has reduced the time period for listing of equity shares pursuant to a public issue from six Working Days to three Working Days. The timeline was applicable on a voluntary basis for public issues opening on or after September 1, 2023 and has been made applicable on a mandatory basis for public issues opening on or after December 1, 2023. Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI payment mechanism, the UPI Circulars have introduced the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

Phase I: This phase was applicable from January 1, 2019 until March 31, 2019 or floating of five main board public issues, whichever was later. Subsequently, the timeline for implementation of Phase I was extended till June 30, 2019. Under this phase, an RII had the option to submit the ASBA Form with any of the Designated Intermediary and use his/ her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public issue closure to listing continued to be six Working Days.

Phase II: This phase became applicable from July 1, 2019 and was to initially continue for a period of three months or floating of five main board public issues, whichever was later. SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2019/133 dated November 8, 2019 had decided to extend the timeline for implementation of UPI Phase II until March 31, 2020. Subsequently, SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020/50 dated March 30, 2020 extended the timeline for implementation of UPI Phase II until further notice. Under this phase, submission of the ASBA Form by RIIs through Designated Intermediaries (other than SCSBs) to SCSBs for blocking of funds was discontinued and replaced by the UPI Mechanism. However, the time duration from public issue closure to listing continued to be six Working Days during this phase.

SEBI through its circular SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2022/45 dated April 5, 2022, prescribed that all individual bidders applying in initial public offerings opening on or after May 1, 2022, where the application amount is up to ₹500,000, shall use UPI. Individual investors bidding under the Non-Institutional Portion bidding for more than ₹200,000 million and up to ₹500,000 million, using the UPI Mechanism, shall provide their UPI ID in the Bid cum-Application Form for Bidding through Syndicate, sub-syndicate members, Registered Brokers, RTAs or CDPs, or online using the facility of linked online trading, demat and bank account (3 in 1 type accounts), provided by certain brokers.

Phase III: This phase became applicable on a voluntary basis for all issues opening on or after September 1, 2023 and on a mandatory basis for all issues opening on or after December 1, 2023, vide SEBI circular bearing number SEBI/HO/CFD/TPD1/CIR/P/2023/140 dated August 9, 2023 (“T+3 Notification”). In this phase, the time duration from public issue closure to listing has been reduced to three Working Days. The SEBI ICDR Master Circular, has consolidated and rescinded the aforementioned circulars, including the T+3 Notification, to the extent they relate to the SEBI ICDR Regulations. The Offer was undertaken pursuant to the processes and procedures as notified in the SEBI ICDR Master Circular.

The processing fees for applications made by UPI Bidders may be released to the SCSBs only after such banks provide a written confirmation, in a format as prescribed by SEBI, from time to time, including in compliance with the SEBI RTA Master Circular and the SEBI ICDR Master Circular, and such payment of processing fees to the SCSBs shall be made in compliance with circulars prescribed by SEBI and applicable law.

All SCSBs offering facility of making application in public issues shall also provide facility to make application using UPI. Our Company will be required to appoint one of the SCSBs as the Sponsor Bank(s) to act as a conduit between the Stock Exchanges and NPCI in order to facilitate collection of requests and / or payment instructions of the UPI Bidders.

SEBI has set out specific requirements in the SEBI ICDR Master Circular for redressal of investor grievances for applications that have been made through the UPI Mechanism. The requirements of the SEBI ICDR Master Circular include, appointment of a nodal officer by the SCSB and submission of their details to SEBI, the requirement for SCSBs to send SMS alerts for the blocking and unblocking of UPI mandates, the requirement for the Registrar to submit details of cancelled, withdrawn or deleted applications, and the requirement for the bank accounts of unsuccessful Bidders to be unblocked no later than one Working Day from the date on which the Basis of Allotment is finalised. Failure to unblock the accounts within the timeline would result in the SCSBs being penalised under the relevant securities law. Further, in terms of the SEBI ICDR Master Circular, the payment of processing fees to the SCSBs shall be undertaken pursuant to an application made by the SCSBs to the BRLMs, and such application shall be made only after (i) unblocking of application amounts for each application received by the SCSB has been fully completed, and (ii) applicable compensation relating to investor complaints has been paid by the SCSB.

NPCI vide circular reference no. NPCI/UPI/OC No. 127/ 2021-22 dated December 9, 2021, inter alia, has enhanced the per transaction limit in UPI from more than ₹200,000 million to ₹500,000 million for UPI based ASBA in initial public offerings.

For further details, refer to the General Information Document available on the websites of the Stock Exchanges and the BRLMs. Additionally, if there is any delay in the redressal of investors' complaints, the relevant SCSB as well as the post – Offer BRLM will be required to compensate the concerned investor.

RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government of India and FEMA. While the Industrial Policy, 1991 prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Foreign investment is permitted (except in the prohibited sectors) in Indian companies, either through the automatic route or the approval route, depending upon the sector in which foreign investment is sought to be made. The RBI and the concerned ministries/ departments are responsible for granting approval for foreign investment.

The Government of India makes policy announcements on FDI through press notes and press releases. The regulatory framework, over a period of time, thus, consists of acts, regulations, press notes, press releases, and clarifications among other amendments. The Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade, Ministry of Commerce and Industry (formerly Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion), Government of India (“DPIIT”) issued the Consolidated FDI Policy Circular dated October 15, 2020, with effect from October 15, 2020 (the “FDI Policy”), which consolidates and supersedes all previous press note, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DPIIT that were in force and effect prior to October 15, 2020.

On October 17, 2019, the Ministry of Finance, Department of Economic Affairs, had notified the FEMA rules, which had replaced the Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer and Issue of Security by a Person Resident Outside India) Regulations 2017. Foreign investment in this Offer shall be on the basis of the FEMA rules. Further in terms of Press Note 3 of 2020, dated April 17, 2020 (“Press Note”), issued by the DPIIT, the FDI Policy and the FEMA NDI Rules has been amended to state that all investments under the foreign direct investment route by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country will require prior approval of the Government of India. Further, in the event of transfer of ownership of any existing or future foreign direct investment in an entity in India, directly or indirectly, resulting in the beneficial ownership falling within the aforesaid restriction/ purview, such subsequent change in the beneficial ownership will also require approval of the Government of India. Pursuant to the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) (Fourth Amendment) Rules, 2020, a multilateral bank or fund, of which India is a member, shall not be treated as an entity of a particular country nor shall any country be treated as the beneficial owner of the investments of such bank or fund in India. Further, in accordance with the amendment to the Companies (Share Capital and Debentures) Rules, 2014 vide notification dated May 4, 2022 issued by Ministry of Corporate Affairs, a declaration shall be inserted in the share transfer form stipulating whether government approval shall be required to be obtained under Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Rules, 2019 prior to transfer of shares, as applicable. Each Bidder should have sought independent legal advice about its ability to participate in the Offer. In the event such prior approval of the Government of India is required, and such approval has been obtained, the Bidder was required to intimate our Company and the Registrar to the Offer in writing about such approval along with a copy thereof within the Offer Period.

In accordance with the FEMA NDI Rules and FDI Policy read with Press Note, 100% foreign direct investment is permitted under the automatic route for companies in the “manufacturing” sector. Further, transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a non-resident does not require the prior approval of the RBI, provided that (i) the activities of the investee company are under the automatic route under the FDI Policy and transfer does not attract the provisions of the SEBI Takeover Regulations; (ii) the non-resident shareholding is within the sectoral limits under the FDI Policy; and (iii) the pricing is in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by the SEBI/RBI.

For details of the aggregate limit for investments by NRIs and FPIs in our Company, see “Offer Procedure – Bids by Eligible NRIs” and “Offer Procedure – Bids by FPIs” on pages 582 and 583, respectively.

In accordance with the existing policy of the Government of India, OCBs cannot participate in this Offer.

The Equity Shares have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act or any state securities laws of the United States and, unless so registered, may not be offered or sold within the United States except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act and applicable U.S. state securities laws. Accordingly, the Equity Shares are being offered and sold (a) in the United States only to persons reasonably believed to be “qualified institutional buyers” (as defined in and in reliance on Rule 144A) and referred to in the Red Herring Prospectus as “U.S. QIBs”; for the avoidance of doubt, the term U.S. QIBs does not refer to a category of institutional investor defined under applicable Indian regulations and referred to in the Red Herring Prospectus as “QIBs” in transactions exempt from or not subject to the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act and in reliance on Rule 144A and (b) outside of the United States in offshore transactions as defined in and in compliance with Regulation S and the applicable laws of the jurisdiction where those offers and sales occur.
